Six rounds of golf and five days into to the NCAA Division I Championship brought together two teams that had never reached a higher finish than fourth in the history of their programs.

Saturday's final began at 10 a.m. (EST) at the Inverness Club with Arkansas' Jamie Marshall who shut out Aggie Conrad Shindler in their match with a 3 & 2 win. The first two holes were all square. Marshall eagled hole three, to go one-up, before taking hole seven. Shindler birdied hole 9 to bring the count back down to one for Arkansas. Marshall took hole 10 and Shindler answered with hole 11. Marshall claimed holes 13 and 15 to clinch the match ahead by three with two holes remaining.

Arkansas also won the No. 4 match-up between Razorback Jason Cuthbertson and Aggie Matt Van Zandt, 3 & 1. Zandt was 2-up quickly until Cuthbertson began to make his move on the 10th. He birdied the 12th to square it up, and took holes 16 and 17 to end the match.

Arkansas freshman Ethan Tracy and Texas A&M's John Hurley squared off in the No. 3 spot. Hurley got a jump on Tracy early on taking the first three holes. Tracy took the following two, then matched his opponent on holes 6 and 7. Hurley took a series of five-consecutive holes, eventually winning 6 & 4.

Aggie Andrea Pavan was able to down the Razorbacks' David Lingmerth 7 & 6 squaring the competition at 2-all. Aggie Bronson Burgoon had the upper hand early going 4-up by the 13th hole. But Andrew Landry, a senior for the Razorbacks rallied winning the next four holes squaring the match as the duo headed to the 18th.

On the 18th, Landry hit a perfect drive down the middle of the par-4 hole, while Burgoon pushed his tee shot into the right rough. Landry's approach came to rest on the front fringe about 30 feet from the hole.

After Burgoon slashed his second shot out of the rough, the ball landed on the green and trickled toward the hole, almost going in before stopping six inches from the cup. Landry had a chance to force a sudden-death playoff, but pulled his long birdie putt left giving the Aggies the 3-2 win.

"I'm just really pumped up how it came down to the final hole. I just knew I had to dig down a little bit to come back," Landry said of his performance. "I felt I could get this whole match back to square and I did. He just hit a great shot and there is nothing I can do about that."

"I don't think people understand what an emotional day it has been for me. Landry has been with me for four years, and he came to Arkansas to help build a program with me," McMakin said. "He is like a son to me, and one of the people that was able to turn things around at Arkansas. He will be hard to replace, but he will have a career past this. It is going to be rough playing our first tournament of next season without him."

BLESSINGS GOLF COURSE

The Razorback Golf team moved into their home course at Blessings during the summer of 2004. The course is both challenging to players and was a challenge to create.

Robert Trent Jones II and owner John Tyson (Chairman and CEO of Tyson Foods) had a number of goals in mind when designing Blessings.

A very hands-on client, Tyson wanted a flexible golf course where every shot required careful thought and precise execution. He also wanted a course sufficiently demanding to host major collegiate tournaments. To meet the dual goals of toughness and flexibility, RTJ II created a unique golf course with three adjustable holes-eight, nine and sixteen-which can be configured to play to different pars, depending on course setup.

Another challenge in designing Blessings was to route the golf course so that the clubhouse could be located outside of the floodplain of Clear Creek, the major topographical and strategic feature of the site. After considering a number of possibilities, a continuous 18-hole routing was recommended rather than a pair of returning nines.

A third challenge arose as the architect designed the short, par-three tenth hole, which plays to a green located on an exposed platform at the edge of a vertical rock quarry. The green site was shaded by a grove of hardwoods that we wished to save, but needed to thin out to provide sunlight to the green. To solve this dilemma, we generated computer models that showed sunlight angles to the green at various times of day and season, and figured out how to save the greatest number of trees while allowing for enough light to grow grass on the green. This is a good example of how RTJ II delivers environmentally sensitive solutions to golf course design challenges-something we've been doing for more than 30 years.

Blessings stretches to nearly 7,500 yards from the back tees and plays through two distinct landformsthe Clear Creek floodplain and a plateau that rises to 65 feet above the floodplain where it's bisected by a series of ravines. Both the outward and inward nines climb up and down between the two topographies, creating drama and variety on a course where golfers will surely feel both tested and blessed by the glory of their surroundings.

STATE-OF-THE-ART VIDEO AT OUR FINGERTIPS

The Fred W. and Mary B. Smith Razorback Golf Training Facility is equipped with a putting studio. The system that was installed for use by both the women's and men's team is the SAM PuttLab.

The SAM PuttLab is the most comprehensive putt training tool ever developed. The software and computer system is customized to exactly fit the needs of each individual player. It is used by the top players on the PGA and LPGA tours.

The training system gives you feed-back on all of the following parts of your putting stroke: face angle, swing path, impact position, dynamic loft and rise angle, club face rotation, movement dynamics, rhythm and timing.

FRED W. AND MARY B. SMITH TRAINING FACILITY

The Razorbacks took a giant leap forward in the spring of 2004 with the dedication of the Fred W. and Mary B. Smith Razorback Golf Training Facility at Blessings in Johnson, Ark.

Located on the practice tee of Blessings, the facility is home to six indoor-outdoor practice bays, an indoor video swing analysis station, office space and men's and women's locker room facilities for the Arkansas golf teams.

The long-time CEO of the Donrey Media Group, Fred Smith, is the chairman of the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation.

"We are excited to be a part of this new facility that will help the Razorback golf programs continue to compete at the highest national level," Smith said. "Many members of our family play golf, so we have an appreciation for the commitment and many hours of practice that are required to succeed. We have a great love for the University of Arkansas and have always been proud to support the Razorbacks."

The Fred W. and Mary B. Smith Training Facility is an evolving training center that changes to meet the needs of Razorback golfers every year.

FAYETTEVILLE COUNTRY CLUB

The 18-hole course is located just a short 10-minute drive south of campus in Fayetteville. Situated on a rolling hilltop, golfers are challenged by its dog legs, sidehill lies and ever-changing wind conditions. The course underwent a face-lift on the front nine in 1996 and updated the club house. Fayetteville Country Club also offers competition-ready tennis courts with lights for nighttime play and an Olympic-sized swimming pool.

PARADISE VALLEY ATHLETIC CLUB

Founded in 1967, Paradise Valley Athletic Club is known as a shot-maker's course and provides challenging play to golfers of all skill levels. Builder Ellis Bogan designed the course to stretch 6,575 yards from the blue tees with a course rating of 73 and a slope of 134. Paradise provides competitors with challenging doglegs and several water spots to navigate.

SPRINGDALE COUNTRY CLUB

Springdale Country Club expanded its course from nine to 18 holes in the summer of 1996, presenting golfers with completely different courses on the front and back. Additional updates to both the course and clubhouse are currently underway. The front was built in 1927 and redesigned in 1972 while the back features a modern design with many physical challenges to overcome.

