THE NEW SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

THE NEW SEC

The SEC was established on December 8 and 9, 1932, when the 13 members of the Southern Conference located west and south of the Appalachian Mountains left to form their own conference. Ten of the 13 founding members have remained in the conference since its inception: the University of Alabama, Auburn University, the University of Florida, the University of Georgia, the University of Kentucky, Louisiana State University (LSU), the University of Mississippi (Ole Miss), Mississippi State University, the University of Tennessee, and Vanderbilt University.

The other charter members were:

1991 EXPANSION

In 1991, the SEC expanded from 10 to 12 member universities with the addition of University of Arkansas and University of South Carolina.

The two new teams joined for the 1991-1992 basketball season. At the same time, the SEC split into two divisions—a Western Division comprising most of the schools in the Central Time Zone, and an Eastern Division comprising the schools in the Eastern Time Zone plus Vanderbilt (which is located in the Central Time Zone, but is in the Eastern Division to preserve its rivalry with Tennessee, while Alabama and Auburn are in the same division to preserve theirs despite Auburn being further east than Vanderbilt). This divisional format remains in place today for football and baseball; the divisions have been eliminated for basketball.

Also in 1992, the SEC was the first conference to receive permission from the NCAA to sponsor an annual football championship game, featuring the winners of the conference's Eastern and Western divisions. The 1992 and 1993 SEC Championships were held at Birmingham's Legion Field, and have since been held at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta.

2012 EXPANSION

On September 25, 2011, the SEC Presidents and Chancellors, acting unanimously, announced that Texas A&M University will join the SEC effective July 1, 2012, with Texas A&M to begin competition in nineteen of the twenty sports sponsored by the SEC during the 2012–13 academic year. On November 6, 2011 the SEC commissioner announced that the University of Missouri will also be joining the SEC on July 1, 2012. For football, Texas A&M will compete in the Western Division, and Missouri in the Eastern Division.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL IN THE SEC

The SEC has historically been the most dominant conference in women's basketball. Since the 2009–10 season, teams have played a 16-game conference schedule with a single league table; prior to that time the conference schedule was 14 games, the divisional alignment for scheduling purposes through the 2011–12 season; however, the women's scheduling format was significantly different from the men's. Each team played home-and-home games against five schools—one permanent opponent, two teams from the same division, and two teams from the opposite division; the non-permanent home opponents rotated every two years. The remaining were single games against the six other schools in the conference, with three at home and three away.

THE NEW SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

again in a single table. Like SEC men's basketball, women's basketball used

The league voted to keep a 16-game league schedule even after the addition of Missouri and Texas A&M. Arkansas and LSU will no longer be permanent opponents, with the Razorbacks picking up Missouri and the Lady Tigers picking up Texas A&M. The other permanent opponents are the same as men's basketball, except for Florida-Georgia and Kentucky-South Carolina (both pairs had been permanent women's basketball opponents before the 2012 expansion). Each school will play two other schools home-and-home during a given season and the other 10 once each. The divisional alignments will no longer play any role in scheduling.

The recent history of SEC women's basketball is dominated by Tennessee, who have won regular season and/or conference championships in 20 of the last 22 seasons, as well as 8 national championships since 1987. In the 28 seasons the NCAA Women's Division I Basketball Championship has been held, SEC schools have reached the Final Four 32 times, more than twice as often as any other conference.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

The SEC Women's Basketball Tournament is currently held a week before the men's basketball tournament. Like the men's version, it is a single-elimination tournament involving all conference members, with seeding based on regular season records. With the expansion to 14 schools, the bottom four teams in the conference standings play opening-round games, and the top four receive "double byes" into the quarterfinals. The winner earns the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA women's basketball tournament.

East Division

West Division

The tournament, inaugurated in 1980, was originally held on campus sites; the first tournament to take place at a neutral site was in 1987. The two most frequent sites for the tournament have been McKenzie Arena in Chattanooga, Tennessee (seven times) and the Gray Civic Center in Albany, Georgia (six times); however, the tournament was last played in Albany in 1992 and Chattanooga in 2000. Because demand for women's tournament tickets is generally lower than for the men's tournament, it is typically played in a smaller venue than the men's tournament in the same season. The most frequent venues in recent years have been Bridgestone Arena in Nashville and Verizon Arena in North Little Rock, Ark., which have respectively hosted the event five and three times since 2000.

ALL IN. ALL THE TIME

The University of Arkansas women's basketball team is coming off its most successful season under head coach Tom Collen. In fact, they are coming off one of the most successful years since joining the Southeastern Conference.

Eight consecutive SEC wins, a program-best tie for fourth place in the standings, two rounds deep into the SEC Tournament matched by a second round appearance at the NCAA Tournament are just a few of highlights.

But now what? Arkansas lost three starters from a year ago including the leading scorer and the leading rebounder. They return to a league full of great teams ready to make their push to the top of the standings and they have two newcomers to the conference schedule to contend with.

But none of that seems to be on the minds of Collen or the Razorbacks. All they see is one team, all in, all the time. The goals remain the same and the commitment to success on the court, in the classroom and in the community are as strong as ever. "I'm very excited about this team for a variety of reasons," Collen said. "We had a lot of players on the team last year that probably just needed an opportunity to play more and they would have competed at a high level. Some of those players just need the seasoning of game time action."

BACKCOURT

"This year's team has a lot of energy and they are more disciplined than some of my teams in the past," Collen said. "The chemistry is pretty good and we are all on the same page early in the season. Everyone is going to have to contribute and I think that's a positive as long as we stay healthy."

Arkansas graduated one of the most recognizable backcourts in the SEC last year in C'eira Ricketts and Lyndsay Harris. The duo accounted for nearly one third of the scoring for Arkansas last year.

"We lost two four-year starters in C'eira Ricketts and Lindsay Harris," Collen said. "That's a lot of experience to replace. We have a few players who have the potential to be just as productive and we'll need them to step up fast as the season begins."

Sophomore Calli Berna returns as the clear leader in the backcourt for the Razorbacks. The Fayetteville, Ark., native was a starter for the entire nonconference season and averaged 25.8 minutes playing in all 33 games in 2011-12.

"Calli started 14 games for us at the beginning of last season, and I consider her a returning starter," Collen said. "She was always on the floor for us in crucial situations and gained a lot of experience. The fact that she made the SEC All-Freshman team says a lot about how the coaches in this league feel about her potential. She is a quiet leader. A good defender. And an excellent shooter. She makes good decisions with the basketball which is a premium quality for your point guard. She must become more aggressive offensively. We will need for her to score more than last season."

Joining Berna are seniors Erin Gatling and Kelsey Hatcher along with freshmen Dominique Wilson and Mia Melton.

Gatling played in 17 games last year and took care of the basketball while on the court.

"Erin is going to be more impactful for us than many conference coaches may realize," Collen said. "What she lacks in stature at 5'5", she makes for in desire and hustle. She is an excellent shooter, maybe the best on our roster. She can play the point guard or the shooting guard and replace some of the scoring we lost in Lindsay Harris. I think our fans always appreciated her when she was on the floor and this year I think she will play just as hard but play a little more relaxed. She will help us on the defensive side of the ball as well. She is a mature fifth-year senior that has been waiting for this opportunity for a long time."

Hatcher is also a fifth-year in-state senior who has improved with each season. She also played in 17 games last year and hit nearly 28 percent from three-point range for the Razorbacks.

"Kelsey has great basketball knowledge and her skill set is excellent," Collen said. "She can shoot the ball and play the point guard or the shooting guard and will compete for a starting position."

The freshman class is loaded with ball handlers and all three are expected to challenge for minutes this year.

"We are really excited about Dominique Wilson," Collen said. "She worked hard from the day she stepped on campus and has not stopped improving yet. She will give us a great option at the off guard position and will compete with Kelsey and Erin for a starting position.

"She shoots it pretty well and can put it on the floor. Like our other three guards, she can play the point if needed and we feel pretty good with the ball in her hands."

Melton is a legacy player following in her mother's footsteps as a women's basketball player for the Razorbacks. Melton was a defensive stopper in high school and adds depth to the Razorback backcourt.

"Mia is a first-year player for us and has improved a lot since she joined the team," Collen said. "She has done everything we have asked her to do and has been a great teammate. She knows she has work to do but her mind-set has been very positive."

FRONTCOURT

Arkansas has several options in the frontcourt this year. Six returners with playing time including All-SEC second team selection Sarah Watkins provide both leadership and depth to the three, four and five positions.

Watkins tallied 63 blocks and is third all-time at Arkansas with 161 career rejections. In addition to her shotblocking ability, Watkins scored 10.0 ppg and scored in double figures in 17 contests as a junior. She also had one double-digit rebounding game grabbing a season-best 10 rebounds.

"There is no doubt Sarah Watkins is a key returning player for us after being named to All-SEC team two years in a row," Collen said. "She is a marked player just like Ricketts and Harris were the last four years. She will need to take her game to another level and be more consistent. She has worked hard this past summer and I think she is up to the challenge. She had a small setback late in the summer when she fractured a bone in her left wrist but should be OK for the start of practice. Her inside outside scoring ability is hard to defend and we need to maximize that talent. She will need to touch the ball on most possessions and make good decisions when the defense comes after her."

Williams stepped up big for the Razorbacks in the postseason last year. Steady all season, she averaged 5.3 ppg adn 4.4 rpg with four games, including two in the NCAA Tournament, in double figures.

"Quistelle has a golden opportunity and we all need her to take advantage of it. Someone has to step up and play on Watkins' flank," Collen said. "Q has, at times, has played like an all conference forward like she did the NCAA tournament last season when she led us in scoring both games. She has good shooting touch and could be our best rebounder."

Peak and 'Nique were defensive stoppers for Arkansas helping the Razorbacks finish in the top 10 in the country in most of the defensive stat categories.

"Keira had a great summer and has started to become a leader for us," Collen said. "She has always been a hard worker and our fans know they can always count on her best effort. She has become more consistent with her jumper and is working on improving her range. We will be counting on her to give us a little more scoring and rebounding this year.

"Dominique will be a key player for us but will be fighting her way back from off season shoulder surgery.," Collen continued. "She has been held out of contact for a pretty long period of time. I don't worry about her jumping back in and being aggressive because it's one of her greatest qualities. She has always been one of our best on ball defenders and rebounders. She is anxious to get back and have a great year. The tandem of her and Keira has always been something we depend on."

Also returning for Arkansas is Jhasmine Bowen and Joey Bailey. Bowen played in 15 games last year with 3.1 ppg getting some good minutes in her first year.

"Jhasmine has been waiting for the opportunity to show why she was ranked as a top 75 recruit nationally her senior year in high school," Collen said. "I think she is ready to surprise some people. At first glance she may seem a little undersized in the post but she has three key elects that I think will allow her to succeed. She is incredibly strong, she has soft shooting touch, and without question she gives you everything she has. She has worked hard on her face up game and is in excellent shape. But I still think she can make her living in the low post area. Our fans will be very happy with her emergence this season."

Bailey saw time in just eight games before a broken nose sidelined her for the remainder of the season.

"We decided to redshirt Joey after she had a facial fracture and I I'm glad we went that direction," Collen said. "She has the maturity now to play beyond her freshman classification. She is another post with good range and excellent work habits. I think she will find a way quickly and compete with Q and Jhasmin for a starting position beside Sarah."

Two newcomers round out the Arkansas backcourt. Melissa Wolff checks in from Cabot, Ark., where she paced her high school team to the state championship game last year.

"Melissa is another freshman that has a chance to be impactful," Collen said. "We are not sure where she will play yet, but we know she is versatile. She had to play the post in high school so I know she is tough enough to push and shove if we need her in the high post area. But I think she is a good decision maker and has good shooting touch so she could help us on the perimeter as well. She will compete hard so I know she will find a way to get on the floor and help us."

Freshman Ana-Carlota Faussurier joins the Razorbacks this year but will redshirt the 2012-13 season.

"We were hoping to have Ana this season but because the eligibility process for her started a little to late we have decided to redshirt her. I think it will make her transition from Spain to the U.S. a little easier for her, and I think she will be a better player in the long run. She is an excellent face up forward with great shooting touch. She is adapting to the physicality of the American game, but she backs down from no one. Next season I'm certain a will look at her and be glad that she is only a freshman. She already has many years of experience at the highest international level and that experience will pay off somewhere down the line."

THE BIG PICTURE

"I'm really excited about this team," Collen said. "We have several players who have been waiting for the opportunity to step up and contribute for a long time."

Arkansas' schedule will challenge them early and often, long before the start of the always tough SEC schedule.

The Razorbacks face 11 teams who participated in the postseason a year ago and opens with five of the first six games on the road.

"We have a pretty challenging schedule in the preseason for such an inexperienced team so it would help to get off to a good start," Collen said. "Our games early at Tulsa and ORU will be good tests. We will need to play like a veteran team to win on the road. It's an extended road trip to play in Hawai'i against national power Oklahoma then PAC-12 member Oregon. Throw in a game at host Hawai'i and it's a tough start to the season. Our toughest challenge may be Sweet Sixteen participant Kansas at home. If we can survive all that with our confidence in tact, we might be ready for the SEC."

The SEC is always tough and this year the Razorbacks welcome Missouri and Texas A&M to the family. Although the schedule remains at 16 games, the road to one of the top spots in the conference definitely got tougher.

"The SEC will be another challenge. Once again, the schedule is very tough in the first five games. It's all about survival in this league. The SEC may be tougher this season than any time in it's history with a lot of league teams returning veteran squads. On the surface, it looks like there are five or six teams that are locks for the NCAA Tourney barring injury. It will be a mad scramble to finish sixth through eighth for a lot of really good teams to make the postseason."

Located in Fayetteville, the flagship campus of Arkansas resides on a former hilltop farm overlooking the Ozark Mountains. Since the university's founding in 1871, the campus has grown to encompass more than 412 acres and 130 buildings including Old Main, the icon of higher education in Arkansas. Constructed between 1873 and 1875, Old Main was originally known as University Hall. It is the oldest building on the University campus and one of the oldest buildings in the state.

UNIVERSITY REMAINS A 'TOP TIER' SCHOOL IN U.S. NEWS 'BEST AMERICAN COLLEGES' SURVEY

The University of Arkansas continues to place among the first tier of national universities in the 2012 edition of America's Best Colleges, the annual consumer survey prepared by U.S. News and World Report. The University of Arkansas is the only higher education institution in Arkansas listed among the 200 schools in the top of the national rankings.

The survey's rankings are based on such categories as academic reputation, faculty resources, graduation and retention rates, student quality and alumni giving.

"The University of Arkansas continues to maintain a strong and reputable position in the annual U.S. News survey," said Chancellor G. David Gearhart. "The survey produces a composite based on a wide range of factors—some quantifiable, some intangible. Overall, the survey results produce two meaningful conclusions. First, we are indeed a high-performing academic institution. And second, we maintain widespread respect among higher education leaders as a nationally prominent public university.

"While I recognize that this annual survey is primarily a consumer resource for parents and students, this 'score card' rates us highly among the nation's universities and colleges. The U.S. News ranking speaks well of our students, faculty, and staff."

The university also remains in the category "A-Plus Schools for B Students," a list of 80 national universities that the publication describes as being places where high school students who are "nonsuperstars have a decent shot at being accepted and thriving."

On the individual college level, the Sam M. Walton College of Business was again among the top 50 business programs among national universities, and top 30 public business schools.

The 2012 rankings were released Tuesday, Sept. 13. U.S. News and World Report informed each college and university of its ranking information the previous day.

WHY CHOOSE

ARKANSAS

The University of Arkansas, the state's flagship university, resides on 345 picturesque acres overlooking the Ozark Mountains. For nearly 150 years, it has been at the center of higher education in the state of Arkansas, and recently has moved to the center of higher education in the nation. Never before in the university's history have its students and faculty been more academically accomplished, its facilities more sophisticated, or its research efforts more inclusive. All indicators of academic success are at record highs and climbing. The university's nearly 25,000 students come from every county in Arkansas and some 100 nations, and they have nearly 200 academic programs in which to study. Through the integration of teaching, research and service that puts students first, the University of Arkansas is taking its place among the nation's great comprehensive academies.

WHAT ABOUT FAYETTEVILLE?

Fayetteville is located in the foothills of the scenic Ozark Mountains and close to metropolitan areas including Little Rock and Tulsa. Fayetteville boasts a thriving cultural scene, easy access to outdoor recreation, eclectic shops, and restaurants that serve everything from comfort food to organic cuisine.

Fayetteville is "one of the country's best-kept secrets with its thriving economy and a family-friendly atmosphere nestled in the Ozark Mountains." – Sperling's Best Places

Outside Magazine "Coolest College Towns in the Nation" ranked No. 23

Forbes Magazine ranked Fayetteville the 7th best college town and No. 4 for Best Places for Business and Careers Money Magazine has chosen the Fayetteville area as one of the "Best Places to Live in America."

The city has also featured in Lifestyle Magazine, Southern Living, and The Best Towns in America – a where-to-go guide for a better life.

Senior Walk is the university's longest tradition in miles as well as years. Stories of the origin of Senior Walk vary, but the most common is that it was begun by the class of 1905. A few years later, the class of 1904 added their names on the sidewalk. Each graduating class since then has had their names engraved in the walk. In 1930, slabs were placed for all of the graduating classes prior to 1904. Originally, the names were stamped by hand, but that changed in 1986 when University Physical Plant employees invented the Sand Hog, a machine designed specifically for the purpose of etching the names in Senior Walk. More than 120,000 graduates are now listed on Senior Walk.

ACADEMICS

Recognizing the difficulty of balancing the demands of athletic competition at the highest level and completion of the rigorous academic standards of a Carnegie research-level university, the Razorback Athletic Department provides support services through both facilities and personnel to guide Arkansas studentathletes to their ultimate goal: University of Arkansas diploma.

BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

- Access to three floors of quiet study space that helps to foster academic success.
- 20 individual tutor rooms which are perfect for one-on-one tutoring.
- Computer lab with over 30 individual computers, as well as a scanner, copier, and fax machine are at your disposal as a Razorback student-athlete.

TUTORIAL PROGRAM/STUDY HALL

- We have a Tutor Coordinator on staff to help assist student-athletes with finding a tutor for those who may need additional help on a particular class.
- Razorback student-athletes have access to over 75 subject tutors which makes it possible to find a tutor for any subject on campus.

- Tutors can be utilized anytime during the Bogle Academic Center hours of operation.
- To help each student-athlete achieve academic success, each team has their own set hours for study hall which need to be completed each week. Contact the Academic Coordinator for your sport to see when those hours are scheduled.

ACCELERATE PROGRAM

- At the University of Arkansas we have one of the best Accelerate and Learning Specialist programs in the country.
- This program works with studentathletes on a more directed and specialized learning to develop and cultivate the skills it takes to be a successful college student here at the University of Arkan-
- The Accelerate program is housed within the Bogle Academic Center with two full-time certified specialists and 4 other Graduate students to better accommodate student-athlete success in this challenging program.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT & CAREER DEVELOPMENT

- As a Razorback student-athlete you have the opportunity to be involved, and not only better yourself as person, but also better those around you.
- -The University of Arkansas is one of only a handful of schools that provide both a Student-Athlete Coordinator and a Career Development Coordinator within the Athletic Department. This staff is located in the Bogle Academic Center which allows student-athletes to have more access to their services.
- We want you to succeed not only in the classroom and on the field, but also in life, by developing into the total per-

You can find more information about our top-ranked program here at the Student-Athlete Development website.

SUTTON STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING CENTER

The University of Arkansas is one of the few institutions with a strength and conditioning center built specifically for the needs of the Olympic sport student-athlete. The Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center is housed in the Bev Lewis Center in the heart of the Athletic Valley.

Construction began in December 2001 and the facility opened in April 2004. The 7,000 square foot strength and conditioning center features Olympic weights, plyometric training, aerobic equipment and selectorized weight machines all under in one room.

Todd Barbour oversees the Razorback women's basketball team in the weight room.

MEDIA TRAINING

The University of Arkansas and the Razorback Athletic Department provide its student-athletes and coaches with media training several times throughout their careers.

The goal of the training is to improve communication skills in front of the camera and in real-world situations such as job interviews.

The Razorbacks utilize several outside agencies as well as in-house training for its student-athletes and coaches in an on-campus setting.

Some of the techniques that are discussed include the nuances of print and electronic media, the importance of speaking clearly and how to better tell our story.

Student-athletes and coaches alike go through mock interviews and review their tapes in an effort to improve confidence and comfort when conducting actual interviews.

SOCIAL MEDIA (@RAZORBACKWBB AND ON FACEBOOK)

Included in the training for student-athletes and coaches is training in the use of social media. The Razorback Athletic Department uses a department-wide Facebook page and has a Twitter account to inform fans of the program about what's going on.

But equally important are the social media guidelines that are passed on to student-athletes and coaches. Social media is a great way to communicate, and the Razorbacks have designed a policy that helps student-athletes and coaches reach a new demographic of fans in the electronic age.

RAZORBACK HOOF

You want basketball? We've got basketball.

Fans can follow the University of Arkansas women's basketball team on television, on radio and on the internet via a variety of platforms and broadcasts.

This year, the Razorback women's basketball team begins its 24th consecutive year of complete season broadcasts.

For the fourth year, the games air as a part of the Arkansas Sports Radio Network, a division of Razorback Sports Properties.

Andrew Reynolds returns for his third season calling all of the action. Reynolds began his association with the Razorback media relations office while just a freshman in college. He got his start calling volleyball, soccer and softball while also serving as the public address announcer for several Razorback teams. He also serves as the department's graphic designer.

In addition to the radio broadcasts, fans can pull up to the tube and catch the Razorbacks in primetime for eight regular-season television broadcasts.

Arkansas' television schedule includes games broadcast on FSN (FS South, FS Southwest, SunSports), the SEC Network (over-the-air syndication), CSS (Comcast Sports Southeast) and the ESPN family of networks.

The Razorbacks also added two opponents on COX Sports television in Kansas and Missouri.

Yet another option for fans is the live streaming feature of RazorVision as a part of ArkansasRazorbacks.com. All home games and many road contests are available on-line for a small subscription fee. Log on to ArkansasRazorbacks.com and click on the RazorVision link for more information.

Arkansas head coach Tom Collen also has a regular coach's show that airs on-line at ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

"Courtside with Tom Collen," an award-winning production, is a weekly 30-minute show that airs during the regular season. The show features interviews, game reviews and player profiles throughout the season.

Director of New Media Blair Cartwright (above) returns as the host and the show is available free of charge on ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

THE NEXT LEVEL

The Razorbacks have contributed to the WNBA ranks with four players who have made the rosters. A fifth was invited to try out but did not make the opening day roster. A sixth player, C'eira Ricketts, was the 24th overall pick in the 2012 draft but did not make the roster.

Ricketts went on to play oversees for the Flying Foxes in Austria. Teammates Lyndsay Harris and Ashley Daniels also went oversees in 2012-13. Harris plays in Spain and Daniels in Portugal.

The most notable player is Shameka Christon. Christon is the most successful Arkansas women's basketball player in the WNBA.

The former SEC Player of the Year and SEC Legend remains the highest drafted women's basketball player in Arkansas history when she was taken fifth overall in the first round by the New York Liberty.

Playing in 33 of 34 regular-season games as a contributor from the bench, Christon helped the Liberty to a second-place finish in the Eastern Division in 2004 and was selected to the All-Star team in 2009 when she led the Liberty with 16.1 ppg and 31.7 minutes-pergame Christon was traded to the Chicago Sky for the 2010 season averaging 8.5 ppg and 2.4 rpg and apg.

In the past seasons, Arkansas has sent 12 of its star players into the professional ranks, with four of the most notable standouts helping their teams reach the WNBA playoffs during their rookie seasons.

Lauren Ervin joined her team in 2009. The Connecticut Sun drafted Ervin in the third round of the 2008 WNBA Draft even though the double-double post threat could not play the 2008 season due to a college career ending ACL injury.

Wendi Willits came home in 2001 with a World Championship ring as a member of the Los Angeles Sparks. Willits became the second Razorback to make a WNBA regular-season roster. Signed by the Sparks as a free agent, Willits survived the preseason games and graduation to make the opening day roster for L.A.

It was ironic that Willits' Sparks knocked off her former Arkansas' teammate's old WNBA team.

In 1998, Christy Smith became the first Razorback women's basketball player to go to the WNBA. She was the only WNBA player to go from the 1998 Women's Final Four to the 1998 WNBA Playoffs.

Rookie Impact

CHRISTY SMITH AND WENDI WILLITS

All three of Arkansas' former standouts who made WNBA rosters have helped their teams into the WNBA Playoffs during their rookie seasons. Shameka Christon was part of the turnaround in New York as the Liberty made the WNBA Playoffs in 2004 and Christon was named to the WNBA Rookie Team. Christy Smith went from Final Four to WNBA Playoffs in the same year while Wendi Willits was a member of the LA Sparks' first WNBA Championship.

Her pro career in 1998 resembled her college days at Arkansas. Drafted 17th overall as the second-round pick of the Sting, Smith started the first 13 games of the WNBA season. Her rookie season looked promising until a broken right pinkie sidelined her for six games. She came back to start the season finale for the Sting and played in the Stings' playoff series with eventual WNBA champion Houston.

In 2002, there were four former Arkansas players in WNBA camps. Joining Willits were three free agents, Amy Wright with the Detroit Shock and Karyn Karlin and Shaka Massey with the Miami Sol.

After the 2003 season, Dana Cherry joined Arkansas' WNBA draft list. While union negotiations prevented a draft camp, Cherry impressed the scouts during her senior season to become the 23rd player taken in the 2003 draft, selected by the Charlotte Sting.

Cherry's teammate India Lewis took her three-point shooting skills to The Netherlands to play for BV Lavy in Amsterdam in 2003 and 2004. Brittney Vaughn earned a spot on the Minnesota Lynx training camp roster and played in exhibition contests in 2008.

Arkansas isn't limited to the WNBA. Karyn Karlin had the chance to play with three pro teams in the year prior to her 2002 training camp appearance with the Sol -- the Finnish league before being picked up by Calais in the French league then on to the Birmingham Power of the National Women's Basketball League.

LAUREN ERVIN

Celia Anderson signed to play with the Alexander the Great team based in Thessaloniki. Despite being the shortest American post in the league, Anderson led the Greek pro circuit in rebounding during the 2002 season. She has returned to Arkansas to pursue a master's degree.

Another member of the Final Four team, Treva Christensen saw action in the Finnish league in 2002 for the Insolo team.

Former Kodak All-American Delmonica DeHorney played for Japan Air Lines for a season after she led the Razorbacks to the NCAA West Regional Finals in 1990 and the Sweet 16 in 1991. DeHorney also played pro ball briefly in France.

