This Weekend In The SEC

Alabama (11-12) at LSU (9-15)

Alabama is on the road for the second straight weekend and the third time in the last four weeks. After winning four consecutive SEC road games, the Crimson Tide have dropped their last four conference road tilts. This is the first time UA has lost a league game to weather since 2014. They are seeking to win two conference road series for the first time since 2016. Alabama is 3-16 in its last 19 SEC road series.

LSU has won three of its last five series and has an 8-7 game record in that span. It is seeking its first home series victory, having dropped all four this season to MSU, VU, SC and AR. The last time the Tigers lost four home series was 2007. LSU and Auburn are the only teams without an SEC home series victory this season. Prior to this year, LSU was 32-7-1 in home series between 2012-19.

LSU has won the last three series and posted a 16-3-1 series record over Alabama since 2000. The teams have split the last eight games played in Baton Rouge. The Tigers have swept four of the last 10 series. The Crimson Tide's last series win came in 2016 at The Box.

Arkansas (17-7) at Tennessee (17-7)

The best series in the nation takes place in Knoxville as the top two teams in the league square off with Arkansas looking to win its ninth consecutive series. Only the 2018 Florida Gators and the 2013 Vanderbilt Commodores have started conference season with nine straight series wins since the advent of the 30-game SEC schedule. Vanderbilt won all 10 in its historic 29-3 campaign. The Razorbacks, 9-3 in conference road games, are 17-7 in league action for the second straight season and are 7-2 in their last nine SEC road series.

The last time UT was atop the SEC standings this late in the season was following Week 8 in 2005 when it had a 15-8 record and led Florida by a half game. Tennessee has guaranteed itself a winning conference record for the first time since 2005 and for only the fifth time in the last 25 seasons. Its next SEC win will tie for the most in a 30-game conference schedule with the 1996, 2001 and 2005 teams. For the first time since 2001, UT posted its fourth SEC road series victory at Missouri last weekend. The Volunteers, who have won three consecutive series, are seeking their fifth straight SEC victory, a feat that has not happened since posting six consecutive wins late in 2010. The Vols have scored 73 runs in their last seven SEC games (10.4 rpg), posting 10+ runs five times.

After playing annually between 1994-2009, these teams have five series meetings on the diamond since. Arkansas is 7-0-2 in the last nine series as the 2015 & 2017 series were rain shortened with each team winning one game. Tennessee's last series win over the Razorbacks came in 2005 in Knoxville. Arkansas is 3-0-1 in series at Lindsey Nelson Stadium since then. Four of the 21 series meetings have been shortened due to weather (1998, 2002, 2015, 2017).

Texas A&M (7-17) at Auburn (6-18)

Texas A&M is coming off its second series victory of the season after downing Ole Miss at home last weekend. The series win snapped a losing stretch that saw the Aggies go 2-12. They are 2-10 on the road in SEC play. The winner of this series gets the edge for the final spot in the SEC Tournament.

Auburn is seeking its first home series win of the season and looking to snap a five home-series losing streak. The last time the Tigers failed to win a home series was 2004. Auburn is 5-6 since its 1-12 start to begin SEC play.

Texas A&M has won four of the last five series over Auburn and owns one series win (2016) on The Plains in three tries. This has been a close series with the Aggies' sweep in 2015 being the difference in the 12-9 game advantage for Texas A&M.

Georgia (11-13) at Florida (15-9)

Georgia, 7-6 in its last 13 SEC games, is on the road for the second straight week. The Bulldogs are looking for their third conference road series win for the second straight season and have been a tough road team, posting a 10-9 series record away from Athens the last four seasons.

Florida has won its last four series and is 10-3 since starting 5-6. The Gators are seeking to post a perfect 5-0 home series record for the second time in the last three seasons and fourth time since 1998 (1998, 2010, 2018). They have taken home field advantage to a higher level, posting a 28-6 SEC series record since 2014. UF has posted a winning record in home series for the last 13 seasons.

Florida has dominated this series, winning 22 of the last 28, including going 11-2 since 2007. Georgia's sweep over the Gators in 2019 halted UF's five-series win streak. Ten of the last 22 series wins by the Gators are sweeps. The Bulldogs' last series win in Gainesville was a sweep in 2006. Since then, UF has won the last six at home.

South Carolina (12-12) at Kentucky (11-13)

South Carolina snapped a six-game SEC losing streak with a walk-off extra inning win over Mississippi State last Sunday. The Gamecocks are looking for their third conference road series win which would be the most since 2013.

Kentucky has one series victory in the last six and a 6-7 game record since starting 5-6. A series win gives the Wildcats a home series winning record for the fourth time in the last five seasons.

Kentucky has won three of the last four series to knot it at 14 apiece since South Carolina joined the SEC in 1992. Each team has done well on their home fields by posting identical 10-4 series victory records. Nearly half (13 of 28) of the series have resulted in sweeps with the Gamecocks holding a 9-4 edge in that category. South Carolina won the last series in 2019 but has not won in Lexington since 2009.

Vanderbilt (16-7) at Ole Miss (14-10)

Vanderbilt has won three of its last four series and is 8-6 in conference play since starting 8-1. The Commodores are looking for their fourth SEC road series victory for the first time since 2015. They are 9-3 in league road games this season. VU has a 6-1 mark in SEC road series dating back to 2019, including five sweeps.

Ole Miss, which has one series win in the last six weekends, returns home where it has won four straight SEC games and posted a pair of sweeps this season. Over the last seven seasons, the Rebels have taken advantage of their home field, logging a 25-8-1 series record.

After playing annually between 1996-2009, these teams have met five times with Vanderbilt taking three of the five series, including back-to-back sweeps in 2012-13. Ole Miss has won two of the last three series and is 7-2 in the last nine series at home versus the Commodores.

Missouri (5-19) at Mississippi State (16-8)

Missouri enters the series having lost eight straight and 13 of its last 14 SEC contests. The Tigers have dropped all four league road series and look to avoid a fifth series loss for the first time since joining the SEC.

Mississippi State has won five of its last six series while posting a 14-4 game record in that span. The Bulldogs saw their five-game SEC winning streak snapped last Sunday on a walk-off hit at South Carolina. MSU has a pair of home series sweeps this season and is trying to win four home series for the second straight season, something it has not done since 2012-13. They are 17-7 in home series over the last five seasons.

These teams are meeting for the fourth time since Missouri joined the SEC in 2013. Mississippi State swept the first two series in 2014 & 2016 before the Tigers won the last series in 2018 in Columbia.

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

1. Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:
 - A. Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
 - B. If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - (1) Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - (2) Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
 - C. If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - (1) Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - (2) Coin flip by the Commissioner
2. Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.
 - A. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
 - B. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
 - C. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