PINNACLE COUNTRY CLUB

Founded in 1990, Pinnacle Country Club is one of Northwest Arkansas' premier golf and tennis facilities. The course, designed by Don Sechrest in association with Bruce Lietzke, stretches 7,000 yards from the back tees with a course rating of 72.8 and a slope of 131. Located 20 minutes north of Fayetteville in Rogers, Ark., Pinnacle is known both for its course difficulty and homesite elegance. Pinnacle is graced with generous landing areas, but its large, undulated greens require both precision and accuracy. Its par threes are extremely challenging including, Pinnacle's signature hole, No. 15. Pinnacle has a history as host of prestigious events including the Greg Norman Challenge in 1990 and the Philips Classic in 1992, an event that included several senior PGA players. The grand clubhouse provides a comfortable setting for casual entertaining as well as formal events. The elegant design and location of the clubhouse evoke the Southern hospitality that welcomes all members "home." Pinnacle has, most recently, been home to the P&G Beauty NW Arkansas Championship hosting the LPGA's best players.

Pinnacle recently underwent a renovation that changed the greens significantly. In addition several holes were lengthened to further challenge players.

2009-10 ARKANSAS MEN'S GOLF MEDIA GUIDE

2009±10 PREVIEW

Give a team a taste of success and one can expect they'll want more.

That's exactly what University of Arkansas head coach Brad McMakin is discovering about his 2009-10 Razorbacks.

Arkansas made a remarkable run at a national title last year finishing as the NCAA Championship runner-up. The dramatic finish chronicled in the opening pages of this media guide was both record-setting and memorable.

But that was last year.

This year, McMakin and the Razorbacks are in a different place as the new season begins. The Razorbacks lost a pair of contributors from that postseason run, but added several newcomers who will contribute from the opening event.

Gone from last year is Andrew Landry and Jason Cuthbertson, both of whom played down the stretch for Arkansas.

This year, McMakin and The gallery at last year's NCAA Championship cheers on the Razorbacks.

"We return the core of our team, but losing a three-time All-American in Andrew Landry will be very tough to replace," said McMakin. "We expect to get better by the spring by getting our young players experience this fall. I'm excited with our talent and expect to be very competitive by the end of the year. I think we have a chance to win the SEC and compete again for a National Championship."

Arkansas returns six players from last year's roster headlined by seniors David Lingmerth and Jamie Marshall.

Lingmerth is the Razorbacks top returner and is coming off his best collegiate season. The Transas, Sweden, native had a 73.13 stroke average after playing in every event as a junior. His best finish came in a tie for second twice, first at Maryland and again at Minnesota.

Lingmerth earned Second-Team All-SEC honors, was a PING All-Central Region and PING Honorable Mention All-American last year.

Marshall also took part in the NCAA Championship last year. He too had his best season as a collegian with a 74.65 stroke average in nine events. Marshall, a Castle Rock, Colo., native, finished third at the Fighting Irish Gridiron Classic with a careerbest 212 in Indiana.

Sophomore Ethan Tracy enjoyed a banner year in his first season of collegiate golf. He began his career winning the first event he played in at the Maryland Intercollegiate and went on to earn selection to the SEC's All-Freshman Team. He was also selected to the PING All-Central Region team as a true freshman.

2009±10 PREVIEW

Jamie Marshal

Arkansas' other returners include senior Dalton Owens and freshmen Christoffer Arvidsson and Ty Spinella all of whom redshirted last season.

"I think our team has grown a lot from the point they were last year as we start the season," McMakin said. "It would be impossible for our team to have not progressed. Obviously, confidence has increased after the run we had at the National Championship."

The Razorbacks welcome seven newcomers for the 2009-10 season. Stephen Cox is a "new" senior for Arkansas. Cox was a member of the men's golf team as a true freshman, but left the sport to become a member of the men's basketball team for two seasons. He returns to the links this year.

Austin Cook, Joe Doramus, Josh Eure, Landon Tujague and Kevin Vanden Heuvel are all new to the program and expect to compete for traveling spots from the first event of the season.

Tobias Pettersson transferred to Arkansas from Liberty and redshirts the year.

The balanced mix of old and new faces a challenging schedule with 11 regular season events on tap.

The Razorbacks open Sept. 13-14 at the Fifth Annual Gopher Invitational in Wayzatta, Minn. Arkansas next travels to the Wolverine at Radrick Farms Sept. 26-27,a new event for the Razorbacks.

Three events will keep Arkansas busy in October. Arkansas opens at the Fighting Irish Gridiron Golf Classic, an event the Razorbacks won last season.

Trips to Birmingham, Ala., for the Jerry Pate National Intercollegiate, and to Dallas, Texas, for the Baylor Intercollegiate wrap up the fall.

The Razorbacks break for the winter, but return with a full schedule extending from February through May.

Arkansas travels to New Port Beach, Calif., for the Battle at the Beach hosted by UCLA in their spring opener.

March features three events with Arkansas taking part n the Border Olympics in Laredo, Texas, the Seminole Intercollegiate in Tallahassee, Fla., and the Oregon Duck Invitational in Junction City, Ore.

The regular season wraps up at the Morris Williams Intercollegiate in Austin, Texas. It serves as the final warm-up before the Razorbacks begin the postseason at the SEC Championship April16-18, in St. Simon Island, Ga. Arkansas was the SEC runner-up in 2009.

May opens with the NCAA Regional Championships followed by the NCAA Championship June 2-5, at The Honors Course in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Brad McMakin is the 13th head coach of the Razorback golf program and is in his fourth year at the helm at Arkansas.

McMakin's influence on the Razorback program was evident right away. In his first season (2006-07), he coached Andrew Landry to an honorable mention PING All-America selection. In his first tournament with the Razorbacks in the fall of 2006, McMakin led the Hogs to their first tournament title in more than three years at the Del Walker Intercollegiate.

Numerous individual honors and a team appearance at the 2008 NCAA Central Regional Championship have followed as McMakin has the Razorbacks moving in the right direction.

McMakin's influence was evident in 2008-09 as he paced Arkansas to an NCAA runner-up finish at last year's NCAA Championship. Two tournament team titles, five-consecutive runner-up team finishes, three All-SEC selections and a pair of PING All-America selections are just a few of the highlights from the most recent season.

Before his move to Fayetteville, McMakin was the head coach at Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas. McMakin took the position at Arkansas following a very successful 10-year run at Lamar. In 2006, he led the Cardinals to a ninth-place finish at the NCAA Championships. Lamar won an NCAA-best seven tournaments in 13 events in 2006 and placed two golfers in the top 10 individual finishers at the NCAA Championships.

