SEC Series Notes

Alabama (9-9) at South Carolina (6-12)

South Carolina has won six of the last seven series and owns a 12-7 series lead since 1994. Alabama took the last series meeting in 2019 in Tuscaloosa, 2-1. It was its first series win since 2007 which capped a three-series win streak by the Crimson Tide. The Gamecocks have won nine of the 10 series played in Columbia. They have four series sweeps with the last coming in 2016 in Tuscaloosa. Alabama's only sweep came in 2001 in Tuscaloosa.

Alabama holds down a 9-9 mark in the SEC standings for the first time since 2016. The Crimson Tide are 7-4 in their last 11 conference games after starting 2-5. They venture out on the road for the fourth time this season looking to lock down their second league road series win for the first time since 2016. Alabama has four SEC road series victories in the last five seasons.

South Carolina is happy to return home where it has recorded five of its six SEC victories and boasts two home series victories over Vanderbilt and Ole Miss. This is only the third time in the last 26 seasons the Gamecocks have been below .500 after six weeks of conference action. They are seeking to win their third home conference series for the first time since 2018.

Ole Miss (6-12) at Arkansas (12-6)

Ole Miss has had Arkansas' number in this series, winning four of the last five and seven of the last nine. Arkansas did win last year in Oxford and is seeking its first home series win over the Rebels since 2015. It's been a tightly contested series over the last 29 seasons with Arkansas holding a 15-14 series lead and a 44-43 lead in regular season games played. The series is even at 7-7 in Fayetteville. Arkansas hasn't won back-to-back series over Ole Miss since 2010-11. The Rebels last swept the Hogs in 2016 in Oxford and 2009 in Fayetteville. The Razorbacks posted their last sweep in 2002 in Oxford and last swept in Fayetteville in 1999.

Ole Miss has dropped its last three SEC series and is 1-8 through three conference home series to sit at 6-12 in the standings. The Rebels haven't been 6-12 since 1998 and it's only the fourth time since then that they have been below .500 after six weeks of conference play (1998, 2000, 2015, 2022). Ole Miss does have a pair of SEC road series wins this season over Auburn and Kentucky. The Rebels are seeking to win three SEC road series for the first time since 2014 when it went 3-2.

Arkansas finds itself in a familiar position, either being tied for first or holding down second place in the overall SEC standings after six weeks of conference play each of the last five seasons. For the fourth time in the last five seasons, Arkansas holds a 12-6 mark or better. The Razorbacks return home where they have built an 11-series SEC home winning streak. In fact, they have only lost one home series the last four seasons, posting a 17-1 SEC home series record. Arkansas has swept LSU and Kentucky this season at Baum Stadium and owns an 8-1 record in conference home games.

Auburn (11-7) at Tennessee (17-1)

This series has been dominated by Auburn over the last 30 years with the Tigers winning 18 of 21 series and owning a 44-19 lead in regular season games played. Auburn has won the last five series since Tennessee last won in 2011 in Knoxville. The Volunteers' only other home series win came in 1996. Auburn has five series sweeps in the last 16 series, while Tennessee has never swept the Tigers. In fact, Tennessee has only won three consecutive games over Auburn once since 1948 and that was the final game of the 1974 series and the first two of the 1975 series.

Auburn is riding a four-game SEC winning streak for the first time since it opened the 2019 season with four straight wins. It hasn't won five consecutive league games since 2011. This is the sixth SEC winning streak of four games in the last 10 seasons. The Tigers are 7-3 since starting conference play at 4-4. The 11 conference wins are the most after six weeks since it had 12 at the same point in 2017. Auburn has won four of its last five SEC road series dating back to last season.

Tennessee is off to the best conference start in SEC history at 17-1. It bettered the previous mark of 16-1 held by the 1951 Tennessee team. The best span with one loss in SEC play was Vanderbilt 22-1 mark in 2013. The Volunteers have won seven straight series overall and 14 of their last 16. UT has registered 17 or more conference victories for the second time in the last 16 seasons (2021 with 20 wins). It's the first time since 1993-96 that it has recorded 17+ SEC victories in back-to-back seasons. The school record for SEC victories is 24 set in 1994 and the record for conference wins is 26 set by Vanderbilt in 2013.

Georgia (11-7) at LSU (10-8)

LSU had won four consecutive series until Georgia snapped the streak in 2019 in Athens. Overall, the Tigers own a 16-5 series advantage since the teams play annually between 1994-2015. LSU won 10 of the 12 series in that span with seven sweeps. The Tigers have won the last four series in Baton Rouge. Georgia's last series victory in Alex Box Stadium came in 2008. The teams played their first game as conference rivals in the 1975 SEC Playoffs, where LSU won both games 6-5 & 8-3. They didn't have their first regular season series until 1986 in Baton Rouge where the Tigers won two out of three.

Georgia has won three of its last four SEC series and its last two conference road series over South Carolina and Alabama. The Bulldogs haven't won three consecutive SEC road series since 2008 and have won three conference road series three times in the last 13 seasons. This is the third time in the last four seasons Georgia has recorded 10+ league victories after six weeks. It marks the first time it has done that since 2008-11. The Bulldogs are 8-4 since starting 3-3 in conference play.

