

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS
SPORTS HALL OF HONOR

2017 OFFICIAL BALLOT

Dear A Club Member:

Thank you for your continued support of Razorback Athletics. As a benefit of your A Club membership, you are eligible to vote for 2017 University of Arkansas Hall of Honor nominees. After reviewing the list of eligible letter winners and others, the Advisory Board has selected the following nominees for consideration.

It is recommended that you vote online for your top choices for induction during Hall of Honor weekend on September 8-9, 2017 (Arkansas vs. TCU) or use the ballot on the back cover of this booklet to make your selections. Additional information on the voting process may be found on the last page of this booklet. The deadline to submit your ballot is March 24, 2017.

Once the ballots are tabulated, the Honors Committee of the Board will certify the results and name this year's inductees. Honorees will be announced later this summer.

The success of Hall of Honor depends entirely on your participation. Thank you for your cooperation, and we look forward to seeing you in Fayetteville in September. Go Hogs!

Sincerely,

RANDY TAYLOR

Chairman
University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor Board
Track & Field, Cross Country 1965-69

MODERN ERA – FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL (Vote for 3)

- 1. JOE ADAMS - The only punter returner in program history to earn All-American honors, Adams dazzled Razorback fans with his big play ability from 2008-11. Adams' All-American senior season in 2011 kicked off with a pair of punt returns for touchdowns against Missouri State, which equaled an SEC record, while his 174 return yards set a new program record. That season-opening performance set the tone for a senior campaign in which he finished with an SEC record four punt returns for touchdowns while his 16.9 punt return average led the conference and ranked second nationally. Adam was named the inaugural winner of the Johnny "The Jet" Rodgers Award, which recognizes the best return specialist in college football, while also being named a first team All-American by the FWAA, Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly. He also earned All-American second team accolades from the Associated Press, Sports Illustrated, Walter Camp and Phil Steele and was named the SEC Special Teams Player of the Year. A native of Little Rock, Ark., his punt return greatness was coupled with 164 career receptions for 2,4110 yards, 17 touchdowns and seven 100-yard receiving games, all of which rank in the top 6 in program history. After helping Arkansas to back-to-back 10-win seasons as a junior and senior, Adam was selected in the fourth round of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Carolina Panthers.
- 2. DAVID BARRETT - A four-year letterwinner at cornerback from 1996-99, Barrett tallied 176 tackles, seven interceptions,
- three forced fumbles and five sacks during his collegiate career. A captain his senior year, he registered 53 tackles, a team-high tying three interceptions, including one returned for a touchdown, one forced fumble, one sack and seven pass breakups en route to earning All-SEC second team honors and an invitation to the Senior Bowl. A member of the Arkansas All-Decade Team for the 1990s, Barrett ranks 10th in school history in career interception return yardage (119 yards, 7 interceptions). Following his collegiate career, he was selected in the fourth round of the 2000 NFL Draft by the Arizona Cardinals. In 2004, Barrett signed with the New York Jets where he played five seasons. Over his nine-year NFL career, he amassed 450 tackles, 18 interceptions and defended 54 passes.
- 3. RAVIN CALDWELL - Caldwell lettered at Arkansas from 1982-85, helping the Razorbacks win 32 games and earn two top-12 final rankings. The 1982 team was ranked No. 9 in the final poll of the year after a 9-2-1 season concluded with a win over Florida in the Bluebonnet Bowl. He finished his Razorback career with 153 tackles, including 20.0 for loss accounting for 110 yards lost, five fumble recoveries, six forced fumbles, 16 pass breakups and one interception. As a junior he led the team with 5.5 sacks, 10.0 tackles for loss and four fumble recoveries while adding 65 tackles and three forced fumbles. He was drafted in the fifth round of the 1986 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins and helped the Redskins win Super Bowls XXII and XXVI. He played in the NFL from 1987-92, appearing in 79 games and recording 8.5 sacks.