After arriving at Lamar, McMakin revitalized the program and returned it to the top of the Southland Conference (SLC) and back onto the national scene. In his decade at the helm, Lamar won five SLC titles, made six-consecutive NCAA Central Regional appearances and earned its first trip to the NCAA Championships (2006) since 1986. In McMakin's final six seasons at Lamar, the Cardinals had three players earn All-America honors, three golfers capture SLC individual medalist honors, 21 all-conference performers, a newcomer of the year, three freshmen of the year and the conference's only four-time player of the year.

A native of Beaumont, Texas, McMakin was named the Eaton/Golf Pride South Central Region Coach of the Year in 2006 after leading his squad to the NCAA Championships and a fifth-place showing at the NCAA Central Regional. The Cardinals captured their 20th Southland Conference championship and placed all five players on the all-conference team. McMakin was tabbed as the SLC Coach of the Year five times (1999, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2006) in his 10-year stint at Lamar.

Prior to accepting the head coaching job at Lamar, McMakin spent four years as a professional golfer. McMakin competed on several mini tours as well as playing on the Nike and Hooters Tours.

Originally signing with Lamar out of high school, McMakin transferred to Oklahoma when former LU coach Greg Grost accepted the Oklahoma men's golf job. It proved to be a wise move for McMakin as he would help the Sooners win a national championship during the 1989 season. McMakin, a co-captain of that squad, served in the same capacity the following year as Oklahoma finished fifth at the national tournament.

McMakin was also a standout golfer on the Kelly High School golf team. He was a regular in the TCIL state tournament and earned medalist honors four times. While at Kelly, McMakin played for former Lamar coach Charles Rodemacher.

The 39-year old McMakin earned a bachelor degree in communications from Oklahoma in 1991. He and his wife, Tonia, have one son - Matthew (5).

Former collegiate golfer and teaching professional Layne Savoie enters his fourth season at the University of Arkansas. On Oct. 11, 2007, he was named the associate head coach of the Razorback golf program after serving one season with the title of assistant coach.

He joined head coach Brad McMakin's staff after five years as the top instructor at the Chuck Cook Golf Academy at the Barton Creek Resort and Spa in Austin, Texas.

In his first year as a collegiate coach, Savoie helped in the development of sophomore Andrew Landry who was named honorable mention PING All-American in his first season as a Razorback. Landry was also a second-team All-Southeastern Conference performer.

"Layne is one of the best teachers in the country in my opinion," McMakin said. "He is able to develop our young players in a short period of time. He came highly recommended from the best teachers in the country. We are very, very fortunate to have him on our staff."

During his first season in Fayetteville, Savoie worked with a 2006-07 Razorback golf team that featured 10 underclassmen and just one senior. Savoie was instrumental in developing the predominantly inexperienced roster of players.

Savoie has instructed players on the PGA Tour, Nationwide Tour and the Futures Tour. He served as a team instructor for three years for Coach McMakin at Lamar while on staff at the Chuck Cook Golf Academy. He also instructed the Finnish National Team in 2005 and was a camp counselor and instructor at Stanford University in the summer of 2005.

Savoie has coached multiple winners on the Nationwide and Futures Tours and PGA Tour professionals, including Jason Dufner and Kris Cox.

Savoie's golf education includes training under some of the top names in the sport like David Leadbetter, Chuck Cook, Mac O'Grady, Ben Doyle, Tom Ness, Bill Moretti and Jackie Burke. Cook and Leadbetter have both been named Top 10 Teachers by Golf Digest and Golf Magazine for the last 15 years. He also has a bachelor's degree as an authorized instructor of the Golfing Machine.

Following his collegiate career, Savoie played professionally on the Golden Bear and Canadian Tours from 1998-2001 and was a multiple winner of several minitour events.

Savoie is no stranger to SEC golf as he was a four-time letterman at Auburn (1995-98). He competed at the 1996 SEC Championships where he finished tied for 25th place.

He graduated from Auburn in May of 1998 with a degree in business management. Savoie is married to the former Amy Wilson, who played volleyball at Auburn. Their first child, son Isaac Moore, was born July 21, 2007.

Magical seasons are rare, but that's exactly the type of year the Arkansas Razorbacks had in 2008-09.

Head coach Brad McMakin entered his third season at Arkansas with high expectations, and the Razorbacks lived up to them finishing the year as the 2009 NCAA runner-up.

Arkansas sprang out of the gates winning the first event of the year at Maryland. The two-round rain-shortened event saw Arkansas card a 544 - 20 strokes better than the second-place team.

Freshman Ethan Tracy earned medalist honors with a 10-under 132 with teammate David Lingmerth tying for second overall.

Andrew Landry (above) and David Lingmerth each were Arkansas' top finishers in five events last year.

Arkansas finished ninth overall in Minnesota, but rebounded with the second team title of the year at the Fighting Irish Gridiron Classic at Notre Dame. The Razorbacks topped the leaderboard with an 863. Andrew Landry was Arkansas' top finisher in second place with a one-over 211 followed by Jamie Marshall in third with a 212. Lingmerth tied for fifth giving Arkansas three of the top five finishers.

Arkansas would next start a streak of 10-consecutive top-10 finishes, including nine top fives, when the team finished fourth overall at Baylor. Arkansas was just three strokes off the leader with an 873 paced by Landry's 214 to tie for fourth overall.

The fall season concluded with a trip to San Martin, Calif., where Arkansas finished sixth overall with a 1,120 at the challenging CordeValle Collegiate.

The Razorbacks captured a fourth place finish at the John A. Burns Intercollegiate in Hawai'i and followed up with a tie for fifth at the Seminole Intercollegiate in Tallahassee, Fla.

Landry was Arkansas' leader on the island tying for fourth overall with a 208. Jason Cuthbertson made his second appearance for Arkansas and tied for third at the Seminole.

Arkansas began another impressive streak at its next event. The Razorbacks finished second at the Border Olympics beginning a run of six-consecutive second-place finishes.

Those runner-up finishes came at the Border Olympics, Morris Williams Intercollegiate, Reunion Intercollegiate, SEC Championship, South Central Regional Championship and the NCAA Championship.

Arkansas had eight individual top-10 finishes including a win by Landry at the Reunion Intercollegiate in Madison, Miss.

"The weather was good with scores that were low," said Arkansas head coach Brad McMakin after the event. "We got off to a slow start, but we had a good back nine. We feel very fortunate to have been able to get past Florida."

The second-place finish was the best performance the

Junior David Lingmerth went four-under with a 212 (70-69-73) to finish in a tie for fifth place. #### NGAA REGIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Ethan Tracy finished tied for 13th at the 2009 NCAA Regional Championship.

The University of Arkansas tied its second best NCAA Regional finish with a second-place showing in Stillwater, Okla., in 2009.

