BOGLE PARK

The Future of Arkansas Softball

BOGLE PARK

“IF YOU BUILD IT...”

We all know the rest of the saying ... “they will come.” That is certainly the hope and dream of the Arkansas softball program as they complete construction on Bogle Park, scheduled to open for the 2009 season.

The University recognized the official start of construction Oct. 26, 2007, and celebrates a “beam party” with the final steel beam put in place in early April 2008.

The playing field will again be one of the best in the nation but what will push Bogle Park to the pinnacle of similar facilities will be the amenities.

CONCOURSE ENTRY: One of the most striking design aspects of Bogle Park is the dramatic entrance on the concourse level. Upon entry, fans will see the field then descend down into the seating area. On the main concourse are concession stands, ticketing and marketing booths, along with restroom facilities for the general public.

IN THE FIELD: Bogle Park has the same dimensions as current Lady’ Back Yard – 200 yards down the foul lines and 220 yards in center field. One key difference is the field’s orientation. Currently, home plate sits in the northwest corner, looking out to the southeast. At Bogle Park the field turns 90 degrees so that home plate now sits in the southwest corner looking out to the northeast.

PRIME SEATING FOR ALL: Excellent site lines and comfortable seats are an emphasis in Bogle Park. All 1,200 seats in the primary stadium are chairbacks, with additional space along the berms – some 39,000 square feet – for fans that want to relax on the grass to take in a game.

FAMILY AREA IN LEFT FIELD: Not unlike one of the favorite family spots at Arkansas’ baseball facility, Baum Stadium, there is space for grilling and groups in the outfield area.

SKYBOXES FOR SOFTBALL: Back at old Lady’ Back Yard, some of the better seats were in the old field-level box seats from the days of baseball and George Cole Field. At Bogle Park, six modern skyboxes overlook the field. Each skybox has 12 outdoor chairback seats, and includes high speed internet and cable connections with audio feed from either the radio broadcast or stadium announcer.

THERE’S NO PLACE LIKE HOME: For the first time, the Lady Razorback softball team has its locker room at the venue. Until the opening of Bogle Park, Arkansas maintained its locker room in Barnhill Arena, walking down to the current facility at Lady’ Back Yard for practice or games.

IN THE CLUBHOUSE: The team has a 4,000-plus square foot dressing room complex that includes a team meeting area complete with video viewing area, a separate dressing area with lockers for team members, training room and coaches’ offices, and a separate officials locker room.

Bogle Park is made possible thanks to a lead gift from the Bogle family, several of whom were able to attend the dedication. Pictured (l-r): David and Tina Alexander, Marilyn Bogle and Ann Bogle McKenzie.

TRAINING FACILITY NEXT DOOR: Part of Bogle Park is an indoor practice and batting facility for the Lady Razorbacks. Located on the home field side of the stadium, the facility features roll-up doors and drop-down batting cage netting. It will house a full-size infield for team practices.

STATE OF THE ART MEDIA AREA: The press box includes separate booths for working media and game operations. With wireless and wired high-speed internet access, the enclosed main press area includes working space and support areas. In the game operations booth, the Lady’Backs included space for video control point for future scoreboard expansion and internet live streaming of games. The press box has a common area for press conferences and separate booths for home and visitor radio networks.

THE CONSTRUCTION TEAM: Nabholz Construction’s Ozark division will handle the construction of Bogle Park; Charles Nabholz, Roger McDaniels, Kent Doughty, Jon Pahl, Nick Nabholz and Bill Rossborough.

IF BOGLE PARK LOOKS FAMILIAR: The architects selected for Bogle Park are the same as the Bev Lewis Center for Women’s Athletics – Browning Day Mullins Dierdorf. The leads from BDMD are John

Some of the Lady’Backs at the ground breaking.

Lindstaedt, Dan McCloskey and Chad Lothamer.

THE ENGINEERS: McClelland Consulting Engineers is the civil engineer for Bogle Park; Wayne Jones, lead. The MEP engineers for the project are TME Consulting Engineers; Jay Mejia and Scott Weber. The structural engineers are Engineering Consultants; Frank Allison, lead contact.

FROM THE UA: University of Arkansas Facilities Management is represented by Mike Johnson, Bob Beeler, Dan Street and Jay Huneycutt. From Women’s Athletics, Julie Cain is the construction liaison and Sean Rochelle and Harley Lewis with development and gifts in kind.

CREDITS

The 2008 University of Arkansas softball media guide was written, designed and typeset by Deanna Werner with assistance from Associate Athletic Director Dr. Bill Smith and assistant communications director Jeri Thorpe. Photography by David Yerby, Walt Beazley, Russel Cothren and others. Printed by MultiAd in Peoria, Ill.

MEDIA INFORMATION

The Communications Office welcomes your interest in the Lady Razorback softball program. Any additional information, interviews or photos may be requested from the Communications Office, Room 102, in Barnhill Arena. Please note that all interviews with players and coaches must be arranged through the Communications Office. Phone interviews with out-of-town media are encouraged and can also be arranged. Coach Pinkerton and his staff are generally available in their offices weekdays between 9 a.m. and noon.

ON THE WEB

The official home page for the University of Arkansas Athletics Department begins its 11th year of full-time operation in 2007-08. LADYBACKS.COM is a one-stop source for fans and media members. All Communications Office press releases and statistics are posted on the web site as well as highlight video packages with post-game quotes. In addition, live stats are available for all games and live radio is available for many home and away contests. Arkansas will also provide fans with live video from select games. Point your browser to: LADYBACKS.COM.

CREDENTIALS

Media credentials for Arkansas softball events may be obtained by contacting Werner. Credentials may be picked up at 102 Barnhill Arena up to the day of the event or at media will call one hour prior to event time.

Members of the media are supplied with weekly press releases including updated individual and team statistics and information on upcoming events. On event days, the Communications staff will distribute event programs, individual and team stats and any pre-event information.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography credentials are issued to newspapers, wire services and special periodical publications on a first-come, first-served basis.

LIVE RADIO/TV

The University of Arkansas Athletics Department retains all copyrights to its home events. All visiting media must contact the Communications Office 48 hours prior to the game to make arrangements. Opponents may be subject to line charges as well as rights fees. The use of courtesy lines are at the discretion of the visiting SID. Others requesting a phone line should contact SBC directly. Requests for live or tape-delayed television rights should be made one week in advance, and in writing, to the Communications Office.

FACILITIES/PARKING

Lady'Back Yard is located on Stadium Drive adjacent to the football stadium. Please drop your athletes off at the South entrance in the parking lot of Lady'Back Yard before parking buses in the lot across the street from the field. Vans and cars may park in the softball lot but permits are required before 5 p.m. Parking permits are not required after 5 p.m., Monday-Friday, or weekends. If you will be in Barnhill during regular business hours, please make arrangements to receive a parking pass from assistant coach Aly Sartini as tickets may be issued.

Head Coach

2008 OUTLOOK

Entering his fourth season at the helm of Arkansas softball, head coach Jamie Pinkerton looks to build his program for the future. The Lady'Backs' new state-of-the-art softball stadium, Bogle Park, is due to be ready for the 2009 season.

"We're looking to build on the progress that we've made our last three years," said Pinkerton. "This is the first year we really have good talent and depth at every position and we have a good balance of players. With seniors in key positions, we'll be a more experienced and more successful team."

Seniors Samantha Buckner, Katy Henry and Dayna Huckabee lead the 2008 Lady'Backs on the diamond. This season features the return of 15 letterwinners, including nine starters. Nine newcomers are a welcome addition and are ready to step to the plate and contribute immediately.

PITCHERS

A key ingredient to Arkansas' success this year is its talented pitching staff. Katy Henry leads a squad of five, with two returners and two freshmen.

Henry was the go-to pitcher the last two seasons and the Lady'Backs look for her to continue her stellar play in 2008. In 51 appearances in 2007, she had 15 wins, including seven shut outs. Henry recorded a strikeout (224) in almost every inning pitched (230.1). She had the second most strikeouts in a season last year and is fourth on the career list with 567 K's.

"I'm looking for Katy to have a good senior year," said Pinkerton. "She has the experience and the desire to lead this team. She's fine-tuned some of her pitches and is going to be a good influence on the younger pitchers on this staff."

Brandy Baze

Southeastern Conference All-Freshman Team honoree Miranda Dixon had a tremendous freshman season last year and is only expected to get better. In 2007, Dixon made a name for herself both on the mound and at the plate. She recorded four wins and 92 strikeouts in 33 appearances. Dixon also led all Lady'Backs with seven home runs, tying the individual-season record.

"Miranda has a year under her belt and I expect good things," Pinkerton said. "She's a good compliment to Katy. They both have different approaches and different pitches. For the first time we have a true one and two in Katy and Miranda."

Sophomore Teighynne Hulsey rounds out the returners on the Arkansas pitching staff. Her time was limited in the circle last season due to injury, but Pinkerton expects good things from the Hulsey who tallied three wins in just 17 appearances last season.

"Teighynne brings something different to the table," he said. "She's very smart on the mound, picks her spots and mixes pitches well. She'll definitely be a compliment to the rest of our staff."

Newcomers Kim Jones and Layne McGuirt add even more talent on the mound. Kim Jones is a freshman and will see plenty of action in the circle. In high school, she had a career ERA of 0.47 with 398 strikeouts. McGuirt, another freshman, boasted a 0.39 ERA, struck out 309 and had a .484 batting average her senior season.

"Kim had a really great fall, exceeding our expectations," said Pinkerton. "I think she's coming into a good role. Once she gets her feet wet, she's going to be a very, very good pitcher."

"Layne has a couple devastating pitches and will really help out the staff," Pinkerton said. "Her forte this year is going to be coming in in a relief situation."

CATCHERS

Returning starter and junior Whitney Cloer is behind the plate for the Lady'Backs, with sophomore Jessica Waddle and freshmen Leslie Dixon and Amanda Caldwell adding depth.

Cloer started 63 games last year and was a mainstay behind the plate. She had the best slugging percentage on the team (.438) and was second with a .273 batting average. She is known for her defensive stops and her strong stick, and leads the team as one of four captains this year.

"Whitney is our strongest catcher and is going to hit in the middle of the order," said Pinkerton. "She's a leader on the team and that's what you need from behind the plate."

Waddle only started five games last season, but she does have a year of experience under her belt working with returning pitchers, Henry, Miranda Dixon and Hulsey.

"Jessica is very good defensive catcher and has made great strides from a year ago," Pinkerton said. "I wouldn't hesitate to put her in."