4. TONY CHERICO – A nose guard and captain of the 1987 team, Tony Cherico was named an AFCA first-team All-American following his senior season. The '87 Hogs led the SWC in rush defense, allowing only 99.8 yards per game on their way to a 9-4 season. He earned 67 tackles, including four tackles for loss (-19) and two sacks, in his senior campaign. He racked up 66 tackles and seven tackles for loss (-18) as a junior. In his Razorback career, he tallied 219 tackles including 26 tackles for a loss (-87).
5. RON FAUROT – A defensive end for the 1983 Razorbacks, Faurot was named a first-team All-American by UPI. A team captain, he led the team in sacks and tackles for loss. Seven times he dragged opposing quarterbacks to the ground and he finished the year with 61 tackles including 10 tackles for 52 lost yards. He earned 161 tackles in his Razorback career. He lettered in football in 1980-83 and was a number one draft choice in 1983 by the New York Jets.
6. KEN HAMLIN – Hamlin finished his career as the school's record holder in tackles despite playing only three seasons from 2000-02. He racked up 381 career tackles before entering the NFL Draft following his junior campaign. In his final collegiate season, he earned first-team All-American honors from CollegeFootballNews.com and first-team All-SEC recognition from the Associated Press, SEC Coaches and Sporting News. The Seattle Seahawks drafted him in the 2003 NFL Draft, and he played for the Seahawks 2003-05. He played for the Dallas Cowboys in 2006-07 and played in the 2007 Pro Bowl.
7. MADRE HILL – Hill lettered at Arkansas in 1994-95 and 1998, helping lead the Razorbacks to their first SEC Championship Game appearance in 1995, and was a team captain in 1998. He was a first-team All-SEC selection in 1995 and was named to the Arkansas All-Decade Team. He rushed 541 times for 2,407 yards and 25 touchdowns, tied for the sixth-highest career total in school history. He is tied for ninth on Arkansas' career 100-yard rushing games list with eight. He holds Razorback single-game records for rushing touchdowns with six against South Carolina in 1995 and rushing attempts with 45 against Auburn in 1995. That season he broke school records with 1,387 rushing yards and six 100-yard rushing games. His 15 rushing touchdowns from 1995 are tied for fifth on the Arkansas single-season list. He was drafted by the Cleveland Browns and played two seasons in the NFL, advancing to Super Bowl XXXVII in 2002 with Oakland.
8. GREG HORNE – The only punter named an All-American at Arkansas, Greg Horne made the first-team list of the AFCA in 1986. Horne led the nation with a 47.2 yards-per-attempt average, and his punting helped the Hogs to a 9-3 record and an Orange Bowl berth. Horne kicked the ball 49 times for 2,313 yards, a school-record average of 47.2 yards per punt.
9. FELIX JONES - A two-time All-American and three-time All-SEC performer, Felix Jones began his illustrious three-year career in 2005, teaming up with Darren McFadden to manufacture what would be one of the greatest rushing attacks in college football history. Both a running back and kickoff returner, Jones made an immediate impact as a dual-threat playmaker, becoming the first true freshman in school history to earn first team All-America honors. He rushed for 626 yards and ranked second nationally with a 31.94 kick return average to earn All-SEC recognition. Jones was an All-SEC selection again as a sophomore in 2006, rushing for 1,168 yards to help the Razorbacks lead the conference in rushing (228.5 yards per game). At the time, Jones and McFadden became only the third duo in SEC history to rush for 1,000 yards in the same season. Capping his collegiate career in dominating fashion, Jones was a consensus All-American and first team All-SEC selection as a kickoff returner. He finished the 2007 season with 1,162 rushing yards and 11 touchdowns, while averaging a nation-leading 9.1 yards per carry. The Razorbacks ranked fourth nationally in rushing offense (286.54 yards per game), and it was the second straight season that Jones and McFadden each broke the 1,000-yard rushing barrier. The Tulsa, Oklahoma product finished his Arkansas career with 5,099 all-purpose yards and 27 touchdowns, ranking third and seventh in program history, respectively. He inked his name all over the Razorback record book – currently owning a top-10 spot for 22 individual school records while also leading the SEC in career yards per kickoff return (28.2). After his tenure on The Hill, Jones was selected with the 22nd pick in the first round by the Dallas Cowboys, where he spent five seasons. He was also a member of the Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers in 2013.
10. GREG KOLENDA - A four-year letterwinner at offensive tackle from 1976-79, Kolenda earned consensus All-America honors in 1979, All-Southwest Conference accolades in each of his final two seasons and was named to the Arkansas All-Decade team for the 1970s. He helped lead the Razorbacks to 35 victories during his career, including a share of the SWC championship in 1979. In his final three seasons as a Razorback, Arkansas finished in the top 10 of the national rankings including No. 3 in 1977. His pass blocking helped Arkansas complete a school-record 63.9 percent of its passes in 1979. Arkansas appeared in three bowl games over the course of his career, highlighted by a 31-6 win over No. 2 Oklahoma in the 1978 Orange Bowl. Kolenda also participated in the 1980 Senior Bowl.
11. BRUCE LAHAY – A kicker and punter for the 1981 Razorbacks, Bruce Lahay booted his way to a first-team All-America award from the FWAA. He led the nation in field goals in