The Razorbacks posted a 903 (298-301-304) trailing host and fourth-ranked Oklahoma State on the Cowboys' home course.

Arkansas was third heading into the final round but bettered Tennessee-Chattanooga by five strokes to pass the Mocs on the last day.

"It was a good week, and we were excited to place where we did," said Arkansas head coach Brad McMakin after the event. "(The final day) was an extremely difficult day out there and the scores were high, but the boys were able to hang in there."

David Lingmerth ended his run at the tournament in a tie for fifth place after a three round series of 74 to finish at six-over 222.

Lingmerth moved up from a tie for 21st in the first round to 14th in the second before finishing in a tie for fifth overall as the Razorbacks lowest score.

Ethan Tracy tied for 13th place carding a 10-over 226(71-76-79). Andrew Landry finished tied for 25th with a 12-over 228(75-75-78). Jamie Marshall and Jason Cuthbertson again tied with each other moving up to No. 37 with 18-over 234(82-76-76) and (78-80-76).

The second-place finish tied Arkansas' No. 2 showing in 1992 at Stonebridge Country Club in McKinney, Texas. Arkansas shot a six-over 870 lead by Deane Pappas and Jack O'Keefe who finished second and third, respectively.

The Razorbacks won the Regional Championship in 1991 with a five-under 859. Pappas tied brother Brenden for second place overall.

David Lingmerth was Arkansas' top finisher at the last two NCAA Regionals.

Andrew Landry provided a lot of drama at the 2009 NCAA Championships. Landry rallied from a deficit making the 18th hole the deciding hole for the title. Landry hits in front of the gallery at the NCAA Championship in Toledo, Ohio, in 2009.

Arkansas raced up the leader board on the final day of stroke play at the NCAA Division I Men's Championship at the Inverness Club, moving from sixth place to a tie at third.

Under the new NCAA Championship format, the Razorbacks ended in three-way tie for third place with Southern California and Washington after carding 13-over 865(297-283-285), advancing to match play along with Oklahoma State, Arizona State, Southern California, Washington, Michigan, Texas A&M, and Georgia.

David Lingmerth tied for 23rd place with a three-over 216 (75-72-69). Ethan Tracy carded a four-over 217(76-68-73) to end in a tie for 27th. Andrew Landry tied at 37th with six-over 219(75-70-Jamie

Ethan Tracy won all three matches in match play at the NCAA Championships.

Marshall followed by a stroke for a seven-over 220(71-78-71) and tied for 48th. Jason Cuthbertson ended tied at 62nd with a nine-over 222(77-73-72).

The Razorbacks opened match play against Washington, winning 3 & 2 over the Huskies. Arkansas picked up wins from Lingmerth, Cuthbertson and Marshall to move on.

Arkansas faced SEC rival Georgia in the second round getting a 3-1-1 win over the Bulldogs. Georgia defeated Arkansas at the SEC Championship just weeks before this meeting.

Cuthbertson and Marshall won early matches at the Nos. 4 and 5 spots giving the Razorbacks a 2-0 lead. Tracy fell in the No. 3 position but Lingmerth clinched the Razorback victory in the No. 2 spot with a 3 & 2 win.

The semifinal win over Georgia moved the Razorbacks into the finals against Texas A&M.

Cuthbertson and Marshall again won their matches giving the Razorbacks an early lead.

Losses at the Nos. 2 and 3 positions squared the match at 2-2 and the title would come down to the last two golfers on the final hole.

Bronson Burgoon of Texas A&M had a sizable lead over Landry but a late run squared the match heading to 18.

Landry seemed to have the upper hand after an errant second shot by the Aggie but a perfect shot from the rough left Burgoon just inches for the final putt and the win.

The University of ARKANSAS

The University of Arkansas is one of America's leading land-grant universities, and despite tough economic times nationwide Chancellor G. David Gearhart is optimistic: "There has never been a better time to be a student at the University of Arkansas."

The students and faculty have never been more academically accomplished, the university's facilities have never been more sophisticated, the research done on campus has never been more innovative. The more than 19,000 students have satisfied the highest academic standards in the university's history, while also being the most diverse student body ever on campus.

The 2009-10 academic year will be very challenging for everyone in higher education, especially students and their families, but the University of Arkansas is in a strong position to meet those challenges. The University avoided increasing student tuition for the first time in 24 years, thanks to careful budgeting and generous financial support from the state of Arkansas, alumni and university donors, as well as from the Department of Athletics. Chancellor Gearhart has also placed a priority on providing more scholarship support for students who are struggling to afford a university education.

The University of Arkansas, as a land-grant university, strives to fulfill a threefold mission of teaching, research and service. The Fayetteville campus also serves as the flagship institution of the University of Arkansas system, which includes branch universities and the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences. The University of Arkansas, as lead campus, serves as the state's major center of professional education, as the state's main source of theoretical and applied research and as a major engine for economic growth.

We Prepare Students to Succeed

At the University of Arkansas, we strive for excellence in everything we do, and we achieve it with nationally ranked academic programs as well as with our athletic teams. Here, successful students will join with other graduates to succeed as business executives, scientists, engineers, teachers, writers and Olympians.

Arkansas' true success is measured by its students. In the past 10 years, Arkansas has brought home more than its share of the nation's most prestigious undergraduate awards. In 2001-2002 the University of Arkansas was the only public or private institution in the country to have Rhodes, Marshall, Goldwater, Udall, NSF and James Madison recipients in the same academic year. The university continues each year to add to the overall total of highly competitive post-graduate awards won by Arkansas students. Walk through campus on Senior Walk. It features the names of all our graduates -- more than 120,000 of them. You will immediately feel connected to the pride, quality and tradition that go with an Arkansas degree.

World-Class Faculty

At Arkansas, excellence begins in the classrooms and laboratories. Faculty members value research and the creation of knowledge, knowing that investigating the unknown translates into first-rate teaching. They publish nearly 100 books each year, participate in conferences around the world, file patents for their innovative projects and win prestigious honors and awards.

World-Class Facilities

Over $700 million in construction projects were completed on campus in the past decade, are now under construction or are in the planning stages. These include plans to upgrade or renovate several of our historic buildings. The university is also engaged in an ambitious program to improve the energy efficiency of 35 of our buildings, in an on-going effort to create a sustainable campus.

Old Main

One of the original buildings of Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

Senior Walk

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. Senior Walk stretches over five miles of campus sidewalks. The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

World-Class Support

Investment in the future is critical, and the unprecedented Campaign for the Twenty-First Century that concluded in 2006 resulted in a billion dollar infusion of gifts to the University of Arkansas. The effort included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy: a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

That kind of commitment from the state and the region is not uncommon. It was the effort of the city of Fayetteville and Washington County in submitting the highest bid to the state in the 1870s that resulted in the University of Arkansas opening its doors here on Jan. 22, 1872.