Śmith was the second Razorback to participate in the WNBA predraft camp. Her former teammate, Kimberly Wilson, worked out during the first-ever predraft camp in 1997. Smith also holds the distinction of being the second Lady'Back drafted by an American pro league. Cheryl Orcholski was drafted by the Columbus Minks of the old Women's Basketball Association.

ANOTHER CONNECTION

In 2009, the WNBA announced an expansion team that would be located in Tulsa, Okla., and shortly after, the league announced former Razorback men's head coach Nolan Richardson would be the team's first head coach.

Richardson and the Tulsa Shock played to a 6-28 inaugural season record. Richardson also added former Razorback men's assistant coach Wayne Stehlik to the bench as an assistant.

BUD WALTON ARENA

Arkansas begins its 20th season in Bud Walton Arena – The Basketball Palace of Mid-America.

When Arkansas joined the Southeastern Conference in August of 1990, then Razorback Men's Athletic Director Frank Broyles knew the athletic facilities had to be upgraded to contend in America's most nationally competitive league.

His attention turned immediately to basketball. The men's basketball team had been very successful, coming off a Final Four trip earlier that year, but they, along with the women's team, played in 9,000-seat Barnhill Arena. One day, Bud Walton, cofounder of Walmart, visited Broyles and asked him what Arkansas needed most to be competitive in the SEC.

Broyles mentioned the need for additional basketball seats and was asked by Walton what a new arena would cost. The figure $30 million was discussed and Walton offered to pay half. From that visit, fabulous Bud Walton Arena was born.

Ground breaking to grand opening was accomplished in a remarkable 18 months. The Razorbacks played in Bud Walton for the first time in November of 1993. Everything went perfectly during the first full year. Not only did Arkansas men's team sell out the arena, the Razorbacks were unbeaten in their new home (16-0) and won the 1994 national championship.

Bud Walton Arena houses a deluxe museum on the ground level that includes a tribute to Arkansas' 1994 NCAA Men's Championship and multiple Final Four appearances by both programs as well as the history of Razorback basketball, track and field, baseball, tennis and golf. Eye-catching displays on the concourse level salute recent Razorback highlights.

The 2004 season marked the debut of a new custom scoreboard in the shape of a basketball hoop. The board, 24 feet, three inches wide by 22 feet tall, features four video screens, each 12 feet, six inches wide by eight feet, 10 inches tall. An LED ring at the top is used to display game statistics.

Enhancements prior to the 2009 season included the addition of courtside seating, electronic signage at the scorer's table, new retractable seats in the lower level, electronic ribbon boards along the bottom of the upper deck, replacing the Razorback on the court with the classic Razorback logo and opening up the student section by converting it from chairback seats to benches.

Eight suites were added prior to the 2008 season, raising the total to 47.

Changes to the facility took place again for the 2011-12 season, most noticeably, a new paint scheme on the court along with some behind-the scenes updates.

As captivating as the displays, museum and championship banners are hanging from the arena floor's ceiling, the aspect of the facility demanding the most attention is spirit. Every game still produces an NCAA Tournament-type atmosphere with the exception of the crowd, which is anything but neutral. According to Rosser International in Atlanta, when the arena was built, there were more seats in less space than in any such facility in the world.

It's no wonder the noise level can be absolutely ear-splitting.

From pre-game to post-game, Bud Walton Arena is perfectly choreographed with the band, spirit groups, lighting system, public address, scoreboard and team. Each game at Walton is a rich experience leaving Razorback fans hungry for more.

FUTURE RAZORBACK BASKETBALL FACILITY

OUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME

A MASCOT LIKE NO OTHER

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as "the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous. . . He has a clear, farseeing eye."

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas' players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek's day, currently serves as the official live mascot.

Tusk IV is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk IV is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc. Tusk III made his debut in 2010 after the unexpected passing of his brother, Tusk II, following Arkansas' AutoZone Liberty Bowl win over ECU in January, 2010.

Tusk IV began making appearances in the spring of 2011 and assumes a full schedule of duties for the 2011-12 season.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar's spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

HEAD COACH TOM COLLEN

TOM COLLEN

Head Coach • Sixth Season at Arkansas

When Tom Collen answered the call to return to the University of Arkansas, he knew he was coming home.

The seventh head coach in Razorback history, Collen served as the first assistant head coach during the mid-1990s. His recruiting work led to one of the greatest moments in Arkansas history – the 1998 Final Four.

His recruits were the key to a golden age of women's basketball at Arkansas in the mid-to-late 1990s. It would be the same process in the 21st century, and Collen got to work immediately.

The fall signees for the Class of 2008 put the Razorbacks among the top 25 in recruiting.

By January 2008, Collen had the current Razorbacks in The Associated Press Top 25. That made Collen only the ninth coach in women's college basketball history to take three different programs into the AP rankings, and he had done it in only 10 seasons.

In his five seasons with the Razorbacks, Collen has coached six all-Southeastern Conference selections including SEC Co-Freshman of the Year C'eira Ricketts and the SEC's Sixth Player of the Year Charity Ford.

His Arkansas teams have produced one WNBA draft selection, nine All-SEC selections, five league community service team picks and several SEC Players of the Week and made four postseason appearances.

In his most recent season with the Razorbacks, Collen guided the team to several "firsts" and program bests. The 2012-13 edition of the team returned to the NCAA Tournament reaching the second round before a very close, two-point loss sent Arkansas home.

Collen guided the Razorbacks to a program-best eight consecutive SEC wins, a 10-win season and a tie for fourth place in the final standings.

He was voted as the SEC Coach of the Year, the first ever Arkansas woman's coach and just the second Razorback basketball coach, ever selected. Collen went on to the national ballot for NCAA Coach of the Year.

As he enters the 2012-13 season, Collen ranks 18th in the nation among active coaches with 10 or more years of experience with a .695 winning percentage.

Collen's road home to Arkansas started in the Blue Grass state.

Settled in at Louisville and putting the Cardinals in the top 25 and the NCAA second round, Collen earned his 200th career victory that season and seemed ready to move UL into the Big East elite.

Then, the phone rang and Collen came home.

"Some of my fondest memories both as a person and as a coach are from my time in Fayetteville," Collen said. "I have always felt that Arkansas has the potential to excel at the national level. We proved that during my tenure here as the recruiting coordinator that resulted in an appearance at the Final Four."

Collen served as the recruiting coordinator for four seasons at Arkansas from 1993 until departing to become the head coach at Colorado State in 1997.

"I know the keys to success in building this program to new heights. I know we need to keep the best players in the state, and I will do everything in my power to make that happen," Collen said.

In his final two seasons with Arkansas, Collen was promoted to assistant head coach for the Razorbacks.

"I developed great working relationships with many of the people here and those friendships proved to be very important in the decision to return to Arkansas," Collen said.

The national coach of the year in 1999, Collen is one of the top women's coaches in the game today by any measure. Along with his career percentage rankings, Collen won his 200th game in 2006-07, and in doing so put him on yet another list of coaching greats -- the fastest to 200 wins.

His 2006-07 Louisville team made history for the Cardinals by achieving the first national ranking in school history. Behind the presence of Big East Player of the Year Angel McCoughtry, only the second player in Big East history to lead the league in scoring and rebounding, Collen's Cardinals closed the season with a school-record 27 wins and came within minutes of reaching the Sweet 16 for the first time ever.

Collen brings a reputation for recruiting and resurrecting programs to the Arkansas position.

In his first decade as a head coach, his teams have nine post season appearances and racked up eight 20-win seasons.

In fact, across the span of his entire women's basketball coaching career, Collen has never been on a coaching staff -- head coach, assistant head coach or assistant coach -- that recorded a losing season.

During his career as an assistant and head coach in Division I, Collen's recruiting has been singled out as among the best in the nation.

One of the most sought-after assistant coaches in America during his early career, he recruited the athletes that put Purdue and Arkansas into their first Final Four appearances. During his 14 seasons as a full-time assistant with Utah, Purdue and Arkansas, Collen produced 10 recruiting classes that ranked top 20 in the nation.

His final class at Utah ranked 19th, starting an eight-year run in the top 20 for the up-and-coming recruiter. Collen's seven-year tenure at Purdue resulted in seven consecutive recruiting classes ranked in the top 20, including the top class in the nation in 1989. At Arkansas, his final two recruiting classes were ranked top 20 with the 1996 class achieving the highest ranking in school history at fifth.

Perhaps the most recognized recruit in Collen's Arkansas career was future University hall of fame point guard Christy Smith who led the Razorbacks to the 1998 Final Four. However, the recruiting classes during his four years as Arkansas' recruiting coordinator included Parade All-Americans like Tennille Adams, 1998 NCAA West Regional MVP Sytia Messer and the second all-time three-point shooter in SEC history Wendi Willits. On the court, Collen's defensive mastery turned Arkansas into a 20-game winner after one season. The Razorbacks posted two post-season appearances during his four years.

Departing Arkansas after the 1997 season to take over the Colorado State program, he turned the Rams into champions in his first season. The Rams took the Western Athletic Conference regular season title winning 24 games and advancing to the NCAA second round.

The next season, CSU ran the table in the WAC with a school-record 33-3 mark to advance to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the first and only time in school history. Led by Ram superstar Becky Hammon and fellow All-American Katie Cronin, Collen's second year team put Colorado State on the map and earned conference, regional and national coach of the year honors for Collen.

While the accolades came for the 1999 team, Collen earned them again the following year as he guided the Rams to another 20-win season in 2000.

Rebuilding without Hammon and company, CSU reached the post season and advanced three games into the Women's NIT before losing in the semifinals.

With a new foundation recruited to Fort Collins, Colorado State returned to the NCAA Tournament in 2001 and 2002. Changing conferences in 2001, the Rams took the Mountain West tournament title in 2001 and the MVC regular season title in 2002.

After the 2002 season, Collen appeared bound for the SEC at Vanderbilt, but the Commodores withdrew their offer after mistakenly interpreting the veteran coach's academic record from his graduate work at Miami of Ohio. Taking a year off from coaching in 2002-03, Collen was vindicated by the registrar's office at Miami.

The next year, Collen took over the Cardinals and had the same immediate impact experienced at Colorado State. With a single returning starter, Collen led Louisville to a 20-win season and the first appearance in the Conference USA tournament semifinals since 1999. His coaching turned Sara Nord into an All-America candidate that led the Cardinals into the post season.

In his second year, Collen had UL leading C-USA before losing one of his starting forwards, Missy Taylor, to a torn meniscus. Turning to one of his freshmen recruits, Yuliya Tokova, Collen rebuilt the Cardinals who finished the season with a powerful surge to reach the C-USA finals for the first time since 1998. In the title game, UL took its second hit with a torn ACL to Tokova, yet the Cardinal closed the year at 22-9 and in the NCAA tournament for the first time since 2001.

His time at Louisville first produced three all-freshmen team members three straight seasons with Jazz Covington, Yuliya Tokova and Angel McCoughtry, then all-conference honors peaking in 2007 with McCoughtry's selection as the Big East Player of the Year. Covington became the first Wade Trophy watch list member in Cardinal history.

The native of Lancaster, Ohio, graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1977 with his bachelor's in physical education. He completed his master's in recreational education

ASSISTANT COACH NICKI COLLEN

NICKI COLLEN

Assistant Coach * Second Season at Arkansas

Nicki Collen made her return to coaching July 1, 2011, joining husband Tom Collen as an assistant for the Razorbacks.

Nicki stepped away from coaching to start a family but steped in at Arkansas during a time that the Razorbacks are rich with guard-driven talent – her area of expertise. Nicki will focus on the continued development of Arkansas guards as well as assume the role of defensive coordinator for the Razorbacks.

Arkansas' guard pool includes sophomore Calli Berna and returners Erin Gatling and Kelsey Hatcher along with newcomer Melissa Wolff who is expected to handle the ball as well.

In her first season on the bench for the Razorbacks, Nicki helped the team rank eighth in the nation in scoring defense holding opponents to just 52.4 ppg. That mark ranked second in the SEC and the Razorbacks ranked second in three-point field goal defense and defensive rebounding percentage.

"Nicki contributes to the team in many ways," head coach Tom Collen said. "First and foremost, she continues the development of our young and talented guards and takes their game to another level. She was a point guard in college and she has a great mind for the game. Nicki is also the defensive coordinator, a position she has held for me in past. I take great comfort in her knowing how I think and what I want, so we should be on the same page from the beginning."

Nicki was on the bench with Collen during his coaching stints at Louisville and Colorado State. At Louisville, she filled the roles of an assistant coach (April 2003-June 2004) and director of basketball operations (July 2004-Dec. 2005) coordinating team travel and scheduling, doing film breakdown, handling summer camps, recruiting and scouting. Her on-court coaching duties encompassed all elements of the game with a specialization in guard development for the Cardinals.

ASSISTANT COACH NICKI COLLEN

Nicki arrived at Louisville after one season as an assistant coach at Ball State. While at Ball State her main coaching responsibilities were working with the point guards and assisting in recruiting.

Prior to her coaching at Ball State, she served two seasons as an assistant at Colorado State where she handled recruiting, scouting, team travel, guard development and all aspects of on-court coaching. In her two seasons with the Rams she helped guide them to a 47-17 overall record and the 2002 Mountain West Conference Title.

While at Colorado State, Nicki was also the color analyst for women's basketball during the 2000-01 season. She continued to work in television serving as a color analyst for numerous telecasts including Razorback women's basketball and softball.

Before her tenure at Colorado State, Nicki played basketball professionally for one season with the BCM Alexandros Team in Greece. From 1993-95, the former Nicki Taggart, helped guide Purdue to two Big Ten Titles and a Final Four appearance in 1994.

Nicki transferred to Marquette for her final two seasons, guiding them to two consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. While at Marquette, she earned all-conference honors and finished her senior season ranked third in the nation in assists. Upon graduation, she held the league record for career assists average with 7.0 per game. She earned her bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Marquette, graduating with honors in 1997.

Tari Cummings joined the University of Arkansas women's basketball staff in May 2011 as an assistant coach for the Razorbacks.

Cummings assists Arkansas as the team's recruiting coordinator, works with the Razorback posts and is the team's liaison with the academic center.

Cummings comes to Arkansas by way of the University of Houston where she spent two seasons working with the Cougars as the team's recruiting coordinator.

While at Houston, Cummings worked with the guards and helped the Cougars play to a perfect 16-0 mark, the conference title and an NCAA Tournament appearance. In addition she coached and mentored three players who are currently playing in the professional ranks.

Cummings came to Houston after two seasons at the University of Cincinnati where she served in the same capacity. Cummings worked with the Bearcat post players and served as the academic liaison and recruiting coordinator.

Prior to her time at UC, Cummings spent four seasons at Arkansas-Fort Smith under long-time head coach Louis Whorton, where she helped the Lions to three NJCAA National Tournament appearances, including a pair of final fours and a consolation championship. She coached and mentored three NJCAA Cummings and daughter Tiya.

All-Americans during her tenure at UA-Fort Smith while being responsible for the development of the team's post players and serving as the recruiting coordinator.

ASSISTANT COACH TARI CUMMINGS

She played her college ball at UA-Fort Smith (then Westark College), where she earned All-American honors in 1999 and helped the Lions place seventh in the NJCAA National Tournament in 1997-98. She finished with 1,262 career points, ranking third in the program's history. She went on to play two seasons at Oklahoma State University, where she was an All-Big 12 performer in 2001-02, averaging 13.1 points per contest and leading the Cowgirls with 6.9 rebounds per game.

Cummings earned her associate of arts degree from Westark College in 1999 and received a B.S. in sociology from Oklahoma State in 2003. She is a native of Pocola, Okla., and has a daughter, Tiya.

ASSISTANT COACH AMBER SHIREY

AMBER SHIREY

Assistant Coach * 21st Season at Arkansas

Former Razorback and director of operations Amber Shirey transitioned in the position of assistant coach for the University of Arkansas women's basketball team in April 2012.

"We are really excited to have Amber back on the floor coaching and recruiting," said Collen. "It was a goal for me from day one to put her back in that position when I had staff changes. When I brought my staff from Louisville, Amber graciously accepted my basketball operations position out of loyalty to the program and has been an unbelievable asset as we have delivered this program back to the level where we all knew it should be, in the NCAA tournament. I have said many times over the past five years and I will repeat it once again. No one loves the Razorbacks more than Amber Shirey and no one has been more valuable to our program's success than her. I know she is excited to help take us back to the level of success her teams accomplished when she was one of the best players in this program's history."

Shirey began her career at Arkansas as a player for the Razorbacks (1989-92) becoming the first women's student-athlete selected to receive a NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. She closed her career as one of two players in school history to rank on four career total lists (points, 6th; rebounds, 10th; steals, 2nd; assists, 1st). Twice named All-Southwest Conference, she was the MVP of the 1991 SWC tournament, leading Arkansas to the first non-Texas title.

Shirey equaled her court performance in the classroom. A kinesiology major, she had over a 3.9 GPA, and twice was voted to the College Sports Information Directors of America's Academic All-America Team. She was a three-time conference academic team member.

Shirey graduated and went on to a student coaching role for one season before being named assistant coach, a position she held for 14 seasons with two different head coaches.

In 2007, when current head coach Tom Collen returned to Arkansas, Shirey redefined herself in a new role as executive director of operations, a position she held until returning to the sidelines as the Razorback assistant.

In her current position as assistant, Shirey will prepare scouting reports, assist in practice planning, game preparation and film breakdown. She will also assist with all facets of the recruiting process and monitor the Razorbacks' academic progress.

The former Amber Nicholas is married to Jason Shirey. Coach of the Fayetteville High softball team, Jason led the Lady Bulldogs to back-to-back state championships in 2006 and 2007. The Shireys have three children, a son, Ross, and daughters, Reese and Rheid.

JESSICA BOWIE

Director of Basketball Operations • 1st Season

Jessica Bowie joined the Razorback women's basketball team as the director of operations in August 2012. Bowie, a Mississippi native, takes over for Amber Shirey who recently returned to the sidelines as an assistant coach for the Razorbacks.

"We are very excited to welcome Jessica to the Razorback family," said Collen. "After maintaining my staff in tact at Louisville and Arkansas for nearly seven years, it has been invigorating to make recent changes and has really proven to be a blessing in many ways. I have lost three great assistants in the past year, but I have also been able to bring many fresh young faces into our program. The addition of Jessica Bowie fits the mold perfectly.

"Jessica is young and energetic and is very eager for this challenge," Collen continued. "Her background is in teaching and coaching at the high school level but she really caught my eye with the work she was performing coaching at the club level. She will perform many of the daily functions Amber Shirey has been performing for the past five years, but we also hope to utilize in the marketing area as well as academics and mentoring our players daily."

Bowie most recently held positions as the head girls' basketball and volleyball coach as well has history instructor at Rowan Middle School as well as serving as an assistant coach for the Arkansas Marvericks-Durham team.

While at Rowan Middle School, she helped organize a holiday food drive, breast cancer awareness fundraiser and was the college spirit week winner while teaching and coaching.

With the Arkansas Mavericks-Durham team, Bowie helped several players improve their prep rankings. She organized team travel and budgets as well as serving as a tournament director.

Bowie earned her bachelor's degree in political science at Millsaps College in Jackson, Miss., in 2010, and her master's degree in curriculum and instruction at Ole Miss in 2012.

JEFF BRAZIL
Basketball Operations

Jeff Brazil began his career with the Razorback women's basketball team in 2007. Brazil served the Razorbacks for three seasons as the assistant video coordinator and was elevated into the director of video operations for the 2010-11 season. He moved into the director of video and basketball operations position for the 2012-13 season.

"Jeff has done such a great job for us," said head coach Tom Collen. "He came here as a volunteer student assistant and has trained himself to be one of the best video coordinators in the country. We are fortunate to still have him. He is qualified to work in any program including at the professional level. He spends countless hours doing all the little things you need for your program to be successful. His loyalty is unmatched and his work ethic is off the charts. We are giving him more responsibility than ever before and are glad he is a part of our program."

Brazil is responsible for all aspects of video editing for the Razorbacks. He helps with film breakdown, digital video exchange and professional highlight videos. Brazil maintains the video databases assisting players and coaches with preparation and development.

Brazil helped the Razorbacks move into the 21st century coordinating significant technological advancements in equipment, work stations and video review practices advancing the Arkansas women's basketball program. Brazil instituted the use of Blackboard allowing student-athletes to watch individual film as well as opponent breakdowns anytime from any computer or terminal.

A native of Colcord, Okla., Brazil's experience includes stints as a student manager at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and Oklahoma State under Eddie Sutton with the men's basketball teams.

In addition, Brazil has worked several camps and clinics throughout the south and midwest including the Tom Collen, Mike Anderson, John Pelphrey, Rick Barnes, Mark Turgeon, Dan Hays and Doc Sadler camps. He has also worked the SEC Tournament Youth Clinic. Brazil is a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, the Arkansas Coaches Association and the Women's Basketball Coaches Association.

Recently Brazil assisted former Razorback coach Nolan Richardson and the WNBA's Tulsa Shock with video in 2010-2011.

Brazil is married to the former Sheri McElroy of Springdale, Ark., and is a 2010 University of Arkansas graduate in education. He completed his master's degree in physical education in 2012.

ANDREA BLAKNEY Basketball Secretary

Andrea Blakney joined the Razorback women's basketball staff in 2000 as the team's administrative assistant. Along with keeping the coaching staff coordinated and relating with the public, Blakney also assists with the annual basketball camps and the team's recruiting data base systems.

Andrea and husband Glen have one son, Travis, daughter-in-law, Jennifer, and granddaugher, Fern. When she's not working in the Razorback office, Andrea enjoys sports, the outdoors, reading and family activities.

WYATT HODGES
Assistant Video Coordinator

Wyatt Hodges begins his fourth season with Razorback women's basketball. He was named assistant video coordinator in August 2010 and his main responsibilities include the filming of games and film breakdown.

Hodges has worked the Mike Krzyzewski camp and is a member of the Rising Coaches Elite.

Hodges spent one semester as a student manager under Razorback men's basketball coach John Pelphrey. He has also worked John Pelphrey and Doc Sadler basketball camps.

A Spokane, Mo., native, Hodges was a member of a state tournament team, helping the Owls to the Elite 8 and a 22-7 overall record.

Basketball runs in Wyatt's family as his father, Garry, is an assistant basketball coach at North Arkansas College in Harrison, Arkansas.

Hodges is the son of Garry and Karen Hodges and has three older sisters: Heather, Shannon, Brooke, and a twin brother, Grant.

MICHAEL JENNINGS Graduate Assistant

Mike Jennings joined the Razorback women's basketball team as a manager for the 2010-11 season and moved to graduate assistant in 2011-12. Fans have seen Jennings on the sidelines as he helps prepare and maintain the bench area, prepare coaches for timeouts and assist players as they transition in and out of the game. Jennings also assisted with statistics, equipment and team travel often arriving at the plane before the team and staying long after players and coaches have gone.

As a graduate assistant, Jennigs assists with day-to-day office operations including assisting with recruiting database maintenance, mail outs and preparation of scouting reports. He also manages the eligibility and scheduling of the male practice players

A native of Destrehan, La., Jennings is the son of Scott and Toni Jennings. He graduated in 2011 with a degree in kinesiology P-12 from Arkansas.

AS A REDSHIRT JUNIOR (2011-12)

Erin Gatling waited a long time to become a Razorback but she proved it was worth the delay. Gatling played in 17 contests as a redshirt junior averaging 7.7 minutes and 3.2 points per game. She scored a season/Arkansas career-best 11 points in the win over Morgan State and grabbed five rebounds against Oral Roberts. Gatling was solid from the floor shooting 45.9 percent and hit 5-of-10 three-pointers.

AS A JUNIOR (2010-11)

Gatling sat out the 2010-11 season due to NCAA transfer rules.

AT SOUTHERN MISS

In her two seasons at Southern Mississippi, Erin Gatling led the team in free throw percentage her freshman season and was the team's leader in steals and assists as a sophomore. She paced the Golden Eagles to a conference runner-up finish in the 2008-09 season.

In addition, Gatling was a member of the conference honor roll with a 3.12 grade point average in exercise science.

AT VAN BUREN HS

Gatling averaged 16.0 ppg and 6.5 apg at Van Buren High. She concluded her prep career as the Pointers' all-time leading scorer with 1,127 points and led the team in assists, steals and free throws made.

She was an all-conference and all-state selection in basketball and also lettered in track and field. She won the 800-meter state champion as a prepster and still ranks among the state's leaders in the 800.

PERSONAL

Born Nov. 13, 1989, Erin Renee Gatling is one of three children to David and Cheryl Gatling of Van Buren, Ark. She has two siblings, Chris and Jacob. Gatling earned her bachelor's degree in kinesiology and applied exercise science at Arkansas in May and is currently pursuing her graduate degree in exercise science.

AS A REDSHIRT JUNIOR (2011-12)

Kelsey Hatcher saw time in 17 games in 2011-12 after redshirting last year. Hatcher averaged 6.5 minutes per game and scored 19 points with eight rebounds. Hatcher's best scoring game was a six-point effort in a win over Morgan State going

2-for-3 from beyond the arc. Look for Hatcher to average more minutes and more points in her final season.

AS A JUNIOR (2010-11)

Hatcher sat out the 2010-11 season due to NCAA transfer rules.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Hatcher has found her home at Arkansas after stints at Oklahoma State and Southern Methodist. Hatcher inked with the Cowgirls out of high school and appeared in 25 games as a true freshman. She shot 28-of-60 from the field and was 16-of-38 from three-point range for a .421 shooting percentage. That mark ranked second on the team. She had 15 rebounds and 10 assists in her first season.

Hatcher transferred to SMU following her freshman season at OSU and sat out the 2009-10 season due to NCAA rules.

AT CENTRAL ARKANSAS CHRISTIAN

Hatcher was an all-state selection as a senior leading CAC to a 27-5 record and a berth in the 4A State Tournament. She averaged 24 ppg as a senior and finished her career third on the school's all-time scoring list with 1,518 career points in three seasons. Hatcher was a four-time all-conference and two-time all-state selection and scored 1,974 career points with 283 three-pointers over her four-year prep career (Pulaski Academy and CAC).

In addition to basketball, Hatcher was active in cross country, soccer and track helping her teams to 11 state titles. She was featured in Sports Illustrated's "Faces In The Crowd".

PERSONAL

Born Jan. 17, 1990, Kelsey Brooke Hatcher is the oldest of six children to Greg Hatcher and Tammy Childress of Little Rock, Ark. She has four sisters, Haley, Larkin, Lynley and Mattie and a brother, Layne. Hatcher graduated in May with a bachelor's degree in communication at Arkansas and is currently pursuing her master's degree.