LSU has had an odd last three weeks by sweeping two opponents (Mississippi State and Missouri) and being swept themselves (Arkansas). The Tigers are in position to win back-to-back SEC home series for the first time since 2019 when it opened three consecutive conference home series victories. LSU is 2-4 in its last six SEC home series. Between 2012-19, it went 32-7-1 in home conference series. The Tigers are 6-3 since starting 4-5 in league action.

Kentucky (6-12) at Florida (6-12)

Between 1995-2005, Florida swept seven of the 11 series between these teams. Since then, it's been more closely contested as there have been no sweeps with the Gators winning nine of the last 15 series, including the last four. The teams have split the last eight series since Kentucky won four straight between 2013-16. The last Florida sweep came in 2005 in Gainesville, while the last Kentucky sweep was in 1993 in Gainesville. Over the last 12 seasons, it's been a series of four-game win streaks as UF won four between 2009-12, UK won four between 2013-16, and UF won the last four between 2017-21.

Kentucky is looking for its first SEC road series victory of the season while snapping a seven conference road series losing skid. The Wildcats are 4-5 at home with a series win over Georgia and 2-7 on the road in league action. After going 15-15 in SEC road series between 2012-17, UK is 3-15 over the last four seasons in conference road series.

Florida was swept at home in SEC play for the first time since Georgia accomplished the feat in 2006. The Gators sit at 6-12 in the SEC standings for the first time since that 2006 season. After starting 3-1, they are 3-11 in their last 14 league games with an SEC home series win over Arkansas.

Mississippi State (8-10) at Missouri (5-13)

These teams have split the four regular season series meetings at two apiece. Missouri has won the last two (2018 & 2021). Mississippi State swept the first two series in 2014 & 2016. The Bulldogs lead 8-4 in regular season games played and both teams are 1-1 on their home fields in series action.

Mississippi State won in extra innings Saturday to post its sixth consecutive series victory over Ole Miss. The Bulldogs have won their last two series, going 4-2. They were 4-8 in the first four SEC series of the season. They have enjoyed a fair amount of success on the road, going 18-10 over the last six seasons in SEC road series. MSU is seeking to finish .500 or better in the conference for the sixth consecutive season.

Missouri is happy to be returning home where it has won its last two SEC series in Columbia and has a 5-4 mark at Taylor Stadium. The Tigers are seeking to win at least three conference home series for the fourth time (2015, 2018, 2019) since joining the league in 2013. Missouri, which suffered its third consecutive SEC road series sweep at LSU, falls to 5-13 after week six of conference play. It's the same record it held at this point last year.

Texas A&M (10-8) at Vanderbilt (9-9)

Texas A&M leads the series 3-1 and 7-5 in regular season games. The teams have split the two series in Nashville with the Aggies winning in 2014 and the Commodores coming out triumphant in 2017. There has not been a sweep in the four SEC series meetings.

Texas A&M has won its last three series, notching a 6-3 mark in conference play after starting 4-5. The Aggies have won two of three conference road series, beating LSU and Georgia. They sit above .500 in the SEC standings for the sixth time in the last seven seasons. TAMU has gotten off to good starts with five SEC series-opening victories this season, including the last four. The last three series, the Aggies have won games 1 & 3 while losing game 2.

Vanderbilt, winners in its last two series, finds itself at .500 or better in the conference standings after six weeks for the seventh consecutive season. The Commodores have the longest active streak of finishing .500 or better in the SEC standings with 11. VU is 2-1 in SEC home series this season with victories over Missouri and Florida and boasts a 22-5-1 record over the last six seasons. It has finished with a winning home series record in each of the last 12 seasons.

Seeding

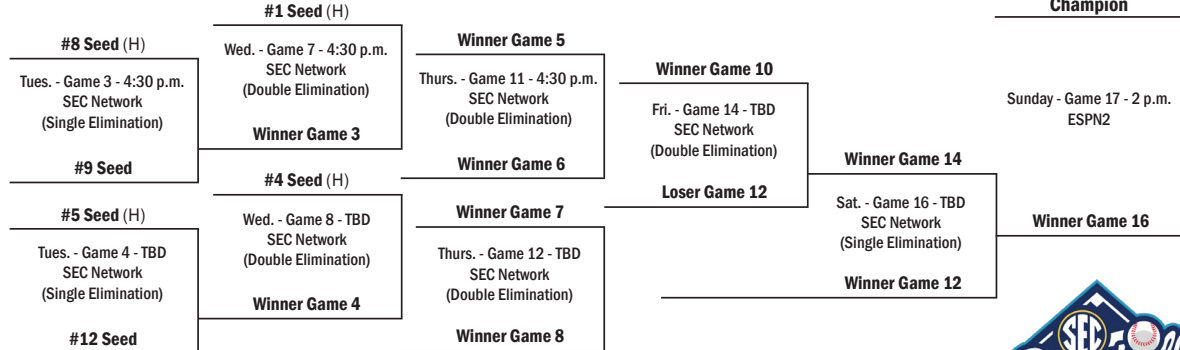

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

- Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:
 - Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
 - If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
 - If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - Coin flip by the Commissioner
- Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.
 - If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
 - Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
 - If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
