This Weekend In The SEC

Mississippi State (17-10) at Alabama (12-14)

Mississippi State has dropped three of its last four SEC games after going 14-3 following a 2-4 start to conference play. The Bulldogs have captured three of four road series this season and are seeking to win four road series for the second straight season. MSU has reached the 17-win SEC mark after 27 conference games for the fourth time in the last five seasons. They had only done it twice in the previous 19 seasons (1997 & 2000). A sweep would mark the first time Mississippi State posted back-to-back 20-win conference seasons and the fourth time in school history to reach the milestone. The Bulldogs are 7-2 in road series the last two seasons. MSU is making its fifth consecutive SEC Tournament appearance, its longest stretch since 17 straight from 1987-2003.

Alabama, which has won its last two home series, returns to The Joe looking to post its first home series winning record since 2016. The Crimson Tide are 4-15 in home series over the last four seasons. After winning 20 league games between 2017-19, Alabama has posted 12 wins this season and is in line to make its first SEC Tournament appearance since 2016 when it was a No. 9 seed. Mississippi State has won the last four series over Alabama and seven of the last eight since the Crimson Tide reeled off six consecutive series victories between 2006-11. State has swept Alabama in two of the last three series and three of the last seven. The Bulldogs have won the last four series at Alabama. The Crimson Tide last won a home series over MSU in 2010 with a sweep.

Florida (17-10) at Arkansas (19-8)

Florida has quietly climbed the standings since its 5-6 SEC start by going 12-4 and winning its last five series. The Gators have won at least 17 conference games in six of the last seven seasons. They also won all five home series for the second time in the last three seasons while posting a 29-6 home series record over the last seven seasons. UF is seeking a top four seed in the SEC Tournament for the sixth time in the last seven seasons.

Arkansas looks to join the 2013 Vanderbilt Commodores as the only teams to win all 10 series. Florida was the last team to win the first nine series in 2018. The Razorbacks have put together this impressive streak with only one sweep (at Mississippi State in week 2). Arkansas completed its first perfect road series slate with a win over Tennessee. It is seeking its second 5-0 home series mark for the second time in the last three seasons. The Hogs are 13-1 in home series over the last three seasons. The Razorbacks are seeking their fourth consecutive top four seed in the SEC Tournament. The teams are meeting for the fourth time in the last eight years. Florida has won the last three series to gain a 10-8 series lead since 1994. Arkansas has won four of the last five series in Fayetteville. The Gators own series wins in the Natural State in 1998, 2000 and 2016. Seven of the 18 series have resulted in sweeps, four by Florida and three by Arkansas. The teams met annually between 2004-12 with the Razorbacks winning six of the nine series.

Auburn (8-19) at Missouri (7-20)

Auburn posted its second series victory in the last three weekends by downing Texas A&M last week. The Tigers are 8-7 since starting 1-12 in the league play and have posted a 5-3 mark in their last eight SEC contests. Auburn is 3-11 in road series over the last three seasons. The Tigers looking to make its fourth consecutive SEC Tournament appearance, matching its longest streak since 2010-13.

Missouri snapped a nine-game SEC losing streak and won its second series of the season by stunning Mississippi State in Starkville last weekend. In the series finale, the Tigers set a program record for runs scored in a regular-season SEC game with 16 and set an SEC program-high with 27 runs scored in the series. Missouri is 2-1 against Western Division opponents, defeating MSU and Texas A&M and getting swept by Alabama. The Tigers need help to extend their streak of five straight SEC Tournament appearances. Missouri has won all four series versus Auburn since joining the SEC in 2013, enjoying a 2-1 edge in each series. Missouri won at home in 2013 and 2016 and at Auburn in 2014 and 2018.

Ole Miss (16-11) at Georgia (12-15)

Ole Miss has won two of its last three series and seven of its last 10 SEC games to reach 16 conference wins for fourth time in the last five seasons. A series victory would give Ole Miss at least 18 conference wins for the third time in the last five years. The Rebels need a series win to extend their streak of winning at least five series to five consecutive years. They are 9-20 in SEC road series the last six seasons. Ole Miss is making its ninth straight SEC Tournament appearance, the longest stretch in school history. Georgia has dropped its last three series and six of its last eight SEC games. The Bulldogs are 10-4 in home series over the last three seasons. They are making their fifth consecutive SEC Tournament appearance, their longest stretch since making six straight from 1985-90.