MODERN ERA – FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL

- 1981, averaging 1.73 kicks per game. He split the uprights on 19 of 24 field goals (.792) and nailed 31 of 31 extra point attempts in his only season as the Hogs' placekicker. In the same season, Lahay punted the ball 63 times for 2,436 yards, an average of 38.17 yards per try. For his career, he boasted a 38.8 yards per punt career average. He lettered in football in 1978-79 and 1981.
12. ANTHONY LUCAS – Lucas is currently the all-time leading receiver in Arkansas history with 2,879 yards. His 137 career catches rank fourth and 23 touchdowns rank second. He is known for making one of the most memorable catches in Razorback history when he split the defenders to haul in a 23-yard touchdown pass to lead Arkansas to a 28-24 win over then No. 3 and defending national champion Tennessee in 1999. In 1995, he posted a then-Arkansas freshman record with 27 catches for 526 yards and four touchdowns to help the Razorbacks win the SEC Western Division title. After an injury in 1996, he made 27 catches for 495 yards and four touchdowns as a sophomore in 1997, then he exploded on the national scene with 43 receptions for a school record 1,004 receiving yards and 10 touchdowns in 1998. He earned second-team All-SEC honors for his efforts. A pre-season All-America selection, Lucas capped his career with 37 receptions for 822 yards and four touchdowns as senior in 1999. He earned third-team All-America honors from the Associated Press and first-team All-SEC recognition.
13. JONATHAN LUIGS - Luigs is considered one of the best offensive linemen in Arkansas history. Luigs was a four-year letterwinner for the Razorbacks from 2005-08 and served as a team captain in 2008. As a junior in 2007, Luigs became the first Razorback to win the Rimington Trophy, which recognizes the most outstanding collegiate center in NCAA FBS. Luigs earned first-team All-America honors from the FWAA, The Sporting News, Walter Camp, Rivals, College Football News and Phil Steele. He also won the Jacobs Trophy, which goes to the SEC's top blocker. Luigs was a third-team All-America selection by the AP in 2006 and earned All-SEC honors in 2006, 2007 and 2008. Luigs was a fourth-round selection of the Cincinnati Bengals in the 2009 NFL Draft.
14. JIM MABRY – A four-year football letterman from 1986-89, Mabry was an All-America selection as an offensive tackle in 1989. He was a unanimous two-time All-SWC performer in 1988-89 and a member of the Razorback All-Decade Team for the 1980's. He played on teams that earned a combined 38-11 record and helped pave the way for two of the top three single season rushing totals in Arkansas history. He holds the school record for total offense in 1989 and was a member of the All-SWC Academic Squad. He was selected captain his senior season by his teammates.
15. CLINT MCDANIEL - Clint McDaniel played for the Arkansas Razorback basketball team from 1992-95 and was an All-SEC selection in 1995 as well as a member of the Final Four All-Tournament Team in that year. He was a member of Arkansas's 1994 National Championship team that defeated Duke 76-72 and the 1995 National Runner Up team. McDaniel played in 125 games during his four seasons at the University of Arkansas and amassed a total of 1,007 points and 226 steals, 102 of which came in the 1994-95 season and are the most in a season for Arkansas and the SEC. He led the Razorbacks in free throw percentage in 1993-94 and scored an average of 8.1 points per game during his career.
16. JONATHON MODICA – Modica earned All-SEC honors in 2004 and 2006 and was an all-freshman selection in 2003. He is 12th on Arkansas' all-time scoring list with 1,589 points. "Pookie" averaged 11.5 points and 4.5 rebounds as a freshman, 16.5 points and 4.5 as a sophomore, 9.6 and 2.8 as a junior and 16.1 and 4.0 as a senior. For his career, he averaged 13.5 points and 3.9 rebounds. He shot 78.5 percent from the line, 46.2 percent from the floor and 36.9 percent from three-point range. He led the team in scoring as a freshman (11.5) and sophomore (16.5), with a FG percentage as a junior (.520). He ranks: 12th on Arkansas' all-time charts with 555 field goals, 11th with 326 free throws (tied), and eighth with 153 threes.
17. JERMAINE PETTY – A three-year letterwinner from 1999-2001, Petty moved to linebacker for his senior season and in the process earned first-team All-America and All-SEC honors. Petty's move to linebacker resulted in an SEC-best 140 tackles in 2001, including 80 solo and 13 tackles for loss (-30). He ranked 13th in the nation in tackles per game and was the only player to be named Bronko Nagurski Player of the Week two times that season. The 140-tackle campaign by Petty currently ranks as the fifth-most in program history, while his biggest stop came on a two-point conversion attempt at Ole Miss that gave Arkansas a 58-56 seven-overtime victory. Petty won the Frank Broyles Award for the Most Outstanding UA Athlete for the 2001-02 academic year while being named an AFCA and AAFF All-American.
18. GEORGE STEWART – A three-year letterwinner at offensive guard under legendary head coach Lou Holtz from 1978-80, Stewart helped the Razorbacks earn a share of the 1979 Southwest Conference title and make appearances in four-straight bowl games. The Little Rock native was an All-SWC honoree as a junior in 1979, served as a team captain in 1980 and earned a spot on the Arkansas All-Decade Team for the 1970s. Following his collegiate career, Stewart signed with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1981. He began his coaching career in 1983, when he was hired by Coach Holtz as a graduate assistant, working with tight ends. He went on to have assistant coaching stints at Minnesota and Notre Dame before beginning his NFL coaching career in 1989 as Pittsburgh Steelers special teams coach. Stewart has served as a special teams or wide receivers coach for multiple teams in his 28-year professional coaching career and is entering his 10th season on the Minnesota Vikings staff as wide receivers coach.

