TPC SAN ANTONIO

- TPC San Antonio features 36 holes designed by two of the world's most talented and respected golf course architects: Pete Dye, considered by many the most influential golf course architect of the past five decades; and World Golf Hall of Fame member Greg Norman.
- Both The Canyons and Oaks courses were ranked among the top 15 "Best Courses You Can Play" in Texas by Golfweek in 2012.

Working with PGA TOUR player consultant Bruce Lietzke, Dye crafted the par-72, 7,106-yard Canyons course, the previous host of PGA TOUR Champions San Antonio Championship. Dye's signature wide fairways, stately stands of oak and cedar trees, and panoramic views of the adjacent Cibolo Canyons create a breathtakingly beautiful and enjoyable challenge for scratch golfers and novices alike.

- Current PGA TOUR player Sergio Garcia assisted Norman with the design of the par-72, 7,435-yard Oaks course, which hosts the PGA TOUR's Valero Texas Open. Norman took great care to incorporate the distinct nuances and indigenous flora of the natural Hill Country into the course design. The result is a strikingly beautiful course to challenge golfers of all skill levels.
- TPC San Antonio is a model of environmentally sound methods and practices, beginning with two well-planned, eco-friendly layouts. A closed-loop irrigation system, which ensures the protection of the Edwards Aquifer, supports the TPC Network's vision of all courses designated as Audubon International Cooperative Sanctuary Systems.

RAZORBACK ANDREW LANDRY WINS 2018 VALERO TEXAS OPEN

Three-time Arkansas All-American Andrew Landry, who led the Razorbacks to a runner-up finish the 2009 NCAA Championship, won the 2018 Valero Texas Open (April 22) for his first PGA Tour victory, pulling away with early birdies and holding on with par saves.

The native of Houston, Texas parred the final seven holes for a 4-under-par 68 and a two-stroke victory over Trey Mullinax and Sean O'Hair.

Landry had seen the birth of son Brooks just a month earlier and many family members were at TPC San Antonio.

"Everybody was out," Landry said. "It was pretty special to be able to snag a victory with everybody being here to share it."

Landry finished at 17-under 271. He earned $1,116,000 and a spot in the 2019 Masters.

Landry took a two-stroke lead to the par-5 18th after Mullinax chunked a flop shot and bogeyed the short par-4 17th. Landry hit a 55-foot putt over a ridge to 3 feet for par on 17 and made an 8-footer on 18 after running a 50-foot downhill birdie try past.

Tied for the third-round lead with Zach Johnson, Landry birdied the first three holes and added two more on Nos. 6 and 10. He bogeyed the par-4 11th before the closing par run.