Lady'Backs celebrate after a home run by Miranda Dixon

Leslie Dixon was a four-year starting catcher and hit .444 her senior year. Caldwell broke the home run record at her high school and she was also the top academic athlete three years.

"Leslie is tough and has a knack for making the plays and making the right calls," said Pinkerton. "She'll provide us a needed depth at catching and is versatile enough to play other positions."

"Amanda is a freshman catcher that brings an enthusiasm to the game" Pinkerton said. "She communicates well and is a really hard worker."

INFIELD

Arkansas returns its entire infield from a year ago and welcomes the addition of sophomore Sandra Smith and five newcomers.

"It's an infield that for the first time I've been at Arkansas is upper-class dominated," said Pinkerton. "There's a maturity level there that we haven't had and I've seen that in the decisions they're making in practice. We're going to lean heavily on Buckner and Huckabee because they are seniors and they are captains."

Buckner started 64 games last season at first base and was one of the top defensive players with a .980 fielding percentage. Huckabee split her time between shortstop and third and is expected to start at shortstop this year. She set the career home run record and led the team in RBI.

"Defensively, Samantha is one of the top first basemen that I have coached," Pinkerton said.

"Dayna is one of the most highly respected players on the team," said Pinkerton. "She leads by example and she's come a long, long way since arriving here her freshman year from Texarkana, Ark."

Junior Kayla Johnson returns at second base as a faster and more experienced player.

"Kayla is getting better year by year," said Pinkerton. "This is a year that I'm looking for her to really step up in the infield."

Sophomore Brittany Robison and junior Brandy Baze continue to push their teammates and work hard for starting positions.

"Robison is pushing Huckabee and Johnson for a starting role," Pinkerton said. "Coming off of her knee injury last year, she's come back very determined and seems to be playing with more confidence."

"Baze is a very valuable part of this team," said Pinkerton. "She can play any infield position and can step in and do the job defensively."

Smith was out last season with a torn ACL and is projected to start at third base. According to Pinkerton, she is a welcome re-addition to the infield.

Lady'Backs meet in the infield

"Smith is one of the purest hitters on the team," he said. "It's going to be nice to have her back in the batting line-up."

Junior-transfer Amie Hubbard, redshirt freshman Hannah Cicioni and freshmen Lauren Chisom, Lauren Iverson and Emily Jones add depth to the infield and vie for playing time.

Hubbard joins the Lady'Backs after playing two years at Hutchinson Community College. Cicioni redshirted last season and was a two-time all-state honoree at Rogers High School. Chisom is a hard worker and all-state selection from Bentonville High School. Iverson batted .423 as a senior with 38 RBI and five home runs earning her first-team all-state honors. Emily Jones holds eight softball records at Joplin High School.

OUTFIELD

Arkansas' outfield returns three starters including sophomore Jessica Bachkora, and juniors Hillary Freeman and Jocelyne Moncrief. Bachkora is expected to start in center, Freeman in left and Moncrief in right.

Bachkora led the team in seven offensive categories last season, earning her SEC All-Freshman honors.

"Jessica is the leader in the outfield," said Pinkerton. "I'm looking for her to stay within herself and not try to do too much this year. She's very strong defensively, has a strong arm and runs well, and I look for her to have the same type of year as the last."

Freeman and Moncrief split time in left field last season and with the departure of Rachel LeMaster, last year's lone senior and starting right fielder, both players will get opportunities to start in the outfield.

"Hillary came in as a walk-on, pinch ran her first year, spot started last year and this year is a starter," Pinkerton said. "She's a hard worker and is one of our captains because she is what you want a student-athlete to be."

"I look for Jocelyne to bounce back from last year," said Pinkerton. "We've done some things with her offensively that we think will help her. Defensively, we know she's sound. She's going to make the plays and make the right decisions."

Junior Brandy Foust challenges for a position in the outfield. Sophomore Becca Carden redshirts this year.

"Brandy has worked her way into some playing time," Pinkerton said. "She's a very team-oriented person and has done anything that we've called upon her to do."

When not on the mound, Hulsey will see time in the outfield.

LADY'BACK YARD

Lady'Back Yard is arguably one of the best playing surfaces in the country for collegiate women's softball and there is no mystery behind the field's, and the team's, success: commitment.

The University of Arkansas added softball in 1996 with the first team taking the field in the spring of 1997. With the addition of the sport came the addition - actually renovation - of the field.

Renovation of the former George Cole Baseball Field, which was completely covered in AstroTurf, began in the fall of 1995 allowing the baseball team one final season of practice before moving to their new facility south of the University. Reconfiguration of the field included moving the fences and home plate, and removing the turf and replacing it with natural grass and a dirt infield.

Some of the significant changes involved in the renovation included shortening the existing 375-foot fences, making the distance from home plate to the backstop 30 feet, shortening the base paths from 90 to 60 feet and moving the mound from 60 feet, 6 inches to 43 feet.

The Bermuda grass overseeded with rye stretches 200 feet down the line and 220 in center to a fully padded six-foot wall in the outfield. The crimson stone infield leads up to sunken dugouts and seating for 2,000 fans including chairback box seats.

A four-room press box overlooks the enclosed stands and features central heat and air, a media room, a radio booth, announcers' booth and athletic director's private box with a walk-out porch. In addition, direct phone lines to the dugouts and an intercom system designed to keep media apprised of line-up changes and substitutions have been installed. The two-sided media area also has a walk-out porch and elevated television platform.

Arkansas never has to postpone a game because of darkness. The lighting system is not only bright enough for play, but it is designed to meet the needs of broadcast television.

Fans can take advantage of a full-service concession stand and restroom facilities while watching the Lady Razorbacks warm up in separate bullpens and a roofed batting cage.

Located in the heart of campus, Lady'Back Yard has exclusive lighted parking immediately adjacent to the stadium for 200 cars as well as additional parking surrounding The Yard and its lot.

Lady'Back Yard has seen some minor improvements over the past few years. Arkansas added additional fencing along the bullpen areas and has changed the infield slightly. There is a grass border in front of the dugouts and behind home plate.

Future improvements include the creation of a state-of-the-art stadium at a new location on campus. Chairback seating, a redesigned press box, skyboxes and fan amenities along the concourse are just a few of the scheduled upgrades.

Arkansas took over the former George Cole Baseball field for the 1996-97 season. The field saw major renovations including the movement of the outfield wall, new lights and modest improvements to the press box.

The new look for what is now Lady'Back Yard also included the addition of a locker room in nearby Barnhill Arena as well as use of Walker Pavilion for indoor hitting and drills.

JAMIE PINKERTON

Head Softball Coach Fourth Year

Jamie Pinkerton enters his fourth season as the head softball coach at the University of Arkansas. After three seasons at the helm, Pinkerton made great strides towards making the program successful and looks to continue building Lady Razorback softball into a high caliber team.

"We're looking to build on the progress that we've made our last three years," said Pinkerton.

Last season, Pinkerton saw his team set 14 different game, season and career records, including game records in most individual and team hits, individual triples, individual and team home runs and team runs, RBI and total bases; season records in most individual triples, individual and team home runs and team total bases; and career records in home runs and stolen bases.

"You have to have all the pieces of the puzzle to be successful," said Pinkerton. "The records we broke last year are pieces to the puzzle that show that we're getting more athletic and we're getting better."

The Lady'Backs new season home run record of 28 topped the previous record of 19 that Pinkerton's 2005 squad held. Arkansas' batting average also improved from .212 in 2006 to .225 in 2007.

Pinkerton guided two of his freshmen, Miranda Dixon and Jessica Bachkora to Southeastern Conference all-freshman honors.

In 2006, Arkansas recorded the fewest errors in school history. The Lady'Backs improved their win-loss record and lowered their ERA by 0.44.

The team had key upsets throughout the season defeating five top-25 teams, including No. 24 Iowa, No. 12 Georgia, No. 22 Mississippi State, No. 18 Auburn and No. 11 LSU twice. After a three-year absence from the SEC Tournament, the Lady Razorbacks made an appearance as the No. 7 seed.

The Arkansas offense improved in Pinkerton's inaugural season as the Lady'Backs' team batting average increased .048 points, and the team recorded its highest stolen base percentage in school history.

The Lady'Backs made history April 23, 2005, with their first-ever run-rule of an SEC opponent as Arkansas defeated Kentucky, 10-2, in six innings. Arkansas completed the three-game sweep with a 10-2 five-inning win on April 24, 2005, to give the Lady'Backs their first SEC sweep in three years.

The 2005 season also brought Arkansas its first all-SEC team selection since 2001 as Rachel LeMaster was voted to the second team.

In the classroom, Arkansas earned academic honors from the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) All-Academic Team. The 2006-07 Lady'Backs recorded a 3.22 team grade point average maintaining its GPA of a year ago (3.27). Arkansas' GPA ranked fourth in the conference and 45th in the nation. The Lady'Backs improved their team GPA and ranking from that in 2005, when the squad posted a 3.166 GPA.

Pinkerton said he was pleased that his team achieved success in the classroom and hopes to continue the Lady'Back tradition with the bats and books.

"We take great pride in our academic accomplishments," he said. "Since I arrived here it has been a focal point of our staff to make improvements in our team GPA and we look forward to maintaining the excellence."

When Pinkerton accepted the head coaching position with Arkansas, he returned to his roots. Pinkerton is a Fort Smith, Ark., native, who was the Tulsa Golden Hurricane head coach from 2001-04.

In his four years at Tulsa, Pinkerton was a two-time Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year at the school where he began his collegiate career as an assistant coach.

"I feel like I left home, but that I came home," he said. "I grew up as a Razorback fan, and it's special to be head coach at the University."

In addition to returning home, the challenge of the SEC was a major attraction for Pinkerton.

"It was the chance to coach in one of the top softball conferences in the nation," he said. "I looked forward to getting the program going and keeping it in the right direction, and to being in the NCAA's."

In his four years at Tulsa, Pinkerton turned the Hurricane into a winning program, including three straight 30-win seasons with two 40-win seasons. In 2004, Pinkerton guided Tulsa to a 45-18 finish and a WAC runner-up finish along with his second conference coach of the year award.

That same year, Pinkerton's squad posted its highest batting average of .281 with 79 doubles, 41 home runs and 151 walks. Defensively, the pitching staff tied its lowest ERA since 2002 with 1.35 ERA, giving up only 109 runs, 62 walks and striking out 316 batters.

The only coach in Tulsa history to post an overall winning record, Pinkerton finished with 140 wins and 105 losses and holds the program's record for the most wins in school history. Pinkerton also guided the Golden Hurricane to its first-ever national ranking at No. 25 in the USA TODAY/NFCA Poll in 2004.