19. TONY UGOH – Named to the Arkansas All-Decade Team after lettering from 2003-06, Ugoh was a third-team All-America selection by the Associated Press and a first-team All-SEC pick in 2006 after helping the Razorbacks lead the SEC and rank fourth in the country in rushing. He was drafted by the Indianapolis Colts as the 42nd overall pick in the 2007 NFL Draft and started on the offensive line from 2007-09. He was named to the NFL All-Rookie Team after starting 11 games in 2007 and helped the Colts to Super Bowl XLIV following the 2009 season. He won Super Bowl XLVI as a member of the New York Giants, becoming the sixth former Razorback to play in multiple Super Bowls. At the end of the 2011 season, he had appeared in 40 games with 28 starts in the NFL.

20. GEORGE WILSON - A three-year starter at wide receiver from 2000-03, Wilson led the Razorbacks in receiving yards each of his last three seasons and is just one of six players in program history to accomplish the feat three straight years. Named to the Associated Press All-SEC second team in 2003, Wilson totaled 900 receiving yards, which still ranks seventh in program single-season history, while he became just one of six Razorbacks to ever have four 100-yard receiving games in a single season. Wilson had at least one reception in 38 of his final 40 games, finishing his career with 144 receptions for 2,151 yards (14.9 average) and 16 touchdowns – figures all rank in the top 10 in program history. Wilson's NFL career started as an undrafted free agent with the Detroit Lions before landing with the Buffalo Bills. After three seasons with the Bills as a wide receiver, Wilson made the move to safety and in his first start on Monday night football in 2007 he intercepted Tony Romo and returned it for a touchdown. Wilson played 9 seasons with the Bills before finishing his career with the Tennessee Titans.