AS A JUNIOR (2011-12)

Sarah Watkins' presence in the paint made opponents think twice before driving the lane in 2011-12. A shot-blocking force, Watkins tallied 63 blocks and is third all-time at Arkansas with 161 career rejections. She finished her junior season tied for first in SEC only games with 2.5 blocks per game and third in all games with 1.9 bpg. Watkins ranked 45th in the country in blocks per game as well.

In addition to her shot-blocking ability, Watkins scored 10.0 points per game and scored in double figures in 17 contests as a junior. She also had one double-digit rebounding game grabbing a season-best 10 rebounds.

Watkins recorded a block in 26 games last year and tied her career-best with six blocks against No. 25/22 Vanderbilt tying the Arkansas record for blocks in an SEC game.

In SEC only games, Watkins finished her junior season ranked ninth in free throw percentage hitting 76.0 percent of her bonus shots. She ranked 26th in all games in scoring averaging 10.0 ppg and was seventh in free throw percentage with a 73.9 mark.

She earned preseason All-SEC Second-Team honors from the coaches and media and postseason second-team honors from the coaches. Watkins was a preseason CollegeSportsMadness.com All-SEC Second-Team selection and a fourth-team postseason pick.

The Germantown, Tenn., native earned SEC Player of the Week (1-23-12) and selection to the Primetime Performers Weekly Honor Roll (1-24-12). Watkins ranks 26th in points with 964 and 26th in rebounding with 452 heading into her senior season.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2010-11)

A shooter's worst nightmare, Watkins' emerged as a solid post player and premier shot-blocker as a sophomore in 2010-11. Watkins finished her second season of college ball second on the team with 13.5 ppg and 5.6 rpg. She led the team with 58 blocks, bettering her freshman record of 40 from the previous year. Her efforts were rewarded with all-tournament team honors at UTEP and selection to the media's All-SEC Second-Team. She also earned SEC Player of the Week honors in early January. Watkins elevated her game in the postseason scoring 16.8 ppg and grabbing 6.5 rpg in four contests. She had 28 games in double-figure scoring, six with double-digit rebounds and six doubledoubles. Watkins scored 20 or more points four times last year highlighted by a career-best 25 points in a postseason win over Lamar in which she shot 10-for-21 from the floor. Her 14 rebounds against Georgia and against Lamar are also career-highs. As a shot-blocker, Watkins finished the year ranked eighth in the Arkansas career record books, third in the SEC in both all game and league game single season numbers and 64th in the nation as a sophomore.

AS A FRESHMAN (2009-10)

Watkins was asked to step in and step up as a post player in the toughest conference in the country as a true freshman. A 30-game player in her first year, Watkins averaged 5.9 ppg, 3.9 rpg and 20.6 minutes per game in 2009-10. A post player with the ability to step out and shoot the three, Watkins got better with every game. She opened her career with a 20-point effort against Alcorn State – all in the second half. She had three games in double-figures to start the season but a recurring back injury slowed her at times during the season. Watkins led the team in blocks with 40 as a freshman and just missed the single game record with five against Coppin State.

AT HOUSTON HS

Watkins was rated top 50 or top 100 by almost every notable girls' basketball service. ESPN listed the versatile center as the No. 42 recruit in the country (and the No. 7 forward in the country), touting her ability to score from two feet to 24 feet. SLAM magazine listed Watkins as its No. 60 prospect as well. Already a 1,000-point career scorer by the close of her junior year, Watkins led Houston High in Germantown, Tenn., to the 8-AAA regional championship in basketball. Watkins averaged 23 ppg, 10 rpg and 5 blocks last season. She broke the HHS single-game scoring record last year with 43 points against rival Germantown, pulling down 18 rebounds with eight blocks. As a junior, Watkins was named MVP of the regional tournament, along with all-metro Memphis and several other tournament teams. The 6-3 post was also selected for both Nike Skills Academy and adidas Top Ten. Her AAU team, Memphis Elite, is a fixture on the national tournament scene. Along with her basketball talent, Watkins is a member of Houston High's twotime district and regional golf champion squads. As a senior, she was a scoring member of HHS team that was third at the state Class AAA championship and was seventh her junior year.

PERSONAL

Born Sept. 14, 1990, Sarah Elizabeth Watkins is one of three children to Roxanne and Dennis Watkins. She has two brothers, Daniel and David. Watkins is majoring in sports medicine and applied exercise science at Arkansas.

AS A JUNIOR (2011-12)

Quistelle Willliams emerged on the big stage of the NCAA Tournament with two of her best games as a Razorback. Williams lead Arkansas with 15 points and seven rebounds in a win over Dayton in the first round of the tournament and followed up with 14 points and eight boards against the defending national champion Texas A&M Aggies on their home floor. Williams will likely catch the attention of next year's opponents.

A quiet player, Williams played in 32 games averaging 5.3 points per game and 4.4

rebounds per game in 2011-12. She had four games in double figures including two in the NCAA Tournament. She grabbed a career-best 12 rebounds, including 11 defensive boards, in a win over Morgan State in December. Her 7-for-14 performance at Texas A&M were both career best numbers as well.

Williams, like the other Razorback post players, is not afraid to step out and try a three. She hit 10 three pointers last year including one in the NCAA Tournament.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2010-11)

Williams continued to improve in her second season of collegiate basketball with the Razorbacks. She played in 25 games starting one and really showcased her skills late in the season. She finished the year sixth on the team in scoring with 3.8 ppg and averaged 3.1 rpg as a sophomore. She improved those numbers to 8.8 ppg and 4.0 rpg in the four-game postseason run in the WNIT Tournament. Williams scored in double-digits three times last year highlighted by a career-best 16 points on 6-for-9 shooting against Lamar in the first game of the postseason.

AS A FRESHMAN (2009-10)

Williams had the unenviable task of taking a year off from basketball and having to play her way into competition form throughout the year. She responded playing in 26 games and averaging 4.3 ppg and 3.8 rpg in her first season. Williams had three games in which she scored double-figures with a season/career-best of 13 twice. She had 13 points and 11 rebounds – her first career double-double leading Arkansas to a school-record 18-point comeback at South Carolina and earned SEC Freshman of the Week honors for her efforts.

The 29 points equals her junior season best as a player for Grand Rapids, Mich., Ottawa Hills High. She averaged 14 ppg, 10 rpg and 6 apg for Ottawa as a junior. A starter at the varsity level since her freshman season, she began her career as the starting point guard for Ottawa Hills before moving to a forward slot as a junior and senior. The 6-1 forward pulled down a senior season high 12 rebounds with 19 points against Jenison. Williams made her best run at a triple-double against West Ottawa with 18 points, nine boards and six assists.

In addition to her local recognition, Williams was among the players nominated from the state of Michigan for the McDonald's All-America game. Williams is a three-time all-conference and three-time all-area selection. She participated in several regional leagues, including earning MVP honors in a local exposure league for up-and-coming players last summer. Williams was the first high school player from the state of Michigan to sign at Arkansas for women's basketball.

PERSONAL

Quistelle Euniece Williams is the daughter of Anshanette Colbert-Brooks and Christopher Brooks. Born Aug. 26, 1990, Williams has a sister, Taneisha, and brother Brian. She plans to major in criminal justice and sociology at Arkansas.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Williams signed with Arkansas as part of WILLIAMS' GAME-BY-GAME Tom Collen's first recruiting class in 2008 but sat out the 2008-09 season. Williams averaged 16.4 ppg and 10 rpg as the top scorer for the EKHS Falcons, with a season-high and team-leading 29 points against Muskegon. Williams scored in double digits in every game she played except one, and was the Falcons' leading scorer in almost three-fourths of the 20-game season. On several occasions, Williams scored half of her team's total points, including her EKHS career best of 29 as the Falcons' picked up 59 points as a team against Muskegon. Along with her scoring, Williams was one of the team's top assistmakers with six per game. She also blocked four shots per game as a senior.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2011-12)

Keira Peak is a versatile player capable of playing many different roles for the Razorbacks. As a sophomore, Peak's athleticism continued to shine with her acrobatic rebounds and saves. Peak is no stranger to a floor burn. The Clyattville, Ga., native played in 32 games last year earning a start in the regular season finale at SIU-Edwardsville. She averaged 4.3 points per game and 3.0 rebounds per game as a sophomore.

What won't show up in the stat sheet is Peak's dominating defensive effort as she helped the Razorbacks rank eighth in the nation in scoring defense in 2011-12. Peak teamed with Dominique Robinson and the duo had the task of stopping the ball against some of the toughest teams in the nation. They responded forcing 622 opponent turnovers and helped Arkasnas to 2,049 steals.

Peak scored in double digits three times as a sophomore includ-

and averaging 7.1 ppg and 5.7 rpg. Peak quickly became a fan favorite with her extra hustle and dynamic jumping ability. If there were a statistic for scrapping on the floor, Peak would have won it. Peak had eight games in doubledigit scoring including a career-best 16 points in the win at UTEP. She collected a career-best 12 rebounds against Mississippi Valley State.

AT LOWNDES HS

Peak was a first-team all-state selection from Clyattville, Ga. (near Valdosta). Listed as a power or strong forward for Lowndes High School, Peak played in 29 games averaging 22.0 ppg as a senior. Her career numbers include 83 games, 18.0 ppg, 3.0 apg and 12.0 rpg in four seasons. In addition to her all-state honor, Peak most recently earned MVP honors at the North-South All-Star game. She is a first-team all-region selection as a senior after earning first-team honors as a junior. Peak paced the Lowndes Vikettes to three consecutive 22+ win seasons and scored more than 1,200 career points. She grabbed more than 800 career rebounds and had 200+ steals. In addition to basketball, Peak was a four-year letterwinner in track and a one-year letterwinner in softball.

PERSONAL

Keira Shauntae Peak was born May 17, 1991, and is the daughter of Carol Jacobs of Valdosta, Ga. Peak has three older siblings, Tony, Kenneth and Keia, and is majoring in business at Arkansas.

ing a season-best 14 points in the win over Dayton in the first round of the ORU NCAA Tournament. Peak was 6-for-10 from the floor in the game with five rebounds. She grabbed a career-high six offensive rebounds against Texas Southern as a sophomore.

AS A FRESHMAN (2010-11)

It is often difficult for a freshman player to have an immediate impact LSU on a team, especially in the Southeastern Conference, but that is exactly what Peak did for the Razorbacks vs. Die last season. The Clyattville, Ga., native took her time getting started but worked hard playing in 31 of 34 games

AS A REDSHIRT SOPHOMORE (2011-12)

Dominique Robinson returned to the Razorback lineup and immediately earned a starting spot as a redshirt sophomore. The Baton Rouge, La., native was one of the toughest defensive players in the SEC in 2011-12 helping Arkansas rank eighth in the nation in scoring defense. Robinson often teamed with Keira Peak working against the opponents' point guards and the tandem more than flustered many good ball handlers.

Robinson played and started 32 of 33 games for Arkanasas averaging 6.6 points per game and 3.9 rebounds per game in 2011-12. She scored in double figures in eight games with a career-best 26 point game in non-conference win over Texas Southern in late December. Robinson grabbed a career-best 13 rebounds, 10 offensive and three defensive boards, in 14-for-33 for 42.4 percent in the opening 12 games. Conference opponents, however, keyed in on Robinson and she went 0-for-18 in SEC games from beyond the arc. Robinson knew it was just a matter of time until she would break out and she did just that hitting four three's in the first round of the SEC Tournament.

DODINGONIO CARRE DV CARR

The Baton Rouge, La., native posted double-digits four times with a career-best 17 against East Tennessee State. She had 16 in the first round of the SEC tournament against Vanderbilt. Robinson had a career-best eight boards twice in 2009-10.

AT CAPITOL HS

Robinson was the final spring signee for Razorback basketball team. The 6-0 Louisiana player of the year for Class AAA is a playmaker with size. At 6-0 and with a 20-point-per-game touch, Robinson gives the Razorbacks tremendous flexibility in how she is used in the offense. Recognized as one of the top high school players available during the late signing period, Robinson was ranked highly by All Star Girls Report overall and top 40 in the nation among shooting guards at No. 32.

A double-double average for one of the state of Louisiana's dominant girls' basketball programs, Robinson averaged 23.7 ppg and 13 rpg in leading Capitol to a 28-4 state championship season for Class AAA state coach of the year, Alvin Stewart. Robinson was the Louisiana Sports Writers Association's Player of the Year for 3A as well as a first-team all-state selection.

Capitol has won two state titles and runner-up a third season with Robinson. She dominated the recent 2009 state championship game with 31 of the Lions' 63 points. Robinson also pulled down 13 boards for the double in the 22-point win over Lake Charles, La., St. Louis Catholic. Hitting 9-of-13 from the field and 12-of-18 at the line, Robinson was the MVP of the Class AAA title game.

A LSWA all-state selection since her sophomore season, Robinson averaged 21 ppg and 10 rpg in 2007 to lead the Lions. Her junior season, Robinson repeated her first-team honors, averaging 22 ppg to

AS A FRESHMAN (2011-12)

The Razorback coaching staff expected Calli Berna to have an immediate impact and she didn't disappoint the staff or Arkansas fans. Berna played in all 33 games, starting 14 as a true freshman. She averaged 3.6 points per game and 25.8 minutes per game earning selection to the Southeastern Conference All-Freshman Team.

Berna scored a season-best 13 points and had a season-high six rebounds in the season-opener against Minnesota. In the game to help the Razorbacks at the point last year, Berna took great care of the ball with just 1.5 turnovers per game and a 1.8 assist/turnover ratio. She ranked 12th in SEC only games for assists with 2.6 per game and fifth in league only games in three-point percentage hitting 37.2 percent as a freshman.

Berna earned SEC Freshman of the Week honors the week of Feb. 13, helping Arkansas to a program-best eight consecutive SEC wins including a pair of victories over No. 24 South Carolina and at Auburn. Berna connected on five three pointers in two games sparking the team to victories.

AT FAYETTEVILLE HIGH

Berna joined the Razorbacks from nearby Fayetteville High where she paced the Bulldogs to the state tournament title hitting a dramatic three-point shot with the clock winding down to secure the come-from-behind win. A 5-10 point guard, Berna's career highlights include four all-state and all-conference honors, three conference team titles, two regional crowns and the state tournament title as a senior.

Berna finished her prep career as Fayetteville High's single-season assists (170) and steals (119) leader. She also holds the career assists (469) and steals (339) records as of the close of the 2011 season. Berna is a member of the Bulldogs' 1000-point club as well wrapping up her prep career with 1,081 career points.

Selected to the Arkansas State High School Association's All-Star game, Berna dropped in 18 points and had five rebounds in 16 minutes leading the West Team to the title while capturing MVP honors.

Berna's other honors include selection as the 2011 Gatorade Arkansas Girls Basketball Player of the Year, distinguishing her as the state's best high school girls basketball player for the year. Her other honors include 2011 Arkansas State Tournament MVP, KURM Dream Team Player of the Year, Ms. Arkansas Basketball 2011, and a pair of all-tournament team selections as a senior.

In addition to basketball, Berna is well-known in the Northwest Arkansas area for her community service efforts.

Berna is a member of the 29th-ranked recruiting class according to the Collegiate Girls Basketball Report and she was listed No. 154 individually.

PERSONAL

Born Jan. 22, 1993, Calli Elizabeth Berna is the youngest of two children to Scott and Paula Berna of Fayetteville, Ark. Older brother Colby played football for the Razorbacks. Berna is majoring in communication disorders at Arkansas.

AS A FRESHMAN (2011-12)

Jhasmin Bowen saw time in 15 of Arkansas' games as a true freshman, recording double-digit minutes in five games. Bowen scored a season/career-best 12 points, going 4-for-6 from the field and 4-for-4 from the line in a win over Texas Southern. She had a season/career-best seven rebounds in 11 minutes against Texas-Arlington. For the season, Bowen shot 55.9 percent and had two blocks and four steals for the Razorbacks.

AT WICHITA HEIGHTS HS

Three-time all-city selection Bowen paced Wichita Heights High to the state title game as a senior where she was the game's leading scorer with 23 points.

Selected as Vype Magazine's best player for the state of Kansas, Bowen was a two-time first-team all-state selection and earned first-team allmetro honors as a senior.

In addition, she broke the rebounding record, averaged a double-TABC All-Regional selection for hoops and averaged 21.6 ppg and 10.0 rpg. Bailey was a McDonald's All-America nominee as a senior.

A four-year starter in basketball, Bailey's prep career includes three District 11-2A most valuable player honors, two District 14-2A Freshman of the Year honors in hoops and softball, two All-Texomaland Player of the Year honors and a pair of first-team selections.

Bailey's success extended into the classroom where she was a multiple-year selection to the District 11-2A Academic team for both volleyball and basketball. The student council president as a senior, Bailey was a member of Beta Club, the National English Honor Society and GHS Homecoming Queen as a senior.

Bailey's prep career finished with numerous highlights including more than 2,000 career points for the Tigers.

Bailey is a member of the 29th-ranked recruiting class according to the Collegiate Girls Basketball Report and she was listed No. 100 individually.

PERSONAL

Born Sept. 14, 1992, Joey Evelyn Bailey is one of two children of Brian and Kari Bailey of Gunter, Texas. She has a younger brother, J. Father, Brian, played basketball at Cameron University. Bailey is majoring in public relations and television at Arkansas.

MIA MELTON Guard • 5-8 • Freshman Celina, Texas • Timber Creek HS

AT TIMBER CREEK HS

Mia Melton carries on the Arkansas tradition following in her mother's footsteps as a Razorback women's basketball player. The 5-8 guard from Celina, Texas, joins Arkansas after helping the Timber Creek Falcons to back-to-back top five finishes in the district. Melton's honors include three all-defensive player of the year awards, MVP of the Year as a senior and several all-tournament team selections. Melton earned TGCA All-State honors and was a TGCA all-star alternate as a senior.

Melton holds the Timber Creek record with 12 assists per game and the most steals per game with eight.

As a senior, she played in 32 games averaging 10.8 ppg and 4.6 rpg. She took 17 charges in her final season with the Falcons.

PERSONAL

Born July 20, 1993, Mia Charlene Melton is the daughter of Valecia Fore-Moore and David Moore. Mother, Valecia, played one season of basketball for the Razorbacks in 1984. She has seven siblings: Ross, Linnea, Aleyiah, Preston, David, Arianna and Jasmine. Melton plans to major in psychology at Arkansas.

ANA-CARLOTA FAUSSURIER

Forward • 6-2 • Freshman Yecla, Spain • IES Joaquin Blume

AT IES JOAQUIN BLUME

Ana-Carlota Faussurier is a 6-2 power forward from Yecla, Spain. She is a 2012 graduate of IES Joaquin Blume. Faussurier played for the Segle XXI club team in Barcelona, Spain, winning the Copa Catalunya LF2 in her senior season. Her alljunior team played in Spain's second division against professional players and Faussurier was the only player to start all 27 games.

Faussurier averaged 5.0 points per game and 4.8 rebounds per game in her final season with 0.8 assists per game and 0.5 steals per game.

In addition, Faussurier was a member of the Spanish National Team and competed in the 16-under European Championships in Ptolemaida, Greece.

"We are very excited to add Anna to our 2012 class," Collen said. "Our staff worked very hard all spring to find a forward post-type player that could contribute to our program right away. Ana has a vast amount of experience internationally and has competed against more experienced players in her professional league. This will help her compete right away in the SEC."

Ana-Carlota Zafrilla Faussurier will be working toward a degree in nursing at Arkansas. Born July 9, 1994, she is the daughter of Philippe and Esperanza Faussurier and has a younger brother, Jorge.

DOMINIQUE WILSON

Guard • 5-8 • Freshman
Powder Springs, Georgia • McEachern HS

Twelve

AT MCEACHERN HS

Dominique Wilsonchecks in from Powder Springs, Ga., where she played for the McEachern High Indians. Listed as a 5-8 combo guard, Wilson paced the Indians to three state runner-up finishes in 2009, 2010 and 2011 and a regional title in 2010. Wilson reached the 1000-point plateau as junior and averaged 13.0 ppg that season.

As a senior Wilson and the Indians won the state title and finish No. 2 in the nation. The Indians won the Naismith team award and Wilson earned first-team all-state and Cobb country honors.

Rated as a four-star guard by ESPN HoopGurlz, Wilson also played for A.O.T. Lady Rebels club team and club coach Omar Cooper.

In addition to basketball, Wilson lettered in track and field, cross country and volleyball. She was also a top performer in the classroom graduating with a 3.7 grade point avearge.

"Dominique is a great sign for us especially considering we had not watched her a lot until late in the process," Collen said. "She is a winner. She plays on one of the best high school teams in the state of Georgia and maybe the top club team in the country based on last summer's results. She is a great shooter, an excellent athlete and has a chance to be impactful on both ends of the floor. Her primary position will be as a shooting guard but she can play the point as well. She comes from a great family. Her father played tight end for Georgia Tech. She is an excellent student and that translates to the court as well.

"She is graded out as a 92 in ESPN HoopGurlz Report which would put her in the top 100 nationally," Collen continued. "She is ranked as the 40th best combo guard in the country."

PERSONAL

Born April 17, 1994, Dominique Jazzmin Wilson is one of two children to Damon and Chaleta Wilson and has a younger brother, Damon.

MELISSA WOLFF

Guard • 6-0 • Freshman Cabot, Arkansas • Cabot HS

AT CABOT HS

Melissa Wolff is a 6-0 guard/ forward from Cabot, Ark., where she paced her high school team to a fourth-place conference finish as a sophomore and a second place finish as a junior. She led Cabot to the state tournament championship as a senior.

Wolff was a member of the high school honor roll and also played softball at Cabot.

Wolff was a two-time all-conference, all-state tournament team and tournament MVP. Her career-bests include 32 points scored, 15 rounds and 10 steals. As a junior Wolff averaged 17 ppg, 6.4 rpg and 4.1 steals per game for the Panthers.

In addition to basketball, Wolff is a member of the National Honor Society and played softball for a season.

"Melissa is an outstanding player and certainly will be a candidate for the player of the year in the state of Arkansas," Collen said. "Cabot High School has a chance to win it all as well. She was consistently one of the top scorers for the Arkansas Mavericks club this past summer. They were one of the top AAU teams in the country and have several players ranked in the top 50 nationally in the 2013 class.

"Melissa is very aggressive and has the potential to be a versatile high post player, a good rebounding and shooting small forward, or a big off guard," he added. "She will find her way onto the floor because of her versatility, heart and high basketball IQ. We are very pleased to sign what we believe is the best player in the state of Arkansas this year."

Melissa Lea Wolff was born Sept. 20, 1994, and is the daughter of Kenny and Jennifer Wolff. She has an older brother Matthew.

RAZORBACK WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

ARKANSAS DOWNS RANKED TEAM IN OPENING WEEK

The Razorbacks opened the season at the WBI Tip-Off Classic going 2-1 with a win over No.13 Florida State to start the year. Junior Sarah Watkins hit a big three-pointer with under a minute to play lifting Arkansas to the 55-52 win in Daytona Beach, Fla. It was the first of four wins over ranked opponents by the Razorbacks in 2011-12.

RICKETTS, WATKINS EARN ALL-TOURNAMENT

Senior C'eira Ricketts and junior Sarah Watkins earned selection to the WBI Tip-Off Classic All-Tournament team for their play in the opening weekend. Ricketts, a Louisville, Ky., native, averaged 15.3 point per game, had 11 steals, 12 assists and 17 rebounds in three games. Watkins, a Germantown, Tenn., native, averaged 13.3 ppg with five blocks and 16 rebounds. Watkins went 11-for-16 from the line for the tournament.

ARKANSAS WINS 11 IN A ROW

The Razorbacks opened the year with a close loss to Minnesota in the WBI Tip-Off Classic but then won 11 non-conference games in a row beginning with South Florida and Florida State. The streak also included victories over Texas-Arlington, Utah, Grambling State, Middle Tennessee State, Stephen F. Austin, Oral Roberts, Morgan State, Texas Southern and Mississippi Valley State. Arkansas head coach Tom Collen has orchestrated winning streaks of 15, 12 and 11 in his five seasons with the Razorbacks. The 15-game winning streak in 2007-08 to start the year is the program record for consecutive wins.

ARKANSAS WINS EIGHT CONSECUTIVE SEC GAMES

Head coach Tom Collen also guided the Razorbacks to a programbest eight consecutive Southeastern Conference game winning streak this season. Arkansas opened the year dropping its first four SEC games (at No. 17 Georgia, at No. 11 Kentucky, vs. No. 6 Tennessee and at Ole Miss) but downed Auburn, No. 25 Vanderbilt, LSU, Mississippi State, Florida, Alabama, No. 24 South Carolina and Auburn in a row. The streak bettered the five game SEC winning streaks in 1994-95 and 2008-09.

Arkansas won 11 consecutive Southwest Conference games (including three games in the SWC Tournament) in 1990-91 and won nine consecutive SWC regular season games in 1989-90.

ARKANSAS DEFEATS THREE RANKED SEC TEAMS

The Razorbacks picked up three wins over ranked Southeastern Conference teams in 2011-12 and four wins over ranked opponents for the season. After starting the season with a win over non-conference No. 13 Florida State, Arkansas notched victories over No. 25/22 Vanderbilt, 69-47; No. 24/24 South Carolina, 68-47; and at No. 9/11 Tennessee, 72-71.

ARKANSAS DOWNS TENNESSEE – IN KNOXVILLE

Junior Sarah Watkins hit a layup with eight seconds on the clock forcing overtime with the game tied at 62, and senior Lyndsay Harris hit two in overtime giving Arkansas a 72-71 win in overtime over No. 9/11 Tennessee in Knoxville, Tenn. The win was the first-ever victory over the Lady Vols in Knoxville and just the second in program history. The Razorbacks hit the final four points and held Tennessee scoreless late for the win. Harris paced Arkansas with 20 points and Watkins had 18. Senior C'eira Ricketts added 16 in the win. Arkansas' first half effort was fantastic and they played themselves to a 31-26 lead at the break. Harris had 11 points to lead all scorers in the first 20 minutes but Arkansas' aggressive play racked up nine fouls. The Razorbacks shot 57.9 percent in the first half hitting 11-of-19 shots and the Razorbacks did a good job defensively, holding Tennessee to 9-for-20 from the floor and forcing 10 Lady Vol turnovers. Tennessee came out much more aggressive defensively in the second half and outscored Arkansas 36-31 in the second half but Watkins layup allowed Arkansas to hold on to the tie and force the extra period. The Razorbacks finished the game hitting 25-for-50 from the floor and eight three pointers.