At Tulsa, Pinkerton coached one College Sports Information Directors of America Academic All-American, four CoSIDA All-Academic District VI selections and 21 WAC All-Academic selections.

In his second season at Tulsa, Pinkerton made school history when he directed the 2002 team to its first winning season finishing 48-16. The 48-win season followed a 13-42 finish in Pinkerton's inaugural season. The 35-game improvement marked the second-best softball turnaround in NCAA history.

The 2002 squad also broke 62 school records. The Golden Hurricane transformation gave Pinkerton his first WAC Coach of the Year honor.

Pinkerton's crews became spoilers, defeating national contenders like Fresno State and Oklahoma.

His teams not only excelled on the field, but also in the classroom. His teams were among the nation's best in academics, with consistent grade point averages over 3.0.

Prior to becoming head coach at Tulsa, Pinkerton was an assistant coach at the University of Virginia from 1998-2000. While with the Cavaliers, Pinkerton's teams posted two runner-up finishes to Florida State in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament in 1999 and 2000.

Pinkerton's other coaching stints included graduate assistant coach at the University of Louisiana-Monroe in 1997-98, where he completed hours towards a master's degree.

In his first stay at the University of Tulsa, Pinkerton was an assistant coach in 1994-97 when the Hurricane won a total of 51 games. Pinkerton helped lead the Claremore-Sequoyah High School team to the 1994 state Class AA runner-up finish. As head coach of the Oklahoma Mustangs (ASA) in 1988-1994, Pinkerton coordinated recruiting, coaching, fundraising and traveling.

Pinkerton was born in Fort Smith, Ark., and grew up in Broken Arrow, Okla. He graduated from Tulsa in 1997 with a bachelor's degree in history and a minor in secondary education. Pinkerton and his wife, Dori, have two children, a daughter, Sarah, and a son, Dane. The Pinkertons reside in Fayetteville.

TIFFANY REDDING

Assistant Coach Fourth Year

Beginning her fourth season as a Lady Razorback assistant coach, Tiffany Redding continues her hard work on and off the field.

As the recruitment coordinator, Redding helped coordinate the campaign that garnered the Lady'Backs' seven newcomers to the 2006 squad, 10 to the 2007 team and eight to this year's lineup. In the staff's fourth recruiting class, Redding assisted with the signing of five high school seniors in November 2007.

On the field, Redding is the first base coach while working with the infielders. In addition to the recruiting efforts, she directs the team's camps and clinics. Redding managed the staff's first summer camp and winter clinic in which over 200 players participated.

Prior to Arkansas, Redding was an assistant with Pinkerton from 2002-04 at Tulsa, where she was also a four-year letterwinner at shortstop from 1997-2000.

Redding graduated in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and a minor in sociology. While at Tulsa, Redding ranked as TU's all-time leader in walks, assists, chances, runs, hits and at-bats. In 1998 and 1999, she was named Tulsa's defensive player of the year. Redding is one of four players in Tulsa history to have more than 100 putouts and 100 assists in two consecutive seasons.

Redding's academic standing was also recognized as she was named to the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) All-Academic Team in 1999 and the Western Athletic Conference All-Academic team in 1999 and 2000.

After graduating from Tulsa, Redding was a graduate assistant at the University of Virginia, where she earned her master's degree in kinesiology with an emphasis in sports psychology. At Virginia, Redding coached the Cavaliers' defense that finished 52-17 and set the school record for most wins in a season in 2001. During the 2002 season, Redding was the mental training coach for the team.

An Oklahoma native, Redding graduated with honors from Charles Page High School in Sand Springs, Okla. She is a member of the NFCA. Redding is pursuing her second bachelor's degree in physics.

ALY SARTINI

Assistant Coach Fourth Year

In her fourth season as a Lady Razorback assistant coach, former infielder Aly Sartini remains a vital component to the Arkansas team. Sartini has many different roles in the program including overseeing pitching, outfielders, scouting, academics, travel and assisting with administrative responsibilities.

During the past three years, Sartini was in charge of the pitching staff, including senior Katy Henry, who from 2005-07 led the team in strikeouts and innings pitched. Sartini saw Henry enter the Arkansas record book with a 15-strikeout performance against Louisiana-Monroe on Feb. 26, 2005, a mark that tied for the second-most strikeouts in a game. Henry matched that feat last year fanning 15 on Feb. 16, 2007 against Texas-San Antonio. With Sartini's guidance, Henry struck out 224 batters last season and 219 in 2006, which are the second and third most strikeouts in an individual season.

Before returning to Arkansas, Sartini was an assistant coach at Birmingham-Southern College in Birmingham, Ala., for three seasons.

At BSC, Sartini served as first base coach and worked with pitchers, catchers and slappers. In addition to her coaching duties, Sartini was academic coordinator, travel planner, camp director and manager of the Diamond Backers booster club for the BSC softball team.

In her four seasons as a Lady'Back, Sartini helped lead Arkansas to three Southeastern Conference tournament appearances and an NCAA Regional berth.

A member of the inaugural Lady'Back softball team, Sartini was named to the SEC All-Tournament team in 1999. She played second, shortstop and third for the Lady'Backs, and is third on the all-time list for assists. Sartini holds the record for most assists in an individual game and still ranks at the top of the record book for most walks and most sacrifice flies in a career, and for most RBIs, doubles, walks and at-bats in an individual game.

The Galt, Calif., native's coaching résumé also includes two seasons as an Arkansas student assistant where she was director of summer camps, infield and hitting instructor and academic coordinator for the Lady'Backs. Sartini also worked with the California Grapettes Fast Pitch Organization and numerous summer softball clinics and camps.

In 2002, Sartini graduated with a bachelor's degree in agriculture, food and life science with an emphasis in education, communication and technology. She is a member of the National Fastpitch Coaches Association.

SHANA

Manager
2nd Year

Shana Easley enters her second season as the Lady Razorback softball manager at the University of Arkansas.

Easley is a 2006 graduate of the University with a bachelor's degree in marketing.

A mainstay behind the plate for the Lady Razorbacks, Easley started 213 games in four years. She made only 21 errors in her career, putting her fourth on the all-time list with a .985 fielding percentage. Easley holds the Arkansas record for most putouts in a game.

At the plate, Easley finished second on the team in RBI in both 2005 and 2006. During her senior season, she finished first on the team in home runs and total bases and second in doubles. Easley also ranks at the top of the record book for most home runs in an individual season and in a career.

After graduating, Easley signed with the Arizona Heat of the National Pro Fastpitch League earning a .250 batting average with 52 at bats her first season.

A Loveland, Colo., native, she is the daughter of John and Valerie Easley and is pursuing her master's degree in sports management at Arkansas.

PAT KIES

Manager
2nd Year

Pat Kies enters his second season with the Lady Razorback softball team as the manager.

Kies brings with him five years of coaching experience in summer ASA softball where he coached 16A through 18 Gold. Kies' 18-Gold team had 15 players sign to play collegiate softball.

Kies assists with many aspects of the program including equipment, field maintenance, camps and clinics and administrative responsibilities.

A Kansas City, Mo., native, Kies is the son of Dennis and Barbara Kies. He is the youngest of three and is majoring in recreational sciences with an emphasis in community sports.

Athletic Trainer
First Season

Matt Lovelady joined the University of Arkansas Athletics Department as a graduate assistant in athletic training for the 2007-08 academic season. He works primarily with the Lady Razorback softball team.

Lovelady hails from nearby Bentonville, Ark., where he attended high school at Bentonville High lettering in basketball with the Tigers.

Lovelady earned his undergraduate degree in athletic training from Kansas in the summer of 2007. While with the Jayhawks, Lovelady worked with men's basketball, football and track and field.

Some of Lovelady's experience includes working the Bill Self KU Men's Basketball Team Camp as well as the Gatorade Team Camps in the Lawrence, Kan., area. Lovelady also lent his services to the Susan G. Komen three-day walk and served as a coach at the Baldwin City YMCA in Baldwin City, Kan.

Lovelady is the oldest of three children to Mark Lovelady and Travis and Debbie Riggs. He has a younger sister, Marisa, and younger brother, Garrett.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT SENIOR ADMINISTRATORS

Tracey Stehlik
Senior Associate
Athletic Director

Entering her 23rd year with the Arkansas Women's Athletics Department, Tracey Mays Stehlik was promoted to senior associate athletic director in 2004. Stehlik oversees compliance, operations and event management for the Lady Razorbacks. She joined the administrative side of the department in 1995, promoted to associate in 1997. Stehlik served as the meet director for the NCAA Indoor Championships for the past five years. As an assistant basketball coach, she recruited some of the greatest Arkansas players and helped lead UA to back-to-back Southwest Conference titles. She has the distinction of scoring the first point in Alabama-Birmingham women's basketball history as a member of the first Blazer team. She and husband, Wayne, have two daughters, Mollie and Maggie.

Julie Cain
Associate AD for Sports Medicine
and Special Projects

Julie Cain begins her 14th season with the Lady Razorbacks. Promoted to Associate Athletic Director in the spring of 2007, Cain added responsibility for most of the building and renovation projects for the Lady'Backs while still serving as the head athletic trainer. Starting in 2004, Cain also serves as the facilities coordinator for the department responsible for all Lady'Back buildings. A 1985 graduate of the University of Illinois, she restructured the sports medicine department, including the expansion of the existing training room. Prior to Arkansas, Cain was an assistant athletic trainer at the University of Texas. While at Texas Cain worked with several world-class and Olympic athletes as well as the 1988 volleyball, 1989 track and 1991 swimming national championship teams.

Kim Harter
Associate AD
for Business

Kim Harter starts her 17th year with the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department as the business manager. Starting with the Lady'Backs in 1991, she was promoted to Associate Athletic Director in 1996. As the first associate AD for business affairs in the Women's Department, she has set procedures for all financial aspects of the department. A University graduate, Harter, a certified public accountant, graduated cum laude from the College of Business as a returning student. She worked in a CPA firm for two years and was the manager of a financial institution for 13 years prior to joining the Lady Razorback staff. She and husband Lance (the UA women's track and cross country coach) have five children: Jeff, Meagan, Alison, Christie and Josh.

Melissa Harwood-Rom
for Student Affairs

Joining the University in 1989 as its first full-time academic counselor for Women's Athletics, Melissa Harwood-Rom is an Arkansas alumna. She currently works with academic eligibility and assists with student affairs for the department. She earned her degree with honors in English in 1979. She completed a master's in English at Oklahoma State, then finished a second master's in economics at Washington State. Her husband, Dr. Curt R. Rom, is a professor of horticulture at the University. The Roms have two daughters, 14-year-old Zoe, and 11-year-old Clio.

