Seeding

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

1. Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:
 - A. Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
 - B. If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - (1) Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - (2) Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
 - C. If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - (1) Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - (2) Coin flip by the Commissioner
2. Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.
 - A. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
 - B. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
 - C. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.

SEC Series Notes

Alabama (10-14) at Auburn (13-11)

Alabama has won seven of the last nine series, including three of the last four at Auburn. After trading series sweeps on the other's home field in 2018 & 2019, the home team has held serve each of the last two seasons. Alabama has won 17 of the last 29 series since 1992 and owns a 49-38 lead in regular-season SEC games played. Four of the last nine series have resulted in sweeps, three for Alabama (2012, '15, '17) and one for Auburn (2018).

Alabama has scuffled to a 2-9 mark over its last 11 games after starting 8-5. The Crimson Tide have dropped their last four series and lost five consecutive SEC road games since winning five in a row over Mississippi State (1), Ole Miss (3) and Tennessee (1). Alabama, which has four SEC road series victories over the last five seasons, is seeking to win two conference road series in a season for the first time since 2016.

Auburn has posted a 6-4 record since starting SEC play 7-7. The Tigers have dropped their last two series overall and seek to win their third home series for the fourth time in the last five seasons. They sit above .500 in the SEC standings for the fourth time in the last five seasons. Auburn needs two more conference wins to secure its fourth non-losing SEC record in the last 18 seasons and first since 2018.

Vanderbilt (12-12) at Arkansas (16-8)

These teams are meeting for the fifth time in the last 10 seasons with the last four games being split at 2-2 with the home team winning both. The teams met annually between 2002-11 with Arkansas winning six of the 10 series. The Razorbacks won the first six series meetings between 1994-99. Arkansas owns two sweeps (1994 in Nashville and 2005 in Fayetteville). Vanderbilt's only sweep in the series came in Nashville in 2015.

Vanderbilt has been an enigma as it has alternated wins and losses in each of its last 11 games. Each of the last seven times it has reached the .500 mark in the SEC standings, it has lost the following game. This marks the seventh time in the last 12 conference games the Commodores have reached the .500 mark. They are playing on the road for the third time in the last four weeks and have posted road series wins over Kentucky and Georgia. Vanderbilt is 8-6 since starting 4-6 and hasn't won back-to-back SEC games since April 15-16 versus Florida.

Arkansas owns the longest active home SEC series winning streak with 12. The Razorbacks have not lost a home conference series since Ole Miss took two of three in week three in 2019. How much do the Hogs enjoy Baum Stadium? Over the last four seasons, they are 18-1 in conference series. They have won four of their last five league games and are 10-2 at home in SEC play this season. This marks the third straight season Arkansas has posted at least 16 conference victories after week 8. Florida last accomplished the feat between 2016-18. A series win would give Arkansas back-to-back seasons with perfect 5-0 marks at home. The last team to do that was when LSU posted three straight perfect home series records between 1997-99.

Florida (11-13) at Missouri (7-17)

Florida has dominated this series since Missouri joined the SEC by winning seven of eight, including sweeping the last five series. The Gators own six sweeps in eight series. Missouri's lone series victory came in Columbia in 2015, 2-1. Florida has won 15 consecutive regular-season games over the Tigers and is 21-3 overall.

Florida is coming off its first SEC road sweep since the end of the 2019 season and has won five of its last six conference games. The Gators, who have won four consecutive conference road games, are 8-6 since starting 3-7. They are seeking three SEC road series wins for the first time since 2018 when they took four of five.

Missouri returns home where it has won its last three series. Even though the Tigers have dropped every series opener this season, including the last 12 overall, they have rebounded to win the final two games of their last three home series. Missouri is in position to win four home conference series for the second time in the last three seasons. Missouri is 7-5 at home and 0-12 on the road in SEC play.

Georgia (13-11) at Tennessee (20-4)

This tight-knit series has seen Tennessee win the last two to take a 15-14 lead since 1992. Georgia won nine of the 11 series between 2008-18. Prior to that, the Volunteers won 11 of 16 between 1992-2007. There's only been one series sweep in the last 10 seasons and Georgia owns it in 2015 in Knoxville. In the 19 years between 1992-2010, there were 13 series sweeps with Tennessee getting 10 and Georgia three. The Vols own a 46-38 lead in regular-season conference games played in the last 29 seasons.

Georgia is 5-7 since starting SEC play 8-4. The Bulldogs have dropped three of their last four series but do have a pair of road conference series victories over South Carolina and Alabama this season. They need only two more league victories to secure their third non-losing conference record in the last four seasons, a feat last accomplished between 2008-11.