ARKANSAS TIED FOR FOURTH IN SEC; EARN FIFTH SEED IN TOURNAMENT

The Razorbacks finished the regular season with a program-best 10 Southeastern Conference wins (10-6) tying for fourth place overall in the league standings – also a program-best for Arkansas. Due to the tie-breakers, Arkansas entered the SEC Tournament as a fifth-seed, the highest seeding for the Razorbacks since joining the SEC. Arkansas also notched a first-round SEC Tournament win over Ole Miss, snapping a six-year first-round exit for the Razorbacks.

POSTSEASON AWARDS FOR RICKETTS, WATKINS, BERNA AND INMAN

Senior C'eira Ricketts earned All-SEC First-Team honors, junior Sarah Watkins earned All-SEC Second-Team honors and freshman Calli Berna was selected to the SEC All- Freshman Team. Senior Julie Inman earned SEC Community Service Team honors in 2011-12.

Ricketts, a senior from Louisville, Ky., paced the Razorbacks all season leading the team in scoring. The 5-9 guard became a 1,000-point scorer last year and went on to set the career record for steals at Arkansas this year. Ricketts is 11th in scoring in SEC games this year. She is third in assists, second in steals, second in assist/turnover ratio and seventh in minutes played. She was a preseason first-team selection by both the media and coaches this year.

Watkins earned her second, second-team honor this year after having a solid season on the floor for the Razorbacks. Watkins ranks 21st in the SEC in scoring this year, ninth in free throw percentage and is tied for first in blocked shots. The Germantown, Tenn., native has scored 936 career points, has 438 rebounds and 158 blocks in three seasons.

Berna is an impact player for the Razorbacks as a true freshman. The Fayetteville, Ark., native scored a career-best 13 points in the season opener against Minnesota. She traded in a starting role to come off the bench as one of the more effective sixth players in the league. Berna ranks fifth in the SEC in three-point percentage and hit a key basket for the Razorbacks in the program's firstever win in Knoxville, Tenn., just last week.

Inman, a 5-9 guard from Carlisle, Ark., has been among the Razorback leaders with her community service efforts. She was selected as part of a 12-member team and is the 14th Razorback selected in the history of the program. Inman is active in several area community service events including the Book Hogs Read To Win Program (reading to area elementary students in Northwest Arkansas), Sweat Hawgs Program (encouraging young people to get active), reading to elementary kids at West Fork schools, working several campus events for the SEC "Together We CAN" canned food drive, participating in Lift Up America, working with area food banks, visiting Happy Hollow Elementary to speak about making good decisions, participating in the American Heart Association walk, visiting Butterfield Trail Village (retirement community), Rocking with the Razorbacks participant, working the Habitat For Humanity Fall Festival at the Jones Center, hosting a Book Hogs Pizza Party at Bud Walton Arena (for area youth), and Martin Luther King Youth Day activities (celebrating a day of service with area youth).

RICKETTS HONORED BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Senior C'eira Ricketts was selected to The Associated Press All-Southeastern Conference women's basketball second team. Ricketts, a Louisville, Ky., native, earned All-SEC First-Team honors from the coaches after leading the Razorbacks to a 23-8 overall record, a 10-6 mark in SEC play and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. The point guard for the Razorbacks paced the team, scoring 11.3 points per game and grabbed

4.6 rebounds per game this season. She became the Razorbacks' all-time steals leader in program history, ranks seventh for career points with 1,514, 11th in rebounding with 657 and third in assists with 508. She also ranks 30th in the NCAA in assist/turnover ratio, 40th in steals per game and 67th in the country in assists per game this year.

TOM COLLEN, SEC COACH OF THE YEAR

University of Arkansas head women's basketball coach Tom Collen was named Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year. Collen was one of five Razorbacks picking up SEC honors. Senior C'eira Ricketts earned All-SEC First-Team honors, junior Sarah Watkins earned All-SEC Second-Team honors and freshman Calli Berna was selected to the SEC All- Freshman Team. Senior Julie Inman earned SEC Community Service Team honors. Collen is in his fifth season at Arkansas and has paced Arkansas to a 90-64 record in that time. He guided the Razorbacks to the second round of the WNIT in 2008-09 and to the WNIT quarterfinals last year. Collen's teams set the school record for consecutive wins with 15 in 2008-09 and nearly matched that with 12 last year. This season, Collen led the Razorbacks to a program record eight consecutive SEC wins. In addition, Arkansas defeated four ranked teams, three in the SEC, and won a program-best 10 SEC games. Collen is the first Razorback women's basketball coach to each SEC Coach of the Year honors, and joins former Razorback men's basketball coach Nolan Richardson as the only two hoops coaches at Arkansas to be selected. Richardson was selected in 1998.

TOM COLLEN WBCA COACH OF THE YEAR FINALIST

Tom Collen was named as one of eight finalists for 2012 Russell/WBCA Division I Coach of the Year Award, the WBCA announced in March.

Collen, who became the first Razorback women's basketball coach to earn Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year, was selected from Region Three.

Collen's Arkansas Razorbacks posted a program-best SEC regular-season record (10-6) and tied for fourth place in the conference standings. Adding to their list of "firsts," Collen's team landed an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament for the first time during his five-year tenure as head coach of the team.

ARKANSAS RECEIVES NCAA TOURNAMENT AT-LARGE INVITATION

Arkansas received an at-large bid and faced Dayton in College Station, Texas, in the first round of the 2012 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament. Arkansas entered the tournament as a sixth seed facing the 11th-seeded Flyers. This is the third time Arkansas has been the sixth seed (1995, 2002). Arkansas was a three seed in 1991. The Razorbacks played their way into the NCAA Tournament by virtue of a good 2011-12 "resume" that included wins over four ranked opponents, eight consecutive Southeastern Conference regular season wins, a program-best 10-6 record and tie for fourth place in the league and a 23-8 overall record. Arkansas had a strong schedule and finished No. 33 in the NCAA RPI released before the selections. The trip to the NCAA Tournament is the first for current head coach Tom Collen at Arkansas. Collen is making his eighth appearance in the tournament in 14 years as a head coach. He guided Arkansas to a pair of WNIT appearances with the Razorbacks reaching the quarterfinals last season. The NCAA Tournament appearance is the first for this vear's five-member senior class and the first since the 2003 season when the Razorbacks reached the second round. That senior class includes Ashley Daniels, Lyndsay Harris, Julie Inman, C'eira Ricketts and Jamesha Townsend.

Quistelle Williams had a breakout postseason for the Razorbacks at the NCAA Tournament. She led the team with 15 points in the win over Dayton and added a team-high 14 against Texas A&M.

CAREER RECORDS PLENTIFUL

As the 2011-12 season closed, several Razorback players moved up or into the Arkansas career records lists. Seniors C'eira Ricketts, Lyndsay Harris and Ashley Daniels' names are splashed all over the record books.

Ricketts finished her career ranked seventh in points (15,37), 10th in rebounding (664), third in assists (516),sixth in field goals made (606), third in field goal attempts (1,498) and first in career steals (320).

Harris finished her career ranked 14th in points (1,347), 14th in assists (265), tied for sixth in field goal attempts (1,244), second in three point goals (283), first in three point attempts (858) and 10th in three point percentage (.330).

Daniels finished her career ranked 31st in points (785) and fourth in rebounds (715).

Some returners to keep an eye on include junior Sarah Watkins who ranks 26th in points (964), 26th in rebounding (452) and third in blocked shots (161). Junior Quistelle Williams is on the verge of breaking into the top 30 for career rebounds and will enter next year with 317.

ARKANSAS IN THE DANCE

Perhaps the biggest highlight to the 2011-12 season was the Razorbacks invitation to the NCAA Tournament. The team and coaches felt they had earned a postseason invitation through a great resume of work amassed over the season but it is a nerve-racking experience until you see you name on the big board. Senior Lyndsay Harris commented that she didn't realize just how nervous she was until she saw "Arkansas" on the screen during the watch party. She was final able to breathe. Arkansas did receive an at-large invitation and was one of eight SEC schools (nine if you include Texas A&M) to get into the tournament.

The Razorbacks traveled to future SEC member Texas A&M in College Station, Texas, for their first and second -round games.

Arkansas opened with Dayton in the first round, meeting the Flyers for the first time in program history.

After trailing by 14 three times in the first half, junior Quistelle Williams and sophomore Keira Peak heated up and Ashley Daniels had 12 rebounds guiding the Razorbacks to a 75-37 win. It was the first win in the NCAA Tournament since 2003 and sent Arkansas to at least the second round for the eighth time in program history.

The Razorbacks then had the unenviable task of facing defending national champion Texas A&M on their home floor in the second round. The storylines were plenty in the match up as former Razorback head coach Gary Blair and current Arkansas head coach Tom Collen squared off. Collen was an assistant head coach under Blair at Arkansas in the 1990's and most of the Aggie staff had worked at Arkansas.

Arkansas' offense was slow to start - a problem that plagued the team all season. The Razorbacks were down by as much as 14 early with more than 9,000 screaming Aggie fans cheering on the home team.

But Arkansas wouldn't go away. The Razorbacks continued to chip away at the score until tying the game with just over a minute to play. The teams traded misses before the Razorbacks fouled an A&M player who was driving the lane.

Texas A&M hit the free throws giving them the two-point advantage with 23.5 seconds left in the game.

DEFENSE GETS IT DONE

The Razorbacks prided themselves on their defensive skills in 2011-12 and their efforts were noticed. Arkansas finished the year ranked eighth in the country in scoring defense allowing a stingy 52.3 points per game. That ranked second in the SEC as well.

In 33 games, Arkansas allowed just 1727 opponent points.

The defense was centered around Kiera Peak and Dominique Robinson who teammed up on the opponents' point guards holding many of them well below their season averages.

Peak and Robinson were two of the most tenacious defenders last year and both return to anchor a team that will need their leadership in 2012-13.

RICKETTS DRAFTED BY MERCURY

Senior C'eira Ricketts was drafted with the 12th pick in the second round of the WNBA Draft by the Phoenix Mercury. The Louisville, Ky., native was the 24th selection overall. She is the seventh Razorback women's basketball player drafted and the third-highest draft pick for Arkansas.

Former Razorback Shameka Christon is the only other Arkansas player currently still competing in the WNBA. Christon, who worked with the Razorbacks as a radio analyst in 2011-12, is a member of the San Antonio Stars

Shameka Christon

Career Points and Season Points in SEC Games Only

The pride of Hot Springs, Ark., Shameka Christon was named to the SEC Freshman Team her rookie season at Arkansas. At the start of her career, it looked like the most improbable of honors as the 6-1 forward averaged less than 10 points per game during non-conference play. Once SEC games began, Christon elevated her game to average 13.5 ppg in her 13 league games. Breaking the school mark for points in a SEC season as a sophomore with 224, Christon repeated with a respectable 201 points as a junior. A change of coaching staffs led to a dramatic change in scoring for Christon. Her senior year, Christon shattered her own record with 304 points in 14 games played, finishing her career with 905 points in SEC regular season games. Adding in her 177 points from SEC Tournament games, Christon scored almost 1,100 of her career 1,951 points against SEC opponents. For her SEC-leading scoring average of 21.8 ppg. Christon was voted the SEC Player of the Year in 2004. Associated Press Third-Team All-America and Kodak All-America honorable mention.

BEHIND THE RECORD

FACE

Career Assists and Consecutive Games Played

Recruited from Williamsburg, Ind., to become the next great point guard in Arkansas history, Amy Wright did not disappoint. A starter at the point from her first day at Arkansas, she broke the freshman assist record of her immediate predecessor, Christy Smith, and never looked back. Assists became her passion, and Wright rewrote the Arkansas record books in her four seasons. removing both her coach and Hall of Honor member Amber Nicholas Shirey and Smith from almost all the major records. Her 172 assists as a freshman led Arkansas to the WNIT Championship and was the closest anyone had come to Donna Wilson's 1988 season record. Her junior season, Wright crushed Wilson's mark with 198 to take Arkansas to the second round of the NCAA tournament. By the end of her career, the only assist records Wright was breaking were her own, including 205 her senior season. Closing her career with 717, she has almost 200 more assists than the former career leader Nicholas Shirey. Wright had more double-digit assist games than any other player, and became the first player in recorded Razorback history to get the hard double of 10 assists and 10 rebounds (versus Miss. State as a junior). In her four seasons, she never missed a game, playing 131 consecutive to break Sytia Messer's mark of 128. Of all her statistics, the one no other point guard can touch is leading her team to four consecutive post-season berths. After closing her playing career with WNBA draft camp, Wright spent one season with Arkansas in marketing before becoming an assistant coach for the 2003-04 season at South Florida.

Shameka Christon broke four Arkansas records for SEC Tournament games in the semifinals of the 2002 event in Nashville. Her 67 points over three games led to her selection to the five-player all-tournament team, the first for Arkansas since joining the league in 1992. During her four years, she scored 177 points in SEC Tournament games.

SHELLY WALLACE

Career Rebounds

Shelly Wallace's career parallels Arkansas' rise to national prominence, leading the Razorbacks to their first NCAA playoff berth and the 1987 Women's NIT title. Wallace made her biggest record impact with rebounding. She is the only Arkansas women's basketball player to go over the 1,000 mark in rebounds and one of only two in Southwest Conference history. However, she was Arkansas' greatest double threat. Wallace was the first -- and only -- player to average in double figures in points and rebounds for a season (16.5 ppg, 11.8 rpg in 1987-88). She also is the only player to score over 40 points, setting the school record with 44, and has the most 30-plus games (seven) of any player. She was also an honorable mention Kodak All-American as a senior, yet another first at Arkansas.

DELMONICA DEHORNEY

Career Blocked Shots

While her mark in the career record book is for blocked shots, Delmonica DeHorney was the greatest inside player in Razorback history. She was second only to Bettye Fiscus in points, and she was the first, and to date the only, Razorback to earn Kodak All-America honors. DeHorney also is the most accurate shooter in school history for a season or career. In fact, she set the season shooting record in three of her four years. A back-to-back SWC Player of the Year, she led the SWC in scoring and Arkansas to consecutive league titles. The SWC Newcomer as a freshman, she was the only player in SWC history to earn three league awards. She shattered the previous blocked shot records, and became the career leader after her junior year. In one season, 1989-90, DeHorney had more blocks (83) than all but two players in school history had for their careers. DeHorney went on to play professionally in Japan after completing her four-year career at Arkansas.

Of her 235 career blocks, the three most important in DeHorney's career came in the first half of the Feb. 23, 1990, game at Texas. All three came against UT's star forward Susan Anderson, shutting down the Lady Longhorns' inside game and allowing Arkansas to take a 38-31 halftime lead. UA went on to break UT's 183-game SWC winning streak.

Back in the Day -- Exhibition Games

During the 1980s, teams were allowed to practice away from campus, and Arkansas took full advantage of the rule to play numerous Red-White games across the state. Most of these were played in the former gyms of star Razorbacks, or near home towns of players like Tracy Webb (Batesville) or Bettye Fiscus (Wynne).

The Razorbacks played their first exhibition game in 1984 at the start of the NCAA era against a Korean touring team sponsored by Kolon.

Arkansas stepped up the quality of its exhibition opponent with national teams during the late 1980s, and went on the road to central Arkansas with a pair of games at the former high schools of current Razorbacks. The NCAA changed rules regarding off-campus games in the early 1990s, and all exhibition games returned to Fayetteville.

Twice Arkansas faced Olympic teams. The Razorbacks defeated the Spanish Olympians in 1990, but the most memorable game was against USA Basketball's National Team in 1995. The core of the gold medal 1996 Atlanta Games team thumped the Razorbacks, but it was a once-in-a-lifetime chance to be a part of the special collegiate tour. Among the notables taking the floor were Lisa Leslie, Rebecca Lobo, Sheryl Swoops, Dawn Staley and Jennifer Azzi. It also is the only exhibition game ever played during the regular season -- Dec. 12 -- and made 1995 the only season with three exhibition games.

Until the late 1990s, most of the teams Arkansas faced were high-quality semi-pro teams from around the world, with the exception of the U.S.-based Athletes in Action. AIA made Fayetteville a regular stop on its women's collegiate tour, and the Crusaders remain the team with the most games against Arkansas (8).

The quality of competition from overseas declined at the end of the 1990s, with some teams traveling junior squads filled with high school-aged players. The resulting blowouts, combined with the emergence of regional teams of American former collegians such as Everyone's Internet, saw a decline of the foreign exhibition games that hit bottom with the events of 9/11 in 2001.

However, the greatest change in the exhibition game came in 2004 as the NCAA allowed Division I members to schedule non-Division I college teams as exhibition opponents. While a regular practice during the AIAW era, Arkansas played a non-Division I college with its two exhibition games scheduled for November 2005, taking on nearby Division II members Missouri Southern of Joplin and Cameron University from Lawton, Okla. This marks the first game against a lower division US collegiate team in over two decades (School of the Ozarks on Dec. 11, 2004).

Arkansas has existing series records with the new exhibition opponents, but new games against non-Division I teams will not count against those series marks.

BUD WALTON ARENA

The Basketball Showcase of Mid-America

At $35 million, Bud Walton Arena was the basketball palace of mid-America in 1993, but in 2008-09 Walton Arena underwent a multimillion dollar renovation of the lower seating area. Along with new reserved seats and floor logos, ribbon boards on the upper concourse and a new message board scorers table help to keep the arena the finest in the Southeastern Conference.

Designed to replicate the intimate and intimidating atmosphere of Barnhill Arena, but accommodate the overwhelming demand for basketball tickets at Arkansas, the result was a fan-friendly 19,200-seat arena whose acoustics focus the roar of the Razorback fans to the floor. Among the other features are over 40 private skyboxes, a lower-level capacity of 12,250 and the furthest seat closer in Walton than the worst seat in 9,000-seat Barnhill.

Arkansas hosted the 1994 NCAA Midwest Regional during Walton Arena's inaugural season. In 1995, the Razorback women's basketball team hosted all four rounds of the Preseason Women's NIT -- thanks in large part to the excellent accommodations provided by Bud Walton Arena. It all paled in comparison to the 1999 Women's NIT as Arkansas hosted all five rounds of the postseason event, including an all-time UA and then WNIT record 14,163 fans for the championship game versus Wisconsin. The 1999 WNIT semifinals and finals alone saw over 23,000 fans attend the two games, helping the Razorbacks to a new all-time attendance record of 77,001 total fans. Arkansas also hosted four rounds of the 2000 WNIT at Walton.

A season-best 6,149 fans came out to Bud Walton Arena Jan. 30, 2011, to watch the Razorbacks take on No. 5 Tennessee.

BARNHILL ARENA

A Tough Place To Play

It seemed appropriate that the final basketball event at John Barnhill Arena was a women's basketball game and a women's basketball banquet.

As fate would have it, it was a girls' basketball game back in 1977 that was the first hoops contest played in the newly-renovated and expanded home court for the Razorback men's and women's basketball.

Betsy Broyles' Fayetteville High team played days before the first men's or women's college game in what would become known as one of the most feared home courts in modern collegiate basketball.

The next year, Betsy would become the first high school recruit to accept a scholarship to play women's basketball at the University.

On Dec. 7, 1993, she and over 30 former letterwinners returned for A Moment in Time, a banquet to honor women's basketball in Barnhill. It was the evening prior to the women's opener in Bud Walton Arena against De-Paul.

During the 17 years between her first and most recent appearances in Barnhill, The Barn was the site of many great moments of women's basketball history.

Arkansas was undefeated in its first home season (6-0) and in three subsequent years (1981-82, 1982-83 and 1990-91).

The women's basketball team set its home consecutive win streak at 21 games from 1981 to 1984.

That streak was broken with 23 in the early 1990s, and for a brief period of time, Barnhill Arena was the home of the longest active women's home winning streak.

Since the start of the NCAA era in 1982-83, only eight unranked teams managed wins in Barnhill (out of 118 who tried).

Some 194 women's varsity collegiate basketball games were played in Barnhill Arena, with the last game a 96-60 win over Oral Roberts on March 1, 1993.

The last varsity basketball game played at Barnhill was a women's contest as Arkansas won an exhibition game over the Bulgarian team of Levski Total, 83-81, on Nov. 16, 1993.

The Spirit of Barnhill lives on both at Bud Walton Arena, and at Barnhill. "The Barn" received a new tenant in 1994 with the start of varsity volleyball at Arkansas. Thanks in large part to its home court advantage, the inaugural Razorback volleyball team won the SEC Western Division title providing a new banner for the old rafters. Gymnastics enjoyed a similar Barnhill boost in 2006. With the inaugural senior class, Arkansas upset national powerhouse UCLA to advance to the NCAA Championship at the Barnhill-hosted NCAA South Central Regional.

WENDI WILLITS

Three-Pointers

Since the introduction of the bonus basket for women's basketball in 1986, there has never been an outside shooter like Fort Cobb. Okla., native Wendi Willits -- either at Arkansas or in the Southeastern Conference. Willits broke the Arkansas career records of Kimberly Wilson early in her senior year, finishing her career just shy of the SEC's all-time record held by LSU's Cornelia Gayden. Willits has several SEC seconds to Gayden. Her 104 treys as a sophomore was one short of the SEC mark, and she ranks second for threes in a SEC game. Both prolific and accurate, she is No. 2 in attempts and No. 2 in percentage for a career at Arkansas. In 1999, she was top five in the NCAA in both three-pointers per game and percentage, earning her the Ed Steitz Award as the nation's top female three-point shooter.

TRACY WEBB

Career Steals

Batesville, Ark., native Tracy Webb stole more than the basketball during her four-year career. Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Razorback fans as one of the most popular on-the-court personalities of the mid-1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first women's basketball player at Arkansas to earn "first team" all-Southwest Conference honors, a distinction that began her senior season. She was also one of the first three Razorbacks named conference player of the week. Her junior-season team was the first in school history to earn a NCAA berth, and her senior-season team crushed the NWIT field by a 16-point average as she was named the tournament MVP.

ALL-SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

The All-Southeastern Conference team is selected by the league coaches and has changed twice in the recent seasons. Since the league's inception, the team was composed of a first- and second-team of 10 players each. In 2003, only 10 players -- five first, five second -- were selected. In 2004, 16 players -- eight first and eight second -- were chosen, the format which continues today. Five freshmen are chosen to the all-freshman team (with the exception of 1999). In addition, the academic team for the SEC, the SEC Academic Honor Roll, is chosen each season. After 2001, the honor roll is one year out of sequence to allow seniors to earn fourth-year honors. Recent additions to the team structure were made in 2003 with the Community Service Team, 2004 with Scholar-Athlete of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year, 2006 saw the first Freshmen of the Week and 2008 a five-player all-defensive team.

NCAA WOMAN OF THE YEAR

1993 STATE WINNER

1998 STATE WINNER

Started in 1991 to recognize female athletes, the NCAA Woman of the Year program showcases individuals who have been standouts in athletics, academics and community service.

The Razorback women's basketball team has three university and statewide selections in the NCAA Woman of the Year program.

The University of Arkansas has produced 10 of the first 11 Women of the Year for the state, including the first top 10 national finalist for the state of Arkansas -- track and field All-American Jessica Dailey.

Each NCAA member institution selects its university-wide Woman of the Year. Those nominations are forwarded to the state level where a panel of journalists and NCAA officials vote to select a representative for the state at the national level. These 51 state Women of the Year are honored at the NCAA Woman of the Year banquet where a top 10 and a single national Woman of the Year are chosen.

Unfortunately, the University of Arkansas does not have a team photo of the 1978-79 team, only this newspaper clipping of a team photo. The members of the 1978-79 team were: Betsy Broyles, Donna Buccella, Kathy Caton, Trisha Cooper, Sharon Delph, L'Anna Howard, Marsha Johnson, Peggy Price, Debbie Roe, Sandy Scranton, Lita Stricklin, Monica Van Parys. The head coach was Joan Henn with assistant coach Judy Grayston. If any former players have a copy of the team photograph, we would like to copy it for our records. Please contact Jeri Thorpe at the Athletic Media Relations office.

FIRST YEAR OF MODERN ERA

Razorback women's basketball got its modern era start in 1976-77 playing to a 10-6 record. Arkansas had two consecutive three-game winning streaks this season and played notables such as Tulsa and Oral Roberts, two teams who still appear on Arkansas' schedule. The Razorbacks were tough at home, going 6-0 that first season. Inaugural team member Joy Dillard returned to campus in 2011-12 joining Jeff Long in celebrating Black History Month.

COACH SHARON OGLE 2 YEARS, 24-15 (1976-1978)

Tasked with starting the women's basketball team, Ogle in fact was restarting a program that existed briefly at the end of the 1960s as an "extramural" team. Aside from a continuous history of teams the following 30 years, the differences that set the 1976-77 team apart from previous squads to become the first varsity team were the official sanction of the Women's Athletics Department, membership in the AIAW -- the national women's collegiate rules body of the period -- and scholarship, albeit partial scholarships. Ogle also signed the first recruited athletes for women's basketball the next season.

MONICA VAN PARYS

By virtue of the shorter seasons, Arkansas' early teams own records that may never be broken. For example, the 1978-79 team allowed the fewest points (1,242) in a season, but also scored the fewest points (1,100).

CHERYL ORCHOLSKI

COACH JOAN HENN 3 YEARS, 33-41 (1978-1981)

The second head coach for the Razorback basketball team, Joan Henn saw the expansion of the schedule and roster during her three years at Arkansas. Transitioning to a varsity-style squad filled with recruited scholarship athletes, Henn faced some of the first major regional opponents during the pre-SWC days of AIAW basketball in Fayetteville. Henn has the distinction of being the first coach to take the Razorbacks into post-season competition at the Southwest Regional of the AIAW in Baton Rouge in her second season, and she started the first home tournament.

AMANDA HOLLY

The 1980-81 team became the first Razorback basketball team to host a home tournament. By defeating Tennessee-Martin and McNeese State in February, the 1981 team started the perfect record for Arkansas women's basketball at home. All-time through three versions of home tournaments, Arkansas is a combined perfect 26-0 with 13 tournament titles. This early Lady Razorback Invitational continued for two more seasons before going on hiatus until the 1989 season. Arkansas hosted several Dial Classics before home tournaments ended in 1999. The 1980-81 team also has the distinction of the most players fouled out in a year, 47.

COACH MATILDA WILLIS 3 YEARS, 67-27 (1981-1984)

Responsible for signing the first major recruiting classes at Arkansas, Matilda Willis laid the foundation for the Razorbacks' quick ascension into the Southwest Conference elite. Willis also upgraded the UA schedule from regional to national contests, taking on the powerhouse teams of the day including Delta State and Louisiana Tech. The first 20-win coach at Arkansas, her 1982 team also became the first Razorback team at the national championship level, advancing to the Sweet 16 of the AIAW National Tournament in California. Her brief three seasons at Arkansas before leaving for Kansas State give her the best career winning percentage of any

KIM BUNGE

For the second consecutive year, Matilda Willis kept Arkansas undefeated at Barnhill Arena. This was the first year for Southwest Conference women's basketball, with the emphasis on the postseason tournament and a single-round robin regular-season format. This also marked the first year of NCAA participation for the Razorbacks as Arkansas elected to compete under AlAW rules until the demise of the national women's collegiate organization in 1982.

