This Weekend In The SEC

Alabama (7-8) at Kentucky (7-8)

Alabama, winners in five of its last six SEC games, has won its last two series, a feat not accomplished since weeks 8-9 in 2016. Its 7-8 mark is its best since starting 2016, 8-7. It hasn't won three consecutive series since winning four straight in weeks 3-6 in 2014. The Crimson Tide are seeking their third series victory of the season, a feat not accomplished since winning five in 2016. A road series triumph would match its total of two from the previous three seasons (2017-19) when it went 2-13 in SEC road series. Kentucky is looking to right the ship following three straight series losses that has seen it go 2-7 in that span. The Wildcats sit at 7-8 for the second time in the last three seasons. Alabama is 1-6 in its last seven SEC road series, while Kentucky is 1-6 in its last seven home series. Alabama and Kentucky have split the last eight series with the home team winning on each occasion. The Crimson Tide last won a series in Lexington in 2004, marking the seventh in what would be eight consecutive series victories between 1996-2005.

Arkansas (11-4) at South Carolina (10-5)

Arkansas is the only team to win all five series it has played this season and sits tied with Vanderbilt atop the SEC standings. It marks the third time in the last four seasons the Razorbacks reach the midway point of the league schedule with 10-plus conference victories. Only the 2010 and 1999 teams had better starts at 12-3. The string of series triumphs is its best run since finishing the 2015 campaign 7-0-1 in its last eight series. South Carolina has won its last four series and six of its last eight league games. It has its best record at the midway point of the conference slate since being 11-4 in 2016. The Gamecocks have won their last three home series dating back to 2019. SC has dropped the series opener in four of five series this season. Arkansas and South Carolina are meeting for the third time in the last seven seasons. The Razorbacks have won three of the last four series, but the Gamecocks swept Arkansas on its last trip to Columbia in 2016. Arkansas has won 15 of the 21 series since these teams joined the SEC in 1992, including winning nine of 10 when the teams played annually from 1996-2005.

Florida (9-6) at Auburn (2-13)

Florida enters the series on a four-game league winning streak, marking the first time in its last 58 conference games it has posted four consecutive victories. The Gators are looking to break out of a road series slump that has seen them drop seven of their last eight, including two this season. This is the 10th time in the last 13 seasons Florida has started 9-6 or better in SEC play. Auburn is seeking its first series win of the season and looking to snap a seven-series losing streak dating back to 2019. The Tigers have also dropped their last six road series. Auburn is the first team since Alabama in 2017 to start SEC play 2-13. Florida has won six of the last eight series over Auburn, including four of the last five played on the Plains. In Florida's last trip to Plainsman Park, the Tigers swept the Gators to open the 2017 SEC slate. It was the first Tigers' sweep over the Gators in the previous 30 years. Florida last swept Auburn in back-to-back seasons in 2007 (at Auburn) and 2008 (at Gainesville).

Georgia (7-8) at Missouri (4-11)

Georgia has rebounded to win its last two series after dropping its first three. The Bulldogs have been a tough visiting team, having won nine of their last 17 SEC road series dating back to 2017. Missouri has lost five consecutive league games to fall to 4-11 for the first time since 2016. The Tigers have one series victory this season and it came at home over Texas A&M. Georgia has won the last two series over Missouri with back-to-back sweeps in this closely contested battle. Georgia's win in Athens in 2019 snapped a string in the first six series meetings that saw the visiting team come out victorious. The Bulldogs have won all three series in Columbia (2014-'16-'18) since Missouri joined the SEC in 2013.

LSU (4-11) at Ole Miss (9-6)

LSU is 3-3 in the last two SEC weekends to improve to 4-11 in league action for the first time since 2011. Its lone series victory came at Kentucky two weeks ago. Ole Miss has slumped as of late, dropping its last three series while posting a 3-6 game record after starting 6-0. Over the last 22 seasons, the Rebels have been 8-7 or better at the halfway point in the SEC schedule 15 times, but no worse than 7-8. Ole Miss likes its home field, where it has compiled a 24-7-1 series record over the last seven seasons. Ole Miss has won back-to-back series over LSU and is seeking its third straight series victory over the Tigers for the first time since 1977 (won 2) and 1978 (won 1). The Rebels have also won the last two and five of the last seven series at Swayze Field.

Mississippi State (10-5) at Vanderbilt (11-4)

The hottest team in the SEC is Mississippi State which has won eight of nine games in the last three series. The Bulldogs bring a four road-series win streak dating back to 2019 in this weekend's matchup. They sit at 10-5 in the standings for the third time in the last four seasons. State has won 12 of its last 15 SEC series and six of seven on the road. Likewise, Vanderbilt is 12-3 in its last 15 SEC series overall while owning a 7-1 mark in its last eight home conference series dating back to 2018. The Commodores, 3-3 the last two weeks, are 11-4 for the first time since 2015. Vanderbilt has won six of the last nine series over Mississippi State, including four of the last five in Nashville. The Commodores swept the Bulldogs in Starkville in their last meeting in 2018, but State won the series, 2-1, in its last trip to Music City in 2016. Vanderbilt has swept six of the last 11 series over MSU.

Tennessee (10-5) at Texas A&M (4-11)

Tennessee sits at 10-5 in the SEC standings for the first time since 2005. It is the first time since 2008 that the Volunteers have been above the .500 mark at the halfway point in the conference schedule. UT is seeking its third SEC road series win, a feat it has not accomplished since 2007. They have not won three consecutive road series in a single season since 1995. The last time UT won three straight road series to begin a season was 1994 when that squad won all four that year in a 24-game conference schedule. Texas A&M owns one series victory this season but finds itself having lost seven of its last eight games during a three-series losing streak. Texas A&M has won three of the four series over Tennessee since joining the SEC in 2013. Tennessee won the series, 2-1, in the last meeting in 2018. In an odd quirk in scheduling, three of the first four series were played in Knoxville. The only series play in Bryan-College Station came in 2017.

Seeding

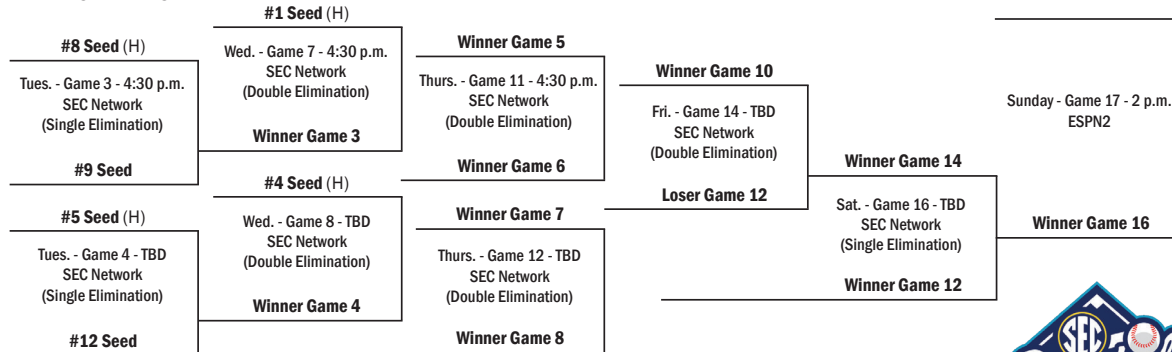

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

- Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:
 - Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
 - If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
 - If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - Coin flip by the Commissioner
- Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.
 - If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
 - Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
 - If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
