Game Review: Iowa
• After building a 16-point lead early in the first half, Michigan survived an Iowa rally, scoring on its final possession to defeat the Hawkeyes, 85-83.
• The victory was the seventh straight for the Maize and Blue.
• With U-M up three, Danny Wolf's turnover led to a quick Payton Sandfort three-pointer tied the game, 83-83, with 20 seconds left. U-M's Roddy Gayle Jr. drove to the basket on U-M's final play. His layup hit the backboard and was about to roll in before Iowa's Owen Freeman swatted it for a goaltending call. After a review, the call stood and the Hawkeyes' last-second shot by Pryce Sandfort missed securing the win for the Wolverines.
• U-M finished shooting 55.2 percent from the field, despite making four three-pointers.
• Vladislav Goldin paced U-M with his first double-double as a Wolverine (11th career). With a second straight 20-plus point game, Goldin closed with 20 points, 11 rebounds, and a block. Area "50-1" partner, Danny Wolf added a double-double of his own with his 13 points, 14 rebound effort.
• Pacing U-M's floor game, Tre Donaldson had a career-best 18 points with five assists, and four rebounds in a career-best 33 minutes. Gayle had 17 points, four rebounds and five assists.

Who are the Wolverines?
• Michigan wants a fast-paced, transition, and "read-and-react" offense emphasizing long-range shooting with ball screen actions.
• Michigan's depth allows May to run as many as nine or 10 deep in a game.
• Dusty May wants to have ball movement and for the Wolverines to pass up a good shot for a better one.
• The "green light" is on for everyone -- if you miss it, take the next one.
• May, Akeem Miskdeen, and Drew Williamson coordinate U-M's offense.
• Michigan will incorporate two big's on the floor with 7-0 forward Danny Wolf and 7-1 center Vladislav Goldin. U-M's size gets even bigger with 6-10, lefty sharp-shooter Sam Walters playing the perimeter.
• U-M runs an active man-to-man defense incorporating switches on-ball and off-ball screens and on exchanges for all four but the five-man.
• May wants active hands, defensive intensity, and to be as disruptive as possible.
• Mike Boynton Jr., Justin Joyner, and Kyle Church coordinate U-M's defense.
• All five assistants are involved in scouting. Mike Boynton Jr. is not paired with anyone, while Justin Joyner and Drew Williamson are partnered and Kyle Church and Akeem Miskdeen team together.
• May has said he wants his team to "have stars and not a star."
• U-M's core principles include: being reliable, having confidence, having passion, being relational, being responsible, having humility, and willingness to sacrifice.

The New Look Wolverines
• Michigan returns five Wolverines from its 2023-24 squad, including lone starter Nimari Burnett and U-M Sixth-Man Will Tschetter. Jace Howard and walk-on's Ian Burns and Harrison Hochberg also returned for the Maize and Blue.
• Michigan brought in 11 new players: two graduate transfers, four junior transfers, one sophomore transfer, and four freshmen.
  • Graduate Transfer: Vladislav Goldin (Florida Atlantic)
  • Graduate Transfer: Rubin Jones (North Texas)
  • Portal Transfer: Tre Donaldson (Auburn)
  • Portal Transfer: Roddy Gayle Jr. (Ohio State)
  • Portal Transfer: Danny Wolf (Yale)
  • Portal Transfer: Charlie May (Central Florida)
  • Portal Transfer: Sam Walters (Alabama)
  • Signee: "Phat-Phat" Brooks (Michigan)
  • Signee: L.J. Cason (Florida)
  • Signee: Justin Pippen (California)
  • Walk-on: Howard Eisley Jr. (New York)

Maize and Blue Notables
• Michigan has won seven straight games. U-M last won seven consecutive games to start the Juwan Howard era in 2019-20 jumping from unranked to No. 4 after winning the Battle 4 Atlantis.
• During its current streak, U-M won back-to-back wins over nationally ranked teams -- #22 Xavier (78-53) and #11 Wisconsin (67-64). The last time the Wolverines had back-to-back wins against ranked foes was in the 2022 NCAA postseason -- #24 Colorado State (75-63) and #5 Tennessee (76-68) advancing to the Sweet 16.
• Michigan is starting the backend of a five-of-six road game stretch. Restarting the Big Ten season in January and spending the New Year in Los Angeles, U-M will increase to stretch to seven of 10 games away from Ann Arbor.
• The Maize and Blue returned to Crisler Center for the first time in 16 days against Iowa (Dec. 7). The game with the Hawkeyes was the first of three December home games for the Wolverines - Purdue Fort Wayne (Dec. 22) and the non-conference finale with Western Kentucky (Dec. 30).

Michigan's Area "50-1"
• Many have asked for a nickname for U-M's 7-foot duo -- Danny Wolf and Vladislav Golding. Thanks to Strength Coach Matt Aldred and Jace Howard, the wait is over as Wolf and Goldin have been dubbed U-M's "Area 50-1"
• Wolf averages 12.1 points, 10.0 rebounds, 2.9 assists, and 1.8 blocks a game.
• Wolf has back-to-back 20-point games against ranked opponents -- #22 Xavier (20 points, 14 rebounds, three assists, two steals) and #11 Wisconsin (20 points, seven rebounds, five assists, five blocks, three steals).
• In his last three games, Wolf is shooting 65.6 percent (21-for-32) from the field and 54.5 percent (6-for-11) from deep. With three 10-plus rebounding games over his last four, he has reached a double-digit average (10.0 rpg).
• Wolf is third on the Wolverines with 26 assists (2.9 apg). He has four games with four-plus assists.
• Goldin averages 12.0 points, 5.4 rebounds, 1.9 blocks. He is shooting 60 percent from the field. He has posted all four double-figure games over the last five games, including back-to-back 20-plus point games.
• Goldin scored a career-best 24 points at #11 Wisconsin. Adding five rebounds, he surpassed 700 career rebounds (714). He has 1,289 career points.