ERMA GREER

Riding one of the nation's longest home winning streaks, Matilda Willis sought out a major test for her growing program. By hosting the defending national champion Lady Techsters for the home opener, Arkansas saw its 21-game, three-year Barnhill streak end to No. 2 La. Tech. The tough non-conference schedule got Arkansas prepared for the first full double-round robin SWC slate. In one of the early program's epic games, a buzzer-beating final shot rimmed out against No. 1 ranked Texas, allowing the Longhorns to escape

Fayetteville by one point and continue what would become the longest conference win streak in women's basketball history. However, Arkansas would finish that task six years later in Austin.

ALL-TIME LEADING SCORER BETTYE FISCUS

The 1984-85 season was a passing of the torch as the first generation of star players at Arkansas, led by all-time leading scorer Bettye Fiscus, played their senior year. At the same time, the next wave led by sophomores like Tracy Webb and Sheila Burkes were becoming key players for the Razorbacks.

COACH JOHN SUTHERLAND 9 YEARS, 174-88 (1984-1993)

When he was promoted to head coach by former women's athletics director Ruth Cohoon in the spring of 1984, John Sutherland became the youngest Division I head coach in America. His youth and enthusiasm served him well during his nine-year run, and made him the perfect counterbalance for Arkansas' most bitter Southwest Conference rival, Texas. Three times voted the SWC Coach of the Year, he earned his first honor in 1986 leading the Razorbacks to their first NCAA berth. He coached Arkansas in some of its most memorable games, but none greater than the epic win at Austin, Texas, to snap the nation's longest conference winning streak. It was Sutherland that became the first coach besides hall of famer Jody Conradt to win a SWC championship. Sutherland's 1989-90 team shared the crown with Texas and advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight. His 1990-91 team won the SWC outright with a pair of wins over Texas, then swept the conference tournament to break another UT streak. He coached Arkansas' first Kodak All-American, Delmonica DeHorney. The transition to the SEC in 1991-92 was difficult, and Sutherland departed after nine seasons. His .664 career mark, six 20-win seasons and two league championships remain one of the best coaching records at Arkansas. The 1990-91 team still holds the record for most wins in a season - 28 -- and best winning percentage -- .875, 28-4. He went on to coaching stops as an assistant at Notre Dame and Marshall and as head coach at New Mexico State before retiring from coaching.

NWIT MVP TRACY WEBB

Having lost to the No. 1 ranked team in the country by a pair of field goals, the senior-laden 1987 team felt it deserved a return to the NCAA tournament. However, in the days before the 64-team draw, atlarge bids were hard to come by and the level of respect for the competition in the SWC was not the same as other power leagues. Jilted, the team decided to wreak vengeance on the eight-team field at the National Women's Invitational Tournament in Amarillo, Texas. Arkansas shattered the tournament record for average points scored and margin of victory -- two marks that would stand until the dissolution of the NWIT in 1997.

DONNA WILSON

A tough season for Arkansas, but it still had highlights as Donna Wilson set the school record for assists in a game with 18 against Houston in the SWC Tournament and Delmonica DeHorney was named the league's newcomer of the year. Wilson's effort has stood the test of time as three different point guards — Amber Nicholas, Christy Smith and Amy Wright — have broken numerous assist marks. Although each had double-digit game bests and all put up over 500 career assists, the closest any came was 12 by Wright. India Lewis' sophomore class record 14 in 2001 is the best effort to break Wilson's record.

ATORBACK AZORBACK AZO

KODAK HONORABLE MENTION SHELLY WALLACE

Unlike 1987, Arkansas was rewarded for its runner-up finishes in SWC play, advancing to the NCAA first round. This team remains the highest average scoring team (83.0 ppg) in school history, led by senior power forward Shelly Walace. The Californian set several school records on her way to Kodak All-America honorable mention honors, many which still stand today including most rebounds in a game, season and career, and most 30-point games in a career with seven. She remains the only Razorback to average a double-double for a season.

JULIET JACKSON

Overlooked among the accomplishments of the 1990 Southwest Conference co-champions is the fact the 1989-90 team was the greatest road squad in school history. Shattering the mark for consecutive road wins with 12, this team may have completed the year perfect on the road had it not been assigned the West Regional and handed the unenviable task of facing the national champion juggernaut of Stanford on the Cardinal's home court. Still, the 12-1 road mark also remains the school record (.923). Juliet Jackson played a key role in two of the most important road wins. Her famous free throws at Texas (see The Greatest Games, page 134) were important, but without her career-best and game-leading 30 points poured in from long distance at Athens, Arkansas' season ends at Georgia.

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN DELMONICA DEHORNEY

Arkansas' winningest season had some of the quirkiest moments. The 90-91 team held the record for the longest regular-season win streak -- 12 games -- for 17 years. But for an improbable loss to last-place Baylor by one point at Waco, Arkansas may have won 21 straight. Still, taking 20 of 21 was impressive, and the 28 wins and .875 percentage remain school records. The 1991 team also holds the record for most points (2,644) and most assists (694) due mostly to the post-point duo of Delmonica DeHorney and Amber Nicholas.

1991 SWC CLASSIC MVP AMBER NICHOLAS

BLAIR SAVAGE

A rebuilding season was not the best timing to join the toughest women's basketball conference in America. It also proved a tough, quirky schedule as the SWC's double-round robin consumed 16 regular-season games while the SEC had only 11 conference games. Hurt feelings from its former league foes prevented the Razorbacks from scheduling SWC teams and Arkansas scrambled on month's notice to assemble a minimum Division I schedule of 24 games. Without its two-time leading scorer and Kodak All-American Del-monica DeHorney, Arkansas struggled in the first year of SEC play. Watching a last-second layup roll off the rim at Ole Miss to open league play, 66-65, losing the team's leading scorer at semester after upsetting No. 17 Auburn, and a heartbreaking overtime loss at Kentucky added up to an 11th-place finish in the 12-team league. The defending SWC champions were not alone as fellow expansion member South Carolina, the defending Metro Conference champ, joined Arkansas at the bottom of the league standings helping prove the point of the SEC as the reigning power conference.r. Wilson's effort has stood the test of time as three different point guards -- Amber Nicholas, Christy Smith and Amy Wright -- have broken numerous assist marks. Although each had double-digit game bests and all put up over 500 career assists, the closest any came was 12 by Wright. India Lewis' sophomore class record 14 in 2001 is the best effort to break Wilson's record.

SHEA HENDERSON

Arkansas' senior point guard from the small Delta town of Star City provided one of the highlight moments of

1992-93 as Shea Henderson drove the lane with seconds remaining to sink the defending SEC champion Ole Miss Lady Rebels in the conference opener. Arkansas made improvements and regained an almost full schedule in its second transition year to the SEC.

COACH GARY BLAIR 10 YEARS, 198-120 (1993-2003)

The longest tenured coach in Razorback women's basketball history, Gary Blair will be forever remembered for two improbable runs against the odds and one of the most famous players in school history. Taking over after a successful run at Stephen F. Austin, Blair promised to take Arkansas the next step toward the Final Four. His first recruiting class made good on the pledge. Led by four-time AP All-America honorable mention Christy Smith, Arkansas became the first unranked team in NCAA history to reach the Women's Final Four. Before the epic 1998 West Regional run, Blair led Arkansas into the NCAA tournament in 1995 thanks to Smith's SEC Freshman of the Year effort to rally Arkansas from a 1-3 league start to a 7-4 close to tie for fourth. Blair was named national coach of the year by two publications after the 1998 season. A disappointing 1999 saw Arkansas become one of a handful of Final Four teams to fail to return to the tournament, but Blair rallied the team to the 1999 WNIT Championship in front of a school, state and then WNIT record crowd of 14,163 at Walton Arena. His final three seasons were NCAA trips before departing to become the head coach at Texas A&M in 2004.

KELLY JOHNSON

After starting league play 1-3, including a heartbreaking one-point loss to Ole Miss, not a lot of folks held high hopes for Arkansas' SEC finish, except for Christy Smith. The future SEC Freshman of the Year had proved tenacious in the non-conference schedule, and embarked on an improbable run of playing every minute of every SEC game — both regular season and tournament. Her grit combined with the highly-touted freshmen recruits and the experience of seniors Stephanie Bloomer and Allyson Twiggs powered Arkansas to a 6-1 finish in SEC play to tie for fourth place overall. The highlight of the run was an upset of eighth-ranked Vanderbilt. Winning eight of the last 10 games of the season, Arkansas was rewarded with a sixth seed in the NCAA Midwest Region. The 1995 team also set the school record for free throw percentage (.770).

SYTIA MESSER

Preseason top 10 for the first time since the SWC glory days and set to play in the Preseason WNIT, Arkansas looked ready to roll into the SEC elite. The only loss in an impressive start of 13-1 came in the final minute of the title game to ninth-ranked Colorado. But at the start of conference play. Bama stunned UA at home in overtime, setting off a five-game losing streak. Just as the team recovered with back-to-back league wins, Arkansas lost both the game and its star point guard at Kentucky as Christy Smith's season ended with a torn ACL. Arkansas rallied again, notably with the overtime win in the rescheduled Snow Game against Auburn, but it was not enough to overcome the slow league start. Instead, Arkansas headed to Amarillo for what proved to be the final NWIT.

KIMBERLY WILSON

Another year of incredible highs and incomprehensible lows for the Razorbacks. The guard combo of Christy Smith and Kimberly Wilson scored 20-plus each and Sytia Messer turned in her finest defensive effort to limit Chamiqua Holdsclaw to her first single-digit game as a collegian as Arkansas upset sixth-ranked Tennessee. It was part of another 13-1 start, but a 3-8 road record and a 5-7 conference finish left Arkansas on the bubble. This was the year ESPN decided to visit the Razorback women's basketball locker room for Selection Sunday, but UA's bubble was burst by the selection committee. With no postseason NIT available, a stunned Arkansas team was left with nothing to do but get ready for next season.

4X AP ALL-AMERICA HONORABLE MENTION CHRISTY SMITH

Arkansas used the same formula of 1995 -- impact freshmen and senior leadership -- to return to the postseason. Now the '95 freshmen were the '98 leaders, and despite preseason knee problems, seniors Christy Smith and Karen Jones would not be denied their ultimate goal. While the miracle run at the NCAA West Regional is well known, often overlooked are the key non-conference games -- the half-court back-breaker by Smith at Louisville and the OT rally at Valpo -- plus the must-win "playoff" for the at-large berth with Auburn at the SEC tournament. This was a heartbreak team that set the mark for most conference overtime games in a season with three.

WNIT MVP LONNIYA BRAGG

Losing several starters from the Final Four team, Arkansas answered the persistent question from the 1998 run by defeating Stanford at San Jose in the season opener. The five-game run to the WNIT title was the highlight of a year of tremendous highs and lows. The season in a player was Karyn Karlin, the leading scorer who pushed Arkansas to a stunning upset over Penn State on CBS but saw her season end early with a torn ACL at Auburn.

KARYN KARLIN

Two notable records belong to the 1999-2000 season. The team capitalized on the 5-0 finish of the previous season with an 8-0 start to break a pair of school records, consecutive wins and consecutive wins to begin the season. Unfortunately, a pair of losing streaks -- five games in January and seven games in February -- sent Arkansas back to the WNIT. The Razorbacks continued their WNIT winning streak into the semifinals before losing to league rival Florida.

WENDI WILLITS

Arkansas' first full season in the 21st century was the year of the three-pointers. Wendi Willits finished her career by adding the career trey mark -- 316 -- to her long list of three-point records at Arkansas. Willits' outside shooting drove this team to a school-record 202 three-point goals. The emergence of freshman Shameka Christon gave Arkansas great balance as the 2000-01 team became the seventh -- and most recent -- team in school history to finish the year with four double-digit scorers.

AMY WRIGHT

The fact Amy Wright broke Amber Nicholas' career assist record was a foregone conclusion at the start of 2001-02; however, that Wright's ball handling ability would lead to a new season-record 205 assists and a whopping 717 for her career wasn't. Lost in her assist record was the senior quard's ability to protect the basketball as the 2001-02 team broke the school record for fewest turnovers with 433 -- highly significant considering the short length of some of Arkansas' early seasons. This team also claimed the school record for most blocked shots in a season with 136.

INDIA LEWIS

For only the third time in school history, Arkansas started and finished the season ranked in the AP top 25. The 2003 team also got off to one of the four fastest starts in school history, pushing to 10-1. The season peaked with a stunning upset of No. 2 LSU, 82-72, before one of the largest crowds in school history at Walton Arena. Another five-figure crowd came a week later to see Arkansas come up short against fourth-ranked Tennessee. It was part of a 55,000-fan January for all women's athletics combined in Fayetteville. The year had another peak as the SEC crossed the Mississippi River for the first time for a basketball tournament, and the result was a record-setting attendance at ALLTEL.

SEC PLAYER OF THE YEAR SHAMEKA CHRISTON

Under new head coach Susie Gardner, Shameka Christon's offensive production jumped to 21.8 ppg to lead the SEC in scoring. As a result, the senior became the first Razorback women's basketball player to earn SEC Player of the Year and the first Associated Press Third-Team All-American. Arkansas posted its most wins on the road in almost a decade under its new head coach. The Razorbacks also notched a school record for most three-point attempts. After the close of the season, Christon became the highest drafted Arkansas women's basketball player by the WNBA, selected fifth overall by the New York Liberty.

SEC SCHOLAR-ATHLETE OF THE YEAR SARAH PFEIFER

The 9-1 start for 2004-05 tied the school record for best opening 10 games. Sophomore Sarah Pfeifer was named the SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year, giving Arkansas back-to-back league-wide player honors. It was an award Pfeifer earned the hard way. Returning to the lineup from shoulder surgery the year before, the redshirt sophomore wasn't supposed to lead the team in scoring. But torn ACLs for two starting post players in the space of three weeks sent the not-quite 6-0 Pfeifer into the land of the giants. A former high school post, she flourished with several 20-point plus games down the stretch to lead Arkansas into the WNIT. The 2005 team shattered the school record for steals thanks to a new commitment to team defense. Nationally ranked during the early half of the season, the duo of Kristen Peoples and Rochelle Vaughn set the pace. Arkansas led the nation in steals deep into the season, finishing with 388. It also led to a near-record with 728 opponent turnovers, significant as the record season of 751 steals had the benefit of two more games than the 2004-05 team.

COACH SUSIE GARDNER 4 YEARS, 64-54 (2003-2007)

Becoming the sixth head coach in April 2003, Susie Gardner posted three winning seasons in her four at Arkansas. Her teams had some historic high points, including the best starts in SEC (2006) and overall (2006-07), but also had some of the most dramatic lows, longest losing streak and worst SEC regular season mark. Gardner's first teams produced a pair of SEC athletes of the year with Shameka Christon took overall player of the year in 2004 and Sarah Pfeifer received the scholar-athlete of the year award in 2005. Her final team saw Pfeifer repeat the scholar award and the first double-double player in a generation, Lauren Ervin.

ALL-SEC SECOND TEAM LAUREN ERVIN

Junior transfer Lauren Ervin became the first double-double player at Arkansas since the great Shelly Wallace in the late 1980s. Ranked nationally for rebounds most the year, she has 11 double-double games — second only to Wallace for a season or career — to finish the year with 12 ppg and 10 rpg. Ervin shattered the school marks for blocks in SEC play. A school-record start to the season at 15-1 and a midseason AP ranking did not last as the Razorbacks closed with a school-record 10-game losing streak leading to the resignation of Susie Gardner as head coach in early March.

WBCA ROBIN ROBERTS AWARD WINNER BRITTNEY VAUGHN

Tom Collen's first season at Arkansas was a recordbreaker as the Razorbacks opened 15-0. The 2007-08 team established both the longest in-season and all-time winning streak with its perfect run through the entire non-conference slate. Returning to the AP Top 25 after defeating Marquette then thrashing old SWC rival Texas Tech, Arkansas seemed poised to become a factor in SEC play. Unfortunately, the team's double-double leader Lauren Ervin tore her ACL in the conference opener and the team was never the same. In spite of the ninegame losing streak to end the year, there were several individual achievements. Ervin was a third-round draft pick of the Connecticut Sun, and senior point guard Brittney Vaughn became the first Razorback to win a national award from the WBCA as she was named the Robin Roberts Award recipient at the 2009 Women's Final Four.

COACH TOM COLLEN (2007-PRESENT)

The naming of Arkansas' seventh women's basketball head coach was a homecoming for one of America's most successful coaches, Tom Collen. The recruiting coordinator and eventually assistant head coach during Arkansas' surge to the Final Four in the 1990s, Collen left his mark at Arkansas through his previous players like fourtime All-American Christy Smith and future top three-point shooter in America Wendi Willits. He made an immediate impact again as his first recruiting class as the head coach for Razorbacks was ranked top 25 in the country. Arriving at Arkansas as one of the top 10 winningest women's basketball coaches in the game, Collen in his first nine seasons as a head coach already has 200 career victories with 10 postseason appearances: five trips at Colorado State, four at Louisville and one at Arkansas.

CHARITY FORD

The 2009-10 season came to a close with hard-fought games and career performances by the Razorback women's basketball team. Seniors Charity Ford and Ashley McCray hung up their jerseys after solid careers for Arkansas. Ford played four seasons for the Razorbacks ending her career with 917 points, 287 rebounds and 130 assists. Ford ranks 25th all-time for points scored and scored in double-digits in all but one game (the opener) in 2009-10. McCray's two-year career saw her score 254 points with 181 rebounds and 16 blocks.

C'EIRA RICKETTS

The 2010-11 season saw Arkansas return to the postseason reaching the WNIT Quarterfinals. Arkansas' season saw the team open 12-0, jump into the national polls for nine weeks, sweep LSU, win at Ole Miss and upset No. 10 Oklahoma and No. 12 Kentucky - all firsts for the program. In addition, two players, C'eira Ricketts and Lyndsay Harris, surpassed the 1,000 point plateau.

Ashley Daniels and her senior classmates C'eira Ricketts and Lyndsay Harris put the Razorbacks on their backs and marched the team all the way to the NCAA second round in 2011-12. The first four-year senior class for head coach Tom Collen, the 2011-12 Razorbacks posted a school record for SEC wins (10), consecutive SEC wins (eight) and SEC finish (tied for fourth). The paced the team to the program's first SEC Tournament win since 2005 and the team's first NCAA Tournament win since 2003. Daniels finished the year leading the SEC in defensive rebounds.

BACK IN THE DAY -- SEC SCHEDULING

Starting with the 2010 SEC championship season, women's basketball began a 16-game schedule. The league will maintain the 16-game schedule in 2012-13 despite the addition of Missouri and Texas A&M to the SEC.

Each team's 16-game schedule will feature home-and-home games against divisional opponents, while featuring one permanent opponent and two rotating opponents from the opposite division. Arkansas' permanent opponent is Missouri.

When Arkansas joined the SEC in 1991, the league played a single round-robin schedule. To promote women's basketball, the conference required each team to play home-and-home with a fixed "rival" partner in 1996 with the 12th game that did not count. For Arkansas, this became LSU. Several SEC teams (UT-Vandy, Ole Miss-MSU, Auburn-Bama) had home-and-home series in previous years and simply designated one game as the league counter. The next season, 1997, both games counted for a 12-game season.

season, 1997, both games counted for a 12-game season.

A NCAA mandated minimum 14 regular-season games against conference opponents brought about a 14-game format in 1998. The formula started with round-robin against the entire league, then added home-and-home with the rival partner and a rotating home-and-home with one team from the Eastern Division and one team from the Western Division. The schedule operated on a two-year cycle.

ONE OF A

These are the only Southwest Conference women's basketball trophies located outside the state of Texas. Arkansas was the first team to defeat the University of Texas in SWC play, capturing a share of the 1990 regular season title. Arkansas took the 1991 title outright, then defeated Texas Tech for the 1991 SWC Classic title to become the first non-Texas team to win the league's postseason tournament. Arkansas departed the SWC the next season, and the fact that the Razorbacks were the team to end the Longhorn dynasty is sometimes overlooked in women's basketball history.

BACK IN THE DAY - SWC SCHEDULING

The Southwest Conference started championships for women during the 1981-82 academic year. As was the custom of many conferences, there was no regular season play in 1982, and only a conference championship tournament. Not all of the SWC members participated in the event hosted by Texas A&M, and it took place midseason rather than at the end of the year.

In 1982-83, the league played single round robin and hosted its first true post-season tournament at Austin. The following year the regular season format of double-round robin was established. The 16-game schedule remained unchanged for the rest of SWC history, and featured a looping schedule that reversed the order of play during the year. The primary game days followed the men's schedule -- Thursdays and Saturdays -- and several institutions played double-headers.

The top teams in the league both in attendance and performance, Arkansas and Texas, did not play double-headers.

ARE YOU MISSING FROM OUR LISTS?

The records for the first three varsity teams at the University of Arkansas are not complete, but we believe we have identified all the modern-era Razorbacks. If you find a mistake in our letterwinner or all-time jersey listings, please contact us to let us know. Also, if you played basketball for Arkansas in the pre-varsity era — prior to 1976 — we are looking for your information. Please contact Jeri Thorpe in Media Relations at (479) 575-5037 or jthorpe@uark.edu.

BEHIND THE NUMBERS

f l jersey number has never been used at Arkansas by the women's basketball team: 0 or 00.

2 numbers are retired at Arkansas, both in the year following the end of the careers of the only players to wear those numbers in school history: #5 (Bettye Fiscus) and #50 (Delmonica DeHorney).

14 athletes have worn #22, 14 wore #23 and 12 wore #32.

17 players have worn two different numbers during their career. Kelsey Hatcher became the 17thplayer to change when she moved from 2 to 3. The others: Sarah Pfeifer (33 & 40), Melissa Hobbs (22 &23), Rochelle Vaughn (21 & 25), Cara Wright (14 & 31), Shameka Christon (24 & 20), Celia Anderson (44 & 33), Debbie Roe (15 & 30), Debbie Olivas (14 & 30), Connie Fitzgerald (15 & 24), DeAnn Henry (20 & 23), Tammy Siefkes (22 & 32), Lita Stricklin (25 & 44), Tamara Mathis (33 & 52), Paula Phillips (42 & 52) Quistelle Williams (42 & 24) and Carol Ann Riggs (33 & 35). Interestingly, Pfeifer becomes the first player ever to switch back, going from 40 to 33 in 2007-08.

Letters Won and Years Played

One of the most unique careers at Arkansas belonged to one of its most loyal players. Two season-ending injuries and an extension of her eligibility clock resulted in Pfeifer becoming the first player in school history to participate in six season and earn five varsity letters. She is also the only player to have played for three different coaches. Pfeifer may also have the title for most surgeries during a career -- five -- including three on her two shoulders. Along with her devotion to the team, she also earned her bachelor's and master's degrees and is the only player in SEC history to be named Scholar-Athlete of the Year twice. Note in this photo from her second sophomore season the tape work on her shooting arm which she utilized to avoid an in-season surgery.

These images represent some of the earliest evidence of women's basketball at the University of Arkansas. Above, the 1908 team photo was given to Women's Athletics during the 25th anniversary season. Below at left, women play at Smitty's Gym, the original basketball gym located on the main part of campus. The gym was the University Museum until the early 21st century. Below at right, the 1909 team loads up for a road trip, and was the "Champions of the South" according to newspaper clippings.

EARLY ORIGINS

Women's basketball has been a part of the fabric of the University of Arkansas for almost a century. Teams of female students took to outdoor courts and peach baskets just after the turn of the century. While the women waited until 1976 for the first varsity team to officially represent the University, these early photos show how the game captured what was then deemed "the fairer sex" in action.

THE FIRST TEAM

As the photo at right illustrates, almost since the turn of the century, women have banded together to play basketball at the University of Arkansas. In fact, yearbook references to women's basketball predate men's basketball at Arkansas. There are photographs of at least three teams of women's basketball players prior to 1910. From the 1930s until the late 1950s, some of the nation's best AAU players and teams came from the state of Arkansas. After years of "extramural" women's basketball in the late 1960s and early 1970s at the University, the first varsity Razorback basketball team took the court in Barnhill Arena in 1976-77. Under Coach Sharon Ogle, these Razorbacks established the winning tradition at Arkansas with a 10-6 season. Composed of walk-ons, the 1976-77 team was undefeated in Barnhill Arena (6-0) and set a school record for largest margin of victory that may never be broken—79 points— with a 108-29 win over Bartlesville Wesleyan. Three walk-ons received aid to become the first scholarship women at Arkansas: Camille Yancey of Marvel, Pat Keck from Rogers, and Carol Ann Riggs of Fayetteville.

IN THE BROYLES TRADITION

The next season, the University of Arkansas awarded its first women's athletic scholarship to a freshman recruit. A local basketball star at Fayetteville High, Betsy Broyles, became the first Razorback high school recruit, one of 10 women recruited during the 1977-78 season. Wearing No. 30 for Arkansas, Betsy, daughter of former athletic director Frank Broyles, had her playing career cut short by an injury, but she did letter two seasons at Arkansas.

ARKANSAS' FIRST SUPERSTAR

Wynne, Arkansas', Bettye Fiscus arrived at the University in 1981, and Razorback basketball was never the same. Fiscus set the University record for scoring—man or woman—at 2,073 as Arkansas' first All-American. While NBA star Todd Day finally broke Fiscus' scoring mark, she still holds almost all the women's basketball career scoring records. Her jersey—No. 5—was the first retired by the University, receiving that honor in 1986.

FIRST NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

A senior-laden Razorback club that had advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 1986 received the snub of the committee in 1987. Behind co-captain guard Tracy Webb, the 1986-87 team wrecked its vengeance on the National Women's Invitational Tournament, sweeping through the postseason tournament to bring home the first team national title for a women's squad at Arkansas. Arkansas averaged over 100 points per game for the tournament, crushing California, 112-80, in the championship game.

"DIALING" FOR TROPHIES

Arkansas and the Dial Soap Women's Basketball Classic series had a long, distinguished history. The Dial Classics were the longestrunning series in women's hoops. Arkansas had the unofficial distinction of winning more Dial trophies than any team starting in Minnesota. In fact, the Razorbacks played in eight different Dial tournaments in eight seasons, winning trophies in six. This past record combined with increasing promotions led to Arkansas receiving the right to host one of the coveted tournaments, bringing the Dial series to Fayetteville in 1991 (photo above) until the series was disbanded in 1997.