Broad range of degrees

At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

Nine Colleges and Schools: One University

The University has five colleges and four schools to provide a wide range of majors, from agricultural business to biological engineering, from architecture to nursing, from transportation and logistics to international relations, all taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

A program in nanoscience that combines students and faculty in physics and engineering has made the university the leader in production of nanomaterials for universities across the country.

No matter what students choose to study the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences

The J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences is named after former University President and U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright. The College, which includes the School of Social Work, offers degrees in the liberal arts, which span everything from ancient Egyptian dynasties to the latest discoveries in nanotechnology. Fulbright College students uncovered the world's largest nautiloid fossil, an eight-foot specimen that lived 325 million years ago and was found buried in a culvert near Fayetteville.

Our graduates are known throughout the world. We can thank alumnus Robert Maurer for the revolu-

The Sam M. Walton College of Business is ranked among the top 25 public business schools in the United States. Named in honor of the world's most successful retailer and his family's generous 1998 gift of $50 million, the Walton College is Arkansas' flagship business school. The college offers two bachelor's degrees in six disciplines: accounting, economics, finance, information systems, management, and marketing and logistics, as well as five master's degrees, including the MBA, and two Ph.D. programs. In 2003, the Walton College introduced an innovative new business curriculum that integrates the business disciplines and better prepares its student for jobs. By connecting these disciplines, students see the big picture of a business. The college seeks to provide each student with experiences in and out of the classroom that simulate actual business so they are prepared for real-world and global opportunities. Established in 1926, the Walton College has been accredited by the AACSB International since 1931.

College of Education and Health Professions

The College of Education and Health Professions, which includes the Eleanor Mann School of Nursing, prepares the professionals who touch people's lives every day - teachers, coaches, nurses, speech pathologists, counselors, school administrators and specialists in health science, exercise and recreation. The college's mission is to enhance the quality of life of the people of Arkansas, the nation and the world through the development of scholar-practitioners in education, health and human services.

Our students are involved in the community in many ways, including educating elementary children about health care at fairs sponsored by the Eleanor Mann School of Nursing and working as classroom teaching interns in local school districts.

Students enjoy hands-on learning in such partnerships with school districts and through research with faculty members. Research includes examining school reforms, studying treatment methods to reduce hospital stays for chronic diseases and learning about language acquisition by children.

Faye Jones School of Architecture

The Fay Jones School of Architecture, named for one of the foremost architects of the 20th century, enjoys a national reputation for producing outstanding designers who are well prepared for professional practice in architecture and landscape architecture. Fay Jones was a member of the School's first graduating class and later served on the faculty and as the school's first dean. He received the AIA Gold Medal in 1990 at a White House ceremony; in 2000 the AIA ranked his Thorncrown Chapel in Eureka Springs as the fourth-best building by an American architect in the twentieth century.

faculty Current members continue to win national and international claim for their work. Students gain handson experience at the school's community design center, which has won numerous national and international design and teaching awards, and Garvan Woodland Gardens, the school's woodland botanical garden in Hot Springs. International study programs in Rome, Mexico City, and summer field studies in Europe also expand our students' perspective.

Honors College

One of the major benefits of the $300 million Walton gift was the dedication of $200 million for the Honors College to fund undergraduate University of Arkansas Honors College fellowships ($50,000 for four years), to establish special study abroad and undergraduate research opportunities, and to support outstanding faculty in their research and honors teaching efforts.

The Honors College serves all undergraduate majors. Honors students enjoy small classes, priority registration, special housing, increased interaction with faculty, and enhanced opportunities for hands-on research.

Within the college, the Scholarship Office and the Office of Post-Graduate Fellowships provide additional services. Promising high school seniors are assisted with their applications for the many available Sturgis, Bodenhamer, Boyer, and University of Arkansas Honors College fellowships, as well as Chancellor's and University scholarships.

School of Law

Named by U.S. News and World Report among the "most diverse" law schools in America, the School of Law builds on more than 80 years of tradition and alumni success to promote professionalism, civility and leadership. Our students follow a rigorous course of study that prepares them for success in law practice, business, public service and more. Whether pursuing a J.D. or an LL.M. in the nation's only agricultural law program, students have the opportunity to expand and refine their lawyering skills - and to serve their community and state - through the Legal Clinic, an active and effective pro bono program and various skills courses. Students also may participate in the publication of one of three law journals - Arkansas Law Review, Journal of Food Law & Policy and Journal of Islamic Law & Culture. The law school's outstanding faculty not only nurtures and challenges our students, but is committed to research and outreach. A recently completed expansion of the law center includes a state-of-the-art courtroom and classrooms, twostory entrance hall, reading room, conference room and coffee shop, making it one of the most striking buildings on campus and a popular gathering place for the university community.

Dr. G. David Gearhart. Chancellor

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the fifth chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university in his capacity as vice chancellor for university advancement. During that decade leading up to his appointment as the campus' chief executive. he was the architect of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century - the largest, most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs and increased the endowment from $119 million to almost $900 million.

A native of Fayetteville, Ark., Chancellor Gearhart was born and raised in the shadow of Old Main. An alumnus of the university whose name is twice inscribed on Senior Walk for the law degree (L.D.) and doctor of education degree (Ed.D.) he earned, Gearhart feels that his entire adult life has prepared him for this singular honor and challenge.

'I believe the ultimate success of the University of Arkansas will be measured to a large extent on how it demonstrates its usefulness to society," Gearhart says. "Of all of the rich contributions that America has bestowed on the world, American higher education is among the most important. Our colleges and universities have become, perhaps, the most vital expression of the American political and social philosophy."

The path that would lead him back to his alma mater began in 1976, when Gearhart became assistant to the president at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., where he received his baccalaureate two years earlier. In 1977, he was appointed the director of development at Westminster and led fundraising efforts for The Winston Churchill Memorial and Library. Thus was launched a nationally respected career in university advancement

In 1978, he returned to his native state to become vice president for development at

In 1985, Gearhart took another career leap in being appointed vice president for development and university relations at The Pennsylvania State University. Three years later, he was promoted to senior vice president, responsible for the external relations programs for 23 campuses statewide. While at Penn State, he launched a major capital campaign, which raised in excess of $352 million. Total private gifts to

Penn State during his 11 years at the university surpassed $950 million, and Gearhart's division was cited three times by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) with its grand gold medal, awarded to the nation's top advancement program.

In 1995, Gearhart joined the international consulting firm of Grenzebach, Glier, and Associates as senior vice president and managing director, but stayed closely connected to advancing the mission of higher education. The Chicago-based philanthropic management firm has hundreds of clients in the United States, Canada and Europe, and fundraising goals in excess of $40 billion. Clients managed by Gearhart included nearly two dozen non-profit organizations, colleges and universities, among them American University, Brigham Young University, Rutgers University, University of Alabama, University of Connecticut, University of Miami (Fla.), University of Pittsburgh and University of Washington.