Chris Pohl
Associate AD
for Marketing and Promotions

Chris Pohl begins her sixth year with the Lady Razorbacks as the director of the marketing and promotions program for all 11 Lady Razorback sports. She is the first associate AD charged with promotion for women's sports. Pohl spent 11 years with the NCAA prior to Arkansas, and was best known as the NCAA's staff liaison to the Division I Women's Volleyball Championship and the Division I Softball Championship. A 1981 graduate of Central Michigan where she also played on the Chippewa's women's basketball team, Pohl earned her master's degree in 1984 from Penn State.

Bill Smith
Associate AD
for Communications

Beginning his 19th season at Arkansas, Bill Smith was promoted to associate athletic director in September 1999. He coordinates all publications and public relations for the Lady Razorbacks. An internet pioneer, Smith took Arkansas on-line in 1994 and continues as the lead designer and manager for ladybacks.com. He also started the first radio network and television show for Women's Athletics. Smith joined UA after four years as assistant SID at Northeast Louisiana. His publications at NLU and Arkansas have earned over 30 regional and national awards, including 11 Best in the Nation from CoSIDA. A 1984 journalism graduate of NLU in 1984, he earned his master's at NLU in 1989 and his doctorate at Arkansas in 1999. Smith and his wife Libby have two children, son Will and daughter Ashley.

DeeDee Campbell
Assistant AD
for Academics

Beginning her fourth year as a full-time staff member, DeeDee Brown-Campbell was promoted to assistant athletic director during the summer of 2006. Brown-Campbell oversees the academic center and supervises the Lady'Backs' staff of academic assistants with each team. She also administers the department's tutoring program, focus (study hall) hours and fifth-year and summer school programs. In addition, she is the director for the HAWGS Life-Skills program for the Women's Athletics Department. The former Arkansas heptathlon all-American, she was hired full time in January 2004 as the assistant director of academic support, and promoted to director in the summer of 2004. She married Razorback football player Marcus Campbell in 2005, and the couple are expecting their first child.

Sean Rochelle
Assistant AD for Development

Sean Rochelle joined Women's Athletics as the director of development in February 2007 and was promoted to assistant AD in August. A former associate director for corporate and foundation relations, Rochelle oversees the Lady Razorback Foundation and coordinates other outreach activities. Prior to Arkansas, Rochelle spent the past five years at Azusa Pacific where he was the chair of the department of exercise and sport science. A two-time academic all-America quarterback at Arkansas-Monticello, Rochelle was recently inducted into the UAM Sports Hall of Fame. Before shifting to an academic and administrative career, Rochelle served as a graduate assistant football coach at UA and Clemson and an assistant coach at UAM and APU. He earned his bachelor's degree from UAM, then received his masters in 1989 and his Ed.D. in 1999 at UA. Rochelle and his wife, Caroline, have two daughters, Abigail and Ellison.

A LEADER FOR WOMEN FROM THE BEGINNING

Arkansas' first graduating class in 1876 had nine students, four of whom were women, a very high percentage for the age. One, Nettie Barnett Barnes, is honored with a special plaque in the entrance of Old Main, the original building of the University. The inscription reads: "In the spirit of Arkansas, with her diploma in the saddlebags, she rode off on a mule to her first teaching assignment."

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT SUPPORT STAFF

Jennifer Jallo
Assistant Athletic Trainer

Jennifer Jallo joined the University of Arkansas in fall of 2002 as the primary athletic trainer for gymnastics and supervises training room support for the swim and soccer teams. She has extensive national and international experience, working at Bela Karolyis Ranch in Huntsville, Texas, where she worked with the USA national and international elite gymnastics teams. Jallo recently traveled in support of US athletes in the Far East in 2007. Prior to Arkansas, Jallo worked at Oklahoma State and Lehigh. A 1997 graduate of North Dakota with a bachelor's degree in athletic training, Jallo attended Michigan State for her master's degree.

Jeremy Braziel
Assistant Athletic Trainer

Jeremy Braziel begins his second year at Arkansas, working with women's basketball and golf, plus overseeing the Lady'Back equipment room. He joined UA from Tennessee-Martin where he handled football and served as an adjunct instructor. Braziel performed graduate work at Ohio State towards his master's degree in allied health management where he worked with the women's ice hockey and volleyball teams. A 2000 graduate of Oklahoma State, Braziel also worked with several professional football teams including the Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles, but perhaps his most unique resume line was NFL Europe as trainer for the Scottish Claymores. Braziel and wife, Diana, live in the Fayetteville area.

Marcus Campbell
Assistant Strength Coach

Marcus Campbell joined the Lady Razorback strength and conditioning staff in January of 2006 but he is no stranger to the Razorbacks. Campbell's responsibilities include implementing strength and conditioning workouts for all 11 women's athletics teams. A two-sport athlete at Arkansas in football and track, Campbell played professional football for the Baltimore Ravens as a free agent in 1998-99. After retiring from football, Campbell held a congressional internship under Congressman John Boozman and worked in loss prevention at Wal-Mart. Campbell earned his bachelor of arts in criminal justice from UA in May 2005. He is married to Assistant Athletic Director for Academics Deedee Campbell.

2007 Season Review

2007 SEASON REVIEW

Under the direction of head softball coach Jamie Pinkerton, the 2007 Lady Razorbacks will be remembered in the Arkansas record book setting several game, season and career records.

For the first time in program history, the Lady'Backs hit three home runs in three different victories – March 4 against Louisiana-Monroe, March 18 versus Nebraska and April 18 against Louisiana Tech. The last time Arkansas hit three home runs in a game was at Hofstra, March 7, 1997.

In an 8-5 win over Louisiana-Monroe, Miranda Dixon marked a new Lady'Back Yard record, hitting two of the three homers that game. Cloer also hit two homers in a 5-4 win at Nebraska.

The most exciting three-home-run game was in Sherwood, Ark., on April 18. Samantha Buckner, Brittany Robison and Teighynne Hulsey launched back-to-back-to-back home runs in the sixth inning against Louisiana Tech, lifting the Lady'Backs to a 5-4 come-from-behind win.

Dixon led all Lady'Backs tallying seven home runs and setting the individual season home run record. Dayna Huckabee and Cloer followed right behind her launching six apiece.

The 2007 team set the single-season home run record smashing 28 balls over the fence. The previous record was 19 set in 2005. In addition, Huckabee set the career home run record launching with her 13th homer in a win against Mississippi State on May 4. Jen Cirigliano (1997-2000) held the record before with 12.

Arkansas did not just hit home runs. Jessica Bachkora set the game and season triple records, while the Lady'Backs were second in the single season team record with 13. Bachkora hit two triples against Missouri on Feb. 25 and totaled five on the year. Up to that time, Danica White hit four triples in 2002.

In the Kentucky series, Arkansas set a number of different school records. In the first game of the series, the Lady'Backs tied the game records for most runs scored (14) and most hits (19), and broke the record for most runs batted in (14). The previous record of 19 hits was in a 19-inning contest against Alabama in 1999, while the 2007 Lady'Backs tallied 19 hits in just seven innings.

During that same game, Cloer broke the game record for most hits with five. Cloer was 5-for-5 with four RBI, two runs, two doubles and one home run. Six different Lady'Backs have had four hits in a game, one of whom was Dixon against Louisiana-Monroe last season. Both Cloer and Dixon set a game record with 10 total bases in those contests. The team tallied a record-high 29 total bases against Kentucky.

On April 1, Arkansas swept Kentucky in its only Southeastern Conference sweep of the year. Pinkerton picked up the 200th win of this career as a Division I head coach in the final game of the series.

Rachel LeMaster finished her career at Arkansas as the holder of the career stolen base record. LeMaster had 75 stolen bases in four years, breaking the previous record held by Dana Gulick from 1997-2000. LeMaster also finished second on the career list for most hits with 219. The current record is 224 held by Danica White.

Katy Henry fanned 224 batters last year, putting her second for most strikeouts in a season. Henry now holds the second and third (219) spots for most strikeouts in a season.

Bachkora led the Lady'Backs offensively the entire season and finished the year with team highs in batting average, runs, hits, double, triples and on-base percentage.

Bachkora and Dixon's accomplishments did not go unnoticed as they were named to the SEC All-Freshman Team at the end of the season.

"You have to have all the pieces of the puzzle to be successful," said Pinkerton. "The records we broke are pieces to the puzzle that show we're getting more athletic and we're getting better. The program's headed in the right direction. We've got the foundation and I expect a lot of good things out of this team next year."

All Lady Razorback records are listed under the athletes' name at the time the record was achieved. This includes the letterwinner list. Many of our former athletes have changed their last names after marriage. This policy of "Your name when you did it" is to prevent confusion. The exception to the rule comes when an athlete marries and changes her name during her Arkansas career. This applies to Blaire Woodward-Perry and Danica Howlett-White.

THE SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE - SETTING THE STANDARD FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS IN SOFTBALL

In only its 12th year of existence, SEC softball continues to grow as a national force in collegiate softball.

The Southeastern Conference qualified seven teams for the 2007 NCAA Tournament - Alabama, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Mississippi State, South Carolina and Tennessee as the conference made its 10th overall, fifth consecutive, Women's College World Series appearance. A record five teams advanced to the Super Regional rounds and Tennessee led the charge all the way to the Championship series of the World Series. History was made as the Lady Vols became the first SEC team to advance to the Championship Series and was part of the most-viewed WCWS game on TV. As the runners-up, Tennessee finished the season ranked No. 2, the highest ever by an SEC team.

Tennessee was the SEC Regular Season Champion as LSU claimed the SEC Tournament Championship. The Lady Vols' Ralph and Karen Weekly were named SEC Co-Coach of the Year, while India Chiles earned SEC Player of the Year honors. Four-time All-American Monica Abbott of Tennessee earned SEC Pitcher of the Year, while teammate Lindsay Schutzler earned SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year honors. Mississippi State's Chelsea Bramlett was tabbed SEC Freshman of the Year.

With seven teams, the SEC trailed only the PAC-10, with eight, that advanced to the 2007 NCAA Tournament.

Softball came under the auspices of the Southeastern Conference in the 1996-97 season. Since that time, nine different conference teams have made appearances in the NCAA Championship, including four teams earning Women's College World Series berths - one by South Carolina in the inaugural season, Alabama in 2000 and 2005, LSU in 2001 and 2004 and Tennessee in 2005, 2006 and 2007.