THE SHOTS HEARD 'ROUND THE WORLD

On Feb. 23, 1990, Arkansas ended the longest conference winning streak in NCAA history by defeating the Texas Lady Longhorns, 82-77. The win broke UT's 183-game streak against Southwest Conference foes, and cleared the way for the first non-Texas SWC women's basketball titlist. It also ended the nation's longest active home win streak at 47 games. Senior guard Juliet Jackson, who hit six free throws in the closing minute to clinch the game, summed it up best: "We messed up all their streaks." The next week junior center Delmonica DeHorney was named Sports Illustrated women's college basketball player of the week.

ONLY SWC WOMEN'S TROPHIES OUTSIDE THE LONE STAR STATE

Arkansas was the first team to beat Texas and the first team to win a share, then later an outright, Southwest Conference championship besides the Lady Longhorns. In 1991, Arkansas also ended the Lone Star state's dominance of the SWC tournament by defeating Texas Tech for the title. These three trophies—the 1990 and 1991 SWC Championship and 1991 SWC Classic—are the only women's basketball trophies in captivity outside the state of Texas.

DELMONICA DEHORNEY,

ALL-AMERICAN

While Delmonica DeHorney may have several notable seconds in her resume— second Razorback player to have her jersey (50) retired, second Razorback to play professional basketball, second all-time leading scorer (1,785)—she claims one of the most significant firsts: the first Kodak All-American at the University of Arkansas. DeHorney also is in the record books as the all-time leader in field goal percentage and blocked shots for a career. Her domination in the paint carried Arkansas to the 1990 NCAA West Regional Finals and to the 1991

NCAA Sweet 16. A two-time SWC Player of the Year, Delmonica is the only women's basketball player in SWC history to earn three conference honors. She was SWC Newcomer of the Year as a freshman. De-Horney was inducted into the UA Hall of Honor in 2000.

BARNHILL CROWDS TO REMEMBER

Beginning with the 1989-90 season, the Razorbacks declared W.A.R. (Women's Attendance Record) on a select opponent. The first two W.A.R.s were against Texas, and resulted in the two largest crowds at Barnhill for a women's basketball game. Upon entering the SEC, Arkansas had a Border W.A.R. with LSU. W.A.R. IV featured the 24th-ranked Kentucky Lady Kats. Arkansas' feared home crowd worked its Barnhill magic in the last three W.A.R.s. The last two years were particularly dramatic as the Razorback fans rallied Arkansas from halftime deficits.

AN ALL-AMERICAN BY EVERY MEASURE

No other point guard in Arkansas history had a career that can match Newark's Amber Nicholas. In her four years, she never missed a game, playing 117 consecutive games, and she set the record for the most consecutive games started: 87. Nicholas set the school record for career assists, and her steady hand guided Arkansas to the best record of any four year period in school history. Named the MVP of the 1991 SWC Tournament, Nicholas also earned three Dial MVP awards in consecutive seasons. One of the most beloved Razorbacks, Nicholas also was a two-time selection to the highly prestigious CoSIDA Academic All-America team and received an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. She was inducted into the Hall of Honor in 2002.

THE NATION COMES TO FAYETTEVILLE

At the end of the 1993-94 season, the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department hosted the first major NCAA championship event held in the state of Arkansas. The 1994 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Mideast Regional set marks for regional attendance and hospitality. A true community project, one of the highlights was a street party and battle of the bands on the downtown square called Fayette-ville Friday Night for the two teams in Saturday's championship game. Louisiana Tech advanced from Fayetteville to the Final Four with upsets of No. 1-ranked Tennessee and Lisa Leslie's USC Trojans.

A MOMENT IN TIME

As the Razorbacks prepared to move to Bud Walton Arena in December 1993, the Women's Athletics Department held a celebration of 17 years of women's hoops in Barnhill Arena with "A Moment in Time." The banquet held in Barnhill was attended by dozens of former Razorbacks, including three of the four career leaders. A special retrospective video tracing the Razorbacks and their winning tradition in Barnhill was screened as a part of the festivities.

THE CARDIAC KIDS

The 1994-95 season saw the Razorbacks return to the Associated Press Top 25 and the NCAA tournament, posting a 23-7 record. Arkansas did it by winning nine games in the closing minute, three games on last shots, with a team composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores.

A STREAK UNEQUALED

The first freshman recruit to start opening day at point guard for Arkansas, Christy Smith earned attention for her free throw shooting—89.9% to lead the nation—and her tenacious defense—leading the SEC in steals with 3.0 per game. But on Dec. 6, 1995, Smith took her first step toward a mark that might stand for all time. The 5-6 West Lafayette, Ind., point guard started that night against Alabama, and did not leave the court against a SEC opponent for the rest of the season. For all 11 regular season games and two SEC tournament games, Smith played 525 consecutive minutes—a feat unequaled by man or woman in the league. The 1995 SEC Freshman of the Year, Smith also became Arkansas' first woman named to the Associated Press All-America team as an honorable mention.

A PRESIDENTIAL VISIT

Usually, the national champion visits the President of the United States in the White House. On Dec. 9, 1996, President Bill Clinton visited the women's basketball team in their locker room during halftime of the men's game with Cincinnati. It may be the first time a sitting President has dropped in to the locker room of a collegiate women's basketball team, and as luck would have it, it was not the last time the Razorbacks posed with the President.

DREAMS DO COME TRUE

On March 9, 1998, the Razorbacks wanted to get back into the NCAA Tournament. By March 27, 1998, they were in the NCAA Final Four, living the dream they had wished for years. Arkansas made NCAA Tournament history as the lowest seed -- #9 in the West -- to advance to the Final Four. They were the first unranked team in women's basketball history during the modern era to reach the Final Four. And, they were the lowest finishing team in conference play -- tied for sixth in the SEC -- to reach the Final Four. Arkansas did it all on the west coast, spending two whole weeks in the Bay Area.

Along the way, the Razorbacks beat three conference champions --WAC, Pacific, Ivy and ACC -- and three ranked teams -- Hawai'i, Kansas and Duke -- to face conference rival Tennessee at Kansas City.

Arkansas played all four of its pre-Final Four games on late night TV, earning the nickname of Good Morning America's team. Every member of the team contributed to the run, starting with a 24-point effort by Karyn Karlin in the opening round win over #20 Hawai'i. 76-70. Then it was freshman Wendi Willits' turn with a near-NCAA record six threepointers blow open Arkansas' second round contest with Harvard, 82-64. In the opening round games held at Stanford, Ca-Christy lif., Smith had zero turnovers and

At the West Regionals in Oakland, junior Sytia Messer stepped to the front as Arkansas' leading scorer in both wins, earning herself the honor as the most outstanding player at the West Regional. Messer had 23 points as Arkansas used an impressive 54-point second half to dispatch Kansas, 79-63, in the Sweet 16. Fellow junior Treva Christensen announced herself with 14 points off the bench against Duke to earn all-tournament selection. Junior Tennille Adams was 6-of-9 with 14 off the bench including the go-ahead bucket in the closing minutes against Duke.

The defining moment belonged to Smith, as she calmly sank four free throws in the final seconds to send Arkansas to the Final Four for the first time with a 77-72 win over ACC champion Duke.

FIVE GAMES TO GLORY

When the 1999 season ended, Arkansas was 15-14 and 11th in the SEC. Leading scorer Karyn Karlin was out for the year with a torn ACL. Not the ending Cinderella hoped for after the Final Four. But Arkansas got a second chance with the WNIT, and by virtue of its season attendance was chosen to host the opener with SLC champion Northwestern State. Sophomore Lonniya Bragg, quiet most of the season, tore into NSU for a careertying 22 points. Arena conflicts helped Arkansas host round two, and a late-season snowstorm led to the smallest crowd at Bud Walton for women's basketball (890). Those that braved the weather saw a sophomore class record 35 points as Okie Wendi Willits busted the Sooners in an overtime thriller, 97-93. The crowds began to pour back into Bud Walton, and Arkansas survived Rice, 76-70, in the quarterfinals thanks to 18 from Bragg. The WNIT picked Arkansas to host again, and the crowd and the Razorbacks did not disappoint as 9,041 saw 5-11 Bragg rack up a career-high 23 against the 6-5 and 6-4 posts of MVC runner-up Drake in a 80-56 rout. It set the stage for a titanic showdown at Walton with Wisconsin. An all-time record 14,163 paid to see Arkansas win the title behind an inspired senior performance from Kamara Stancle with 15 points and 13 rebounds. The victory was marred by the sudden illness and death of Sytia Messer's mother on the eve of the game.

AMERICA'S BEST THREE-POINT SHOOTER

Wendi Willits shattered all of Arkansas' three-point records during the 1998-99 season. More impressive, the 5-8 Fort Cobb, Okla., sophomore came within a single trey of breaking a previously thought unbreakable SEC record -- Cornelia Gayden's single season mark. Willits finished with 104, shooting 35.7% from the arc. Ranking top five in the nation in both percentage and production, Willits was chosen by the Basketball Hall of Fame as its Ed Steitz Award winner. Her uniform, complete with her trademark headband, was displayed for the 1999-2000 season at the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. Her senior year, she became the No. 2 three-point scorer in SEC history as well as the all-time leader at Arkansas. Willits closed her career at the ESPN College Three-Point Shooting Contest, where she reached the Final Four.

DROPPING DIMES FOR RECORDS

Point guard Amy Wright started the second century of Razorback basketball by shattering a once-thought-untouchable record of 186 assists in a season set by Donna Wilson in 1989. Wright's 198 led Arkansas back into the NCAA Tournament second round in 2001, and left her in striking distance for her senior season of the all-time leader, Amber Nicholas Shirey. For her final season, Wright not only took the career record early on, but she broke her own season mark to become the first woman to go over 200 in a season with 205 and close her career with

SECOND TO ONE, BUT SECOND TO NONE

Hot Springs, Ark., native Shameka Christon finished her four-year career at Arkansas as the first woman to threaten the all-time scoring mark of Bettye Fiscus and ended up second all-time with 1,951 points. However, in many ways Christon was second to none in her Arkansas career with many firsts. Early in her career Christon became the first Razorback women's basketball player to represent the United States at the World Championships and the first to win a gold medal on the world stage. As a senior, she was the first Razorback named Associated Press All-America with her selection to the third team, surpassing Christy Smith's four times on the AP team, but as an honorable mention. Christon also became the first voted SEC Player of the Year (both coaches and AP), making her the second Razorback to take player of the year (Delmonica DeHorney in the SWC days). She closed out her time in Fayetteville by becoming the first Razorback taken as a first-round draft pick of the WNBA, going fifth overall to the New York Liberty. Christon added another first as the first Razorback to make an all-pro team as she was on the WNBA's Rookie Team in 2004.

IT WAS THE BEST OF TIMES... IT WAS THE WORST OF TIMES

Tom Collen returned as the head coach for the Arkansas women's basketball team in April 2007. Inheriting a team that had set the standard for best start to the first loss with a 15-1 run before setting the standard for futility with a 10-game losing streak, Collen had no expectations of another streak against a schedule including key road contests. After the first win in several years at Missouri, Arkansas came home to face Clemson -- the first ACC team in Walton Arena. Downing the Tigers, the Razorbacks faced the toughest test with NCAA participant Marquette in the finals of the Dartmouth tournament. Trailing by eight, Arkansas rallied for a two-point win. Riding a 14-game streak, the Razorbacks pummelled former SWC rival Texas Tech to close out the pre-conference schedule perfect. The 15-0 start broke the in-season winning streak of the 1990-91 SWC Championship team that set the school record for wins and percentage with a 28-4 finish. The 15 straight games also bested the 11-game run to close the 1998-99 and start the 1999-2000 season. Behind senior double-double averaging post player Lauren Ervin, Arkansas looked ready to vault its top 25 AP ranking back into the NCAA Tournament. Fate had different plans as Ervin tore her ACL in the SEC opener, ending her career as the second all-time double-double points-rebound player. The Razorbacks suffered several other injuries and stumbled to a 2-13 close.

HISTORIC CHANGES

On Jan. 1, 2008, the University of Arkansas brought together the men's and women's athletic departments. Starting with the new fiscal year in July 1, 2008, the women's sports teams dropped the usage of "Lady" and "Lady'Back" nicknames.

MORE CHANGES

The Razorbacks returned to the NCAA Tournament reaching the second round before elimination in 2011-12. The team that bumped them? New SEC member Texas A&M. Arkansas and the 12-member SEC began preparation for the addition of the Aggies and Missouri moving the SEC to 14 teams for the 2012-13 season.

THE 30 GREATEST GAMES

#1A -- ARKANSAS 77, #8 DUKE 72 March 23, 1998

A total team effort. Christy Smith fulfills the dream of every little girl — she must make the free throws to send Arkansas to the Final Four. Smith does not get to the line without Tennille Adams' offensive stickback to put Arkansas ahead. Treva Christensen and Sytia Messer solidify their picks as All-West and West Region MVP. The game gives rise to two of the greatest moments in women's basketball history. The first came before the game. After a silent ride through the Oakland twilight, Gary Blair rose as the team bus halted. "Don't get off the bus if you don't expect to win," he said, then turned and left the bus. The scond came after as Smith and Stancle fell to the floor at the end of the game. ESPN commentator Beth Mowens declared, "Do you believe in miracles?"

#1B -- ARKANSAS 82, #6 TEXAS 77

February 23, 1990

The clipping above from the Dallas Morning News says it all. Senior Juliet Jackson's clutch free throws ice the first loss by UT to a SWC member -- 183 consecutive games. Delmonica DeHorney led Arkansas with 26 points, eight boards and four blocks. Jackson had 19 points and seven assists, and of course, was 7-of-8 at the line -- 4-of-4 in the closing minute. DeHorney was national player of the week after the game, but those that were there will tell you the best part was seeing The Drum bathed in white -- not victory burnt orange -- lights.

#2 -- #22 ARKANSAS 82,

#2 LSU 72 January 19, 2003

The largest regular season crowd in school history (11,486) and ESPN watched as Arkansas won the first top 10 vs. top 10 game in school history. Arkansas' "Big Three" of Shameka Christon (25 points, 7 boards), India Lewis (19 points) and Dana Cherry (13 points, 12 rebounds) were joined with SEC allfreshman Ruby Vaden (13 points, 7 boards) as the Razorbacks dominated the second-ranked Tigers. LSU threatened late, but the comeback only served to add to the instant classic status of the game. Along with mark the best start in SEC play to date, LSU became the highest ranked team to lose to Arkansas.

#3 -- ARKANSAS 72, #9 TENNESSEE 71 (OT)

February 23, 2012

Sarah Watkins hit a layup with eight seconds on the clock forcing overtime with the game tied at 62, and Lyndsay Harris hit two in overtime giving Arkansas a 72-71 win in overtime over No. 9/11 Tennessee in Knoxville, Tenn. The Razorbacks hit the final four points and held Tennessee scoreless late for the win. Harris paced Arkansas with 20 points and Watkins had 18. Senior C'eira Ricketts added 16 in the win. Arkansas' first half effort was fantastic and they played themselves to a 31-26 lead at the break. Harris had 11 points to lead all scorers in the first 20 minutes but Arkansas' aggressive play racked up nine fouls. The Razorbacks shot 57.9 percent in the first half hitting 11-of-19 shots and the Razorbacks did a good job defensively, holding Tennessee to 9-for-20 from the floor and forcing 10 Lady Vol turnovers. Tennessee came out much more aggressive defensively in the second half and outscored Arkansas 36-31 in the second half but Watkins layup allowed Arkansas to hold on to the tie and force the extra period. The Razorbacks finished the game hitting 25-for-50 from the floor and eight three pointers.

#4 -- #22 ARKANSAS 81, #7 GEORGIA 70

March 18, 1990

Considered for years one of the top 10 upsets in NCAA women's tournament history, Arkansas goes to Athens, Ga., to stun the Lady Bulldogs behind 30 points from Juliet Jackson. Georgia's strategy was to shut down Delmonica DeHorney and Blair Savage inside and isolate Amber Nicholas outside. They dared Jackson to beat them, and she did by raining down 12-of-19 from the perimeter.

#5 -- ARKANSAS 67, WISCONSIN 64

March 23, 1999

Don't try to tell the WNIT record crowd of 14,163 fans at Walton Arena that this was the game for 65th in the country. The back-and-forth battle with the Badgers was befitting any championship. Seniors Kamara Stancle and sophomore Wendi Willits score 15 each as the team wins one for Sytia Messer's mom who passed away 24 hours before the game.

#6 -- #22 ARKANSAS 77, #6 TENNESSEE 75

December 29, 1996

The Razorbacks make national headlines with their first-ever win over Tennessee. Sytia Messer holds Chamique Holdsclaw to a single field goal and only 7 points while Christy Smith and Kimberly Wilson go off for 21 points each. Wilson jumped on UT early, hitting her first three treys and giving Arkansas a 19-11 advantage. Defense was the difference as four turnovers keyed a 13-0 run by Arkansas, capped by a three-pointer by Sytia Messer for a 48-36 lead. Tennessee did not go away, rallying to within a point, 76-75, with :56 to play. The Lady Vols had one last chance to win the game, but missed an inside shot. Karen Jones pulled down the rebound of her life and was fouled by Tennessee. Jones' free throw in the final seconds gave Arkansas its final margin of victory.

#7A -- ARKANSAS 74, #7 SC 46 January 27, 2002

#7B -- ARKANSAS 67, #8 VANDERBILT 57

January 31, 2002

A combination entry because they are the first time that Arkansas defeated consecutive top 10 teams at Fayetteville, and because of the circumstances around the games. The Razorbacks stumbled at USC only three weeks earlier, 91-66, and thanks to some humbling early games were 1-6 to open SEC play. Not only did Arkansas turn the season around, it did it in convincing fashion. Forcing 26 turnovers, India Lewis and Dana Cherry had 17 each as UA meted out its worst beating of a ranked team during the regular season on USC. Four days later, Shameka Christon poured in 21 to lead Arkansas past Vanderbilt as the Razorbacks controlled the game start to finish.

#8 -- #1 TEXAS 71, ARKANSAS 70 February 18, 1984

The Texas win that wasn't. Arkansas scrapped with the top team in the nation, and got the opportunity of a lifetime with the ball and the clock running out at Barnhill Arena. Senior Amanda Holley's baseline jumper hangs in the air, hits the bucket, rolls around the rim and falls out as the horn sounds. The Razorbacks will have three more close calls with their arch-rivals, but a basketball generation will pass before Texas falls in 1990.

#9 -- #22 ARKANSAS 90, UCLA 80 (OT)

March 14, 1990

Perhaps the most exciting overtime game in Arkansas history, the Razorbacks come back from a 10-point deficit late in the game to tie the contest and send it into overtime. Led by All-America candidate Rehema Stephens, UCLA had five players in double figures but the Bruins ran out of gas in the extra five minutes as Amber Nicholas (22 points) and Blair Savage (21 points) lead a 15-5 overtime run. Not only a memorable game, it was the first-ever win by Arkansas in the NCAA tournament and the first-ever NCAA tournament game hosted by Arkansas.

#10 -- ARKANSAS 79, KANSAS 63 March 21, 1998

The Cinderella story comes to life as Arkansas holds All-American Lynn Pride of Kansas scoreless to rally from a 32-28 halftime deficit. Sytia Messer leads the charge with a 17-point second half effort as Arkansas dominates KU, 51-31, in the final 20 minutes. After shooting only 36% in the first half, UA blisters the Jayhawks for 63% in the second.

#11 -- #6 TEXAS 101.

ARKANSAS 99

March 11, 1989

Quite simply, Southwest Conference fans say this may be the greatest championship game ever played -- men or women -- at the SWC Classic. The first-ever women's basketball game at Reunion Arena did not disappoint as the two teams produced near-flawless games. Each committed a season-low eight turnovers, and the 200 points scored were school records for combined score for both. Trailing 51-46 at half-time, Arkansas responded with 52.8% from the field led by a career game by Lisa Martin with 31 points. Four of Arkansas' starters were in double digits as Shelly Wallace added 20 points and 15 boards. Clarissa Davis saved the day with 36 for Texas.

#12 -- ARKANSAS 78, #10 FLORIDA 69

March 2, 2001

Arkansas rode a 10-game losing streak to the Gators into the second round of the SEC Tournament, but freshman Shameka Christon had 22 points, 11 rebounds and four stitches as the Lady'Backs jumped on Florida early. Arkansas led by as many as 20 before Christon departed the game with a busted lip. She returned, but not before Florida closed to within seven. Behind 22 from Wendi Willits and 10 from Lonniya Bragg, Arkansas went on a 7-0 run late to advance to the SEC Tournament semifinals for the first time in school history.

#13 -- #18 ARKANSAS 73, #8 VANDERBILT 71 (OT)

February 19, 1995

Kelly Johnson said she had never hit a game-winner at the buzzer in her life. She didn't get the chance to do so again in her career, but when Christy Smith laced the pass down low to Johnson, she buried the 15-foot baseline jumper as time expired to give Arkansas its first-ever win over Vandy. The photo, above, of Johnson's shot has become one of the most requested classic images in women's basketball history.

#14 - ARKANSAS 80, MISSISSIPPI STATE 73

March 4, 2005

Midway through the first half of Arkansas' opening game at the SEC Tournament, Susie Gardner's team looked headed for a blowout trailing by 17 points with 4:01 left in the first. Trimming the deficit to 11 at half, Arkansas held MSU scoreless almost four minutes to start the second and soon pulled within striking distance. A trio of sophomores led by Sarah Pfeifer were in double-digits to give Arkansas an eight-point lead with just under four minutes to play, a 25-point swing from the same point in the first half.

#15 -- ARKANSAS 66,

#23 SMSU 63

December 29, 1993

There are few things better than beating a rival, and even better when it comes unexpectedly. First-year head coach Gary Blair drew up the play for his freshman three-point sharpshooter Kimberly Wilson. With seconds left, Wilson calmly stroked the winning shot, breaking an unprecedented two-year losing streak to SMS. Wilson became the Bear stalker, posting a 4-0 career mark with SMS.

#15 -- CALIF. 66, ARKANSAS 62 March 21, 1982

Arkansas' first appearance at a national tournament almost became its first win. The host Golden Bears hold off a pesky Arkansas team in the opening round of the 1982 AIAW Championships. Tied 29-29 at halftime, turnovers and fouls are the undoing of Arkansas. The Razorbacks had 31 turnovers -- 11 more than Cal -- and leading scorer Bettye Fiscus fouls out with 17 points. Kim Bunge also has 17 points, but with four fouls.

#17 -- ARKANSAS 73, OLE MISS 72

January 2, 1993

The first major victory in the SEC as the former SWC Champion defeats the defending SEC Champion Lady Rebels. As the photo at right shows, Shea Henderson is the star of the day as the Star City guard drives down the lane in the closing seconds to hit the game winner.

#18 -- ARKANSAS 97, OU 93 (OT) March 14, 1999

Fort Cobb, Okla., product Wendi Willits takes over the Border War between UA and OU. The second round Women's NIT match-up is a toe-to-toe physical battle. In the midst of a record-setting season of three-point shooting, Willits scores a career-high 35 points to lead Arkansas into the quarterfinals.

#19 -- #6 VANDERBILT 81, ARKANSAS 78

March 9, 2002

Shameka Christon had the greatest game at the University of Arkansas in over a generation, but her 40 points in 37 minutes played was not enough to overcome Vanderbilt at the Gaylord Entertainment Center in Nashville for the SEC Tournament semifinals. At the start of the second half, it looked like there wouldn't be much drama as Vandy extended its 44-26 halftime lead to 22-points, 52-30, with 17 minutes left. Then Christon took over, scoring a school record 28 points for a half. Arkansas cut the lead to one, 79-78, with 22 seconds left. Missed VU throws gave Arkansas the last shot, but with nine seconds to play Christon was called for a charge that allowed Vandy to shoot free throws for the final score.

#20 -- ARKANSAS 52, #20 VANDERBILT 51 (OT)

January 8, 2006

#21 -- ARKANSAS 82, #17 PSU 78 January 9, 1999

In its first appearance on CBS, Arkansas does not disappoint. Karyn Karlin dominated the Lady Lions in the paint, scoring 18 points almost at will as Arkansas built a 15-point lead with eight minutes to play. Penn State rallied, and with two minutes left led by two points. Wendi Willits to the rescue with a 21-footer to put Arkansas back up by one, then a steal on the ensuing PSU possession that lead to a pair of free throws. The 5-0 Willits run put Arkansas up by three with 50 seconds to play.

#22 -- ARKANSAS 45, #24 KENTUCKY 43

January 23, 1993

Undoubtedly the quirkiest win in Arkansas history. The Wildcats were returning to the top 25 for the first time in years, but the Razorbacks made sure the stay was short. It was an improbable win as Arkansas rode a five-game losing streak and was in jeopardy of losing three straight at home for the first time in school history. Defense was the key as Arkansas not only got the win, but did it in record-setting fashion. This was only the second game in Arkansas history in which no one was in double figures, and remains the only time Arkansas has won without a doubledigit scorer. Shea Henderson led the team with nine points. Barnhill Arena and one of the Women's Athletics Department's W.A.R. (women's attendance record) promotions share credit for the win. At 5,391, it ranked as the fourth largest crowd to watch the Razorbacks in Barnhill Arena.

#23 -- ARKANSAS 71, #16 GEORGIA 63 February 8, 2004

Arkansas rode a three-game home losing streak for only the second time in school history into an ESPN game with #16 Georgia, but Susie Gardner continued her coaching mojo against her alma mater as the Razorbacks controlled the close game from start to finish. With only eight players on the bench due to injuries, UA was led by Shameka Christon with 28 points, a double-double from Rochelle Vaughn with 11 points and 12 assists and a near-double of 14 points and 9 rebounds from Kristin Moore.

#24 -- ARKANSAS 59,

ALABAMA 58

February 2, 2003

India Lewis was known for her three-point shooting, but in her career at Arkansas she had not hit a game-winner until this afternoon in Tuscaloosa. Arkansas struggled most of the game, no player more than Lewis who entered the final seconds 0-for-7 from the field. Down by two, Lewis took the ball to her right, feinted a drive then stepped back for a fall-away 22-footer as the horn sounded. The win proved a turning point for the conference season, ending a three-game losing streak.

#25 -- ARKANSAS 61, #25 SMSU 60

December 10, 1994

For the second straight year, Arkansas knocks off top 25 SMSU, but this time it's in the Bears' den before 7,490. While Kimberly Wilson led with 19, it was Stephanie Bloomer who was the heroine. Bloomer hit a pair of free throws with 16.5 seconds to play for the win. The 6-3 post had 16 points and 13 rebounds in the game. Arkansas trailed by 10 early, and got its first lead with 2:22 left off a driving layup by Allyson Twiggs.

