SEC Series Notes

Alabama (4-5) at Ole Miss (4-5)

Ole Miss has won the last four series over Alabama and seven of the last nine. The Rebels have recorded two series sweeps in the last four seasons (2017 & 2021) and own four sweeps since 2001. Four of the last eight series have resulted in sweeps, including three by the Rebels (2013, '17, '21) and one by the Crimson Tide (2014). Ole Miss has won 11 of the last 14 home series since 1992, including the last four since Alabama took two games in 2012.

Alabama snapped a five-series losing streak with a series victory over Texas A&M last week. With one series losing streak snapped, the Crimson Tide look towards another as they look to break their four series SEC road series. They are 1-10 in their 11 SEC road series with a sweep over Texas A&M last season. The Crimson Tide are 4-3 in SEC games since starting 0-2.

Ole Miss is coming off its second SEC road series victory of the season after taking two at Kentucky. The Rebels have won their last three conference road series dating back to last season. A series victory puts Ole Miss at .500 or better after four weeks for the sixth consecutive season.

Arkansas (7-2) at Florida (3-6)

Meeting for the fifth time in the last nine seasons, this closely contested series has seen Florida win three of the last four series to pull ahead at 10-9 in series play since 1994. Eight of the 19 series have resulted in sweeps, four apiece. The teams met annually between 2004-12 with the Razorbacks taking six of the nine series. The Gators have won seven of the 10 series played in Gainesville. Arkansas swept Florida last season in Fayetteville and is looking for its first series win in Gainesville since 2012. Florida last swept Arkansas in 2016, while the Hogs last swept Gators in Gainesville in 1999.

Arkansas won its 13th consecutive series by defeating Mississippi State, 2-1, last weekend. It is chasing the record of 15 shared by Florida (2017-18) and Vanderbilt (2012-14). The Razorbacks enter the weekend with a 7-2 SEC record for the second straight season and third time in the last five seasons. It has been no worse than 8-4 each of the last four seasons after week 4. The Hogs have also won six consecutive SEC road series and are 9-2 in their last 11 SEC road series. The Razorbacks have won game one of their last eight SEC road series. In fact, they've won the opening game of their last 10 SEC series.

Florida sits at 3-6 in the SEC standings for the first time since 2006. The Gators return home this weekend where they are 29-7 in SEC home series over the last eight seasons, having won five of the last six. They have dropped five consecutive SEC games for the first time since 2013 and haven't lost six straight since that 2006 campaign. Over the last eight seasons, Florida has had nine SEC winning streaks for four games or more and only three losing streaks of the same.

Vanderbilt (4-5) at Auburn (5-4)

This closely contested series resumes for the 21st time since 1994 with Vanderbilt holding an 11-9 series advantage, including winning 11 of the last 13 series. The teams have split the last 60 regular-season contests at 30-30. Of the last 20 series played, 11 have resulted in sweeps. Six in favor of Auburn and five to Vanderbilt. In fact, the last three series have been sweeps (VU 2, AU 1). The teams met 14 times in 16 years between 1998-2013. The Tigers' series sweep in 2018 snapped Vanderbilt's three series win streak on The Plains.

Vanderbilt sits at 4-5 for the second time in the last nine seasons. The Commodores have dropped five straight conference games for the first time since ending 2008 with five consecutive defeats. It's only their fourth conference losing streak of four or more games in the last 12 seasons. By contrast, they've had 17 winning streaks of four or more than that span. Vanderbilt looks to snap a three SEC road series losing streak as well.

Auburn is becoming road warriors after posting back-to-back SEC road series wins the last two weekends, while extending their road winning streak to four consecutive series. The last time the Tigers opened a season with two conference road series victories was 2009 at Tennessee and Mississippi State. Auburn has won four of its last five SEC series dating back to last season and is looking for its third consecutive SEC series victory for the time since weeks 5-7 in 2017.

Georgia (6-3) at South Carolina (3-6)

Georgia has won six of the last seven series over South Carolina. The Gamecocks took last year's series for their first triumph in Athens since 2010. The Bulldogs have won the last three series in Columbia after dropping the previous nine. Eleven of the last 21 series have resulted in sweeps, seven by South Carolina and four by Georgia. The Bulldogs recorded back-to-back sweeps in 2018 and 2019, while the Gamecocks got their last sweep in 2013 in Columbia.

Georgia has posted a 6-3 mark or better in the SEC standings for the third time in the last four seasons. The Bulldogs are coming off a home sweep of Florida. It is its first home sweep since ending the 2019 season against Alabama, which is also the last time they won four straight SEC games. Georgia is looking to snap a three SEC road series losing streak.

South Carolina sits below .500 in the SEC standings after week three for the fourth time in the last dozen seasons. The Gamecocks add a feather to their cap with a home series win over Vanderbilt in week two and seek their fourth home series victory in the last seven at Founders Park.