MODERN ERA – Other Sports (Vote for 3)

21. KEVIN CAMPBELL - Campbell lettered for the Razorbacks from 1984-86, helping pitch Arkansas to the 1985 College World Series, and was an All-Southwest Conference selection as a freshman. The right-handed pitcher won 23 games, which was tied for second on Arkansas' all-time career list when he left. His total still ranks tied for seventh in school history. He still ranks in the top five on Arkansas' career lists with 16 complete games, 46 games started and 301.2 innings pitched. His five complete games from 1984 still stand as the Razorbacks' freshman record, and his 10 wins in 1985 were the school's fifth-highest single-season total at the time.. After his Razorback career, he was selected by the Los Angeles Dodgers in the fifth round of the 1986 MLB Draft. He played five years in the major leagues for the Oakland A's and Minnesota Twins, averaging more than one strikeout per inning over his career.
22. TROY EKLUND – An All-American outfielder in 1989, Eklund also earned All-SWC honors in both 1988 and 1989. He also received the Bill Dickey Award in 1989 and led the team in runs scored with 54 in 1988 and 62 in 1989. He helped the Hogs go 39-23 in 1988 to reach the NCAA regionals, and 51-16 with a trip to the College World Series in 1989. His 17 career triples rank fourth all-time at Arkansas while his 32 home runs are seventh, 182 runs scored sixth, 180 RBI fourth, 93 extra base hits seventh and 13 sacrifice flies fifth.
23. KELLY EVERNDEN – A three-year letterman from 1982-84, Evernden earned All-America honors in 1984. He was only the fourth Razorback to earn All-America honors in both singles and doubles in the same year. He was a two-time Southwest Conference doubles champion and a singles finalist in 1983 and went 28-6 in doubles in 1983 and was 74-23 for his career. His career winning percentage of .762 is second on Arkansas' chart, and his teams went 24-8, 24-9 and 27-7 with final national rankings of No. 10, No. 7 and No. 9, respectively. The 1983 team reached the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament while the 1982 and 1984 squads advanced to the Sweet 16.
24. RALPH KRAUS – An All-American outfielder in 1986, Kraus also earned All-SWC honors that year. He was named to the College World Series all-tournament team in 1985 and received the George Dickey Award in 1986. He led the team with a .397 average in 1986 and tied for the team led with 91 hits. He helped the Hogs go 51-15 and reach the College World Series in 1985 and 43-17 and reach the NCAA regionals in 1986. His 245-career hits rank fifth all-time while his 58 doubles and 400 total bases are fourth and his 96 extra base hits are sixth.
25. DAVID LINGMERTH – David Lingmerth was a member of the Razorback men's golf team in 2008-10, and was a two-time All-Southeastern Conference and All-America honorable mention selection during his collegiate career. His accomplishments are many but one of the most memorable was Lingmerth's participation with the Razorbacks at the NCAA Championship in 2009. The first year of a format change that saw teams add match play to the NCAA Championship, Lingmerth paced the Razorbacks through the field to a dramatic NCAA runner-up finish. After finishing tied for third in stroke play, Lingmerth and the Razorbacks worked their way through match play to the championship match with Texas A&M, finishing 2-3. During his career with the Razorbacks, Lingmerth had 20 top-10 career finishes, ranks third for single season stroke average with a 71.63 mark, fourth for career stroke average with 72.73, won the Battle at the Beach in 2010 and was the first Arkansas player to participate in the Palmer Cup in 2010. Lingmerth turned professional after graduation and has played on the Web.com Tour. Lingmerth was nominated for the PGA Tour Rookie of the Year in 2013 and he finished No. 75 in the FedExCup race.