Ole Miss has won the last three series over Georgia as they are meeting for the fourth time in the last eight seasons. The teams met annually between 2004-12 with the Rebels being victorious in five of the nine series. It has been a closely contested series in Athens with the Bulldogs taking five of nine, compared to Oxford where the Rebels own a commanding 8-1 series edge since 1994. There's only been two sweeps, one by both schools in Athens (UM in 2006, UG in 2004), in the last 18 series.

Kentucky (11-16) at Vanderbilt (17-9)

Kentucky has lost its last three series and five straight SEC games for the second time this season. The Wildcats have lost their last three road series since sweeping Auburn in week two. They have found road series wins hard to come by with a 3-11 mark in the last three seasons. Kentucky returns to the SEC Tournament for the first time since 2018 which gives its eight appearances in the last nine seasons.

Vanderbilt lost its second series in the last three at Ole Miss last weekend and is 3-4 in its last seven SEC contests. The Commodores are 9-8 in league play since starting 8-1. They are 19-4-1 in home series over the last five seasons. Vanderbilt is making its 15th consecutive SEC Tournament appearance and is the defending champion. The Commodores are looking to lock up a top four seed in the tournament for the second straight season, something it has never done. Vanderbilt has won the last two and nine of the last 10 series over Kentucky, including four sweeps. The Commodores have swept the Wildcats in the last two series (2018-19). Vanderbilt has won the last five home series over Kentucky since the Wildcats escaped Nashville with a series victory in 2008.

LSU (11-16) at Texas A&M (8-19)

LSU has won two straight and three of its last four series, going 7-5 in SEC games after starting 4-11. The Tigers have won three of their four road series and seek their fourth away series victory for the first time since winning five in 2015. The Tigers have their first losing season since conference play since 2011 which was the last time it did not reach the SEC Tournament.

Texas A&M has lost six of its last seven series and has two home series victories over Georgia and Ole Miss. The Aggies are 3-3 in the last six SEC games after starting 5-16. They are seeking to win three home series for the second straight year, something they have not done since 2015-16. Texas A&M has made every SEC Tournament since joining the league in 2013. Texas A&M has won three of the last four series over LSU and four of seven since joining the SEC in 2013. The Aggies have won the last three home series over the Tigers. Neither team has swept the other in the seven series and Texas A&M holds a slim 11-10 regular-season game lead.

Tennessee (18-9) at South Carolina (15-12)

Tennessee has matched its high in a 30-game conference schedule with 18 SEC victories and is in the hunt to win its first SEC title since 1995. The Volunteers have won all four road series, something they had not done since 2001. They have never gone 5-0 in road series. In fact, they have won five consecutive road series dating back to 2019. A series victory would give them their most series victories in a season with eight and give them at least 20 league victories for the first time since the 1995 team went 22-8. Tennessee is making back-to-back SEC Tournament appearances since making three straight from 2014-16.

South Carolina posted its second SEC series sweep last weekend by beating Kentucky in Lexington. The Gamecocks have won four consecutive games since dropping six straight. They have lost their last two home series after winning their first two and are 8-11 in home series over the last four seasons. South Carolina is guaranteed to finish .500 in the SEC for the third time in the last six seasons. It is making its league record 24th consecutive SEC Tournament appearance. South Carolina has won 11 of the last 13 series over Tennessee, including an eight-series win streak from 2007-14. The Gamecocks have swept the Volunteers in seven of the last 10 series. UT won the last series in Knoxville in 2019 but has not won a series in Columbia since 2006. During that span, the Gamecocks have won the last six series at home, including four sweeps. In fact, Tennessee has only two series wins at South Carolina since it joined the league in 1992 (1994 & 2006).

Seeding

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

1. Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:

- A. Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
- B. If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - (1) Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - (2) Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
- C. If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - (1) Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - (2) Coin flip by the Commissioner

2. Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.

- A. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
- B. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
- C. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