In 1998 Gearhart once again returned to his native state as vice chancellor for university advancement at the University of Arkansas. He was responsible for development, alumni relations, constituent relations, special events and university relations programs. Arguably, his most significant impact in this role was the stunningly successful Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, a billion-dollar capital campaign that concluded in June 2005 with the University of Arkansas taking its place as one of only 13 public universities at that time to have exceeded a billion dollars raised.

The centerpiece of this campaign was a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation, the largest gift ever made to a public university. The direct results of Gearhart's leadership in this effort included the creation of 132 new endowed faculty positions, 1,738 new student scholarship and fellowship funds, dozens of new and renovated facilities and classrooms, and growth of the overall endowment from $119 million in 1998 to nearly $900 million by the time he assumed the chancellorship.

In every imaginable way, the university was transformed by this campaign.

"At the University of Arkansas our ultimate purpose is to improve the human condition, to make life better for our citizens and our state and to contribute to the general welfare of our nation," says Gearhart. "Thanks in part to the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, we've become recognized as a rising star as a major public research university in a state where higher education must play an increasingly larger role in the lives of its citizens. Working with our sister public institutions and in partnership with our own university system, we must work hard and smart to increase the college participation rate and to strengthen the quality of Arkansas' higher education. We must be seen as enthusiastic leaders in this venture, all in a time of diminished public resources nationally that will not make it easy, but a challenge that we at the university must embrace."

Gearhart was named a distinguished alumnus of his undergraduate alma mater, Westminster College, in 1992, and the same year was named a Fulbright Scholar and studied at Oxford University, Merton College in Oxford, England. In 1996, he was named an honorary alumnus of Penn State, where he finished his doctoral coursework in higher education administration.

In addition to his responsibilities as chancellor, Gearhart is a tenured member of the faculty in the College of Education and Health Professions, holding the rank of professor. A nationally respected expert in capital campaigns, he is the author of two books, The Capital Campaign in Higher Education and Philanthropy, Fund Raising and the Capital Campaign, as well as numerous articles.

Among his current professional affiliations, Gearhart serves as vice president of the University of Arkansas Fayetteville Campus Foundation, is a member of the board of advisors for the Arkansas World Trade Center, is a member of the Northwest Arkansas Council, and is a member of the advisory board of the Pryor Center for Oral and Visual History. He also is a licensed attorney in the state of Arkansas.

Gearhart is married to the former Jane Brockmann, whom he married in 1974. They have two children: Katy, who is a graduate of Penn State University currently working as a speech pathologist; and Brock, a graduate of the University of Arkansas who is now a vice president of investments for Greenwood and Associates.

Gearhart's late father, George A. Gearhart, was publisher of the Northwest Arkansas Times in Fayetteville. His mother, Joan Gearhart Havens, lives in Fayetteville.

"I have many dreams and aspirations that I've long held for the University of Arkansas," Gearhart says, "and I look forward in the months and years ahead to sharing that vision and working with our outstanding students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends, and certainly the board of trustees, on reaching our lofty goals and realizing the full potential of our university."

The Bogle Academic Center

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT MISSION STATEMENT

The primary focus of the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Program is to provide the student-athlete with the opportunity to develop the skills necessary to be a success in college and in life. This is accomplished through superior academic counseling, life skills training and preparation to enter the job market upon graduation.

Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Services

The Mission Statement for the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement division -- SAASA -- speaks for itself, but the improvements and achievements of the Razorbacks over the past academic year are what is most important.

At Arkansas, academic services are not just good grades and eligibility. Along with 18 of 19 teams exceeding the NCAA standard for APR, Razorbacks earned some of the highest conference and national academic honors in the 2008-09 year including a pair of Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year

It is also not about honoring the "A" student. Arkansas Athletics is committed to every single athlete improving his or her academic performance every semester, working to achieve academic "personal bests" with each class just the same as we would expect our athletes to hit personal records in competition.

Study Hall and Tutors

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab (above) has over 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with studentathletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

Class Attendance

The University of Arkansas Razorback Athletic Department has an overall student-athlete class attendance policy. Student-Athletes Academic Support and Achievement assists with the enforcement of this policy through regular checks on class attendance. If traveling with a team, student-athletes notify instructors early in each semester regarding assignments or exams.

Student Life

The social and personal development of student-athletes is as important to the University of Arkansas as the academic and athletic achievement. The Office of Student Life focuses on the personal development and community service components of the NCAA CHAMPS/LifeSkills program. Training is provided in a variety of areas including financial planning, drug and alcohol education, time management, study skills and developing community service activities.

Workshops are held to provide student-athletes training in resume writing, interviewing skills and etiquette. Individual assistance with locating summer internships and job placement gives student-athletes a head start into their chosen careers.

Arkansas Razorbacks in the Community

Community service is a vital part of the educational process for any college student, and Razor-back athletes took the lead in 2008-09 by registering a record number of hours of community service work.

The often reported bad news in college sports sometimes masks the overwhelming good things done by the vast majority of student-athletes.

Among the programs that built the more than 2,500 volunteer hours performed in the past academic year:

Participation in the campus-wide clean-up after the disastrous ice storm of the winter of 2009.

Going out to area elementary schools to support the Book Hogs reading program and the Sweat Hawgs physical education awareness program.

Individual team projects ranging from volunteering at the Fayetteville Public Library, working with Habitat for Humanity, assisting with area shelters or helping the local youth programs like the Scouts.

The quiet efforts of our 19 Razorback teams have a longlasting impact on the youth of our state. The incredible positive benefit of the time spent by the Razorbacks helping the community pays tremendous dividends, not only for the University of Arkansas, but for the entire state.

And while we focus here on the positive benefits for the fresh young faces who receive an autograph or a kind word of encouragement from a Razorback, we know that there is a considerable impact upon our student-athletes, our future leaders. The opportunity to give back impresses upon them that no matter their personal circumstances when they arrived in Fayetteville, they have a chance to not only improve their lives, but touch the lives of others.

One of the largest department outreach programs is Book Hogs, an elementary school reading program that takes Razorback athletes into area schools for assemblies to emphasize the power of reading. Several athletes reached out to inspire future Razorbacks with their stories of the importance of reading and studying at 13 elementary schools in the area. Above left, Michael Smith and D.J. Williams speak to more than 400 children at a local Fayetteville elementary school for a Book Hogs rally.

For the second year, Razorback athletes turned out to support Lift Up America. Football player Elton Ford (above) helps load a vehicle for one of the regional charities benefiting from the gift of food from Tyson Foods. At left, the 89 athletes from almost every Razorback team assisted in the project to combat hunger in the area.