Eight teams (Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Mississippi State, South Carolina and Tennessee) have made Top 25 appearances and four teams have climbed into the Top 10 (Alabama, Georgia, LSU and Tennessee) of the NFCA/USA Today Poll. At least one SEC team has been ranked in the poll each week since the inception of SEC Softball. In 1999 alone, SEC teams made 29 appearances in the poll.

SEC NOTES

- 55 NCAA Regional Appearances.
- Ten Women's College World Series Appearances.
- 145 NCAA Wins (includes Regional, Super Regional and WCWS).
- A league-record five teams advanced to the NCAA Super Regional rounds in 2007
- Nine different SEC teams have played in the NCAA Softball Championships.
- SEC Teams have been ranked in every NFCA/USA Today poll since the inception of SEC softball.
- SEC teams have made 111 Top 10 appearances in the NFCA/USA Today poll.
- SEC teams have won 555 games over Top 25 opponents in the past seven years.
- The SEC has made 44 appearances on FOX Sports Net South, including the last eight SEC Tournament Championship Games.
- Game three of the WCWS Championship finals between Tennessee and Arizona was the most watched WCWS game on TV in NCAA history. With more than 1.6 million households, and a 1.8 rating, it marks the most-viewed NCAA WCWS game on ESPN or ESPN2.
- 2007 marks the first time that three SEC Teams have been ranked in the top six heading into the NCAA Tournament.
- Tennessee's No. 2 ranking in the final USA Today/NFCA.

Welcome to Arkansas

Fulbright Peace Fountain

Few have promoted education as the late Senator J. William Fulbright; few have understood that it is the key to peace as well as prosperity. To achieve his twin goals of promoting international understanding and academic endeavor, Sen. Fulbright authored legislation to create the Fulbright Exchange Program. The world's largest and most prestigious educational exchange program, it has literally changed the world. In honor of the man and his mission, the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences created the Fulbright Peace Fountain. Designed by noted architect E. Fay Jones, the 41-foot-tall bronze tower stands outside Old Main as a lasting remembrance of the former senator and UA chancellor. Nestled into the alcove formed by Old Main stands a bronze statue of Fulbright looking toward the fountain. President Bill Clinton (right) presided at the dedication.

The Un

Old Main

The original building of Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Some 130 years after it began, Old Main was finished in 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the 21st Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower. The new clock was dedicated in the spring of 2006, coinciding with the end of the $1 billion fund raising campaign.

As mentioned, Old Main shared plans with its counterpart at the Illinois-Champaign campus. The difference was the north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

University of Arkansas

A nationally competitive, student-centered research university serving Arkansas and the world.

A billion dollars changes everything.

The Campaign for the Twenty-First Century raised just over $1 billion for the University of Arkansas' endowment funds.

New buildings, new endowed chairs, new programs, even a new college.

As the university sees the dawn of a new century, the face of the campus changes with the investment made by thousands of individuals who see a bright future for Arkansas.

The heart and soul, however, remain the same, untouched like the charming facade of the university's original building, Old Main. The exterior received a cleanup in 2006, and a long-ago promise of a clock is fulfilled. Beneath the new brick and facing, the building remains unchanged, a testament to the core stability of the state of Arkansas' flagship institution since 1871.

In the past, the national championships most associated with the University of Arkansas involved athletics. In the last few years, Arkansas became a national leader, but this time against a field of America's most prestigious universities.

In June 2005, the University completed the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century resulting in one of the largest endowments for a public university -- $1 billion. It included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy with a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

One of the benchmarks to college education is the annual US News and World Report "Best Colleges" issue. The 2005 edition moved the University of Arkansas into its top level of the leading institutions of higher learning in the United States. The peer review and data-driven survey had Arkansas at 120th overall, putting the University into the top tier for the first time in school history.

In addition, the Sam M. Walton College of Business ranked 24th place among the nation's top public undergraduate business schools, according to the 2006 US News. Adding to the good news, the College of Engineering was ranked for the first time.

Arkansas enjoyed record enrollment the past several Fall semesters. Arkansas edged even closer to the 18,000 mark with a record attendance of 17,938 students in classes for the Fall 2006 semester.

Since the turn of the 21st Century, Arkansas has brought home more than its share of the nation's most prestigious undergraduate awards. In fact, the University of Arkansas was the only public or private institution in the country to have Rhodes, Marshall, Goldwater, Udall, NSF and James Madison recipients in the same year in 2001-02, and continues each year to add to the overall total of the highly competitive post-graduate awards.

We Prepare Students to Succeed

At the University of Arkansas, we strive for excellence in everything we do, and we achieve it with nationally ranked academic programs as well as with our athletic teams.

Here, successful students will join with other graduates succeeding as major media executives, scientists, engineers, teachers, writers and Olympians.

Walk through campus on Senior Walk. It features the names of all our graduates - more than 115,000 of them. You will immediately feel connected to the pride, quality and tradition that go with an Arkansas degree.

World-class faculty

At Arkansas, excellence begins in the classrooms and laboratories. Faculty members value research and the creation of knowledge, knowing that investigating the unknown translates into first-rate teaching. They publish nearly 100 books each year, participate in conferences around the world, file patents for their innovative projects and win prestigious honors and awards.

World-class facilities

Over $600 million in construction projects have reached completion, are beginning construction or are on the books at the University of Arkansas in the past decade. Our complexes range from

The link to the past

that lives on today

Senior Walk

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. As UA enters the 21st Century, Senior Walk stretches over five miles of campus sidewalks. The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

splendidly equipped anthropology labs to high-tech robotics, semiconductor and laser facilities.

Broad range of degrees

At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

Seven Colleges, One University

The University has seven colleges to provide a wide range of majors:

Fine arts in some of the most modern facilities in the region at the Walton Arts Center to the famous Edward Durrell Stone Fine Arts Center.

Humanities programs from communications and history to philosophy, English and foreign languages taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

Science programs engaging in research projects from experimenting with squeezed light to improve the accuracy of atomic clocks to computer algorithms that may someday create a genetic map of every person.

Whether students choose history or chemical engineering, the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

Fulbright College of Arts & Sciences

The J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences, named after former University President and U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, offers degrees in the liberal arts, which span everything from ancient Egyptian dynasties to the latest discoveries in nanotechnology. It was Fulbright College students who uncovered the world's largest nautiloid fossil, an eight-foot specimen that lived 325 million years ago, in a culvert near Fayetteville.

Our graduates are known throughout the world. We can thank alumnus Robert Maurer for the revolution in communications made possible by his invention of fiber optic cable.

The College consists of 19 departments in the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. Our flourishing honors program is built on the continuing success of our students. They regularly win competitive national awards, such as Marshall Scholarships, Barry Goldwater Scholarships, and NSF Fellowships. The College offers the premier Sturgis Fellowship for undergraduates.

Highly rated programs include physics, creative writing and translation, history, and chemistry. Students work alongside accomplished faculty in several research centers as varied as spatial technologies, space and planetary sciences, and Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies, and protein structure and function.

The College mission is taken from the writings of Fulbright: "the highest function of higher education is the teaching of things in perspective, toward the purposes of enriching the life of the individual, cultivating the free and inquiring mind, and advancing the effort to bring reason, justice, and humanity into the relations of men and nations."

Sam M. Walton College of Business

The Sam M. Walton College of Business is ranked among the top 25 public university business schools in the United States. Named in appreciation of the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation's generous gift of $50 million in 1998, the Walton College is positioned to become one of the premier business schools in the nation.

The Walton gift joins the $7.8 million from the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation for a conference and research center built in 1999, and the $8 million received in 2003 from the Willard and Pat Walker Charitable Foundation for the Willard J. Walker Hall, the new state-of-the-art business building, which opened in summer 2007.

Established in 1926, the Walton College has been accredited by the AACSB International since 1931. The college has six departments: accounting, economics, finance, information systems, management, and marketing and logistics, and offers five master's programs, including the MBA, and two Ph.D. programs. In the fall of 2003, the Walton College introduced an innovative new business curriculum that integrates the business disciplines and better prepares its student for jobs. By connecting accounting, economics, finance, information systems, marketing and logistics, and management, students see the big picture instead of silos. The college seeks to provide each student with experiences in and out of the classroom that simulate actual business so they are prepared for real-world opportunities.

The Walton College has a three-fold mission: teaching -- educate a diverse population of students in bachelor's, master's, and doctoral programs to be tomorrow's business, community, and academic leaders; research -- discover and disseminate knowledge through research to support excellence and innovation in organizations; and service -- share business expertise in support of the state, the professions, and the academic community.

Honors College

One of the major benefits of the $300 million Walton gift was the dedication of $200 million for the Honors College to fund undergraduate UA Honors College fellowships ($50,000 for four years), to establish special study abroad and undergraduate research opportunities, and to support outstanding faculty in their research and honors teaching efforts.

The UA Honors College serves all undergraduate majors. Honors students enjoy small classes, priority registration, special housing, increased interaction with faculty, and enhanced opportunities for hands-on research.

Within the College, the Scholarship Office and the Office of Post-Graduate Fellowships provide additional services. Promising high school seniors are assisted with their applications for the many available Sturgis, Bodenhamer, Boyer, and UA Honors College fellowships as well as Chancellor's and University scholarships.

The College of Engineering

You're competitive. You like a challenge. And you like being part of a team. Sounds like you're a perfect fit with the College of Engineering at the University of Arkansas.

Why choose engineering? It's a broad, flexible field full of diverse options. You might choose to work in a corporation, pursue entrepreneurial research or apply your engineering background to a career in law, medicine or business. Whichever career you choose, your engineering degree will train you to analyze situations and solve problems. You'll also be highly employable, with starting salaries for engineers averaging between $40,000 and $50,000.

Why choose the College of Engineering at the University of Arkansas? We're the only comprehensive engineering program in the state that offers undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees in seven different disciplines. We're also ABET-accredited, which means that your degree is recognized and respected by industry and academia.

Our low student-to-faculty ratio (16 to 1) results in plenty of one-on-one coaching opportunities. Even as an undergrad, you'll work elbow to elbow with nationally and internationally recognized faculty and researchers. And Women in Engineering, our thriving mentoring program designed specifically for female engineering students, will help you develop lasting relationships and friendships.

The 2,000 students, 15,000 alumni and 200 faculty and staff members are passionately pursuing our goal of becoming and being perceived as one of the top-tier graduate and undergraduate engineering programs in the United States. We'd love for you to join our team.

College of Education & Health Professions

The College of Education and Health Professions prepares the professionals who touch people's lives every day – teachers, coaches, nurses, speech pathologists, counselors, school administrators and health science, exercise and recreation specialists. Students are involved in the community, such as when nursing majors teach elementary children about health care.

