This Weekend In The SEC

Auburn (1-11) at Alabama (5-7)

Auburn has lost five consecutive games and 10 of 11 SEC games. The last team to begin 1-11 in league play was Kentucky in 2005. Alabama swept its first SEC road series since 2017 last weekend at Texas A&M. It has won three straight conference games for the first time since the aforementioned 2017 road series sweep which occurred at Auburn. The Crimson Tide are seeking to win four straight SEC games for the first time since 2014. Auburn has managed to win the last two series meetings with Alabama after the Crimson Tide reeled off six consecutive series wins, that included three sweeps, between 2012-17. A Tigers sweep over the Crimson Tide in Tuscaloosa in 2018, snapped a six-series home winning streak by Alabama over Auburn at The Joe.

Texas A&M (3-9) at Arkansas (9-3)

Texas A&M finds itself on a five-game SEC losing skid after being swept for the second time this season last weekend by Alabama. This is the worst start in conference play for the Aggies since joining the league in 2013. Arkansas sits at 9-3 for the first time since 2010 and returns to Fayetteville where it has won 11 of its last 12 home series. The old timers remember this as a Southwest Conference rivalry renewed. But since Texas A&M joined the SEC in 2013, it has been all Arkansas as the Razorbacks have taken five of the seven series, including sweeping the Aggies on their last trip to Fayetteville in 2018. The teams have split the last four series with each squad winning on their opponent's home turf once.

Missouri (4-8) at Florida (6-6)

Missouri is 4-8 for the fourth time since joining the SEC in 2013. The Tigers are on the road for the second straight weekend, looking to snap a three road-series losing streak dating back to 2019. Florida returns home after suffering its seventh road series defeat in eight tries. The Gators are 5-1 at home this season and seek their sixth home series victory in the last seven. The last time Florida was 6-6 was 2017 when it captured the league title with a 21-9 mark. Florida has dominated this series since Missouri joined the SEC in 2013 by winning six of seven. The Gators have swept the last four series, five of the seven overall and all three in Gainesville. Missouri's lone series victory came in Columbia in 2015.

Kentucky (6-6) at Georgia (5-7)

After sporting two series victories to begin SEC play, Kentucky has dropped its last two, including five of its last six games. The Wildcats have experienced both ends of the spectrum on the road this year by sweeping Auburn and getting swept at Mississippi State. They are seeking to win their second road series for the first time since 2017 when they won three. Georgia won its first series of the season by taking two of three from Vanderbilt in Nashville last weekend. The Bulldogs are 4-3 in their last seven league contests and return home to face a Kentucky team that has won the last four series in Athens and six of the last nine overall. There has not been a series sweep since the Bulldogs pulled off the feat in back-to-back seasons in 2008 & 2009. The visiting team has won the last six series since Kentucky held serve in the Bluegrass state in 2013. Georgia last won a home series over Kentucky in 2010.

South Carolina (8-4) at LSU (3-9)

South Carolina continues to play well with three consecutive series victories and sits with its best start since 10-2 in 2016. The eight SEC wins matches the total from 2019, the last full league season. After getting its first series win at Kentucky last weekend, LSU is 3-9 for the first time since 2011 and is seeking its first home series victory this season. Not since 2007's 1-4-1 start at home have the Tigers won one league home game in six tries. Having met annually between 2000-09, these schools are meeting for the sixth time in the last 11 seasons. LSU has won three of the last five series overall, while the Gamecocks swept the Tigers in the last meeting in 2018 in Columbia. South Carolina does own a pair of series sweeps in Baton Rouge in 2005 & 2006.

Ole Miss (8-4) at Mississippi State (8-4)

After starting 6-0, Ole Miss has dropped its last two series to sit at 8-4 in the conference standings for the second straight season. Rebels have been .500 or better in league play after four weeks the last five seasons. Mississippi State is also 8-4, a record it has held three times in the last five years after four weeks. The Bulldogs have swept their opponents the last two weekends, a feat not accomplished since weeks two and three in 2017. They have not recorded three consecutive sweeps since the end of the 2016 campaign when they ended on a 10-game winning streak. The Magnolia state rivalry renews with Mississippi State being victorious in the last four series, including a pair of sweeps in Oxford in 2017 & 2019. Three of the last five series have resulted in sweeps – two by MSU as noted and Ole Miss in 2015. State has won the last two series in Starkville, but the Rebels have won five of the last eight series at The Dude.

Vanderbilt (9-3) at Tennessee (9-3)

The third in-state rivalry this weekend (Auburn at Alabama & Ole Miss at Mississippi State) begins as two of the league leaders clash in Knoxville. Vanderbilt enters having lost its first series of the season, 2-1, to visiting Georgia. However, the Commodores have not only won, but swept, their last five SEC road series dating back to 2019. Tennessee, which has won its first four series for the first time since 1970, is off to its best start in league play since 2004. The Vols seek their fourth consecutive home series victory, a streak that has not happened since 2005. This closely contested series over the last 28 seasons sees Vanderbilt holding a slim 42-41 edge in regular-season games and a 14-13-1 series lead. There has not been a sweep in the last six series since Vanderbilt accomplished it 2013 in Nashville. The Commodores have won the last two series overall, while the teams have split the last eight in Knoxville.

Seeding

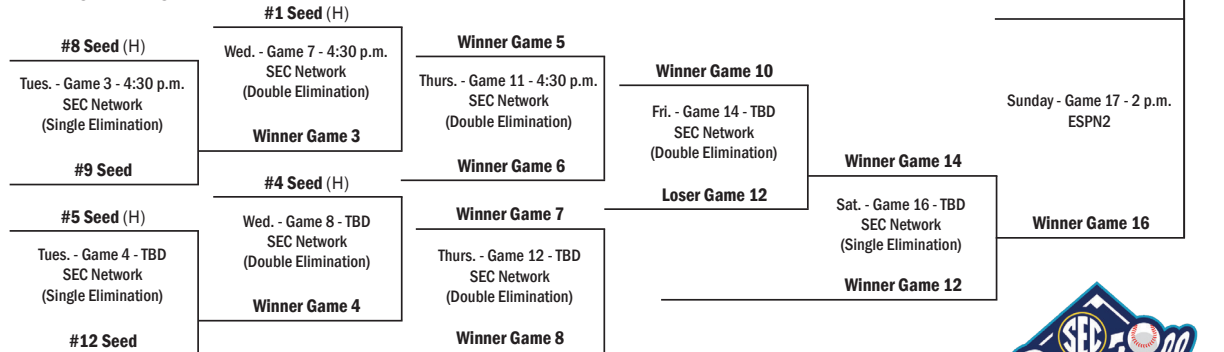

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

- Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:
 - Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
 - If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
 - If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - Coin flip by the Commissioner
- Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.
 - If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
 - Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
 - If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