MODERN ERA – OTHER SPORTS

- 26. STEVE LOY - A four-year head coach for the Arkansas men's golf team from 1984-87, Steve Loy led Arkansas to four consecutive NCAA Championship appearances, including a pair of top 10 finishes in the country in 1985 and 1987. The Razorbacks finished runner-up in all four of his Southwest Conference Championship appearances and he was named the SWC Coach of the Year following the 1984 campaign. Since his time in Fayetteville, Loy has been inducted into the NJCAA Golf Coaches Hall of Fame and the GCAA Hall of Fame on his way to becoming president of Lagardere Unlimited Management. He is the lead manager for Phil Mickelson and with more than 40 years in the golf industry, Loy possesses a solid network of industry relationships at all management levels.
- 27. MELVIN LISTER – A member of the University of Arkansas men's track and field team from 1999-2000, Lister was an eight-time All-American and one of the most accomplished jumpers in school history. He was also a four-time SEC individual champion and a five-time NCAA champion (1999 NCAA indoor – triple jump, 1999 NCAA outdoor – long jump, 2000 NCAA indoor – long jump, 2000 NCAA indoor – triple jump, 2000 NCAA outdoor – triple jump) during his time in Fayetteville. During his time as a Razorback, Lister was a part of numerous team titles, including four SEC (1999 - Indoor & Outdoor; 2000 - Indoor & Outdoor) and three NCAA titles (1999 - Indoor & Outdoor; 2000 - Indoor). The two-time Olympian for Team USA (2000 Sydney Olympics - long jump; 2004 Athens Olympics - triple jump) currently holds two Arkansas records as part of record-setting 4x400m (outdoor) and sprint-medley relay teams. He was a part of the squad that set the 4x400m (outdoor) record in 2000 with a time of 3:02.02 and he was also a member of the outdoor sprint-medley relay team that ran 3:12.13 in 2000.
- 28. HOUSTON NUTT - Nutt compiled a 75-48 record over his 10 seasons (1998-2007) as Arkansas head coach, becoming the third coach in program history to lead the Razorbacks to a bowl game in each of his first six seasons. He led Arkansas to three SEC Western Division titles (1998, 2002, 2006), eight bowl games, three final top 25 national rankings and four nine-win seasons. Nutt ranks second in school history with 75 coaching victories and eight bowl appearances, trailing only the legendary Frank Broyles (144 wins and 10 bowl appearances). Nutt's 8-0 start in 1998 marked the best debut ever for a UA head coach and helped the Razorbacks reach their first New Year's Day game since 1990. In 2001 and 2006, Nutt was voted SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and conference head coaches. Nutt, the last player signed to a scholarship by Frank Broyles, was a quarterback at Arkansas in 1976 and 1977 and was a member of the team that upset No. 2 Oklahoma in the 1978 Orange Bowl.
- 29. JACK O'KEEFE – One of only two Arkansas golfers to earn All-America honors four times, O'Keefe earned honorable mention in 1989, 1991 and 1992. In 1993, he was awarded with third-team accolades and he also earned league honors during his career. In 1991, he became the first Razorback golfer to earn All-SWC honors. When the Hogs switched to the SEC, he picked up the league honor in 1992 and 1993. He helped lead Arkansas to four top 10 team finishes in the NCAA Championships. Individually, he finished tied for 21st at the 1989 NCAA Championships and tied for 16th at the 1991 NCAA Championships. O'Keefe was inducted into the Arkansas State Golf Association Hall of Fame in 2016.
- 30. TAG RIDINGS – A four-year letterman from 1994-97, Ridings earned 1997 honorable mention All-America honors. He was also a three-time second-team All-SEC selection. Ridings was a member of the Razorback team that recorded the school's best showing at the NCAA Championships when they finished in fourth place in 1994. He earned his PGA tour card after finishing in the top 15 finishers on the Buy.com tour and has been a member of the PGA tour since 2003.
- 31. NICK SCHMIDT - A Razorback letterman from 2005-07, Schmidt was one of Dave Van Horn's first elite pitchers upon being named the Razorback head coach in 2003. Schmidt generated a 2.83 ERA over his three seasons as a Razorback and 345 strikeouts en route to two first-team All-American nods in 2006 and 2007 as well as being named a freshman All-American in 2005. It was a banner year for Schmidt in 2006 as he finished 9-3 with 145 strikeouts and was named SEC Pitcher of the Year. His strikeout total that season still stands as the second-most in a single season in Arkansas history. In his three seasons, Schmidt's 345 strikeouts is still the Razorback record for strikeouts in a career. Schmidt was a no doubt selection for all-conference in each of his three years as a Razorback, being named first-team All-SEC in 2006 and 2007 and a freshman all-conference player in 2005. He still ranks third in victories (28) and third in innings pitched (340.1) at Arkansas. In 2007, Schmidt became the fourth Razorback to be selected in the first round of the MLB Draft as the lefty was picked 23rd overall by the San Diego Padres. He was the first of four Arkansas players that have been selected in the first round of the draft after player under Dave Van Horn.