#26 -- ARKANSAS 79, OKLAHOMA STATE 70

February 16, 1982

Coach Matilda Willis called it her "Champagne Game" in the pregame press, but Oklahoma State was not so willing to give up Arkansas' first-ever 20-win season easily. It looked easy with a 43-29 lead at half, but the Cowgirls cut the spread to three, 69-66, with 3:17 to play. In turn, Bettye Fiscus, Connie Fitzgerald and Erma Greer stepped up with key buckets to pull away from OSU. For the game, Fiscus had 27, followed by Kim Bunge with 14 and Amanda Holley with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

#27 -- ARKANSAS 68, KSU 53

January 2, 1982

The first win for Arkansas over a top 20 ranked team. Bettye Fiscus and Amanda Holley turn in double-double games -- Fiscus an amazing 20 points with 18 rebounds and Holley 12 points with 11 rebounds. Cheryl Orcholski shares top scoring honors with 20 points of her own.

#28 -- ARKANSAS 77, #25 ALABAMA 73

February 18, 1999

Arkansas had its Senior Day one game too late but the Razorbacks scored their first win ever at Coleman Coliseum with a 77-73 upset of 25th-ranked Alabama. Senior Sytia Messer scored a season high 21 points and senior Tennille Adams came off the bench for her second career double-double with 11 points and 10 rebounds. Alabama led by eight at halftime, but the lead wasn't enough to hold off Arkansas. The Razorbacks outscored Bama, 45-33, in the second half. Alabama crept back to within one, but freshman Amy Wright responded with a three-pointer to make it a four-point bulge, 71-67.

#29 -- #14 ARKANSAS 76, #20 TEXAS 61

January 8, 1991

The rematch with Texas is more bust than dust-up as Delmonica DeHorney dominates the lane again and Amber Nicholas pours in the assists and outside shots. Arkansas controlled the game from tip to final horn. The win proves the victory previous year at Austin was not a fluke, and with Arkansas headed out of the SWC, this proves to be the only win over Texas at Barnhill Arena in school history. It results in the largest crowd at Barnhill Arena for a women's basketball game -- 6,819 fans. When Bud Walton Arena opens, this figure is eclipsed by the growth of women's basketball popularity thanks to the SEC.

#30 -- ARKANSAS 83, #11 IOWA 57

November 23, 1997

The Reebok Classic at the Fleet Center in Boston, Mass., was the scene of a mugging as Arkansas shredded the 11th-ranked Hawkeyes. Kamara Stancle scored 21 points in only her second game at Arkansas after transferring from Conners State JC. The Razorbacks defense forced 22 turnovers as Arkansas outrebounded the much taller Hawkeyes, 39-22. Tennille Adams picked up her first double-double of her career with 13 points and 11 rebounds. Leading 38-29 at half, the Razorbacks crushed Iowa with a 13-0 run early in the second half and held the Hawkeyes scoreless for 4:43.

HALL OF HONOR - BETTYE FISCUS

The first of the true greats in Razorback history, Bettye Fiscus set the definition by which all other Arkansas women's basketball players are judged.

In a career of firsts, Fiscus received perhaps her final and most unique honor in 1994 when she became the first female athlete inducted into the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor.

Fiscus was the first player to score over 1,000 points in a career, and broke the school record in only two seasons. She went on to become the only women's basketball player over 2,000 points, and until Razorback All-American and NBA standout Todd Day in the early 1990s, Fiscus was the university's all-time leading scorer.

Also one in a long line of Arkansas prep legends to play for the Razorbacks, she led her hometown of Wynne, Ark., to the AAA state title and was named player of the year by the Arkansas Democrat.

Her jersey number -- No. 5 -- was the first to be retired by the University of Arkansas -male or female -- and hangs in the Razorback trophy case, as well as in Barnhill Arena.

Even though her career ended in 1985, she still holds seven Arkansas overall individual records including total points, career scoring average, field goals and free throws and seven class records. When she completed her career, she not only was the all-time leading scorer, but the leader in rebounds as well with 785.

Adding to her career honors, she was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2006.

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT SCORING

While her career rebound mark of 785 did not last more than three years, Bettye remains No. 2 on the career rebound list and the top guard-wing rebounder. Notable Razorbacks below Bettye in boards: Kodak All-American Delmonica DeHorney and SEC Player of the Year Shameka Christon

Bettye Fiscus was Arkansas' first all-conference player, earing first-team all-SWC in 1982. She was a three-time all-SWC selection in her career, two-time all-SWC tournament and was selected to the SWC All-Decade Team

BETTYE DICKEY TODAY

Bettye Dickey remains a part of the great history of the Razorback program. She was the first player in university history to have her jersey retired in 1986.

To celebrate the end of the Barnhill Arena era and the opening of Bud Walton Arena, the Women's Athletics Department issued commemorative tickets for the first women's game in the new facility. Each ticket had the image of one of the four career leaders, and a special banquet was held to celebrate "A Moment in Time." Bettye was joined at the banquet by Amber Nicholas Shirey (UA's then assist leader) and Shelly Wallace, the only woman to break Bettye's mark for rebounds.

As a part of the 30th anniversary season of Razorback basketball, the University chose Bettye as its Southeastern Conference Great to be honored at the 2006 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament in North Little Rock.

HALL OF HONOR - DELMONICA DEHORNEY-HAWKINS

Delmonica DeHorney Hawkins became the second Razorback basketball player and the fourth overall inductee to the Arkansas Hall of Honor in September 2000. The first Kodak All-American at the University of Arkansas, DeHorney set the standard by which all future post players will be judged. The only player in Southwest Conference history to receive three player of the year honors during her career, DeHorney led Arkansas to its peak of domination of the SWC and onto the national stage as a top 10 team.

DeHorney exhibited her promise her first season at Arkansas, earning SWC Newcomer of the Year honors. Her sophomore season was limited due to injuries, but the 6-4 Poteau, Okla., product came back stronger than ever as a junior.

It was during the 1989-90 season that DeHorney and Arkansas became household words in the sports world. Leading Arkansas and the SWC in scoring and field goal percentage, DeHorney paced the Razorbacks to the first win over Texas by a conference opponent. The win at Texas broke a 183-game streak and the UT strangle-hold on the conference title. As the SWC co-champions, Arkansas was selected for the NCAA tournament. De-Horney stepped up her game, earning All-NCAA West Regional team honors for her back-to-back 30-point games at the Stanford-hosted tournament. Arkansas reached the Elite Eight with DeHorney leading the way.

For her efforts, DeHorney was voted the SWC Player of the Year in 1990 as well as one of the 10 players selected by the WBCA for the Kodak All-America team.

As a senior, DeHorney proved herself again. Repeating as SWC Player of the Year, she led Arkansas to an undisputed SWC crown with a pair of wins over Texas and a 15-1 conference mark. Arkansas added the 1991 SWC Classic trophy to its collection to become the first team besides UT to win the postseason conference tournament. Ranked as high as 8th in the nation, Arkansas received a first-round bye in the 1991 NCAA Tournament, but was upset in the Sweet 16 by

In the storied history of the Southwest Conference, only one woman was voted by the league coaches to a player of the year honor three times in a career. Delmonica DeHorney was the SWC Newcomer of the Year as a freshman in 1988. An injury limited her playing time as a sophomore, but she returned full force as a junior and a senior to lead the league in scoring and earn the 1990 and 1991 SWC Player of the Year award. The first player twice voted first team allconference, DeHorney was chosen SWC Player of the Week three times and all-tournament once. Her career was remembered years later as she was the only women's basketball player voted to the five-player firstteam of the SWC All-Decade Team.

One of Delmonica's three blocks that were key to Arkansas' snapping the Texas 183-game win streak in SWC games in 1990.

DELMONICA HAWKINS TODAY

Married to Jackson Hawkins and the mother of two, Delmonica lives in Baltimore, Md., and works as a juvenile probation officer. Immediately after her playing career at Arkansas, she spent a season in Japan in professional basketball, then a brief time in France. She returned to Fayetteville for the retirement of her jersey, only the second in school history, before settling with her family in Baltimore.

DeHorney-Hawkins joined the Razorback women at the 2011 SEC Championship where she was honored as an SEC Great.

HALL OF HONOR - AMBER NICHOLAS

While others may have better statistics, arguably no other Razorback has had the impact upon the Arkansas women's basketball program as Amber Nicholas Shirey. An All-SWC and Academic All-America player in the late 1980s and early 1990s, she is the first former women's player to become a full-time coaching staff member at Arkansas. As a result, she played a critical hand in recruiting and coaching the athletes who replaced her in the record books.

It seems fitting that the player to hold the Arkansas record for assists would have the best winning percentage in her career (over 75%) of any Razorback. In the process, her teams won 86 games, two SWC titles and made three NCAA appearances. Thanks in part to her 538 assists, her post players led the SWC in scoring twice.

Records held by Nicholas

Of all the records that Amber Nicholas set during her career, which included virtually every assist and free throw mark, the two that speak to the essence of her game remain to this day. She is the only starting point guard to take her team to three consecutive NCAA tournaments and the only Arkansas player named MVP of the SWC Classic.

CAREER

CLASS RECORDS

It's somehow fitting that the consummate point guard of her era hold no class records. However, her post players, Delmonica De-Horney (junior season) and Shelly Wallace (senior season) hold the school class records for most points in a game, season and season scoring average.

assists. Nicholas can rightly lay claim to a stake in the 86 games won during her four years as she played in all 117 games and started a school-record 87 consecutive games. The 1991 SWC Tournament MVP, Nicholas also was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship recipient.

Her legacy to the program continued as an assistant coach, working with guards like former SEC three-point accuracy champion Kimberly Wilson, former four-time AP All-American Christy Smith and three-point record holder Wendi Willits. She had the privilege to coach the woman who finished off her assist record, Amy Wright.

"MISS LADY'BACK"

During the program's 25th anniversary celebration, that's the headline on the newspaper article about Amber Nicholas Shirey. The label fits as no person has been involved in more games than any other individual in Arkansas history, 117 as a player, 27 as a graduate assistant coach and 436 as an assistant coach.

That's a total of 580 games over a span of 19 years.

Recipient of several academic awards, Amber was the first Razorback to earn an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship. She also was the NCAA Woman of the Year from the state of Arkansas in 1992.

AMBER SHIREY TODAY

Honored by the university with selection to the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor in 2002 as the third Razorback women's basketball player inducted. Shirey was also honored by the athletic department's as the Legend player at the 2003 Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament hosted in North Little Rock at ALLTEL Arena.

She married Fayetteville High softball coach Jason Shirey in 1999, and the Shireys have three children, a son, Ross, and daughters, Reese and Rheid.

HALL OF HONOR - TRACY WEBB

The fourth Razorback women's basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Tracy Webb Rice was the fiery leader of the basketball team during its climb to power in the Southwest Conference era.

Webb's scrappy play resulted in four consecutive 20-win seasons, the Razorbacks' first women's basketball NCAA tournament appearance and first major title with the 1987 National Women's Invitational Tournament.

The leader of a recruiting class that put Arkansas on the map, the Batesville, Ark., native stole more than the basketball during her four-year career.

Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Arkansas fans as one of the most popular on-the-court personalities of the mid-1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first Razorback player to earn "first team" All-Southwest Conference honors, a distinction that began her senior season.

She was also one of the first three Razorbacks named conference player of the week. Her junior-season team was

Records held by Webb

One of the first true point guards in Arkansas history, Tracy Webb set the standard by which future "1" players were measured. When she finished her career in 1987, she held almost every guard oriented career mark, including assists, steals and free throw percentage. She still holds these Arkansas marks.

CAREER

Senior season steats: 95 Senior game assists: 11

She also holds the record for career assists and career steals in SWC games, plus the career and season records for best free throw percentage in SWC games.

the first in school history to earn an NCAA berth, losing by a point at Missouri in the opening round, 66-65. Her senior season was exciting as the Razorbacks missed beating No. 1-ranked UT by a bucket in Fayetteville (59-56) and at the SWC Tournament (72-70), then was overlooked for a return trip to the NCAA. Fueled to prove they belonged in the NCAA, Webb's team crushed the WNIT field by a 16-point average as she was named the tournament MVP.

MAKING HER POINT

Back in the 1980s, the NCAA tournament was limited to only 32 bids, and as a result many great basketball players never reached the Big Dance. Such was the case for the 1986-87 Razorbacks and their leader, Tracy Webb. Snubbed by the NCAA committee, Webb and company headed west to Amarillo, Texas, and the National Women's Invitational Tournament on a mission. Not only did Arkansas want to win, the team crushed the opposition by a record-setting margin that stood until the end of the NWIT's existence. That same year, Webb had a profound impact on Arkansas' future as she impressed upon a young recruit, Amber Nicholas, her duty to stay home and take over for her at point guard.

TRACY RICE TODAY

After finishing her playing career at Arkansas, Tracy was a graduate assistant coach for the Razorbacks in 1987-88.

She worked for several years as a flight attendant for a major carrier. Married to Paul Rice and the mother of three, Webb lives in Hot Springs, Ark.

Tracy was the University of Arkansas' honored former player at the 2005 Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament in Greenville, S.C.

HALL OF HONOR - CHRISTY SMITH

The fifth Razorback women's basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Christy Smith lives forever in the memories of women's basketball fans for her heroic leadership of the 1998 NCAA Final Four team.

She became the first Razorback to lead the nation in a NCAA statistical category by shooting 89.9% at the free throw line as a freshman. Yet, one of her 15 missed free throws that season cost Arkansas a chance to advance to overtime versus Ole Miss. That loss put Arkansas at 1-3 for SEC games, but Smith would not be denied and led Arkansas on a 6-1 finish to give the Razorbacks their best SEC finish in school history, 7-4, tied for fourth overall.

As a sophomore, Smith had the best single free throw shooting game in Division I for the 1995-96 season, a 15-of-15 effort to defeat Ohio State in the preseason WNIT. Arkansas roared to a program-best start of 13-1, but the team

Records held by Smith

The highest scoring point guard in Arkansas history, Smith was one of the most accurate free throw shooters in the nation during her career. In fact, she led Division I in 1994-95 for the season and had the single best game in all of Division I in 1995-96.

CAREER

Three-point pct., half: 100% (5-of-5) Free throw percentage, season: 89.9% Free throw pct., game: 100% (16-of-16) Free throw pct., half: 100% (12-of-12)

CLASS RECORDS

In addition to these records, Smith holds another 14 records for SEC games only including career free throws, career free throw percentage and career consecutive SEC starts -- 43. In fact, she is the only Razorback to start every SEC game of her career that she was able to play.

faltered when Smith tore her ACL at Kentucky midway through conference play. Without Smith, the team accepted a NWIT berth.

Upon her return, Arkansas opened 12-1 including Smith leading the Razorbacks' first-ever win over Tennessee, but a tough close made Arkansas the bubble team left out of the NCAA Tournament.

In her final season, Smith rallied Arkansas again into a NCAA bid, but with a ninth seed and the unenviable assignment to the Stanford-hosted subregional it appeared Smith would end her career short of her dream. But two flawless games from the West Lafayette, Ind., guard -- zero turnovers --put Arkansas into the West Regional at Oakland. Defeating Kansas in the Sweet 16, and struggling from behind against eight-ranked Duke, Smith fulfilled her destiny appropriately at the free throw line. In the waning seconds, Duke fouled Smith twice and she calmly sank all four to send Arkansas to the Final Four in Kansas City. It remains to this day the only time an unranked team reached the Final Four.

Smith closed her career second all-time in assists and fifth in scoring. Only 31 assists shy of her coach Amber Nicholas' record, she certainly would have closed No. 1 in assists without her knee injury. She remains the highest scoring point guard in school history.

Along with her All-SEC honors, Christy was a member of the inaugural AP Women's All-America Team in 1995. She was a four-time honorable mention AP All-American, a feat made more notable by her season ending knee injury in 1996.

CHRISTY SMITH TODAY

Following her trip to the Final Four, Smith was a second round draft pick of the Charlotte Sting, and as the starting point guard for the franchise led the Sting to the WNBA Playoffs. Injuries limited her playing time the following season and eventually ended her professional career.

Smith was the fifth Razorback women's basketball player selected by the A-Club membership for inclusion in the Arkansas Hall of Honor. She was inducted in 2005.

She and former Razorback defensive back Jeromy Flowers have three children.

Perhaps the most famous picture in Arkansas history: Christy Smith falls to her knees at center court of the Oakland Coliseum after dribbling out the final seconds of Arkansas' win over Duke to advance to the Final Four.

SEC - THE STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE

With eight national championships, ten runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 34 Final Four appearances and 111 first-team All-America honors, the Southeastern Conference stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference.

SEC BY THE NUMBERS

The SEC has posted impressive non-conference records in the last decade. The SEC compiled a 134-41 (.766) non-conference record during the 2011-12 season.

- Since the 1990 season, the SEC has compiled a 3047-935 (.765) record against other conferences. The league has recorded 150+ wins during eight seasons and has never recorded a non-conference winning percentage below .723.
- SEC teams have earned appearances in 25 of 31 NCAA Final Fours, an accomplishment unmatched by a ny other league.
- Overall, SEC squads have filled 34 of the 124 Final Four berths, including having two Final Four teams in 1988 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1989 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1995 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1996 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1998 (Arkansas, Tennessee), 2004 (LSU, Tennessee), 2005 (LSU, Tennessee), 2007 (LSU, Tennessee) and 2008 (LSU, Tennessee).
- SEC teams have made 18 appearances in a nation-high 16 NCAA Championship games, winning eight NCAA Championships (Tennessee: 1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2007 and 2008).
- The league also had the distinction of providing both national finalists twice in its history in 1996 (Tennessee 83, Georgia 65) and in 1989 (Tennessee 76, Auburn 60).
- SEC teams have won 347 NCAA Tournament games against 180 losses (.658) for an average of 11.2 NCAA wins per year.
- In addition, all 14 current members have appeared in the NCAA Tournament.
- The SEC has paced the pack in NCAA tournament bids 22 times in its 31-year history.
- The SEC was the first league to ever have eight teams invited to the NCAA Tournament, doing so in 1999, 2002 and 2012.
- The SEC was also the first league to ever have seven teams invited to the NCAA Tournament and earned this honor a leading seven times (1986, 1991, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003, 2004).
- The SEC is one of a handful of leagues to have won three national tournament titles with eight NCAA, two WNIT and three NWIT. Along with the eight NCAA championships won by Tennessee, Arkansas (1999) and Auburn (2003) captured the current Women's NIT titles. But the first-ever SEC national title belongs to Georgia, winners of the 1981 NWIT which predates the current NCAA tournament. LSU (1985) and Kentucky (1990) also won NWIT titles. Both Arkansas (1987) and South Carolina (1979) won the WNIT as members of their previous conferences.
- In 2003, Auburn won the WNIT title with wins over South Alabama, Florida State, Richmond, Creighton and Baylor. In 1999, the Arkansas Lady Razorbacks defeated Wisconsin 76-64 to claim the SEC's first WNIT championship.
- In 1981, Georgia defeated Pittsburg, California and Arizona State (in OT) to capture the NWIT Championship, the first ever national championship of any kind for the SEC in women's basketball.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS

• The SEC has had 59 student-athletes named as a First-Team All-America selection. Those 59 have been named a total of 86 times since the 1982-83 season (first year of SEC sponsorship).

- All-Americans were first named in women's basketball in 1975. Since that time, league schools have had 67 players named first-team a total of 111 times.
- The league has had six Honda Sports Awards winners in Katrina McClain, Georgia (1987); Bridgette Gordon, Tennessee (1989); Chamique Holdsclaw, Tennessee (1997 and 1998); and Candace Parker, Tennessee (2007 and 2008).
- Tennessee's Chamique Holdsclaw was named the winner of the Honda-Broderick Cup, as the Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year, in 1998.
- Seven Naismith Player of the Year winners have come from the SEC. They include Saudia Roundtree, Georgia (1996), Chamique Holdsclaw, Tennessee (1998 and 1999), Tamika Catchings, Tennessee (2000), Seimone Augustus, LSU (2005 and 2006) and Candace Parker, Tennessee (2008).
- SEC teams have provided 135 All-Region performers, including 28 Most Outstanding Players.
- Over the past 31-years, 38 Final Four All-Tournament Team members have come from SEC schools.
- In 1996, the entire all-tournament team was made up of SEC players.
- Nine NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winners and 29 Academic All-Americans hail from the SEC.

SEC IN THE WNBA

The Southeastern Conference had 26 former SEC studenttathletes make 2012 WNBA opening day rosters.

- Overall, the SEC has had 117 former players go on to play in the league.
- In this year's WNBA draft, a total of six SEC women's basketball players were taken.
- Since the inaugural WNBA draft in 1997, the SEC has had 119 former players drafted for the professional league, including five No. 1 picks.

• While at an SEC school, 13 head coaches have been named to coach, as an assistant or head coach, for USA Basketball teams

DOMINANCE IN THE POLLS

- Since the SEC began to sponsor women's basketball in 1982, it has failed only three times to place at least four members in each of the final polls (the USA Today/ESPN poll began in 1986).
- Last season, the SEC had four in the final of both polls, with four more receiving votes in Associated Press and three receiving votes in coaches.
- In terms of rankings, the SEC has the richest history of any conference in the nation, boasting more poll appearances than any other.
- Since the 1982 season, SEC teams have been ranked 535 consecutive weeks in the AP Poll.
- Since, 1982, league teams have been ranked 2,739 times, including 1,472 Top 10 appearances and 748 Top 5 appearances.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

Founded in 1871, The University of Arkansas is the flagship institution of the University of Arkansas System. Located in Fayetteville in Arkansas' northwest corner, the U of A is the state's foremost partner and resource for education and economic development.

The U of A offers 213 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral, professional and specialist degree programs. In keeping with its status as Arkansas' land-grant university, the U of A has a 140-year-old mandate to educate, to conduct basic and applied research, and to extend knowledge and resources to the people of Arkansas and beyond through public engagement and service. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching recently classified the U of A as a national research university with a very high level of research activity, based on the number of doctoral degrees awarded, research grants received, and other factors. The U of A is the only Arkansas institution with such a ranking and is among just 108 institutions in the United States (out of 4,633) to have received that classification.

The U of A has enormous influence over Arkansans' social, cultural, and recreational life, especially the widespread passion for the university's athletics teams, the Arkansas Razorbacks. The U of A's location in northwest Arkansas is viewed as one of the university's strongest attributes. Fayetteville is widely recognized as one of the best college communities in the U.S. The city's Dickson Street district abuts the U of A campus and features scores of restaurants, shops, and entertainment venues. Northwest Arkansas is a vibrant economic region with a national reputation for its high quality of life.

Three of the U.S.'s largest corporations have their world headquarters in the region: Tyson Foods, J.B. Hunt Transportation, and the world's largest retailer, Walmart, Inc. Because of their presence, many other corporations have established primary or secondary headquarters in Northwest Arkansas. Their close proximity to the U of A campus, along with their executives' and employees' active involvement in university life, offers students and faculty exceptional opportunities for research partnerships, internships, and post-graduation employment.

The U of A boasts one of the most unique features and traditions found on any college or university campus: Senior Walk, a nearly three-mile stretch of concrete sidewalks crisscrossing campus into which the names of every U of A graduate is engraved. More than 140,000 names currently appear, grouped alphabetically by year of graduation. Senior Walk epitomizes the university's emphasis on "putting students first," a philosophy captured in its tag line, "the YOU of A."

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings on Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1875, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as had happened to its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2005. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

The U of A features distinctive architecture, including its signature building, Old Main, finished in 1875. As the original administrative facility, the iconic building now houses the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences. The college is named in honor of former U of A President (and, later, U.S. Senator) J. William Fulbright, who helped create the prestigious international scholarship and fellowship programs that bear his name. The U of A's distinctive Fulbright Peace Fountain, designed by architect Fay Jones, recognizes its namesake's role in promoting peaceful resolution of world conflicts.

Academically, the U of A is organized into 10 schools and colleges: the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences; the College of Education and Health Professions; the College of Engineering; the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences; and the Sam M. Walton College of Business. The university also features the Fay Jones School of Architecture, the Graduate School and International Education, the Honors College, the School of Law and the Global Campus, which provides academic outreach and programs to more than 15,000 learners a year.

The U of A's total annual operating budget for FY2012 is $528 million. Tuition and fee revenues make up the largest source of revenues, followed by an annual state appropriation. Almost 77 percent of all full-time undergraduate students receive some form of financial aid. U of A undergraduate tuition rates were ranked 38th lowest in the nation among land-grant universities, in keeping with the university's emphasis on keeping itself accessible and affordable.

In August 2011, the U of A enrolled a record 23,119 students. The student body consisted of students from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. More than 300 student organizations also exist on campus. There are plenty of things to do on- and off-campus. The HPER Center, the university's state-of-the-art recreational facility, offers a great place to climb, swim, run, lift weights, do aerobics and yoga, or play basketball. Cultural and recreational options include attending lectures, readings, and theatrical performances, shopping opportunities, and listening to live music on nearby Dickson Street.

In 2009, University Chancellor G. David Gearhart presented a long-range strategic plan that was formally endorsed by the elected leaders of the faculty, staff, and student body. The plan emphasizes a commitment to "students first," and outlines goals and strategies to ensure that all students receive the resources and support they need to achieve their academic goals. The plan also emphasizes the U of A's commitment to transparency and accountability to the people of Arkansas in its operation.

More information about the U of A may be found at www.uark.edu.

SENIOR WALK

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over three miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

ARKANSAS LEADERS

DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

CHANCELLOR

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university as vice chancellor for university advancement. Previously he was senior vice president of Penn State University, during which time he was named a Fulbright Scholar, studying at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

His Bachelor of Arts degree is from Westminster College in Missouri. Both his law degree and his doctor of education degree are from the University of Arkansas. He is a native of Fayetteville.

Prior to being appointed chancellor, Dr. Gearhart oversaw the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, the most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs.

As chancellor, Dr. Gearhart instituted the first tuition freeze in 24 years and implemented a $220 million campus building renovation and refurbishment plan, as well as a campus-wide energy savings plan. He has also undertaken a renewed emphasis on the arts on campus, including the establishment of the "All Steinway Campus."

Dr. Gearhart has additionally implemented a major cost savings program that has already resulted in over $29.4 million in cost reduction and savings to the flagship campus. Campus enrollment has also grown by nearly 6,000 students in the past three years to almost 25,000 students. At the same time, diversity in the student body has increased significantly.

He and his wife of more than 35 years, Jane, have two children and two grandchildren.

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

Chancellor G. David Gearhart appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative (FAR) for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty since 1990, and she served as the department head of the recently renamed Department of Health, Human Performance and Recreation from July 1,1990 until June 30, 2011 except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as the interim dean of the College of Education and Health Professions On June 30, 2011 Dr. Hunt stepped down as department head and returned to the faculty at the rank of Professor giving her more time to devote to the FAR position.