Students enjoy hands-on learning in partnerships with local school districts and through research with faculty members. Research includes examining school reform questions, studying treatment methods to reduce hospital stays for chronic diseases and learning about language acquisition by children.

Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food & Life Sciences

Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences offers majors for students interested in plants or animals, the natural environment or the human environment.

It includes the School of Human Environmental Sciences, with popular majors such as Apparel Studies; Foods, Nutrition and Hospitality; and Interior Design.

Equine courses attract students from many different majors. A Pre-Vet option is offered in both Poultry Science and Animal Science.

Bumpers College has majors for students who want to solve environmental problems as well as those preparing for the great variety of careers in the agricultural and food industries.

An Honors Program and Global Studies Program provide opportunities for students to spread their wings.

School of Architecture

With the only accredited programs in architecture and landscape architecture in the state, the School of Architecture combines the traditional models of professional studio design education with innovative teaching in history and theory, technology and urban design.

In addition to training students for professional practice in architecture and landscape architecture, the school's programs also prepare individuals for careers ranging from city planning to historic preservation. International study programs in Rome and Mexico City allow our students to experience diverse cultures first hand.

Located in historic Vol Walker Hall and Memorial Hall, the School of Architecture was home to the late Fay Jones, recipient of the prestigious AIA Gold Medal and many other honors. Among his most famous works are Thorncrown Chapel in Eureka Springs and Cooper Chapel in Bella Vista. Today, students may gain hands-on planning experience at the school's award-winning community design center. Garvan Woodland Gardens, the school's botanical garden in Hot Springs, serves as a living laboratory for the school's landscape architecture department.

Fayetteville's famous Dickson Street is much more than a college hangout, adding upscale condominiums and specialty retail to its long-standing reputation as the center of entertainment and dining. From hosting major national events like Bikes, Blues and BBQ or serving as the final resting place for the goal posts after Razorback football upsets, one thing remains constant -- Dickson is the heart of what's happening.

Fayetteville

Fayetteville has something for everyone. The over 60,000 residents of Fayetteville and the more than 17,000 students at the University of Arkansas have found this Northwest Arkansas city in the Ozark Mountains to be a special place to live and work as do the thousands of tourists who visit each year.

Washington County, with a population close to 200,000 including Fayetteville, is just one part of the fastest growing section of the state. It is the diversity and what the residents call the "quality of life" in Fayetteville and the surrounding Northwest Arkansas area that make the area so popular. Considered one of the fastest growing regions in America, Northwest Arkansas has a population closing on half a million residents.

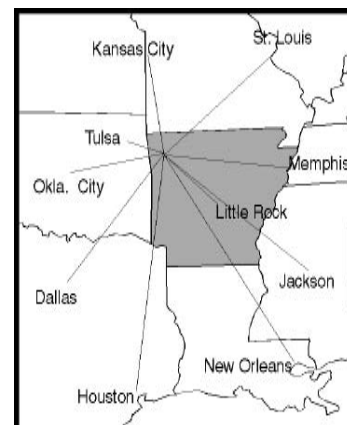

One of America's largest motorcycle events, Bikes, Blues and BBQ brings hundreds of thousands to Dickson Street each fall to celebrate three classic American traditions, including the master of American blues guitar, B.B. King.

Fayetteville constantly ranks high in the national surveys of great places to live ranging from "Top 10 Towns to Raise a Family" to Money magazine's 300 best cities to USA TODAY's Top 10 Fastest-Growing Areas to Rand McNally's Places Rated Almanac.

The breathtaking scenery around Fayetteville, from Mount Sequoyah near downtown to Beaver Lake just minutes away, sets the tone. The lakes and streams offer great places for outdoor events during the summer months. The beautiful foliage in the fall brings thousands of visitors each season to the All Seasons Trail. The surrounding mountain ranges allow opportunities for all ages with major state and national park areas, including the famous Ozark Highlands Trail.

Fayetteville has a potpourri of activities during every month of the year. The seasonal festivals -- SpringFest, Bikes, Blues & BBQ and Lights of the Ozarks -- bring large crowds to Fayetteville each year.

Fayetteville is just minutes from...

Located in the Northwest corner of Arkansas, Fayetteville is just a short drive away from several of the area's finest attractions. Fayetteville is a 20-minute drive from several points on Beaver Lake with more than 500 miles of shoreline for boating, water-skiing, fishing, swimming and camping. Devil's Den, a unique state park, offers camping, cabins, caving, hiking and fishing in the Boston Mountains.

And if it's big-city excitement you want, Dallas is just six hours away, with Kansas City a three-hour drive, Oklahoma City just 3 1/2 hours, Memphis five hours and St. Louis six hours. Other metropolitan areas like Chicago or Nashville are within a day's drive.

Campus Life at Arkansas

It could be a quiet day at the famous Fayetteville downtown Farmer's Market (left) or the unparalleled excitement of a sell-out crowd for Razorback football games at Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Home of the Pig Screen

TV -- your chance as students to be on one of the largest Smartvision video scoreboards in the world, Reynolds Razorback holds 75,000 for Fayetteville games. Whether it's the crowd (right), tailgating in The Gardens or ESPN GameDay, there's something special about football games in Fayetteville.

And, some pretty famous former UA law professors also visit campus

From Robert Redford (left above) to James Earl Jones (left below), the University of Arkansas hosted numerous famous speakers in recent years. Ranging from political satirist Al Franken to former Israeli prime minister Ehud Barak, Women's Athletics Department's Barnhill Arena is the site of the majority of the University Programs events on campus.

You Can Get There from Here

Fayetteville is direct from coast-to-coast; one stop to the world

A former coach at Arkansas once joked that Fayetteville wasn't at the end of the world, but you can see it from here.

Well, that thinking is so 20th Century. The days of small planes and multiple connections are long over at Arkansas.

Opening in 1998 with the landing of Air Force One's 747, Northwest Arkansas Regional Airport is one of America's newest major airports. With its 8,800-foot main runway complete with a Category I instrument landing system, NW Arkansas Regional is served by six major airlines -- American, Continental, Delta, Northwest, United and U.S. Air.

Known by its airport code as XNA, NW Arkansas Regional gives the University of Arkansas one of the best hometown airports in the Southeastern Conference with non-stop service to every US time zone.

With three more non-stop flights added in 2007 -- Washington, DC, Miami and Raleigh -- XNA has direct jet service to the four largest cities in the nation -- New York, Los Angeles, Chicago and Houston. In addition, there is direct service to major metropolitan areas including Atlanta, Charlotte, Cincinnati, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Memphis, Minneapolis, Newark, Orlando, St. Louis and Salt Lake City.

Over a million passengers traveling through XNA last year, and the constant expansion at XNA has resulted in a doubling of gates and a tripling of flights and seats since the airport opened. Combined with its direct flights to virtually every major city or airline hub in the United States, almost every destination in America -- and many world-wide -- is just one connection away from Fayetteville.

Dr. John A. White, Chancellor

A native Arkansan and University of Arkansas graduate, Dr. John A. White said he returned to his alma mater to do all he could to "make a difference" for the state which had done so much for him and his family. After a decade at the helm of the state's flagship institution, White has changed Arkansas forever.

With an ambitious agenda from the moment he was named chancellor, White's main goal is to realize the university's vision of becoming the nationally competitive, student-centered research university Arkansas needs and deserves in the 21st century. In reaching that goal he seeks to enhance the university's academic reputation nationally and ensure that the university is the economic and cultural engine for the state of Arkansas.

Few goals could have been more ambitious than setting a billion-dollar fund raising campaign goal; a level of support achieved by fewer than 15 public universities in America. In a testament to his leadership, more than $1 billion dollars were raised in the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, including the largest single gift to a public university in the history of American philanthropy: the $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation.

In recognition of this achievement, the university's Alumni Association made a special exemption to its rules to name White as the recipient of the 2006 Distinguished Alumnus Award at the close of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century.

A man whose leadership is sought by many, he recently has received several important appointments in the area of collegiate athletics to add to his already impressive resume. He is the presiding chair of the Northwest Arkansas Council and a member of the Northwest Arkansas Regional Airport Authority. White has served on both the NCAA Executive Committee and the NCAA Division I Board of Directors as well as a term as the president of the Southeastern Conference.

Upon his appointment as chancellor, White moved immediately to draw the best students from the state and beyond. To build a foundation for the future at Arkansas, White increased the number of students who received Chancellor's Scholarships. Resulting in a 12-fold increase in the number of new freshmen who were Chancellor's Scholars in the fall of 1998, the impact of that first class is just beginning with their graduation in 2002.

White has yet to rest. His priorities include increasing the instruction of Arkansas' students through information technology and an environment that is diverse and international in outlook; moving the university from the equivalent of the old Carnegie Foundation definitions of a Research II university to Research I status; increasing the diversity of the university's faculty, staff, and student body; increasing private gift support; and increasing state and federal support. He also is striving to increase enrollment to a 22,000-person student body that is competitive with those at the best publicly supported universities in the nation.

An advocate for improving his home state, he serves on the board of directors for the Arkansas Science and Technology Authority. White completed a second six-year term on the National Science Board last year, and has served as the chair of the Council of Presidents of the Southeastern Universities Research Association and as president of the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award Foundation.

White served previously as president of the Institute of Industrial Engineers, chairman of the American Association of Engineering Societies, and president of the National Consortium for Graduate Degrees for Minorities in Engineering and Science.

Prior to returning to Arkansas, White was dean of engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology where he served on the faculty for 22 years. His career in higher education and in management and engineering consulting has carried him into the national ranks, including service as assistant director for engineering at the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C., from 1988 to 1991.

Among his numerous awards, White was honored in June 2006 with the inaugural John L. Imhoff Award from the American Society for Engineering Education, an honor made personally significant as the late Imhoff recruited White to the industrial engineering field in 1958 and was a mentor to White until Imhoff's death.

White was named the 2005 Northwest Arkansas Humanitarian of the Year by the National Coalition for Community and Justice and the 2005 Regent's Medallion of Merit from Sigma Nu Fraternity. During his academic career, he also received the Donald E. Marlowe Award for Distinguished Education Administration of the American Society for Engineering Education, the Frank and Lillian Gilbreth Industrial Engineering Award of the Institute of Industrial Engineers, the Rodney D. Chipp Memorial Award of the Society of Women Engineers, the Distinguished Service Award of the National Science Foundation and the National Science Foundation Engineer of the Year award.

White earned a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering at Arkansas in 1962, a master's at Virginia Tech, and a doctorate at Ohio State. He also holds honorary doctorates from Katholieke Universiteit of Leuven, Belgium, and George Washington University.