Kentucky (3-6) at Texas A&M (4-5)

These teams are meeting for the fifth time since Texas A&M joined the SEC for the 2013 season. The series is even at two wins apiece with the visiting team winning all four series. The Aggies won in Lexington in 2015 and 2019, while Kentucky has come away winners in Bryan-College Station in 2014 and 2017. The last two series resulted in sweeps for both teams (TAMU in 2019 and UK in 2017).

Kentucky has won three of its last five SEC games after starting 0-4. The Wildcats are on the road the next two weekends at Texas A&M and at Missouri. They are looking to break a five SEC series road losing streak, since sweeping Auburn in week 2 last season.

A series win will put Texas A&M at .500 or better after four weeks of SEC play for the fifth time in nine seasons. The Aggies are seeking their second SEC home series triumph in their last six. Putting a win streak together is key as the Aggies have won back-to-back league games once in their last 34 SEC games.

LSU (4-5) at Mississippi State (4-5)

LSU has dominated this series since 1992 by posting a 20-8-1 advantage, winning 12 of the last 14. The Tigers have won the last eight series in Starkville and are 11-3 since 1993. Mississippi State is looking for back-to-back series wins over LSU for the first time since 1994-95. The Bulldogs last won a home series over the Tigers in 2003. There have been only four sweeps in the last 29 seasons, all by LSU in 1992, 2008, 2013 & 2017. Mississippi State last swept the Tigers in 1985 in Starkville.

LSU hits the road again, where it has enjoyed immense success with its last five SEC road series. The Tigers took care of business two weeks ago at Florida and now travels to Mississippi State and Arkansas the next two weeks. The last two seasons have seen a flipped script with LSU going 5-1 in SEC road series and 1-6 in SEC home series. A series victory puts the Tigers at .500 or better after four conference weekends for the ninth time in the last 10 seasons.

Mississippi State enjoys its home field by compiling an 18-8 SEC series record at Dudy Noble Field over the last six seasons. The Bulldogs have won four of their last five SEC home series dating back to last season. A series win puts MSU at .500 or better after four SEC weekends for the fifth time in the last six seasons.

Missouri (3-6) at Tennessee (9-0)

Tennessee's series sweep in 2021 ended a five-series win streak by Missouri. The Tigers have won the last three series in Knoxville. The Volunteers last won a home series versus Missouri in 2013. Missouri owns 5-3 overall series lead and 14-10 edge in regular-season games played.

Missouri is 3-2 in its last five SEC games and hits the road looking to improve upon its 3-12-1 SEC road series mark over the last four seasons. The Tigers are 2-13 in their last 15 conference road games. However, those two victories came in a series win at No. 3 Mississippi State in week 9 last season.

Tennessee is looking to tie the 1994 Florida Gators for the best start in SEC history at 10-0 with a win in the series opener against Missouri. If that happens, it can begin chasing the longest winning streak in SEC games at 17 set by 2000 South Carolina and the 1994 Volunteers. The last time an SEC team won 10 consecutive league games in a season was Vanderbilt in 2019 between weeks 6-9. The Volunteers are looking to open the SEC schedule with four straight series wins for the second straight season.

Seeding

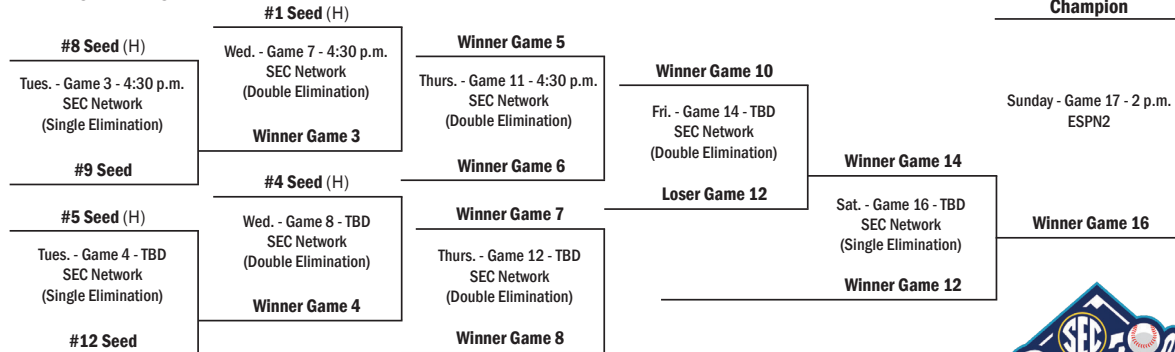

The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through 12 based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

- Two-Team Tie. The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken:
 - Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
 - If two-teams are divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 18-game SEC division schedule).
 - Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 7 team, if necessary).
 - If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary).
 - Coin flip by the Commissioner
- Three-Team Tie (or more). The following procedure will be used in the following order until the tie is broken: (Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order.) Otherwise, once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure will be used.
 - If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
 - Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 12 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
 - If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