A high school athlete, Hunt's involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women's basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a Doctor of Education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of undergraduate courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

The FAR's responsibilities lie in three broad areas: academic integrity within the athletics program, student-athlete well-being, and institutional control of the athletics program. Dr. Hunt is involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and chairs the Academic Credential Review Committee and Athletic's Academic Integrity Committee, and serves as an ex-officio member of the Faculty Athletics Committee. In addition, she travels to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers' Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

Dr. Hunt has been married to David Hunt since 1973, and they have an adult son and daughter as well as a grandson.

ARKANSAS LEADERS

JEFF LONG

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS & DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Entering his fifth full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition and gained national attention for his leadership while revitalizing a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes.

Long leads a comprehensive athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long is helping to chart the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas while integrating Razorback Athletics into the campus community. In each of the past three years, Razorback Athletics has made a $1 million gift to support the university's academic mission. The department's total support of university and student programs and initiatives includes $1.9 million in direct funding of academic programs.

Long's leadership and unwavering commitment to the student-athletes and maintaining integrity within intercollegiate athletics has not gone unnoticed. In 2011-12, Long was named a finalist for the SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily Athletic Director of the Year. In the spring of 2012, the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation and longtime chairman Fred W. Smith made a gift of more than $1.25 million to the program in recognition of Long's leadership of Razorback Athletics.

In Long's tenure, Arkansas has captured 11 conference championships and advanced to 68 post-season competitions, including the school's first Bowl Championship Series appearance in football, while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks. In 2011-12, Arkansas finished No. 20 in the Learfield Sports Directors Cup, a year-long competition ranking the nation's most successful intercollegiate athletic programs, the fourth time in the past five years the Razorbacks have finished in the nation's top 25.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks continue to set new standards including posting a student-athlete grade point average of 3.07 in 2011-12. It marked the fourth consecutive year Razorback student-athletes posted a GPA exceeding 3.0. Arkansas exceeds the national APR multi-year rate by more than 10 points in 18 sports and has seen a steady rise in graduation success rates.

Student-athlete development has also been a priority including the establishment of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the Southeastern Conference. In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 5,000 hours of time for more than 100 agencies, organizations and schools.

One of the nation's most active athletic directors on Twitter, Long embraces the opportunity to interact with members of the Razorback Nation whether in person or through social media.

Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles and even before he officially took the reins on Jan. 1, 2008, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program. Long adeptly blended the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and established a new administrative structure.

Long has also worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium and partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a football series with Texas A&M played at the spectacular Cowboys Stadium.

Under Long's leadership, the program has fortified its financial standing ensuring more support for the development of student-athletes. According to the Wall Street Journal, Arkansas is one of only 22 self-sustaining Division I-A athletic programs in the nation. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal with IMG College to form Razorback Sports Properties that guarantees the Razorback program $73 million during the course of the decade-long agreement. Long also negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season. In December 2011, Forbes Magazine estimated the value of the Razorback Football program at $89 million, eighth in the nation. Arkansas saw the largest increase (59%) from the previous rankings released in 2009.

In 2010, Long moved to help meet the growing financial needs of fielding a nationally competitive all sports program. The athletic department launched the "Answer the Call" campaign through the Razorback Foundation which resulted in more than 2,600 new members and helped generate more than $6.5 million in additional support for Razorback student-athletes.

With an eye towards the future, Long commissioned a comprehensive plan to assess the future facility needs of the program. Unveiled in October 2011, the Razorback Athletic Facilities Master Plan provided a vision and the road map for $320 million of facility renovations and additions that will help all 19 Razorback sports remain competitive in the Southeastern Conference and nationally over the next 30 years. The first major project from the master plan, the football center, is currently being constructed with a targeted completion date in 2013.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University, Eastern Kentucky University and Rice University. Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching staff positions at Duke University, University of Michigan and North Carolina State University.

His experience as an athletic director and administrator in five of the six Bowl Championship Series conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and SEC - gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long has served on the NCAA Management Council, the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association. Long currently serves on the NCAA Championships/Sports Management Cabinet.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh. Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign that raised nearly $34 million to enhance the student-athlete experience. During his tenure the Panthers' were selected as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years overseeing external affairs for the Sooners. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics working on head coach Tom Reed's staff as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

BEV LEWIS
ASSOCIATE VICE CHANCELLOR &
EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE AD

Bev Lewis has served the University of Arkansas and its Razorback athletic programs for more than three decades.

The former women's athletic director prior to the department merger in 2007-08, Lewis now serves as the associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. Lewis is also the coordinator of a five-member sport administrator group that provides day-to-day administrative support for each of Arkansas' 19 sports. Lewis is the sport administrator for men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, softball and volleyball. In addition, Lewis is the primary administrator working with the Razorbacks' strength and conditioning units and athletic training and sports medicine program as well as overseeing media relations. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning. Lewis was elected to the 2011-12 Southeastern Conference Executive Committee assisting the league office in a leadership role.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the year, team academic national titles and the university's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the university's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center. In 1998, she was voted into the University Of Arkansas Hall Of Honor.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and recently on the NCAA Management Council. Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981. The former Bev Rouse is married to Harley Lewis.

MATT
SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD FOR INTERNAL OPERATIONS

Matt Trantham joined the University of Arkansas in 2008 as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations. He oversees all Razorback facilities and events.

With this role, Trantham has overseen the Razorback Athletics Facilities Master Plan recently unveiled in October 2011. Additionally he serves as Administrative supervisor for the new Arkansas Football Center scheduled for completion during the Summer of 2013. Additional projects forthcoming as part of the Master Plan will be a Student-Athlete Success Center, a basketball practice facility and a baseball and track indoor training facility with design/constructions teams recently approved by the Board of Trustees in Sept. 2012. Other projects supervised have been the $2.5 million renovation of Bud Walton Arena in 2008, the $1.3 million installation of synthetic playing surface and $1.2 million installation of ribbon boards at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback stadium in 2009, expansion of Razorback soccer team facilities in 2011 and $4.6 million installation of new video displays at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback stadium prior to the 2012 season.

Prior to joining Arkansas, Trantham began his career with the University of Oklahoma in July 1999 as the promotions director for the athletic department where he worked with all 20 of OU's teams. He was named assistant athletic director for event management in 2004 and was promoted to associate athletic director in 2006.

Prior to joining the Sooners, Trantham spent five seasons in professional sports in Washington, D.C. Trantham earned his bachelor's of science degree in business management from Centenary College in 1990 and a master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in 1998.

Trantham and wife Kristen are parents of two sons, Will and Davis, and two daughters, Morgan and Paige.

JON FAGG SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD FOR COMPLIANCE AND STUDENT-ATHLETE SERVICES

Jon Fagg joined the University of Arkansas as a senior associate athletic director for compliance and student-athlete services in the summer of 2008, overseeing all aspects of compliance and academics. He serves as a member of the senior management group for the Razorbacks and is the sport administrator for football and men's basketball.

Fagg supervises NCAA and Southeastern Conference rules compliance and education. He reports directly to the vice chancellor and director of athletics, and has an informational reporting relationship on compliance issues with the university's Office of the General Counsel.

In addition to compliance, Fagg also supervises the student-athlete services department which advises and offers support to more than 450 Razorback student-athletes.

Fagg joined the Razorback staff after spending the past seven years at North Carolina State. Hired in March 2001, he served four and half years as an assistant athletics director for compliance before being promoted to associate athletics director for compliance in the fall of 2005.

While with the Wolfpack, Fagg's responsibilities included coordinating all aspects of the NCAA compliance program, including rules education for intercollegiate staff and related university personnel, and advisement, education and interpretations regarding NCAA rules and regulations.

Prior to his tenure at North Carolina State, Fagg spent three years as the assistant athletics director for compliance at Fresno State. He also served one year as director of compliance for the Big South Conference.

His first athletics administrative experience came at Mars Hill College where he handled compliance duties as well as serving as an assistant coach for the football team for three seasons. His coaching experience also includes a stint as an assistant coach at Davidson from February 1992 to June 1993 and as a GA coach at his alma mater, the University of Arizona, from January 1991 to February 1992.

Fagg and his wife Amanda have three children: Jon Madison and twins, Reed and Ellie.

CLAYTON HAMILTON SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Clayton Hamilton joined the Razorbacks in January, 2010, assuming the role of Chief Financial Officer with oversight of the athletic department's financial affairs, business operations, contracts, human resources, payroll, and retail store operations. He was promoted to Senior Associate AD in the summer of 2012.

Hamilton has over 16 years of financial management experience, including positions with the University of Colorado, Florida State University, the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Cavaliers.

He is an active member of the College Athletic Business Management Association, having served most recently as president in 2009, and has served on various NCAA strategic task forces. He is also a past recipient of the College Athletic Business Manager of the Year Award, and was recognized in 2011 as one of Northwest Arkansas' Top Forty Under 40.

A native of Arkansas, Hamilton graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in accounting. He obtained a master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in 1997, and his CPA certification from the State of Arkansas in 1998.

Hamilton and his wife Stephanie have two children, Lauren and Caylee.

BYRON HATCH ASSOCIATE AD FOR BUSINESS

Byron Hatch joined the Razorback Athletics Department in July 2012 as the Associate Athletic Director for Business. Hatch joins the Razorbacks after spending the past seven years at the NCAA serving most recently as the director of championships and alliances.

Hatch, a native of Humphrey, Ark., earned his undergraduate degree in accounting from the University of Central Arkansas (UCA) and a law degree from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock (UALR). While in law school, Hatch worked in the offices of the Arkansas Public Defender Commission and the Pulaski County Public Defender in Little Rock, Ark.

As the NCAA's associate director of the Division I Men's basketball championship (2007-11) and then the director of championships and alliances (2011-12), Hatch served as a liaison to the Division I men's basketball committee and championship hosts assisting with the planning and conducting of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Tournament. Hatch was responsible for the financial administration of the championship and helped oversee the site selection process. He also was responsible for the supervision of NCAA officiating responsibilities for the championship including serving as the liaison to the National Coordinator of Men's Basketball Officiating. Hatch also worked with the NCAA Corporate and Broadcast Alliances staff to coordinate NCAA corporate champions' and partners' exposure and marketing opportunities throughout the championship.

Prior to his work in the championships and alliances division, Hatch worked in the NCAA's Department of Academic and Membership Affairs as a coordinator (2005), assistant director (2005-07) and associate director (2007). Hatch and his wife Marla, have two daughters, McKinley and Brooklyn.

CHRIS POHL
ASSOCIATE AD FOR EVENTS

A former championships director for the NCAA, Chris Pohl joined Arkansas in 2002 to manage marketing and promotion for the women's sports after 11 years at the NCAA. Pohl moved into event management in 2008 and oversees the event management department which coordinates all home and postseason events for the Razorbacks. In 2012, Pohl became the sport administrator duties for soccer as well. Her primary sport responsibilities include football, men's basketball, soccer and swimming and diving. Pohl and her staff prepare and monitor budgets for events, work with service departments including facilities, custodial services and grounds, handle game management responsibilities for all on-campus athletic events; ensuring all aspects of the facilities are ready for competition and spectator hosting, coordinate fan services for game and event management including marketing and promotions, parking services, public safety, law enforcement, life safety/emergency responders, merchandising, concessions, and other aspects of creating a first-class spectator experience.

A 1981 graduate of Central Michigan and basketball letterwinner, she earned her master's in 1984 from Penn State.

ASSOCIATE AD FOR MARKETING

Brian Pracht joined the University of Arkansas Athletic Department staff as the associate athletic director for marketing and licensing in July 2010.

His responsibilities at Arkansas include overseeing marketing, promotions, ticket sales, RazorVision Productions, website development and spirit squads while also serving as the staff liaison to the University's multi-media rights holder (IMG College/Razorback Sports Properties). He is a member of the athletic department's executive staff. Pracht also directs the University's trademark licensing program, which currently ranks in the top 15 for gross revenue production among all Collegiate Licensing Company partners, and serves as the staff liaison to the SEC's television partners.

With more than 17 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics, Pracht joined the Razorback staff following seven years at Wichita State where he was the senior associate athletics director for external operations.

Pracht graduated in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in business administration from Emporia State in Kansas. He and his wife Amy have two daughters, Caroline and Lily.

TRACEY MAYS STEHLIK
ASSOCIATE AD FOR COMPLIANCE

Entering her 29th year with the University of Arkansas, Tracey Mays Stehlik serves as the associate athletic director for compliance for Razorback athletics. In addition, she is a member of the sport administrator's group, overseeing women's basketball, men's and women's tennis and swimming and diving.

Stehlik began her career as an assistant women's basketball coach with the Razorbacks, and was a part of the staff that won the only women's hoops conference championships at Arkansas. As an assistant coach, she recruited some of the greatest players in UA history, including former All-American Delmonica DeHorney, and helped lead Arkansas to back-to-back Southwest Conference titles.

She left the court and moved into athletic administration in 1995 and was promoted to associate athletic director for compliance in 1997. Stehlik's duties included the oversight of compliance, eligibility, academics and event management for the then-separate women's athletics department. Among her numerous areas of responsibility, Stehlik has served as the meet director for several SEC and NCAA events the NCAA Indoor Championships from 2003 to 2008, and the 2009 NCAA Gymnastics Regional meet. Stehlik moved into her current role when the Razorback Athletic Departments unified in 2008. As he associate athletic director for compliance, Stehlik is responsible for the oversight of all areas of compliance including eligibility, financial aid and the student-athlete opportunity fund. She oversees the day-to-day office operations and its staff and has been a leader in the on-going compliance educational efforts for the department.

A 1982 graduate of Alabama-Birmingham with a degree in communications, Stehlik has the distinction of scoring the first point in UAB women's basketball history as a member of the first Blazer team. She earned her master's degree in athletic administration at the University of Kansas where she served as a graduate assistant basketball coach from 1983 to 1985. Stehlik and her husband, Wayne, have two daughters, Mollie, a sophomore at Arkansas, and Maggie, a senior at Fayetteville High. Wyane is the director of athletics for the Springdale (Ark.) public schools.

KEVIN TRAINOR
ASSOCIATE AD FOR PUBLIC RELATIONS

Starting his 18th season at Arkansas, Kevin Trainor is in his fifth year as associate athletic director and his third as the department's Public Relations Director. Trainor coordinates the department's executive and crisis management communications and is the primary department liaison with University Relations.

He is in charge of producing the department's annual report and serves as managing editor of Inside Razorback Athletics. He also serves as the sports administrator for baseball.

Trainor was a nearly 20-year veteran in the media relations office before assuming his current role. A university graduate in journalism in 1994, he earned his master's at Arkansas in 2005. He is an active member of the Public Relations Society of America.

Trainor and his wife, the former Ruth Whitehead, are the parents of two daughters, Emma and Ellie.

ERIC A. WOOD
ASSOCIATE AD FOR STUDENT-ATHLETE
SERVICES

Eric A. Wood joined the university in 2009, and is responsible for the oversight of student-athlete services including academic support, life skills and career development programs that contribute to the personal growth and character development of our more than 460 Razorback student-athletes. Other responsibilities include housing, student conduct, student-athlete appearance requests, drug testing administration, coordinator of diversity initiatives and the liaison to Student Affairs. Wood, a member of the athletics department senior staff was promoted to Associate Athletic Director July 2011 and currently serves on the departments Executive Staff.

Wood and his wife Celia have a daughter, Eliana Jewel.

JUSTIN MALAND
ASSISTANT AD FOR FACILITIES

Justin Maland joined the Razorbacks in 1999 and is beginning his seventh year as an Assistant AD for facilities in 2012. His areas of responsibility include oversight of all Razorback athletic facilities, including budgeting, game day operations, scheduling, upkeep, maintenance, long-range planning, daily facility operations, contracting services with outside vendors and coordination of special events. Maland supervises a staff whose responsibilities include custodial and housekeeping, buildings, grounds and other service areas and oversees external events and facility operations on campus.

The Harrison, Ark., native and former college student-athlete, provides management services in all athletic facility renovation projects and construction management of all new projects including the state-of-the-art Razorback Football Center, part of the Athletic Department's Master Plan. One of Maland's recent projects is the installation of the new videoboard for Razorback Stadium.

Maland is a 1999 graduate of Hendrix College and earned his master's degree in sports management at Arkansas in 2001.

Maland is married to the former Sarah Parnell of Booneville and they have three children, Macy, Jack and Addy.

MARK SCOBEY
ASSISTANT AD FOR TICKET SERVICES

Charged with the supervision of ticket operations for all University of Arkansas men's athletic department-related sporting events, Mark Scobey is in his 36nd season with the Razorbacks. He was promoted to Assistant AD for Ticket Services in August 2012.

During his tenure at the University of Arkansas, Scobey has assisted with ticket sales for a wide assortment of events on the Fayetteville campus, including SEC and NCAA hosted championship events in baseball, tennis and track. He has also been affiliated with 20 post-season football bowl games, the 1995, 2002 and 2006 SEC football championship games, and 23 post-season basketball tournament teams, including the 1978, 1990, 1994 and 1995 Final Four clubs.

In December 2002, Scobey worked with Paciolan Systems, Inc., as the project manager for a major software upgrade of the athletic department ticketing system. The addition of on-line ticket sales is now 35% of ticket volume and has given the ticket office staff more time for customer service.

Scobey joined the UA athletic staff in 1977 as an assistant athletic ticket manager and became ticket manager in 1983.

A native of Warren, Ark., Scobey lives in historic Eureka Springs.

ACADEMIC SERVICES

Recognizing the difficulty of balancing the demands of athletic competition at the highest level and completion of the rigorous academic standards of a Carnegie research-level university, the Razorback Athletic Department provides support services through both facilities and personnel to guide Arkansas student-athletes to their ultimate goal: University of Arkansas diploma.

The key components of the Center for Student-Athlete Success (CSAS) are personal development, career development, academic tutoring, study hall facilities, class attendance monitoring and incentive awards recognizing academic achievement.

BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Student-Athlete Development Office and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Academics and Student-Athlete Development Eric A. Wood oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab has more than 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with studentathletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

The mission of the Student-Athlete Development Office is to contribute to the personal growth and character development of Razorback student-athletes through holistic programming for success in life.

The Student-Athlete Development Office continues to expand its commitment to the offerings and opportunities in the following areas:

- * Academic Excellence
- * Athletic Excellence
- * Career Development and Graduate School Preparation
- * Community Service
- * Personal Development
- * Health and Wellness
- * Leadership and Character Development
- * Financial Planning

Our Goals

- * Provide the resources to support the academic progress toward intellectual development and graduation for our student-athletes.
- * Provide career development programs that will enable our student-athletes to develop and pursue career and life goals.
- * Engage our student-athletes in experiences involving the university, local, state, national, and global communities through services.
- * Support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle, decision-making skills, encouraging emotional well-being, and personal growth for our student-athletes.
- * Invest in the personal development of our student-athletes through various programs that enable them to be successful in the classroom, the community, and in their athletic activities.

The Student-Athlete Development Office coordinated more than 6,000 hours dedicated to service in Northwest Arkansas and worldwide. Razorback student-athletes worked with more than 100 agencies giving of their time and energy last season.

Razorback student-athletes took advantage of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the SEC in 2010-11 as well. Student-athletes, coaches and staff were shown steps to become better leaders on their teams, in the classroom, in the workplace and in life.

Finally, student-athletes participated in Hogs in Transition, a program designed to help Razorbacks make the move to life after college and athletics. Student-athletes took part in career fairs, corporate office visits and interview training.

New for 2011-12 was the debut of the Hogspy awards, modeled after the ESPY's, to recognize academic and athletic achievements as well as leadership and community service.

COMPLIANCE

The University of Arkansas Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is proud to have your interest and support in the Razorbacks. The Razorback Athletics Compliance Office works hard to educate its student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters on the rules and regulations mandated by the Southeastern Conference and the NCAA.

SEC and NCAA rules and regulations can be complex, and every situation is different. The Razorback Compliance Office makes every effort to disseminate information, and they encourage student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters to contact them if there are questions.

The Razorback Athletics Department is proud of your support of the Razorbacks, but we caution you that inadvertent actions by our fans may jeopardize the department, current student-athletes or potential student-athletes.

MARKETING

The excitement and support of the University of Arkansas athletic teams is at an all-time high. Recently, single-game attendance records have been set for many sports including football, baseball, gymnastics, soccer and soccer. Bud Walton Arena has also seen an insurgence of fans with Mike Anderson's return to Fayetteville with his "Fastest 40 Minutes in Basketball" recapturing the spirit of Razorback fans.

State-of-the-art facilities, the nation's best coaches and players and the greatest fans in college athletics come together for some of the most exciting events that take place in the state of Arkansas. The Razorback marketing staff is a big part of the behind-the scenes success of all 19 teams at the university. They assist in the branding of our image, getting information to our fans and helping to fill our venues.

Their work is evident in our stadiums, on the videoboards and during pre-event, halftime and post-events. They work with sponsors, maintain the department's social media presence and welcome new fans with creative ticket and suite packages. The Razorback Marketing Office also handles the University's trademark licensing program ensuring fans get the Razorback quality they have come to expect.

SPIRIT SQUAD

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback Spirit Squad member has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two coed cheer squads - Arkansas Cheer and Razorback Cheer that inspire the crowds at all home and away football games, mens and womens basketball games, volleyball matches, gymnastics meets and many other pep rallies and on-campus and NWA community events.

Arkansas also has two dance teams, Arkansas Pom and Razorback Pom, that perform at all home football games, mens and womens basketball games as well as pep rallies and on-campus and community events. The squads also perform at baseball games as the RBI Girls. Both the cheer and dance teams compete nationally at the Universal Cheer and Dance team competitions in Orlando in January.

Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot and Ribby, the baseball mascot complete the mascot team. They can be found at all Razorback games and events.

Jean Nail serves as the director of the spirit squad program and is assisted by Kraig Jimenez, cheer coach and Brooke Bailey, dance coach. For more information on the cheer, pom and mascots and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The University of Arkansas Sports Medicine staff is committed to provide each Razorback student-athlete with state-of-the-art medical care. The goal of our sports medicine program is to assist every student-athlete in staying healthy and injury free. The athletic training staff, in conjunction with our team physicians, will coordinate the delivery of professional and comprehensive preventative, treatment, rehabilitation, and counseling services.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SUPPORT STAFF

TODD BARBOURDirector of Strength and Conditioning for Olympic Sports

Todd Barbour joined the Razorback staff as Arkansas' director of strength and conditioning for Olympic sports in the summer of 2008.

Barbour has 15 years of experience in the strength and conditioning field and joins the athletic department staff after spending the four previous years as the director of performance at the Performance and Wellness Institute in Greeley, Colo.

He also spent five years as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Oregon State, and five years as a high school strength and conditioning coach as well as a football and softball coach in Billings, Mont.

Barbour earned his bachelor's in physical education and sports science from the University of Idaho in 1994. He earned certification from the National Strength and Conditioning Association in 2001 and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association in 2002.

At the Performance and Wellness Institute, he designed, developed and implemented philosophy and principles for fitness, regeneration, rehabilitation and pre-habilitation. He also designed the new facility, budgeted, and researched and purchased all equipment.

Barbour assisted in the development and implementation of protocol for orthopedic evaluations, injury screens, athletic consults, emergency procedures, "performance inhibitors" and post-surgical workout evaluations. He recruited athletes in the sports of baseball, softball, golf, volleyball, football and basketball to train in northern Colorado at the Performance and Wellness Institute.

A presenter and participant in regional and national conferences and seminars on strength and conditioning and sport nutrition, he has also been a director and presenter at pre-season, in-season and summer training camps, and designed and presented a speed and agility demonstration at the NSCA State Clinic hosted by the Oregon State Strength and Conditioning Department.

At OSU, where he was hired by football coach Dennis Erickson and was the first assistant for football, he was a coach and presenter at summer camps for football, baseball, softball and basketball.

Barbour and his wife, Angie, have three sons, Tysen, Ayden and Tanner.

NATALIE TROTTER Basketball Athletic Trainer

Natalie Trotter joined the Razorback Athletic Training Room in August 2012 working with women's golf and women's basketball.

Trotter comes to Fayetteville after more than four years at Arkansas State University where she worked with women's basketball, tennis and bowling for the Red Wolves.

Trotter has served as a speaker at NEA Coaches Cooperative Workshop (2008-2011) and as an instructor at MASH Summer Workshops (2009-2012) during her career. She participated in the International Sports Connection - Basketball Exchange in 2012, delivering supplies and teaching/lecturing in Uganda and has appeared in several panels and committees for teh NATA, SWATA and AATA.

Prior to her time at Arkansas State, Trotter served as the certified athletic trainer for Troy University's women's basketball and tennis teams and was an intern working with track and field at Auburn University.

A 2006 graduate of Valdosta State University in sports medicine/athletic training, Trotter earned her master's degree in sport and fitness management from Troy University in 2008.

TAMESHA GREENLEE

Academics

Tamesha Greenlee returned to the Razorback academic center in August 2008 as a full-time assistant academic coordinator. Greenlee works with the women's basketball team and her duties include monitoring academic progress to ensure student-athletes are meeting University, Southeastern Conference, and NCAA requirements, tracking continuing eligibility, and providing registration and advising services.

Prior to her fall hiring in the academic center, Greenlee worked as a student development specialist and communications coordinator at Arkansas for two years.

A 2004 honor graduate of Arkansas Tech in speech communications, she worked with both the ATU Wesley Foundation and several of ATU's student affairs offices during her undergraduate days. Greenlee was an honor graduate of Nashville High in Nashville, Ark., and earned her master's degree at the University of Arkansas in higher education in 2006.

THE RAZORBACK FOUNDATION, INC.

Performing the vital role of supporting the student-athletes at the University of Arkansas with financial support, the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is in its fourth decade of working alongside the athletic department to advance Razorback athletics.

The goal of the foundation is ensuring that the more than 460 student-athletes at Arkansas have the equipment, facilities, and overall support to achieve the goals of graduation and athletic achievement.

Over the past year, with the support of our dedicated members, the Razorback Foundation has experienced a year of dynamic growth in multiple areas. Our membership and annual fund dollars raised is at an all-time high and it can be directly attributed to the passion and commitment of those who love the Razorbacks. Additionally, the Razorback Foundation saw another increase in Capital gifts, and the result of this generosity is the construction of a new Football Center, which is scheduled for completion in 2013.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction of the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor), Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football) and Bogle Park (women's softball). In the future, as new facilities are planned and others enhanced, we will again need the support of all those who have a desire for the University of Arkansas to provide the very best for our student-athletes.