White is married to Mary Elizabeth Quarles White and they have a daughter, a son, three granddaughters and a grandson.

Howard Brill, Faculty Athletics Representative

In his 13th year as the university's faculty representative for athletics is Howard W. Brill. A law professor at Arkansas since 1975, Brill served as the interim dean of the UA Law School in Fall 2005. He previously served as a member of the Faculty Athletics Committee from 1991-94 and was on a special committee to prepare the SEC's Gender Equity Policy in the spring of 1994. He chaired Arkansas' NCAA Self-Study committee, finishing in 1998.

Brill is a 1965 graduate of Duke and earned his law degree at Florida in 1970. He received his master's of law degree at Illinois in 1979. A widely published author, Brill has written two books and numerous law review articles and has received several awards honoring his teaching. He is licensed to practice law in Arkansas, Florida and Illinois and is a member of the Arkansas Bar and the state Judicial Ethics Advisory Committee. He was recently selected the first Vincent Foster Professor of Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility. He is a past member of the Governor's Code of Ethics Commission and the Arkansas Improvement District

Commission of the state General Assembly.

Active in community service, Brill has served as chairman of the City of Fayetteville's Civil Service Commission, has coached youth soccer and basketball and is a Sunday School teacher. He and his wife Katherine have three children, Christian, Elizabeth and Andrew.

Jeff Long

Vice Chancellor for Intercollegiate Athletics and Director of Athletics

Joining the University of Arkansas in the fall of 2007, Jeff Long became the director of Razorback athletics on Jan. 1, 2008, after serving as an advisor to University Chancellor Dr. John A. White. During his initial months at Arkansas, Long completed the search for the Razorbacks' new football coach and currently working on the unification of the University's separate men's and women's athletics department into a single entity.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of student-athlete, Long also holds the title of vice chancellor at the University of Arkansas which places him as a member of the University of Arkansas' Executive Committee, serving to administer the entire university at the direction of Chancellor White. Most recently the director of athletics at the University of Pittsburgh, Long brings his vision for excellence in both the classroom and on the field of competition.

Long has more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to his dual positions at the University of Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators that oversee the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America's most prestigious conferences – the Big XII, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now Southeastern Conference – has made his council highly sought on key issues regarding collegiate athletics. Long was selected in Spring 2007 as a member of the Division I Men's Basketball Academic Enhancement Group, a committee charged with creating strategies to improve men's basketball academic performance and graduation rates.

Prior to Arkansas, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years. In 2005, Long dedicated a new Olympic sports weight room at Fitzgerald Field House as well as training facilities for gymnastics and wrestling. When he departed Pittsburgh, Long had plans for new competition venues for baseball, softball, soccer and track and field, plus enhancements for the Pitt Band.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers, a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams, and an agreement with ISP Sports, one of the nation's leading college sports marketing firms, to elevate Pitt's profile from a local to national level. Through Long's leadership the department worked with its partners to begin a weekly television program, "Panthers Weekly," which highlighted all 19 sports on FSN Pittsburgh, a monthly magazine publication, "Panther Eyes," and raised the profile of radio broadcasts with Clear Channel for football, basketball, hockey and women's basketball.

Long's direction of the Panther program resulted not only in the mandatory recertification by the NCAA of Pitt athletics in 2005, but the citation of the University of Pittsburgh by the peer review team that he led a program that was a "model for others to follow." Among the student-athlete changes initiated by Long was the formulation of a new position for career and life skills coordinator, developed in concert with the University of Pittsburgh's Provost.

Long's four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation's top programs, notably the Panthers' selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus All-Sport Rankings. Prior to Long's arrival, Pitt ranked 90th in the NACDA Director's Cup all-sport standings for 2003-04.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league's time of membership transition. Thanks to Long's voice, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East's automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004 and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Managing the external affairs of the Sooners, he was an innovator in his direction of the key image areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and SoonerVision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two years. He made several revisions to the ECU athletic infrastructure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at ECU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his lengthy career in college athletic administration at the University of Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post graduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and NC State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

With the start of the 2008 calendar year, the University of Arkansas brought together its former separate athletic departments into a unified program. Under the leadership of Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics Jeff Long, the Razorback Athletic program continues the University's long-standing commitment to women in sport.

The long history of putting the Lady Razorbacks first through a separate athletic department comes forward into the future by bringing together the resources of the entire university behind women's teams.

Each one is fully funded to compete at the national level.

But the most obvious example of the commitment are the facilities -- considered second to none for women's college athletics. Many are devoted exclusively to women's teams, starting with the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics, Barnhill Arena for volleyball and gymnastics competition, Lady'Back Field for soccer and coming in fall 2008, Bogle Park for softball.

In competition, Arkansas' broad-based program has the distinction of 10 of the 11 current varsity teams earning a national top 25 ranking at some point in the each team's history, and 10 of 11 having reached the NCAA Championships during the past five seasons.

The Proof is in the Numbers

Arkansas' academic statistics are as impressive as its athletic performances. Take a look at the department GPA and number of Lady Razorbacks named to the Spring Academic Excellence Honor Roll the past decade:

Academic Support

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletics Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. To achieve the goal of providing the absolute best in academic support, the department felt it was of extreme importance that female student-athletes have their own academic support personnel. Starting in 1989, the Lady Razorbacks constructed their own academic support staff, and in 1991 constructed a Women's Academic Center at Barnhill Arena. Two expansions in the Women's Academic Center followed in 1995 and 1997.

Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, a joint academic center to assist both the Men's and Women's Athletics Departments opened in August 2001 as a part of the Reynolds Razorback Stadium renovations.

The Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center features 15,000 square feet of space including state-of-the-art computer labs and interactive teaching facilities. Along with formal and informal study areas, the Bogle Center includes private tutor rooms, student life and career development resources and a multipurpose classroom. It also continues the tradition of a dedicated space devoted to the needs of female student-athletes.

Combined with the services of the Academic Support Program headed by the assistant athletic director for academic support, Deedee Brown-Campbell, the Academic Center gives Lady Razorback athletes a unique advantage in their scholarly endeavors.

Lady'Backs: Athletes & Graduates

Over the past decade, 98% of all female student-athletes who complete their four years of eligibility at the University of Arkansas leave Fayetteville with a bachelor's degree in hand.

Not only do the Lady'Backs graduate, their University of Arkansas degree allows them to step directly into their chosen career fields. Tiffany Wright (below) isn't the only example, but one of the best, as former Lady'Backs can be found in jobs around the world in a variety of fields.

In the space of one year, Tiffany Wright went from the NCAA Final Four, to Commencement (above) and on to her first full-time job as the weekend sports anchor at WLBT-TV in Jackson, Miss., and sideline analyst for ESPN's WNBA broadcasts in 1999 (left). She is currently the sports anchor at the ABC affiliate, WSOC, in Charlotte, N.C.

"The University of Arkansas isn't a huge university, but it has a huge reputation. My professors were concerned with my personal goals; concerned about how I wanted to develop as an individual. There is a great amount of one-on-one mentoring with the teachers. I think one of the greatest things about Arkansas is that you are an individual, a real person — not just an I.D. number — to the faculty and staff."

Lady'Backs in the Community

Being a part of the north-west Arkansas community is an important part of being a Lady Razorback. This ranges from softball team visits to area nursing homes to track and field volunteer work with Race for the Cure and Special Olympics.

But that's just a small part of the Lady'Backs' community service. Players visit area schools to read to youngsters in the school library. Arkansas is a charter member of the "Bring a Girl to the Game" promotion for National Women and Girls in Sport Day.

The regional Girl Scout troops are involved in several projects, including Girl Scout Day for many team sports like basketball, volleyball and softball.

Each team has its own special way of involving itself with local youth. For example, the Lady'Back soccer team has hosted Easter egg hunts, basketball participated in visits to Arkansas Children's Hospital and softball organized free youth sports clinics.

2006 SEC COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

HANNAH McLEOD

One of Arkansas' most active athletes in community service projects was recognized by the Southeastern Conference as the league's 2006 Community Service Award recipient. From volunteering with Razorbacks for Christmas (at right) to making time to participate in youth gymnastics clinics at the Fayetteville Boys and Girls Club (at left), Hannah McLeod made time in her busy training schedule to give back to the community. An honors student in premed, Hannah was one of the inaugural recruits of Arkansas' gymnastics team in 2002. A team captain, she capped her athletic career by helping Arkansas reach the NCAA Championships in the fourth year of the program. She is enrolled in the University

HURRICANE VOLUNTEERS

Providing aid and relief for hurricane victims did not start in 2005 for the Lady Razorbacks. As far back as the summer of 2000, Arkansas' male and female athletes took their commitment to others to the next level as they traveled to Honduras to assist victims of Hurricane Mitch (at right). When hurricanes lashed the American Gulf Coast, Lady'Backs were there to help again. While providing shoes and clothing from department supplies was important, the most significant contribution was the time the Lady'Backs themselves put in serving meals to evacuees living in Northwest Arkansas (at left) or simply playing with young kids to help them forget the rough times.

HAWGS: Helping Athletes Work for and Gain Success

The Athletics Department's HAWGS program is designed to provide student-athletes with the education and experiences to assist them in bridging the gap from college life to professional life in the work world and also to make meaningful contributions to their communities. By virtue of their involvement in athletics, student-athletes often have a difficult time accessing campus-wide student activities, programming and experiences.

HAWGS utilizes a five-point program of learning that focuses on academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, service and career development.

1. Academic Excellence — To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.
2. Athletic Excellence — To build foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.
3. Personal Development — To support the development of a well-balanced life-style for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making.
4. Commitment to Service — To engage the student-athlete in service to her campus and surrounding communities.
5. Career Development — To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Lady Razorback Training Rooms

The University of Arkansas athletic training staff makes up one of the top collegiate sports medicine programs in the nation. Arkansas provides both a qualified staff and the resources necessary to care for student-athletes with the most up-to-date treatment techniques to prevent and rehabilitate injuries.

The University of Arkansas' athletic training room staff for the Lady Razorbacks is supervised by associate athletic director Julie Cain. Cain oversees a staff that includes two full-time assistants and six graduate assistants.

The Lady Razorbacks utilize the main training room at Barnhill Arena, as well as remote facilities at Lady'Back Field, Bud Walton Arena and the Lewis Center. At Bud Walton Arena, the Lady'Backs have immediate off-the-court access to athletic training room needs as well as use of the specially designed weight room. At Lady'Back Field, soccer has the luxury of direct access from its locker room into the athletic training room. The Lewis Center facility supports gymnastics and all-sport weight training.