Razorback athletes from all sports participated in various community service activities across the city of Fayetteville. At right, Jermaine Love works with children at the Fayetteville Public Library in the youth section.

The members of the Razorback SAAC participated in the Southeastern Conference's "Yes We CAN" drive to collect canned food items for regional food banks. Working over two weekends and incorporating home events at football, soccer and volleyball, the SAAC members gathered 10,000 pounds of non-perishable food items. In addition, the SAAC coordinated Razorback student-athletes volunteering as celebrity sackers at Fayetteville area grocery stores to raise awareness and collect more food items.

Arkansas Razorbacks: Athletes & Graduates

"I am always proud of my degree from the University of Arkansas. I had the good fortune to go to on to UAMS in Little Rock to train in surgery after Fayetteville. When I left Little Rock to study at Cornell in New York, I was very pleased to find that my education and training at the University of Arkansas was equal to that of my colleagues from Ivy League schools. My time as a Razorback was my most life-shaping experience, and I have always been proud of how I was trained and what I learned at the University of Arkansas."

"The University of Arkansas isn't a huge university, but it has a huge reputation. My professors were concerned with my personal goals; concerned about how I wanted to develop as an individual. There is a great amount of one-on-one mentoring with the teachers. I think one of the greatest things about Arkansas is that you are an individual, a real person — not just an I.D. number — to the faculty and staff."

Jeff Long

Vice Chancellor for Intercollegiate Athletics and Director of Athletics

Entering his second full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has not only guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition, he has transformed and revitalized a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and nearly 460 student-athletes. Long has not only accepted, but embraced the challenge of leading a Razorback program that serves as a source of pride for so many at the University of Arkansas, in all corners of the state and to thousands of Razorbacks all around the world.

Long has established a multi-faceted combined athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long and other members of the University's leadership team are charged with developing policies and charting the course for the future of higher education. Since his arrival, Long and his staff have re-engaged the athletic department with the University Community working to more fully integrate Razorback Athletics into the campus environment.

The success of Long's approach can be measured in part by the remarkable accomplishments of the Razorback program in his tenure. Arkansas has captured five conference championships and advanced to 25 post-season competitions while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks. In the classroom, the Razorbacks exceed national APR standards in 18 of 19 sports while nine of 15 sport programs improved their team GPA from 2007-08 to 2008-09. In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 2,500 hours of time in between the rigors of school and athletic practice and competition.

Administratively, landmark agreements have been negotiated with ISP and with Southeastern Conference television partners to guarantee future revenue streams and secure the financial base of the program in uncertain economic times.

Even the most optimistic outlook would have been hard pressed to foresee the level of success that the Razorback program would attain in such a short time after Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles in September of 2007. Before Long officially took the reins, the University of Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program.

Shortly after that announcement, Long was busy engineering the first coaching search of his tenure. Long not only found the next head football coach, he convinced Bobby Petrino, one of the most successful collegiate coaches in recent history, to return to the college game and to Arkansas. Long made four other head coaching hires in his first year and a half, including hiring men's track and field coach Chris Bucknam to be the successor for John McDonnell, the most successful NCAA Division I track and field coach in history. In addition, Long added head coaches Robert Pulliza (volleyball), Erin Aubry (soccer) and Mike Larabee

(softball) to the Razorback staff.

By the time, Long officially started his new position on Jan. 1, 2008, he had already accomplished a list of tasks vital to the short and long-term health of the Razorback program. He had begun the process of carefully blending the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and establishing a new administrative structure. Under Long's leadership, Arkansas revised policies governing class attendance, drug testing, the NCAA Opportunity fund as well as other compliance and business office procedures. The academic support services division was re-organized and a formal division of student life was created focusing on student-athlete development and community service.

Long was busy on external issues as well. In 2008, Arkansas returned to the classic Razorback logo and dropped the usage of Lady Razorbacks as a nickname for women's athletic teams. The new branding was featured in the launch of a new website ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

Long worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. Perhaps his most impressive accomplishment came when he brokered a new partnership with ISP to form Razorback Sports Properties. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal that will guarantee the Razorback program $73 million in the next 10 years.

A number of athletic facilities also saw a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of courtside seating, ribbon boards and a courtside club room. In the spring of 2009, Bogle Park, arguably the nation's best softball facility, was dedicated on the University of Arkansas campus.

Jeff Long announces the donation of $1 million to the University of Arkansas' general fund in the summer of 2008. University Chancellor Dr. G. David Gearhart (seated) indicated the effort by athletics was crucial to the University avoiding a tuition increase for the general student body for the first time in 24 years.

"We will provide opportunities for student-athletes to achieve their fullest potential academically, athletically, and socially, while competing successfully at the highest level."

Arkansas Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics Jeff Long

Arkansas' program flourished in Long's first year, finishing 24th in the NACDA Directors Cup, its best finish in nearly a decade. In his first full year at the helm, Arkansas scored a program record 730 points on its way to a 25th-place finish. The back-to-back top 25 Directors Cup finishes marked only the second time in school history the Razor-backs accomplished that feat.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to arriving at the University of Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators who oversaw the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America's most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now Southeastern Conference gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh. During his tenure, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers which returned the powerful "PITT" brand to the University of Pittsburgh. He established a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams and an agreement with ISP Sports.

Long's four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation's top programs, notably the Panthers' selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league's time of membership transition. Due in part to his leadership, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East's automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Responsible for the external affairs of the Sooners, he oversaw key brand areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and SoonerVision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. He made several revisions to the EKU athletic infrastructure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at EKU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at the University of Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and NC State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

From January to June 2009, Razorback Foundation staff visited with more than 11,000 people at 50 Razorback Club functions, ranging from chapter meetings to scholarship fundraising golf events hosted by local Razorback Clubs.

Tie 3rd, Men's College World Series

Regional Champion & NCAA Super Six

Regional Champion & SEC Champion

Five NCAA Regional Champions, four Southeastern Conference titles, one NCAA national championship runner-up and a third-place tie highlighted a season of athletic achievement for the University of Arkansas. Of the 19 Razorback teams, 14 made postseason team appearances.

It all added up to a record performance in the NACDA Director's Cup for the Arkansas Athletic Department in its first full season under Jeff Long. The Razorbacks were 25th in the 2008-09 standings, and second in the nation among programs with less than 20 sports.

The 25th place gives the Razorbacks their first back-to-back finishes in the NACDA top 25 since the mid-1990s.

Four Razorback teams reached the pinnacles of their sport tournaments, led by the baseball team's run to the College World Series and gymnastics' first-ever appearance in the Super Six.