Tennessee suffered its first series defeat at Kentucky but did salvage the series finale to become the fourth team in conference history to post 20 league wins after eight weeks of play. It is also the fifth time the Volunteers have won 20 SEC games (2021, 1995, 1994, 1993). The school record for SEC wins is 24 set in 1994. The Vols look to complete a perfect 5-0 series record at home for the first time. It's only other perfect home series record came in 1994 when it went 4-0. It is the sixth time in the last 30 seasons UT has won four SEC home series (2022, 2005, 2003, 1997, 1996, 1993).

Kentucky (9-15) at South Carolina (10-14)

This tightly contested series sees South Carolina owning a 15-14 lead since 1992 while winning the last two series, including a sweep last year. Speaking of sweeps, 14 of the 29 series have resulted in sweeps, 10 for South Carolina and four for Kentucky. The Wildcats last swept the Gamecocks in 2012 in Lexington and posted their only sweep in Columbia in 1999. Thanks to all the sweeps, South Carolina owns a 50-37 advantage in regular-season conference games played.

Kentucky pulled off the series win over Tennessee, becoming the first team to take a series over the Volunteers this season. The series win also snapped a five-series losing streak by the Wildcats and gave them their second SEC home series triumph (defeated Georgia in week 2). UK is looking to avoid going winless in five SEC road series for the first time since 2011. The Cats have three SEC road series over the last four seasons. They are battling with Mississippi State for the final SEC Tournament spot.

South Carolina likes Founders Park as it has won three of four series this season and seeks its fourth for the first time since 2018. Since 1992, the Gamecocks have won 98 of 144 conference home series, trailing only LSU (105) and Florida (104) in that span. South Carolina has won its last five SEC home games and is coming off a home sweep of Alabama two weeks ago. They are 10-10 in conference play since starting 0-4 and have won four of their last six league games.

Ole Miss (10-14) at LSU (14-10)

LSU has won 20 of the last 29 series, but Ole Miss has crept back with three series victories over the last five seasons. The Tigers have won 13 of the 14 series in Baton Rouge since 1992. The lone Rebel series win in Baton Rouge in that span came in 2019. The previous Ole Miss series victory in Baton Rouge came in 1982. There hasn't been a series sweep in the last 10 seasons with Ole Miss recording the last one in 2010 in Oxford. LSU's last series sweep over the Rebels came in 1997 in Baton Rouge. The Tigers own a 51-36 lead in regular-season conference games over the last 29 seasons.

Ole Miss is coming off a home sweep over Missouri which snapped a three-home series losing skid. The Rebels have won four of their last six conference games since starting 6-12. They have dropped their last two road series (South Carolina and Arkansas) after winning the first two (Auburn and Kentucky). A series victory at LSU would give Ole Miss three SEC road series wins for the first time since 2014. The last time the Rebels were 10-14 was 2000.

LSU has won its last three series and is 7-2 since going 7-8 in the first half of the SEC schedule. The Tigers have won their last two home series (Missouri & Georgia) and are coming off their third conference road series triumph of the season at Alabama. Over the last 10 seasons, LSU is 35-13-1 in SEC home series. They need one more league win to guarantee a non-losing conference record for the 27th time in the last 32 seasons.

Mississippi State (9-15) at Texas A&M (14-10)

This series is knotted at four games apiece since Texas A&M joined in the SEC in 2013. Mississippi State has won the last two series and three of the last four after the Aggies won three of the first four series. The Bulldogs swept the Aggies last season and own a series sweep in Bryan-College Station in 2013. Texas A&M's lone sweep came in Starkville in 2016.

Mississippi State has dropped its last five SEC games and is playing on the road for the third time in the last four weeks. It owns a road series victory over Ole Miss and a loss at Missouri in that span. The five-game conference losing streak is its longest since ending 2017 with five consecutive defeats. The Bulldogs posted an 8-2 mark in SEC road series the last two seasons but are 1-3 this year. They are battling with Kentucky for the final SEC Tournament spot.

Texas A&M has won its last five series overall and two straight conference road series. The last time it won five consecutive series was 2017. The last time the Aggies won six straight SEC series was part of a seven-series winning streak in 2016. The Aggies are seeking their fourth SEC home series victory for the first time since it went 5-0 in 2016. They are 8-4 since starting 6-6 and have won five of their last seven conference games. Texas A&M is 14-10 for the first time since 2017.

Misc.

Tennessee has clinched the Eastern Division.
Tennessee's magic number to clinch the overall title is 3.

Only four teams prior to expansion in 1992 won 20+ SEC games: LSU 1986 (22-5), Florida 1988 (21-6), Mississippi State 1989 (20-5), LSU 1990 (20-7).

Teams to win 22 SEC games (9): last by Arkansas 2021 (22-8)