Bev Lewis

Associate Vice Chancellor for Intercollegiate Athletics and Executive Associate Athletic Director

For almost two decades, Bev Lewis is synonymous with the University of Arkansas and Lady Razorback teams. While 2007-08 season was 27th season at the University, it also proved one of the most important in her time at Arkansas. Lewis was key player in the decision to bring together the University's men's and women's departments. Starting on Jan. 1, 2008, she became an associate vice chancellor for the University and the executive associate athletic director of the unified Razorback Athletic Department.

The hallmark of her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics has been the overall excellence of her entire program. Every Lady Razorback sport has achieved a new pinnacle. A handful of the highlights include Stacy Lewis' NCAA women's golf title in 2007, gymnastics' appearance at the NCAA Championship in only its fourth season of existence, basketball reaching the Women's Final Four in 1998, four national runner-up trophies earned by cross country and national third place by track in the 2000 season.

The success of Women's Athletics was not limited to the field of competition. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Lady Razorbacks have received numerous academic honors including national academic all-American of the year, team academic national titles and the University's first two SEC/Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year. Over the past decade, 98% of all Lady Razorbacks who completed their four years of eligibility at Arkansas have left Fayetteville with a UA degree.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the University's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for the Lady Razorbacks including gifts for facilities like the Huntley Gymnastics Training Facility and Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center as well as more than tripling the number of named and endowed scholarships for female student-athletes.

During the Campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as longtime University benefactors Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility for Lady Razorbacks be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics. On April 9, 2003, before a standing room only crowd of family and friends, she had the honor of cutting the ribbon on the facility.

She is also a leader in the community, assisting several local and regional associations in fundraising efforts. Her most recent appointment was to serve as the honorary chair of the Northwest Arkansas 2007 Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation Walk for the Cure. She is also a member of the Northwest Arkansas American Heart Association board of directors.

She received the Washington Regional Medical Center's Amethyst Award on behalf of the community service work done by the Women's Athletics Department and was the 2006 honorary chair for WRMC's participation in Speaking of Women's Health program. Lewis also was a member of the local Habitat for Humanity advisory board and was instrumental in the Lady Razorbacks' participation in the local American Heart Association Heart Walk and the Northwest Arkansas Komen Race for the Cure.

In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor by the University's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions to the Women's Athletics Department both as a coach and an administrator. In recognition of her outstanding achievements, Lewis was named to Arkansas Business magazine's "Top 100 Women in Arkansas" in 1996, 1997 and 1998. Lewis was a member of the "40 Under 40" which highlighted the achievements of business leaders in Arkansas who were under 40 years old during those same years.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and most recently on the NCAA Management Council. A former member of the track and field committee and its outdoor chair, she also served on the NCAA soccer committee. Lewis also served a term on the Southeastern Conference Executive Committee from 1992 to 1995.

To increase athletic participation at Arkansas for women, Lewis orchestrated the addition of four sports at the University during her tenure as athletic director. Not only providing scholarship opportunities, each new sport -- volleyball, golf, softball and gymnastics -- reached its respective NCAA championship by each inaugural recruiting class' senior season.

Lewis brought national attention to Arkansas by hosting numerous SEC Championships as well as the 1994 NCAA Women's Basketball Midwest Regional, the 1994 NCAA Division I Cross Country Championship and the 2006 NCAA Gymnastics Regional. However, as a former track coach Lewis takes particular pride in the University's role in hosting the NCAA Men's and Women's Indoor Track and Field Championships for the past seven years.

Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis' Lady Razorback cross country and track teams had six top 20 national finishes, and she coached Team USA at the 1990 World Junior Cross Country Championships.

Her Arkansas coaching milestones were numerous. Under her direction, cross country achieved three notable Lady Razorback firsts. On Oct. 4, 1984, her cross country team became the first Lady'Back squad to achieve a national ranking. Arkansas finished that season ranked 16th.

She added the first top 10 finish to her resume in 1986 as cross country finished 10th at the NCAA Championships and backed it up with a ninth-place finish in 1987. Her coaching was instrumental in establishing Arkansas' perfect record of sending a team or individual to every collegiate national meet since the program's inception.

Lewis also coached Arkansas' first conference championship team at the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships. As a result, her peers voted her SWC Coach of the Year for the second year in a row. She also was named SWC Outdoor Track Coach of the Year in 1989.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981.

Her husband, Harley, is the former athletic director at the University of Montana, former assistant director of championships with the NCAA, works and former development officer at Arkansas.

A behind-the-scenes worker by nature, Bev Lewis found herself the center of attention on April 9, 2003, with the ribbon cutting and dedication of the Lady Razorbacks' new Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

Arkansas Traditions

Why Razorbacks?

Arkansas' athletic teams have not always been called the Razorbacks. During the early years of its athletic history, the Cardinal served as the University nickname.

A lot of things changed in 1909, however, when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players "a wild band of Razorback hogs," after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on October 30, 1909.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team "a fighting band of Razorbacks."

This new nickname became increasingly popular and the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

In the 1920s, "Wooo, Pig, Sooie" was added as the school yell, referred to more commonly today as the "Hog Call."

Why Lady Razorbacks?

Arkansas Women's Athletics Department continues to use "Lady" in its nickname. While some consider it progressive to drop "Lady," Arkansas employs it as a marketing and identification tool.

The use of the contraction "Lady'Back" as a second reference for the Lady Razorbacks was adopted in 1989 along with a new departmental logo. Not unlike the evolution of "Razorback" as a mascot, the term "Lady'Back" had been used by fans and headline writers for several years.

Razorback Spirit Squads

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots for both men's and women's athletic events. Lady Razorback cheerleaders participate in all home team events. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to www.razorbackspiritsquads.net

The UA Alma Mater

Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty,
Watches thy Soul

from the mountains of God.

Over the fates of thy children departed,
Far from the land where their footsteps have trod.

Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.

From those who adore unto one who adores us,

Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.

A Proper Hog Call

A chant of "Woo Pig Sooie" is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three "calls," slowly raising one's arms from the knees to above the head during the "Woo." Traditionalists prescribe an eight second "Woo." The fingers should be wiggled and the "Woo" should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the "Woo," both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, "Pig". The right arm is extended up and out with the "Sooie."

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Lady'Back teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a "Razor-Backs" yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third "Sooie." So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie!

Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie!

Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie!

Razorbacks! (or Lady'Backs!)

The Hog Hat

It is true; no Razorback fan's closet is complete without an official Hog Hat.

The hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay's Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.

Arkansas Fight

Hit that line! Hit that line!

Keep on going!

Move that ball right down the field!

Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!

Never fear. Rah! Rah!

Arkansas will never yield!

On your toes, Razorbacks,
to the finish,

Carry on with all your might!

For it's A-A-A-R-K-A-N-S-A-S

for Arkansas!

Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-ight!

The Lady Razorback Museum

Considered the nation's first on-campus museum dedicated solely to the achievements of female student-athletes, the Lady Razorback Museum opened to rave reviews in 1999. Located in the north lobby of Barnhill Arena, the 9,000-seat home of Arkansas volleyball and gymnastics, it features all eleven women's sports. The museum highlights the individual and team champions at the University of Arkansas during the three decades of varsity competition. The display is more than trophies. The academic achievements of female student-athletes, Arkansas' numerous statewide NCAA Woman of the Year recipients and the role of athletes as leaders in the community are highlighted.

The major displays of the museum are its Wall of Champions, celebrating the achievement of Arkansas' women on the conference and national level, and the Great Moments Theater, a DVD interactive theater filled with highlights of the first three decades of Arkansas women's athletics.

The giant photo mural titled "Celebration" which rings the Great Moments Theater and the department's welcoming message to visitors have become the signature displays of the museum.

"The initial goal was to enhance our recruiting," Bev Lewis said at the dedication,

"but we soon found that we were tapping into something so obvious for men and so overlooked for women."

"It is so natural for a boy to walk into the backyard with his bat or his ball and imagine himself the hero. It's because he can look on the television or read in the paper or go to a museum and see men achieving success. What we created was a special place where young girls can come and see women that are larger than life; women who have dreamed the dream and achieved it."

Within months after the museum's opening, the Lady Razorbacks added a new feature. A page on the Arkansas women's athletics website, www.ladybacks.com, was constructed and features pictures of nearly every display so visitors can experience the ambiance even from the comfort of their own home.

At the entrance to the museum, the Lady Razorbacks have included this message to explain the purpose and intent of the museum.

Welcome to the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department, where the dreams of little girls come true. Where future doctors and lawyers, mothers and partners learn the strength of teamwork, the power of their determination, and the glory of achieving their goals.

Here we celebrate those women who chose this place to live their dreams, to realize their goals, and to achieve greatness.

This space is dedicated to those young girls who will come with that twinkle in their eye; To see the past in hopes that they will learn that this is where they can come to build their future.

Welcome to a special place, where every person from the coaches to the trainers; from the tutors to the fans have only one goal in their hearts: Transforming the dreams of little girls into the achievements of women.

Welcome to the Home of the Lady Razorbacks.

Sutton Strength & Conditioning Center

Perhaps Arkansas' women's track and field coach Lance Harter said it best -- "There is no facility for female athletes like it in America."

The former Olympic assistant and two-time World Championships head coach for USAT&F knows something about world-class training facilities.

Perhaps the largest strength and conditioning facility devoted exclusively to collegiate female athletes in the country, the Lewis Center houses the 7,000-square-foot Sutton Strength Center, designed for the physiology of female athletes. It brings together under one roof Olympic weights, plyometric training, aerobic equipment and selectorized weight lifting machines.

NO FEAR

Former track all-American April Steiner built the strength she needed to capture NBC's Thanksgiving Fear Factor title in the Sutton Strength Center.

The Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics

The first athletic building purpose-built to the needs of female student-athletes at the University of Arkansas, the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics represents a hallmark in the history of both the University and the state.

Made possible by the lead gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the Bogles had only one request: that the name of the proposed Center for Women's Athletics reflect the accomplishments of the University's longtime coach and athletics administrator Bev Lewis.

As a result, the gift helped create one of the finest training facilities in the nation for female college athletes, dedicated on April 9, 2003.

From the custom-made lifting stations highlighting the Lady Razorback logo (below) in the Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center to the one-of-a-kind layout of the 15,000-square foot Huntley Gymnastics Practice Facility (shown in photo panorama below), the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics lives up to its name as the focus of the University of Arkansas' female student-athletes.

Devoted to the exclusive training of the 11 Lady'Back teams, the 7,000-square foot Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center mixes the best in free weight stations with ample open space for plyometric and other types of conditioning (left).