Men's golf returned to the championship round, and powered its way through the match play to within a single putt of the NCAA Championship. The thrilling runner-up performance is the highest finish by men's golf in Razorback history. Men's and women's cross country advanced from the South Central Regional with the women taking the regional title. The women's tennis won their own regional first and second round event to repeat in the NCAA Championship with a finish in the round of 16. Softball and women's golf rounded out the Razorback teams advancing to the NCAA Regionals, while women's basketball reached the round of 16 in the Women's NIT.

Both track and field programs and the swimming and diving team scored national performances in their respective meets. Coming off a 2009 NCAA Mideast Regional team title, the Razorback men's track team placed ninth at nationals. The men were also eighth at the NCAA Indoors. Arkansas' women went 20th indoors and 29th outdoors. A record-setting season in the pool led the Razorbacks to a 27th finish at the NCAA Championships.

In conference, Arkansas captured the men's track and field sweep with both indoors and outdoors. Women's cross country added another running trophy to continue their dominance as the leading distance program in the SEC. Women's tennis repeated as the SEC Western Division champions in 2009.

Celebrating a Century of Razorbacks

The legend of the Razorback began after the turn of the century when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players "a wild band of Razorback hogs," after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on Nov. 13, 1909.

At the time, the university mascot was a Cardinal bird, matching the school's Cardinal and White colors.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team "a fighting band of Razorbacks." This new nickname became increasingly popular, and soon references to "razorbacks" began to appear in yearbooks and press accounts of athletic activities. By the following fall, the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

To mark the 100th year since Coach Bezdek's proclamation and the student body vote, the Athletic Department proclaimed a year-long series of events to highlight the start of Razorbacks during the 2009-10 academic year.

All 19 Razorback teams join in the departmentwide celebration with special logos on all uniforms and placed in all home venues.

There are dozens of Lions, Tigers and Bears, but in all of college athletics there is only one Razorback.
The distinctive logo of the Arkansas teams is officially known as the Classic Razorback, but is known to many fans as the Helmet Hog -- a fixture of the football team's helmet for almost half a century.

There are plenty of powerful mascots in college athletics, but none as unique as the Razorback. Not many school mascots have escaped from their homes, not once, but twice, to ravage the local country side. By their nature, the Razorbacks are hard to contain.

A Mascot Like No Other

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as "the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous.... He has a clear, farseeing eye."

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas' players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek's day, currently serves as the official live mascot.

Tusk II is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk II is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar's spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

"To sit in the stands now, I still get chill bumps every time."

1989 All-American offensive tackle Jim Mabry

on what it means to a Razorback to run through the "A"

Running Through The "A"

For Razorback football players, there is nothing to compare with entering the stadium for a home Arkansas game. The emotion of running through the "A" stays with a player for life.

Loyd Phillips won the Outland Trophy more than three decades ago. The veteran of the 1964 national championship team, Phillips remembers it like it was yesterday.

"The butterflies are flowing and you are [running], but it doesn't feel like your feet are even touching the ground," the 1966 Outland winner recalls.

Two-time Doak Walker Award winner and two-time Heisman runner-up Darren McFadden agrees.

"It is hard to describe the feeling you get as a Razorback player right before you take the field for a game," McFadden said. "You can hear more than 70 thousand fans calling the Hogs and can feel the excitement building. I will always remember that special feeling of running through the 'A'."

The Razorback Marching Band sets the stage by forming a huge "A" as they march the length of the field playing Arkansas Fight. When they finish, the "A" stretches from the Razorback locker room to midfield. To the roar of the crowd and the band blasting out Arkansas Fight, the current Razorbacks run onto the field through the "A," connecting them to generations of previous men in the Cardinal and White.

"Just to be able to run through that 'A' and hear the fans cheer for you is unbelievable," 1989 All-American offensive tackle Jim Mabry said. "To sit in the stands now, I still get chill bumps every time the band starts playing and I see the guys running out."

A Proper Hog Call

A chant of "Woo Pig Sooie" is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three "calls," slowly raising one's arms from the knees to above the head during the "Woo." Traditionalists prescribe an eight second "Woo." The fingers should be wiggled and the "Woo" should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the "Woo," both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, "Pig". The right arm is extended up and out with the "Sooie."

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Razorback teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a "Razor-Backs" yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third "Sooie." So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie! Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie! Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie! Razorbacks!

The Hog Hat

It is true; no Razorback fan's closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The original style was a hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail. The modern versions are often sculpted from softer material. Regardless, the Hog Hat is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay's Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.

Arkansas Fight

One of the first tasks of a new Razorback is learning to sing the University of Arkansas fight song. Arkansas Fight was written in the late 1920s. It is a unique tune, fitting of the only college in America with a Razorback mascot. Several other colleges have adapted the tune, but the lyrics remain unique to Arkansas.

Hit that line! Hit that line!
Keep on going!
Take that ball right down the field!
Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!
Never fear. Rah! Rah!
Arkansas will never yield!
On your toes, Razorbacks,
to the finish,
Carry on with all your might!
For it's A-A-A-R-K-A-N-S-A-S
for Arkansas!
Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-ight!

Razorback Spirit Squads

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls.

Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks com

The UA Alma Mater

Brodie Payne and Henry Tovey wrote the University of Arkansas Alma Mater in the early 1900s. They were inspired by the Ozark Mountain sunrise as it illuminated Old Main. Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty, Watches thy Soul from the mountains of God. Over the fates of thy children departed, Far from the land where their footsteps have trod.

Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
From those who adore unto one who adores us,

Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.

Fayetteville's famous Dickson Street is much more than a college hangout, adding upscale condominiums and specialty retail to its long-standing reputation as the center of entertainment and dining. From hosting major national events like Bikes, Blues and BBQ or serving as the final resting place for the goal posts after Razorback football upsets, one thing remains constant -- Dickson is the heart of what's happening.

Fayetteville

From Robert Redford to James Earl Jones, the University of Arkansas hosted numerous famous speakers in recent years. Ranging from political satirist, now Senator, Al Frankin to CNN's Anderson Cooper, and to former world leaders like George H. W. Bush to Israeli prime minister Ehud Barak we've also had one of our more famous former law professors speak several times, President Bill Clinton.

One of America's largest motorcycle events, Bikes, Blues and BBQ adds another weekend of fall excitement.

Fayetteville: Top 10 Town

Don't take our word for it. The largest city of the Northwest Arkansas routinely ranks top 10 in national surveys for quality of life. Here's just a few of the 2009 top 10's:

- #4 Best Places for Business and Career Forbes Magazine
- #6 Top College Sport Town Forbes.com
- #7 Best Places to Live, Work and Play Kiplinger's
- #9 Healthiest Housing Market National Builders

With over a 1/3 of a million residents in the two-county area, there's always something happening. And if not, Fayetteville is just hours away from major cities like Dallas, Kansas City, Memphis and St. Louis.