- 32. TIM SIEGEL – A four-time letterman from 1983-86, Siegel was also a two-time All-American in doubles in 1985-86 for the Razorback men's tennis team. He teamed with Richard Schmidt to dominate the college tennis scene and was also a three-time SWC singles champion. Siegel won 89 singles matches in his career and ranks ninth-all-time in school history. His 75 doubles victories is also one of the top in the Arkansas rankings as he is eighth all-time. His .717 career singles winning percentage still stands as the fourth best mark in program history. During his tenure with the Razorbacks, Arkansas recorded a combined record of 94-32 and advanced to four-straight NCAA Championships, including advancing to the round of eight twice.
- 33. ANDY SKEELS – An All-American catcher in 1987, Skeels also earned All-SWC honors that season. He received the Bill Dickey Award in 1987 and led the team with 70 runs scored in 1987, tied for the team lead with 76 RBI and led the club with 18 home runs. Arkansas was 57-16-1 in 1987 and reached the College World Series. His .358 career batting average is the fourth-best in school history, and his 50 extra base hits in 1987 is a school record.
- 34. MARTIN SMITH – Smith coached the men's and women's swim teams at Arkansas, leading the Lady'Backs to four top 25 finishes, and in 1988 was named the SWC Coach of the Year. During the 1978 season, as a co-captain, Jackson helped lead Arkansas to a 9-2-1 mark and a Fiesta Bowl appearance while leading the Razorbacks in tackles for the second straight year with 102 stops. Jackson was named to Arkansas' All-Decade team for the 1970s following his career.
76. BRUCE JENKINS – Jenkins was a two-year letterman for the Razorbacks in 1980 and 1981. He earned All-SWC honors in 1981 and participated in 44 rounds during his two years for a career stroke average of 74.13. Jenkins led the Razorbacks in stroke average each of his two seasons and posted a low tournament score of 213 at the Border Olympics in Laredo, Tex. in 1981.
77. HAL MCAFEE – McAfee was a first-team All-SWC performer in 1975, lettering from 1973-75. As a team captain in 1975, he helped lead the Razorbacks to a 10-2 overall record and the SWC co-championship. The 1975 team was ranked seventh in the final Associated Press poll after defeating Georgia in the Cotton Bowl, where he was named the game's Defensive MVP. He was later named to the Cotton Bowl Classic Hall of Heroes and the All-Time Cotton Bowl Classic Team by the Houston Chronicle.
78. TOM OAKLEY – Oakley lettered in track 1956-58. He won the SWC outdoor two-mile title in 1958 with a time of 9:31 and was one of just seven Razorbacks to win a SWC individual title during the 1950's.
79. RAYMOND PETERS – A gridiron standout for the Razorbacks and Coach John Barnhill, Peters was a two-year letterman in 1947-48. He was named to the Razorbacks' All-Decade Team for the 1940's as a tackle and went on to become the athletic director for Little Rock Public Schools and the first football coach at Little Rock Hall, where he led the team to the 1959 state championship. He coached at North Little Rock and Little Rock Central, compiling an overall record of 27-11-2. He was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1996.
80. JON RIDDLEHOOVER – A letterman from 1972-74 as a defensive tackle, Riddlehoover was a first-team All-SWC selection in 1973 when he led the team with 129 tackles. He had 107 tackles in 1974 when he was awarded the Chism Reed Outstanding Senior for Leadership Award. The Texas native was heavily recruited by Texas, Texas A & M and others.
81. WAYLAND ROBERTS – Roberts lettered in 1953-55 as an offensive guard. During his three years, the Razorbacks averaged 114.9 yards rushing in 1953, 158.5 in 1954 and 185.4 in 1955. The Hogs were 3-7 in 1953, 8-3 and ranked No. 8 in 1954, and 5-4-1 in 1955.
82. JAMES "DOC" SEXTON – One of the early pioneers in program history, James "Doc" Sexton helped lay the early foundation for Razorback Basketball. Sexton was a two-time All-American, earning third-team recognition from College Humor Magazine, a noted college basketball surveyor of the day, in both 1931 and 1932. A three-year letterwinner from 1931-33, Sexton led the Razorbacks in scoring his junior season, averaging 10.1 points per game (243 points in 24 games). In that same season, the Razorback center earned All-Southwest Conference first-team honors for his play on the hardwood. During his three years in Fayetteville, the Razorbacks went a combined 48-21, finishing in the top three of the Southwest Conference twice.
83. BRAD SCOTT – Scott lettered from 1924-26 and was an All-SWC lineman in 1926. A member of the 1920's All-Decade Team, he later served as an assistant coach at Arkansas and was named a member of the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame.
